OFFICIAL VOTE CAST IN CENTRE COUNTY NOVEMBER 5, 1907.

Table with columns for Boroughs and Townships, and rows for various candidates and their vote counts. Includes totals for State Treas. '07, State Treas. '08, and County Surveyor.

Today's contest in Centre county will go down in local political history as the most remarkable, in many respects, that we have record of.

The indifference of the voters on "the other side of the mountain" can scarcely be accounted for in any other way than that those great agricultural regions lost sight of the necessity of reform in Harrisburg in their anxiety to get their corn and apples harvested.

will stand 42 Republicans to 18 Democrats, a Republican gain over the present body of 13.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 6.—Maryland, which was in doubt last night, has elected the Democratic candidate for Governor, Judge Austin L. Crothers, and the entire Democratic state ticket by about 7000 plurality.

BECHTEL WINS SCHUYLKILL. POTTSVILLE, PA., Nov. 6.—Surprises all around resulted from the computation today of the vote cast in yesterday's election.

RHODE ISLAND REMAINS DEMOCRATIC. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 6.—Governor James H. Higgins, Democrat, and a Democratic lieutenant governor have been elected.

MORMONS BEATEN IN SALT LAKE. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, Nov. 6.—Through the election of John D. Bradford as Mayor, the general city ticket and a majority of the City Council, the American party will retain complete control of this city for two years.

REFORM IN SAN FRANCISCO BY 8500. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—The reform forces won in yesterday's election by a majority in the neighborhood of 8500.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 6.—The entire Republican state ticket was elected yesterday by majorities ranging from 5000 to 10,000.

JOHN O. SHEATS WILL HAVE OVER 150,000. PHILADELPHIA, November 6.—Complete returns from sixty of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania and estimated pluralities from the remaining counties show that John O. Sheats, republican, carried the state by 150,229 over John G. Harman, democrat, for State Treasurer.

JOHNSON'S MAJORITY 9313. CLEVELAND, Nov. 6.—Tom L. Johnson's majority over Theodore E. Burton, Republican, in yesterday's election is 9313.

NEBRASKA REPUBLICAN BY 20,000. LINCOLN, NEB., Nov. 6.—The Republicans carried the state yesterday by a majority of 20,000.

PORT VICTOR IN JERSEY. When the completed returns from New Jersey came in late Wednesday, the apparent victory of Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., for Governor, was turned to a defeat, and former Judge J. Franklin Fort was shown to have been elected by from 7000 to 8000.

and is survived by his wife, who was Miss Retta Runk of Phillipsburg; his aged mother living in Juniata county and two brothers, William R., of Phillipsburg, and Charles, of Homestead.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION IN CENTRE COUNTY.—While the Democrats were not successful in their earnest endeavor to elect that sterling young Democrat, John G. Harman, to the office of State Treasurer they can console themselves with the fact that they did all they could.

Centre county Democrats can further take consolation in the fact that the entire county ticket was elected and that by majorities that were highly complimentary to the candidates, considering that the vote was an exceedingly light one, being less than two-thirds of the total vote in the county.

That the people of Centre county endorse the administrations of Prothonotary Arthur B. Kimpfort and District Attorney W. G. Ronkle is shown by the handsome majorities they both received, Kimpfort having 1,028 of a majority over Hayes Schenck, his Republican opponent, and Ronkle having 884 of a majority over Col. Edward R. Chambers.

BREZER-KELLEY.—A pretty wedding took place in the Catholic church at eight o'clock yesterday morning when Christ Beazer and Miss Mary Kelley were united in the holy bonds of matrimony in the presence of quite a number of their friends and acquaintances.

KILLED ON THE RAILROAD.—Chester B. Straw, a Centre county young man, was instantly killed on the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad, just west of Altoona, on Sunday morning.

He came east on Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning started west with his crew. At GY tower his train was stopped to allow east and west-bound trains to pass.

He was struck and instantly killed. His right leg was severed above the knee and the lower part of it torn to shreds.

The remains were gathered up and taken to Altoona on an engine where they were taken to the railroad company's morgue and prepared for burial by undertakers Lafferty & John.

Deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Straw and was born at Julian. He would have been eighteen years old on December 23rd.

Surviving him are his parents, who live at Julian, and the following brothers and sisters: William, of Phillipsburg; George, of Walls; Gordon, of Altoona; Earl, Besio, Olive, Edna, Elva, Mabel and Verda, at home.

C. ARTHUR STRATTON.—Chester Arthur Stratton, formerly of Phillipsburg, died at the home of his father-in-law, E. Orr, at Hawk Run, Clearfield county, last Saturday.

He was taken ill with typhoid fever about five weeks ago and though every effort was made to save his life, his system was so run down he could not withstand the ravages of the disease.

Deceased was born in Clarion county and was twenty-four years old. In 1905 he was married to Miss Mary Orr, of Hawk Run.

Surviving him are his wife and baby daughter, his mother and the following brothers and sisters: John, James, Charles, Mrs. John Custard and Mrs. James Nolan, living near Phillipsburg, and Curtis, a resident of that town.

LAMEY.—Millheim lost one of its oldest and best known residents in the death of Michael Lamey on Monday morning, from dropsy and heart failure.

BRUNGARD.—After lingering in ill health for a year or more as the result of her advanced age Mrs. Sarah Brungard, widow of the late Jacob Brungard, died at her home in Rebersburg on Tuesday morning.

SAUERS.—At seven o'clock on Thursday morning of last week Margaret, wife of Harry Sauers, died at her home in Pine Grove Mills after a long illness with consumption.

RACHAU.—Mrs. Sarah Raebau, wife of Israel Raebau, died on Sunday morning of apoplexy, at her home in Madisonburg.

She was 65 years, 9 months and 21 days old, and all of her life was lived in Brush valley where she was known far and wide as a most estimable woman.

The funeral was held on Wednesday morning, Rev. S. A. Snyder conducting the services and interment being made in Yearick's cemetery.

HARTSOCK.—Fremont Hartsock died at Julian on Saturday of cancer of the stomach, after being sick for over a year.

He was fifty-nine years old and was a native of Huntingdon county. One brother, H. H. Hartsock, of Huntingdon, and one sister, Mrs. E. C. Henderson, of Smithfield township, Huntingdon county, survive.

Looking Back on the 1907 Fair. The recent closing of the seventh annual meeting of the Centre County Agricultural Exhibiting Co., brings to mind many incidents of pleasure as well as of instruction.

The fair this year measured from every standpoint was better than that of any former year since the opening of the new grounds, and the fact that all that was needed was fair weather to attract the crowds is sufficient evidence that the people of Centre county do want and will patronize an Agricultural Exhibition of this character.

There were many features at the fair this year that might properly be called novelties. First of all the absolute absence of gambling devices, even in their mildest form.

While the management had advertised the substitution of the free platform shows for the famous Repasz band of Williamsport, those who were at the fair found that it was only a substitution in name and not in fact.

Herdie Wood with his thirty-three musicians formed the premier attraction of the week and to say that they were appreciated is but half expressing it.

Another matter that should be called to public attention was the splendid and unusual exhibit of The Pennsylvania State College.

BRUNGARD.—After lingering in ill health for a year or more as the result of her advanced age Mrs. Sarah Brungard, widow of the late Jacob Brungard, died at her home in Rebersburg on Tuesday morning.

SAUERS.—At seven o'clock on Thursday morning of last week Margaret, wife of Harry Sauers, died at her home in Pine Grove Mills after a long illness with consumption.

RUN DOWN BY TRAIN.—James Mingle, a brother of Joseph Mingle, of State College, was run down by a passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad at Birmingham on Wednesday morning and instantly killed.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—The following marriage licenses were issued the past week by Register Earl C. Tuten: Charley Ross and Sidney Henson, both of Bellefonte.

Steward Kerstetter and Maud Catharine Wingard, both of Coburn. Pine Grove Mentions. Just a two-thirds vote cast Tuesday.

John Gardner, of Altoona, is home for a week's rest. Whooping cough is reported in several of the schools.

George C. Meyer shipped a car load of apples to Pittsburg. J. A. Decker bought a fine bunch of fresh cows which he shipped east.

Harry Rossmann has accepted a position on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad. G. W. McWilliams is having his house re-roofed with galvanized sheeting.

J. H. Ross is shipping a car load of hogs and one of apples from Linden Hall, this week. Capt. J. M. Kepler, who has been confined to bed the past ten days, is able to sit up at times.

Audy Rabel, of Coatesville, is here visiting at the home of his brother-in-law, J. A. Decker. Taylor and Milligan, of Reedsville, are circulating among the farmers, buying stock this week.

Our young friend, Chester McCormick, has been confined to the house for some days with tonsillitis. J. S. Reed, who has been at the Wills Eye hospital the past two weeks, returned home Wednesday, very much improved.

Fred B. Goss, of Pittsburg, an expert athlete, is here coaching our football team for a tumble with some neighboring teams. George Meyers and Clarence Irvin are in Pittsburg this week on a business trip, as well as taking in the sights of the Smoky city.

Saturday was a miserable day and the bidding at Daniel Irvin's sale was not very spirited, so that very few top notch prices were reached. The venerable Charles Snyder, who cast his first vote for James K. Polk and never missed an election since, was able to get out to vote Tuesday.

James I. Reed brought down a ten pound wild turkey off of old Tussey on Monday, and a turkey dinner followed on election day at the Reed home. The Roosevelt hunting club are arranging for their annual hunt on the Alleghenies and will pitch their tent on the Six Mile run on the 13th, so as to be ready for any deer that comes along.

The Hallow'e'en social at the parsonage passed off nicely and about twenty couple were present. Miss Estella May Heberling played the part of the Gypsy Queen to a T. Sandwiches and hot coffee were served. Rev. R. M. Hingsworth and family spent the past week with friends at State College, and yesterday morning left for Camden, N. J., where the reverend gentleman has accepted a call to become pastor of one of the largest churches in that city. He had formerly been located in Baltimore.

An All-year-round bazaar will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall Friday evening, November 15th, by the ladies of the Lutheran church. Fancy work will be on sale. A cartwheel quilt containing over three hundred names will be auctioned off at nine o'clock. Oysters in all styles and refreshments of all kinds will be served. Come, and bring your money and your friends with you and be liberal with the ladies.

A large number of friends and neighbors gathered at the Wm. Collins' home on Main street last Friday evening. It was the occasion of the celebration of his good wife's 52nd birthday that he and his cousin, Mrs. Maggie Gates, planned so well. During the afternoon Mrs. Collins was out driving with her brother, Prof. G. W. Johnston, and called on some old friends on the way and on their return home she found her house filled with friends who brought good things to eat as well as presents. In due course of time the guests were conducted to the dining room where refreshments were served. A most delightful evening was spent.

Books, Magazines, Etc. St. Nicholas in 1908.—It is good news to all boys and girls, big and little, that Frances Hodgson Burnett has written another "Queen Silverbell" fairy story, "A Spring Cleaning," which will appear in an early number of St. Nicholas. There are to be many other short stories, in every number of the year, from such well-known writers for children as Temple Bailey, Rebecca Harding Davis, Elaine Goodale Eastman, B. J. Daikam, and Captain Harold Hammond, the author of "Pinkey Perkins;" and there is to be another serial story by Agnes McClelland Daulton, author of "From Sioux to Sioux" and "Fritz," which will run through several numbers under the title of "The Gentle Independence of Bab."
