Washington, Nov. 25 .- The events of the past week in the financial situation have centered around the offer three women, were burned to death in by the government to receive bids for $50,000,000 in 2 per cent. bonds for Panama canal construction and offers at par for $100,000,000 in treasury certificates running one year at 3 per

There was secrecy at the treasury department as to the progress of the flotation of the debt certificates and the manner in which they were to be allotted to national banks to the practical exclusion of individual investors. The only information was to the effect that the new certificates of debt have already made their appearance in the treasury as security for circulation. Additional national bank notes to the amount of $2,000,000, based on the new certificates, were shipped to New York, and other large sums are in sight for shipment during the week. Among other engagements is one of $1,200,000 that has been made by Vice President Wexler, of the Whitney Central National bank, of New Orleans, acting for several other New Orleans banks. No one connected with the treasury could let in any light on the situation, as Secretary Cortelyou keeps in his own hands all details respecting the flotation of the debt certificates. He is personally making the allotments and exercising all his ingenuity to prevent | Marie, a baby of 14 months. the certificates from falling into the hands of private investors who cannot give him assurances that they will not call on the banks to furnish the cash with which they propose to pay for the certificates they seek to acquire.

The secretary seems determined to get as large a proportion of the certificates as possible into the hands of national banks that will use them as a | street. basis for increasing their note circulation. He is apparently giving no thought to the interests of individuals who seek to buy the certificates as an investment nor to the interests of the government as a borrower. His sole aim seems to be to make the one-year loan so tempting to the banks that they will take the entire amount of it | him up and carried him down bodily. for purposes of increased note circu-

There is reason to believe that the plan of shutting out the individual investors in the flotation of the certificates was suggested by J. P. Morgan and his associates in New York.

The mail bringing offers from national banks for the Panama bonds is very heavy. The envelopes will not be opened until the time for receiving hids closes on Saturday next, but the number of bids received and the declared purpose of some of the large New York and Chicago banks to subscribe, with the purpose of increasing their note circulation, leaves little doubt in the minds of bankers and treasury officials that the loan will be

INDUSTRIES RESUMING

Activities In Eastern States Controverts Stories of General Depression. New York, Nov. 26. - Recent resumption of industrial activity in the eastern states controverts to some extent the stories of general depression that have gained circulation on account of the closing down, partially or completely, of many concerns. The financial stringency throughout the country had its natural reflection in partial suspension of operations in the chief Atlantic centers, but the fear of a complete industrial depression has not been realized. News was received in New York of the resumption on fuil time of some industries in the New England states and New York, and the hope is that, with the general relaxation in the money market, this resumption will be largely increased, and that the eastern manufacturing section soon will experience a return to normal conditions. Troy reports the outlook good for a busy year in the knit goods industry in Cohoes, one of the largest centers of that work in the country. It is expeced that the knitting factories in that city will be running full by Jannary 1.

Baby Hidden In Clock. Philadelphia, Nov. 26 .- Everything was ready for the christening of William Kronsy's baby, but the child was missing. The Kronsys searched high and low, and then called in the police. After seven hours hunting the baby was found sleeping in the stand of an old-fashioned clock, where a joking guest had hidden it.

The President's Turkey. Westerly, L. I., Nov. 26. - The Thanksgiving turkey which Horace Vose annually sends to the president of the United States, was shipped by Mr. Vose to President Roosevelt. This year's bird, however, was raised by Jeremiah H. Brown. It weighs 28 pounds, is of the bronze variety and has a mixture of wild blood.

Fought With Fork and Scissors. Pittsburg, Nov. 23.-Andrew Malock and Henry Yuper, of Homestead, adjoining this city, quarreled, using a fork and a pair of scissors as weapons. Both men were repeatedly stabbed and are in a hospital in a serious condition.

SUGGESTED BY J. P. MORGAN ALL FOUND IN ONE ROOM!

New York, Nov. 26 .- Thirteen persons, including seven children and an incendiary fire in the forr-story tenement at 2121 Second avenue.

The fire was started, the police say, by thieves, who hoped during the excitement to rob the tenants of the from the savings banks and which they had hidden about the place.

The death of 13 persons practically wiped out two entire families, those of Pasquale Cardinale, who lived on the top floor, and of Rocco Barrecco, who lived on the third floor. Every member of the first named household was killed, while of the second only Rocco and his little son, Dominick, were saved.

During the excitement mothers threw their children from windows to spectators, who caught them in their arms In this way several little ones were rescued. A moment after the flames were discovered revolver shots were heard in the building. A few moments later fire was discovered in an unoccupied store across the street at 2112. Both of these facts lead to the conviction that a gang of thieves was at work Rocco Barrecco lived on the third floor front with his wife Catherine and his four children-Dominick, aged 9; Jennie, aged 7; Cossette, aged 4, and

As Barrecco opened the door a grea cloud of smoke filled the room. He could see the flames darting up the stairway. He wakened his wife and children and ran to the fire escape in the front of the house.

Snatching up young Dominick, who had been ill, Barrecco passed his boy to a policeman, who carried him to the

Barrecco then helped his wife and three other children up the fire escape to the fourth floor. Firemen had arrived by this time A ladder was run up and two firemen went up on it. Barrecco insisted that his family was in the flat and that he would not leave. The firemen picked

When the house was entered by the firemen the floors were searched up to the top story. The firemen had seen one woman and several children fall back into the flames in one of the front rooms, and they knew that the room contained dead, but they were not prepared for the pile of bodies they came upon.

One woman lay above the body of her baby. When the flames bore her down she had fallen with the child under her and had died in an effort to save its life.

Death of Missionary Announced. Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 25. - A cablegram from Shanghai, China, announced the death there of Miss Beulah Funk, a missionary of the Christian and Missionary Alliance. She was the daughter of Rev. J. B. Funk, of this city, a United Brethren minister. The message said that Miss Funk had refused to take any medicine, she being a believer in the power of divine healing. She went to China less than two years ago. The Old Reliable Morning Newspaper

"The Pittsburg Post" has been steadily progressive it all its activities, until now it is esteemed in the community at its true worth. Its news, its editorials, its illustrations, its advertisements and its circulation all bespeak its steady advance along legitimate newspaper lines, until now it stands in the very front of American newspapers, recognized all over the country as a clean, broad and honorable newspaper, with the reputation of never intentionally doing any man or institution a wrong, standing always for whatever is for the interests of State and Nation, fearlessly speaking when occasion demands, counseling with its ut-most wisdom, and giving its loyal support to worthy men and movements.

The circulation of "The Morning Post" is exactly what a newspaper of this kind should have, being among solid, substantial, law-abiding citizens, of all classes, politics and creeds, people of intelligence who demand an honest, accurate, daily record of the real news of the world, but who would be shoulded at accounts of who would be shocked at accounts of scandals and crime in season and out. "The Morning Post" has the greates ciatioe Press, it has the trans-continental leased wire of the New York "American," with its 24-hour steady supply of news, and 24-hour service of the New York "Sun," recognized as one of the greatest independ ent news services in the world. Special correspondents of "The Morning Post" in all cities, large and small, bureaus in New York and Washington, a large corps of trained editors and reporters, are working day and night to make "The Post" an unrivaled newspaper, for it is in reality three we started this campaign with fear and doubt. To ask strangers to us to adopt these doubt. To ask strangers to us to adopt these little ones equally strangers to us seemed daring indeed. And we could appeal to only a million homes, the million homes into which the Delineator goes—not one-twentieth of all the homes in this great country. Caution made us tell the stories of only two. We feared that even the savieth we have becaused. feared that even these might not be asked for. We doubted the greatness of the great American heart. We doubted, and we are ashamed. Over two hundred eager hands have already been extended. Three hundred re-quests for these little ones—for any homeless little one—have aiready been received through the mails. Women have come for miles away into our building asking for these precious ones; men have journeyed a thousand miles to beg one for their homes. We told their story; we appealed to our worshiped American womanhood, and it hastens to take these little ones into its heart. We continue these little ones into its heart. We continue this campaign for homes for other homeless waifs in the December Delineator. We shall keep on with it. If one brief appeal to one twentieth of the homes in America can bring this result, what of good may we not yet do? We are proud of the December Delineator. It contains many notable features. We are proud of our work for the year; proud that we stand acknowledged as the greatest fashion authority in the world; proud of the most famous people who have contributed to our pages. But it is not in these that our greatest pride lies.

The Child-Rescue Campaign, the homeless child, the childless home, the bringing of these little ones into the homes where little ones are needed, this movement is of our pride and of our heart. And you—will you make it of your heart? Will you give us such assistance as you can?

It is due, however, to those who may be inclined to become bidders, that they should know that while the justness and correctness of this claim is admitted and the estate alleged to be worth any amount from a quarter to a half-million of dollars! yet the administrators—who are also its heirs and beneficiaries,—have refused payment, simply because they could plead the limitation and thus avoid the payment of an honest debt.

The above amount may not be worth much as a cash asset. It may be of some value, perchance, as a reminder that there are others than the ordinary "dead beat" and "debt jumpers," who seek the technicalities of the law to save the payment of just obligations.
