BADLY BURNED IN POWDER EXPLOSION.—On Thursday of last week four young men of Coleville were badly burned by the premature explosion of a can of powder and the wonder is that the four were not killed outright. The injured men are Charles Poorman, section boss on the Bellefonte Central railroad; George Osoar and Roy Grubb, workmen under Poorman. At noon time they went into an old shanty near the Buffalo Run plant of the American Lime and Stone company to eat their dinner. In the shanty was an old stove without any pipe and in this they built a fire for the purpose of heating their coffee.

On a shelf in the shanty stood an open can of powder and in some way a spark from the fire in the stove must have blown into the can for just as the men had finished their dinner there was a terrific explosion. Both ends of the shanty were blown out and Oscar and Charles Grubb were thrown a number of feet from where they were standing. Oscar sustained the worst injuries, the hair on his head being entirely burned off and the flesh on his face being burned to a crisp while his eyes were terribly swollen. Charles was also badly burned about the head, face and hands while Roy had one hand and one ear badly burned. Poorman was just going out of the shanty when the explosion occurred and his burns were not so serious. The clothing of the three Grubb men caught fire and in order to save themselves from being burned to death they ran to the creek and jumped into the water.

Immediately after the accident Poorman went to Coleville and notified the railroad officials who sent an engine and drew to the scene of the accident and had the young men conveyed to their home in Coleville where they were given all attention possible. Oscar and Charles Grubb are in the worst condition, but they are receiving the best of treatment and their entire recovery is looked for.

A PRETTY COMPLIMENT TO AN OLD CENTRE COUNTRYMAN.—It is many, many years since Col. James H. Lipton was "one of us," but the scores and scores of friends he could always count here in Centre county will be glad to know that he still lives, flourishes and is as popular in his western home as he was here in Centre county when the Democrats, on two successive occasions elected him Prothonotary of the county. That was away back in 1863 '69. Although now past his eightieth birthday he is still in active business and is said to be as full of vim and energy as most men are at sixty. He is a member of the Kansas-Missouri Hotel Men's association and his popularity with his business associates is shown by the following which we clip from the Douglas Times.

TRIBUTE TO COL. LIPTON.
When the Kansas-Missouri Hotel Men's association held their fourteenth annual convention at St. Louis November 14th, a resolution was adopted making Col. J. H. Lipton, of this city, an honorary member of the association for life, and the secretary was also instructed to procure some token of esteem and forward it. Col. Lipton was a charter member of the association and in view of this fact and that the members have a very high esteem for Mr. Lipton, the following poem was also dedicated to him by the association:

TO YOU, OLD LOVER,
There is silvery frost on your hair, old boy,
There are lines on your forehead, too;
But your clear eyes speak of the peace and joy
That dwell in the heart of you.
For the passing of youth you have no regret;
No sighs for the summer glow
And the Lovers' moon. They are with you yet
In the light of the lamp at home.
In your summer of youth, in that sunny hour
That will come to you never again;
When you wooed your love, as the bee the flower,
The sweets that you gathered then
You have lived and stored for your later life,
And your heart is the honeycomb
Ah! I've seen your face when you kissed your wife
In the light of the lamp at home.
Oh, you rare old lover! Oh, faithful knight
With your sweetheart of long ago,
You are many days from the warmth and light
Of the summers you used to know;
But you need not yearn for the glamour and glad
Of the fields you were wont to roam.
Oh, the light for the hearts that are growing old
Is the light of the lamp at home.

Thursday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. Simon Hockenberry and Mr. Hockenberry's mother were driving to Bellefonte on their way home from attending church at the Forge. At the same time F. P. Bartley was going out the pike, driving one of his mated black team hitched in a buggy. Just opposite the furnace office the two horses collided with such force that the shaft of the Hockenberry buggy penetrated the neck of Bartley's horse and severed the windpipe, so that the animal died almost instantly. The shaft on Bartley's buggy also penetrated the breast of Mr. Hockenberry's horse but fortunately did not strike a fatal spot and the animal is recovering.

The Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. basketball team was defeated at Lock Haven last Friday evening by the All-Collegiates of that place, the score being 38 to 7, but on New Year's evening they got even by winning from the same team by the score of 34 to 17, in a fast game in the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

Spring Mills.
A bell tower has been placed on the academy building.
Benjamin Donachy, of Lewisburg, is here on a visit to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Herring.
Magistrate Herring has been on the sick program for the last ten days. The troubles seem to be of the lumbago order.
Mrs. W. T. Steely and daughter Bertha, of Sunbury, were here for a few days last week, guests of her sister, Mrs. C. C. Cummings.
John Snively having moved to one of Allison's farms a short distance above town, has established a milk route and delivers it every morning here and at Penn Hall.
O. T. Corman, one of our active business men, in addition to his fish and oyster business, has added high grade washing machines and wringers to his stock and is doing quite a lively business.
The editors of the WATCHMAN have been highly complimented here and no doubt about everywhere else, on the Christmas edition of their popular journal. It certainly is a very handsome one.
Last week M. D. Letzell, of our village, butchered two porkers weighing respectively 451 and 465 pounds. Heavier stock than this has not been reported. Mr. Letzell obtained over 250 pounds of lard.
Christmas day was celebrated here about as usual. Gifts were exchanged, dinner parties numerous, and everybody seemed gay and happy. The little folks enjoyed their candies and toys and the big folks were not far behind them in the former enjoyment. None of our Sunday schools had any entertainments but the scholars received their usual Christmas gift of candies, etc. All our merchants report a very satisfactory holiday business. Money seemed quite plentiful and everybody bought freely.
W. O. Gramley, rural mail carrier on route 1, met with quite a mishap week before last. In turning into the Brush valley road his top sleigh struck a huge stone upsetting and tossing mail, carrier and everything else into the road, of course the horse ran off. After collecting the mail matter, and shaking himself to discover no damage, he proceeded on his route on foot, but judge of his astonishment after walking the distance of possibly a half a dozen fields he discovered his horse standing in the road with the wrecked sleigh by his side, evidently waiting for him. Mr. Gramley was so well pleased with the animal's consideration that he was tempted to give him a quarter to buy himself some oysters. With the exception of the runners, the sleigh was reduced to kindling wood.

A day or two since I stepped into the office of T. B. Jamison, insurance agent of our village, for a little chat and was really surprised at the extent of his business. Mr. Jamison represents seven different companies, all gilt edged, no quibbling, delay nor compromising of losses with any of them. I have known of losses having been paid 48 hours after the destruction of the property, and only on the 15th of December a fire occurred in Neiman's store at Millheim and on the 21st the loss was paid. Holding a special and responsible position in the companies Mr. Jamison is liable to be called upon at any time to adjust losses and settle claims, not only of his own patrons but those of other agents. Mr. Jamison has been in the insurance business for many years and by giving it his closest attention has won a reputation for integrity and reliability enjoyed by few.

Randolph was well remembered by that prince of good fellows, Col. W. C. Patterson, of State College. On Christmas eve one of the college teams brought a load of good things to eat and to wear, to the Randolph home. Mr. Randolph has been ill from injuries received from a fall from one of the college buildings several months ago and is going about on crutches.

BODY FOUND IN COFFIN

Grave Gives Up Bones Instead of Alleged Roll of Lead.
London, Dec. 31.—The body of Thomas Charles Druce, in Highgate cemetery, was exhumed, just forty-three years to a day after his burial. The coffin was found to contain the remains of a human body, thus exploding the romantic tale told by Robert E. Caldwell and others, who swore during the recent hearing of the Druce perjury case that it contained a roll of lead.

The official statement given out by representatives of the home office and others who were officially present at the examination, not only definitely disposes of the lead myth, but seems effectively to prove that the body buried in 1864 was actually that of T. C. Druce. The authorized statement follows:

"The coffin was opened and found to contain the body of an aged, bearded man; the plate on the coffin bore the name Thomas Charles Druce."
The scene at Highgate cemetery when the vault was opened was remarkable. Constables seemed to spring from everywhere; every bush and every tree apparently hid an officer of the law. All the entrances to the cemetery were surrounded by cordons of police. Only those persons who had passes from the home office were admitted to the grounds. George Holm-lamb Druce, who claims he is the rightful heir to the Portland dukedom and to its vast estate, tried twice to get into the cemetery, but was met with a stern refusal.

BOY SHOT ITALIAN
Foreigner Assaulted Lads With Razor and is Killed.
Philadelphia, Dec. 30.—An unknown Italian was shot and instantly killed under exciting circumstances in West Philadelphia by Joseph Casartano, aged sixteen years, who alleges that the dead man had held up and assaulted him and Joseph Bonone, aged fifteen years and Joseph Bonone, aged fifteen years. The boys say that the unknown stopped them on an open lot where the shooting occurred. The man was threatening in his manner, the boys say, and when they attempted to pass on he drew a razor and slashed Casartano on the shoulder. The latter fled and the Italian attacked Bonone, cutting him on the forehead. Casartano, then turned and drawing a revolver shot his assailant through the heart.

The shooting attracted the attention of the members of a political club, a short distance away, and the members gave chase to the boys who fled across the open country toward the river. They were captured after a run of more than a mile.

RECEIVERS FOR STEEL COMPANY
Appointed to Take Charge of Passaic Company, of Paterson, N. J.
Trenton, N. J., Dec. 31.—After listening to charges of alleged misdeeds by certain former officers of the Passaic Steel company, of Paterson, N. J., Judge Lanning in the United States circuit court, on application of bondholders appointed three receivers to look after the affairs of the corporation. Those appointed are John R. Lee, vice-president of the company; Oakley W. Cook, a practical man of the concern, and William Arnold, a minority bondholder.
The application for receivers was made by Joseph O'Brien and Michael Martin, both of Scranton, Pa., who hold $5,000 of the $2,500,000 of the company's five per cent gold bonds issued in October, 1902. In the bill of complaint they charged that the company defaulted on the interest on the bonds in October last year and in April and October of the present year. They also alleged that the company is in arrears to the city of Paterson for taxes to the amount of $45,000.

—It is impossible to say just how soon in her life a heifer should be bred. The distinctive, specialized dairy breeds may be bred earlier than the larger strains. Some heifers at 16 months are as fully developed as others at 24. Therefore the experienced breeder will breed according to development.
