THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Most of the ice houses in Bellefonte have already been filled.

A baby boy made its arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Hoy, at Coleville, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Enoch Seenev, of Boalsburg, although a little improved is very seriously ill with heart trouble.

Miss Julia McDermott, who has been quite ill with the grip, for the past two weeks, is greatly improved.

See The Racket's red tag sale advertisement on the sixth page of the WATCHMAN this week. It will pay you to read it.

Ex-county commissioner Abram V. Miller is lying quite sick at his home on Linn street, the result of an attack of the grip.

Miss Elsie Bible entertained the "M. M. C." club, an organization composed of young women, at her home on Bishop street Tuesday night.

Miss Emma Henderson, a sister of Dr. John S. Henderson, formerly of Buffalo Run, is seriously ill at her home in Philadelphia with typhoid fever.

L. T. Munson's new house on Allegheny street is fast nearing completion and he expects to be able to move into it about the middle of next month.

John Porter Lyon has leased Geo. A. Beezer's livery stable on Water street, and will move his garage and repair shop there from the Bush Arcade on April first.

Centre county farmers have now no reason to complain because of any lack of snow on the roads; and unless there comes a very warm spell there is enough of it to last until spring.

Roy Schlegle, of Washington, D. C., was in Bellefonte last week and bought a car load of horses from Centre county farmers which he shipped to the national capital on Saturday.

Only a little more than a week until the spring election. The Democratic candidates for the various borough and ward offices are all good men and worthy the support of every Democrat in the town.

Candidates for the various county offices to be filled next fall are springing up every here and there and by the time of the holding of the spring primaries, April 11th, the list in both parties promises to be a large one.

George E. Swartz, of Rockton, Ill., but formerly of Centre county, and Miss May Royer, of Madisonburg, were quietly married at the bride's home on Tuesday. The young couple will make their future home in Rockton.

The many friends of D. J. Meyer, of Centre Hall, who for over a year was in poor health, will be glad to learn that he has completely recovered under the ministrations of Dr. Hoffer Dale and is now as well apparently as ever.

The grip seems to have become epidemic in Bellefonte. The disease is prevalent to a surprising extent and scores of people are suffering with it; so that between the grip and cold weather "life is anything but a pleasant dream."

Ex-sheriff and Mrs. Benjamin Schaeffer, of Nittany, recently celebrated the fifty-fifth anniversary of their marriage and the ancient couple are still in comparatively good health. In their marriage life Mr. and Mrs. Schaeffer enjoy a distinction that has been reached by few, if any, couples in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson E. Robb entertained a number of girls, last Thursday evening, in honor of their daughter Leila's twelfth birthday. On Saturday evening Martha Barnhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Barnhart, celebrated her thirteenth birthday anniversary by entertaining twenty-two of her young friends at a masquerade party.

A number of Bellefonte young ladies took "time by the forelock" on Tuesday night and ingratiated themselves into the good graces of the young men by giving a leap year dance in the Bush Arcade. It proved a very enjoyable affair and, of course, was much enjoyed by the young men who were fortunate enough to be among the guests.

There is every probability that the Nittany furnace will again be put in blast on March first. They now have a few small orders booked but not enough to justify starting up, but it is the intention now to start the first of March and manufacture the stock on hand and if by that time business has improved enough to justify it the plant will be kept in operation.

William Shope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Shope, who for several months past has been doing the local work on the Daily News, has resigned his position to make effect tomorrow. Monday morning he will go to work as collector for the Pennsylvania telephone company. Miss Violet Longars, who has been doing the collecting the past year or more, will give her entire attention to working on the books in the office. Bower Holter, of Howard, will succeed young Shope as local editor of the News.

SURPRISED ON HIS SEVENTIETH ANNIVERSARY.—It is not often that Capt. W. C. Patterson, of State College, is caught napping but that is just what happened on Friday of last week when his friends gave a surprise party in celebration of the seventieth anniversary of his birth, and the thirty-fifth year of his superintendency of the experimental farm at the College. The affair had been most carefully planned by friends at the College and in this place and committees representing various bodies and associations had made every arrangement so that there was no hitch anywhere.

At three o'clock fully five hundred people, including the trustees and faculty of the College, students, business men of that town, members of the G. A. R., and people from Bellefonte gathered in the spacious dining room in McAllister hall. They formed a large hollow square and when all was ready Capt. Patterson was requested to come at once with his family to McAllister hall as he was wanted immediately. A carriage was in waiting and Capt. and Mrs. Patterson, their son, Harry C., and three daughters, Mrs. Blanche Miller, Mrs. Nellie Foster and Mrs. Mary McDonald were driven to the hall. They were met on the outside by Gen. James A. Beaver who escorted the family into the dining room and into the presence of the gathering of five hundred of their friends.

When they were seated at a conspicuous place reserved for them within the square Judge Ellis L. Orvis arose and in a happy little speech stated the nature and purpose of the gathering. In lieu of making a lengthy talk he said he considered it best to read the testimonials which had been placed in his hands for presentation. These were from the College trustees, the faculty, the student body, the alumni, the workmen on the farm and college campus, the business men of State College, the G. A. R., and his friends in Bellefonte, all of which were so commendatory a character as to leave no doubt in the mind of anyone of the esteem in which Capt. Patterson is held by his friends. There were many letters of congratulation but there were presented to him unread to the audience.

Following the reading of the testimonials Judge Orvis presented to Capt. Patterson a beautiful silver loving cup as a memento of the occasion. On the cup was the following inscription:

Presented to WILLIAM C. PATTERSON on His Seventieth Birthday Anniversary by His Host of Friends in recognition of His Steadfast Devotion to Duty and Loyalty in Every Service.

Capt. Patterson was very much affected but withal made a very appropriate speech of thanks, after which the college orchestra gave some delightful music while refreshments were served. The rest of the afternoon was spent in general handshaking and personal congratulations to Capt. Patterson on not only having attained the age of three score and ten but being in such good health at the same time. This may be accounted for somewhat from the fact that he is a native of Huntington county, having been born near Warsaw, and is a member of the old and universally known Patterson family of that section. Of course he served with undaunted bravery during the Civil war and it was early in the seventies when he located at what was then known as the Farmer's High School. He went there to conduct a general store but the school management saw in him the man they sorely needed and in 1872 they induced him to take charge of the experimental farm as superintendent, a position he has held ever since.

FIFTY YEARS MARRIED.—The pleasant and comfortable home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Wallace, at Milesburg, was the scene of a happy gathering on Sunday when ten of their eleven children and a large number of invited guests gathered there to participate in the celebration of the golden wedding of that well known couple. A big sled load of people among whom were Judge Ellis L. Orvis and John P. Harris, went down from Bellefonte to be with them on that happy occasion.

A big dinner at noon was one of the principal features of the day, though no less pleasant were the several hours of social intercourse during the afternoon. There was music and a number of appropriate little speeches while everybody present joined in heartfelt congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace for their long life together and good health now with hopes that this would not be the last wedding anniversary they would celebrate by any means.

It was on February 2nd, 1858, that Frank Wallace led Miss Lucy Clyde, of Boalsburg, to the marriage altar in this place, hearkened to the ceremony as performed by the Rev. Samuel Linn which has kept them together for a half century. At the end of three years, however, came the country's call for men to defend its honor and Mr. Wallace left his wife and babies and went to the front. Returning from the army after the close of the war he located at Milesburg and in 1865 went into the brick business. He has continued at this work ever since and, while not becoming a millionaire, he has raised a large family of children and now owns as complete a brick-making plant as can be found in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace have eleven children, all married. They are: William, Bruce, Frank, Lewis, Ross, James, Mrs. J. W. Pletcher, Mrs. E. W. Williams, Mrs. Jessie Blair, Mrs. Eos Shaner, and Briston Wallace. They also have twenty-three grand-children and two great grandchildren. Of the above eleven children all but one were present at Sunday's gathering, Mrs. Shaner being detained at home on account of illness. The majority of their grand-children were also present. All told more than sixty people were there during the day.

A masquerade skate will be given in the rink next Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Mary A. Gould, of Atlantic City, but formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Kate Cosette, to Forrest N. Magee, of Philadelphia, son of the late Reuben M. Magee, formerly of Bellefonte.

A car load of desks, finished complete, was on Friday shipped from the Hipple planing mill in Look Haven to State College for use in the new agricultural building. The same firm has already furnished over ten thousand dollars worth of finished lumber for use in the construction of the same building.

"Smile On Me", sung in "My Wife's Family," a clever musical comedy success, which will be seen at Garman's opera house, on Thursday, February 12th, is one of the big hits of the season. It is one of the catchiest melodies written in recent years and has a swing to it that sets everybody keeping time to the music and humming and whistling it for days afterwards. You don't want to miss hearing it.

About a month ago Jacob Honser, of Buffalo Run, had an aching tooth extracted. Instead of the cavity healing up it became quite sore and had every indication of cocaine poisoning, cocaine having been used on his tooth at the time of its extraction. His condition was such recently that he was taken to Philadelphia the latter part of last week for treatment and it is feared that a portion of the jaw bone will have to be removed.

J. P. Rearek, of Centre Hall, has bought out the undertaking establishment of Williams & Ross, at Lemont. He also bought an interest in the Shealey furniture store at State College and will move the undertaking establishment there and combine the two businesses. Mr. Rearek is now in Cincinnati taking a course in undertaking and embalming and upon his return will at once move his family to State College. The new firm propose buying a handsome, up-to-date funeral car.

On Sunday, January 26th, Charles Woodring, a clerk in the First National bank at State College, was just twenty-one years old and in celebration of the event his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Woodring, of Tyrone, entertained a number of friends at dinner in his honor. The young man was born at Port Matilda, where his parents then lived; was educated in the Port Matilda schools and the Valparaiso (Ind.) University. That he is a young man of more than the ordinary business tact and ability is demonstrated by the responsible position he holds.

George D. Bayard, who is now located in Hontzdale where he is head clerk in Dr. George Wood's drug store, is maintaining his reputation as a singer. He not only sings in the churches there but is down to sing a solo in the Methodist church on Sunday and has also been chosen a member of a home talent company which will give an entertainment on March 17th, St. Patrick's day, when he is booked to sing "My Pretty Irish Maid." He is getting along splendidly in his new location, where he has been since last summer, and we hope may continue to do so.

In addition to being a good Y. M. C. A. secretary C. N. Meserve is proving quite a success as a chicken fancier. Last summer he raised a flock of Rhode Island Red and Barred Rock pullets, thirty-five of which he is keeping over winter. During the month of January he received from this flock five hundred and thirty-five eggs, or an average of about eighteen daily. The highest number received in any day was twenty-five and the lowest eleven. Considering the fact that this is winter the above is a record that probably cannot be beaten, if equalled, in Centre county.

An item is going the rounds of the state press in effect that at the last drawing of jurors in Venango county a woman was drawn; her name being taken for that of a man. The same thing happened in Centre county at the drawing of the jurors to serve at the February term of court. In filling the jury wheel in December for the year 1908 the jury commissioners used the assessor's lists and on the list for Worth township was found the name of "M. C. Woodring, farmer." M. C. Woodring was one of the names placed in the wheel and was also one of the names drawn for the February jury but when the proper officials went to serve the customary notice they were much surprised to find that M. C. Woodring is a woman.

At a meeting of the committee on entertainment of the Centre county association of Philadelphia held in Dr. Curtin's office, it was decided to hold the fourth annual banquet at the Bittenhouse, twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets, on Tuesday evening, February 11th. All male members of the association are cordially requested to be on deck, lend a hand to make this meeting pleasant and enjoyable to all. No dress suits required, any old suit brushed up will pass you in by remitting to Forest Magee, secretary, the "note" sum of $1.75, necessary to pay for what you do or do not eat, and use of easy chair while you smoke, laugh and glow pump. Don't be a clam! put up the cash, be there in your jolliest mood, do your part for the edification of others.

SNOW, GROUNDHOG AND WINTER WEATHER.—From the kind of weather we have been having the past week that little animal, the arctomys monax, (groundhog) must have awakened two days too soon and come out and seen his shadow last Friday. With zero weather for two days prior to that it began snowing late Friday evening and snow fell almost without cessation until eleven o'clock Saturday morning when the ground was covered by about twelve inches of snow. To make matters worse it then became very stormy, the wind blowing a perfect gale with the result that by Sunday morning all the public roads in the county were more or less drifted shut.

The only railroads on which traffic was blocked, however, were the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and the Bellefonte Central. The train on the former that should have arrived in Bellefonte at 9.45 Saturday evening was snow-bound near Zion and the seventeen passengers on board were compelled to spend the night in the cars. They got breakfast Sunday morning at a nearby farm house and the company finally managed to get the train through and to Bellefonte by 11.15 o'clock Sunday morning. A number of people who were on the train were members of a stag party who had supper at the Country club Saturday evening, the balance of the party waiting for a special the company intended running through to open the road. They left Bellefonte with a double header and got down to Hecla all right but on the return trip they again stuck in a snow bank and the snow drifting in behind the train they were unable to go either way. The result was that the half dozen men who composed the balance of the stag party and who were coming up on the special found themselves snow-bound at Zion. As the roads were drifted shut they could get no one brave enough to venture out to haul them home and sooner than spend the night there they started on foot, finally trailing into Bellefonte in pairs along about six o'clock. The road was not opened until Monday. The Bellefonte Central was also drifted shut and its trains were hours late on Monday.

Another feature of the week that was not the most enjoyable, especially to steam heat users, was that last Thursday, just when the cold snap began, two of the boilers at the steam heating plant sprang leaks and had to be blown out for repairs. This crippled the plant about one half and the result was cold buildings all over town; so cold in fact, that people were compelled to resort to gas and oil stoves to keep themselves anywhere near comfortable. Col. Taylor sent to Williamsport for a force of boiler makers and by Friday night one of the boilers was repaired and fired up but repairs on the other were not completed until the beginning of this week.

As to the ground hog, he had no trouble in seeing his shadow on Sunday, as notwithstanding the cold and stormy weather the sun shone quite brilliantly at times. Of course, according to the old-time weather prognosticators, we will now have six weeks more of cold weather, and the only consoling feature in connection therewith is that it can't be much worse or harder to endure than the weather of the past week.

SUNDAY EVENING FIRE.—The residence of William L. Steele was so badly damaged by fire on Sunday evening that it will be worth almost the original cost of the building to repair and put it in as good condition as it was. Mr. and Mrs. Steele were at home and in the sitting room all evening. About 8:45 o'clock Mrs. Steele remarked that she smelled smoke. Mr. Steele began to investigate and was amazed to find their own home on fire. He at once called his two sons, John and Harvey, who were in bed, to get up quickly and dress and then sent in an alarm.

It was almost nine o'clock when the fire companies arrived and at that time the fire had not broken out but was confined principally to the attic of the main building. From all indications the fire originated in the basement from the hot air furnace, which had been fired up pretty hot on account of the cold weather. Communicating to the stairway it burned up inside the walls to the attic before breaking out and this fact was mainly the reason the fire was not discovered sooner as all the smoke ascended to the attic and was not noticeable in the lower part of the house until the fire had gotten a good headway.

When the firemen did arrive on the scene the pressure was not great enough to enable them to throw a stream from the street into the attic and on the flames and they were compelled to put up ladders and get on the porch roof in order to do good service. And with the night as cold as it was the firemen deserve great credit for sticking to the work the way they did. Their clothing was frozen stiff and coated with ice and more than one man sustained frozen fingers, ears, etc. But by dint of hard work they succeeded in extinguishing the flames by the time the roof had been burnt off, the attic gutted and the fire had just gotten through to the second floor. No attempt was made to remove the furniture with the exception of Mr. Steele's desk with his private papers. Consequently almost as much damage was done with water as by the fire.

The total loss on house and furniture will probably be about three thousand dollars, with insurance enough to cover the most of it. Mr. Steele went to work on Monday and put a temporary roof on the house to avoid any further damage by the elements until his loss and insurance is adjusted when he will repair the house at once.

Mrs. Rogers entertained the Bellefonte chapter of the D. A. R. at their regular meeting, Tuesday evening.

ACADEMY FOOTBALL TEAM BANQUET.—The seventeen members composing the squad of the Bellefonte Academy football team with members of the faculty, a number of invited guests and Rev. James P. Hughes, the emeritus principal, as guest of honor, enjoyed their annual banquet at the Brookerhoff house last Friday evening. The menu was discussed to music furnished by Detrick's orchestra. Jas. R. Hughes presided as toastmaster and among those who responded were Col. J. L. Spangler, Rev. J. Allison Platts, H. C. Quigley Esq., John D. Meyer, Rev. James P. Hughes and various members of the victorious 1907 team.

Harry E. Garbrick, of Zion, is one of the progressive young men of Walker township who has decided that to be abreast of the times he must have a good county paper and on Wednesday he enrolled his name as a subscriber to the WATCHMAN.

W. H. Beck, of Nittany, was in town on business on Tuesday and favored the WATCHMAN office with a call. We forgot to ask him whether he came by rail or sleigh, but in either event we imagine he had his own troubles getting here because of the snow drifts.

John Ishler, of College township, was one of the men who braved the drifted roads and cold weather on Wednesday to come to Bellefonte and one part of his business while here was to place him-elf in such standing with the WATCHMAN that Uncle Sam's autocrats in the Postoffice Department at Washington can't cheat him out of it for another year to come. Speaking of the weather, Mr. Ishler said that in the seventeen years he has lived on the farm where he now resides he has never seen but one winter when the roads were drifted shut so that travel was through the fields; and he never saw a winter with as much snow or worse drifted roads than there are now. And just now when the turnpike from State College to the foot of Risher's hill has been recently vacated the supervisors have not yet adapted themselves to taking care of the road and they naturally are a little slow in getting it opened for travel. Mr. Ishler is also one of the men who are enthusiastic supporters of a movement for a state road between Bellefonte and State College and with enough men like him there is no doubt but that one will be built in the near future.

DR. VAN TRIES' RECITAL.—In his recital of "Eminent Men and Women Whom I Have Seen and Heard," in the court house last Friday night, Dr. Thomas C. VanTries more than filled the expectations of those who heard him. In his word-pictures and reminiscences of such world-wide men and women as John B. Gough, Bishop Philip Brooks, Wendell Phillips, Theodore Tilton, Henry Ward Beecher, Sam Jones, Horace Greeley, T. DeWitt Talmage, Will Carleton, Abraham Lincoln, William H. Seward, Belva Lockwood and many others he displayed a familiarity that surprised his hearers. Among the audience were some of the most learned and prominent men of the town and at the completion of his recital a vote of thanks was tendered the doctor for the evening's entertainment. The only unfortunate fact in connection therewith is that owing to so many other things going on in the town that night the audience was not as large as it should have been and $16.50 represented the amount of the silver offering lifted for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital.

MY WIFE'S FAMILY.—Success artistically and laugh-producing from the start, is the remarkable and pleasing record accorded "My Wife's Family," a three act musical farce comedy, written by Stephens and Linton, which was brought out last season. Built for laughing purposes only, it accomplished its end, with the result that return dates were played in many of the large cities by special request of managers and the theatre going public. The attraction will be seen in Bellefonte on Thursday, February 13th, at Garman's. Usual prices.

FOR LOCAL OPTION.—The all day's meeting held yesterday in the court house in the interest of local option was attended by a number of delegates from various parts of the county. It is the purpose to organize a local branch of the anti-saloon league and to this end a committee was appointed on permanent organization which will report at a meeting to be held in the near future.

The "Big Five" basket ball team of Tyrone will play the Bellefonte Academy five in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium in this place tomorrow (Saturday) evening, game to be called at 8:30 o'clock.
