RUNKLE.—Pennsylvania lost one of its pioneer and best known residents in the death on Tuesday morning of the venerable James Runkle. Ever since the death of his son, over a year ago, and his sister, Mrs. Brachbill, in June, 1907, Mr. Runkle seemed to lose interest in life and his health naturally failed rapidly. About two weeks ago he contracted a bad cold which finally developed into pneumonia which caused his death.
Deceased was born in Pennsylvania and was 83 years, 11 months and 25 days old. In his younger days he was an auctioneer and a veterinary surgeon and traveled extensively over Centre and adjoining counties. When about twenty-five years of age he moved to a farm near Tusseyville and went to farming, an occupation he followed until advancing age compelled him to retire; but that has been his home ever since. He was successful in his vocation and highly esteemed by his neighbors and friends. All his life he was a member of the Reformed church and lived consistent with its teachings and doctrines.
Mr. Runkle was the last surviving member of a family of twelve children. His wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Catharine Spangler, survives with the following children: Mrs. Charles Sullivan, of York; Mrs. James High, Lock Haven; Mrs. Calvin Osman, Gleen Iron; W. Groh Runkle Esq., of Bellefonte; James at home; Hugh, of Lock Haven, and Mrs. Frank Musser, of Penn Hall. The funeral will be held at eleven o'clock this morning interment to be made at Tusseyville.

He was a native of Liberty township and was 68 years, 4 months and 14 days old. For many years he followed lumbering and when timber on the mountains grew scarce he with his family kept a boarding house at Monument for a number of years, finally locating in Blanchard. Mrs. Heverly died several years ago but surviving are the following children: Alexander, George and Edward, all of Blanchard; Harry, of Beech Creek township, Clinton county, and Mrs. Charles Sorghum, of DuBois. Every indication is that at least some of the plants of the American Line and Stone company in this section will be started up in the near future and if the prospects continue as favorable as they are now looking work at all their plants will be in full blast by the middle of April. It is to be hoped that this news will prove true as the limestone industry around Bellefonte is now so immense that a shut down is seriously felt.

The members of company B are already looking forward to an outing they anticipate having some time in October next when Philadelphia will celebrate Old Home week. Last Monday Mrs. Ellen Eokley, who lives along Muncy mountain west of Bellefonte, was seventy-five years old and a large number of friends gathered and gave her an old-fashioned surprise party. The occasion was a most delightful one for all, but for none more than the guest of honor, to whom it was so entirely unexpected.
There is an increased demand for charcoal iron over the market of a few weeks ago and as a result the Curtin furnace and iron works were put in operation again on Monday morning and unless the present business depression continues an unusual length of time they have now orders sufficient to keep them running continually.

Phillipsburgers have inaugurated a movement for the building of a new fifty thousand dollar opera house; which looks very much as if the people over there are not being affected very much by the hard times, when there is a demand for such a costly place of amusement.
William Dawson is quite ill at his home on Willowbank St. with a sore on his leg, just above the knee, that seems to puzzle the physicians both as to its origin and its nature. Mr. Dawson's friends have become uneasy but we trust their alarm is without serious foundation.
State College is going to have an old time Fourth of July celebration this year. The Alpha fire company of that place has taken the initiative and a glorious time is predicted. State College has grown to such proportions within the last few years that she is really in position to make quite a show and entertain a big crowd.
William Wilhelm, of Buffalo, N. Y., who has charge of the Lath estate in Howard township, has asked that the borough of Howard be enlarged so as to take in a portion of the estate. The borough council of that town is holding the matter under consideration while an investigation is being made as to the advisability of doing so.
Joe W. Rightmeyer and family have returned to Centre county and expect to again make Bellefonte their home. Most of the time during his absence from here Joe has been located in Williamsburg, Blair county, where he was chief of police for a number of years and just why he decided to leave there and return to Bellefonte is not known.
Some person entered the Daily News office during the noon hour one day last week and carried off a pocketbook containing a one dollar bill and some small change. While we feel like commiserating with the loser, at the same time it almost serves them right; as anybody who works around a newspaper office has no business having a whole dollar bill at one time.
Some one broke into the Bellefonte creamery on Wednesday night and ransacked the office completely. The safe was not locked so the thief carried away the money drawer, but fortunately Andy Shivery had deposited all the money in bank the evening before and not a cent was procured. The entrance to the building was effected through a window.
Dr. Thomas C. Van Tries, who a few weeks ago so interestingly entertained a Bellefonte audience with his lecture on "Anecdotes and Reminiscences of Eminent Men and Women Whom I Have Seen and Heard," has had a large folder issued which bears on the front page a very life-like picture of himself. The second page is devoted to a concise description of his lecture while testimonials fill up the third and fourth pages. It is the doctor's intention to deliver his lecture for the benefit of any church, W. C. T. U., or charitable organization desiring him to do so.
According to the present outlook State College will have another building boom the coming summer. Up to this time, it is reported on reliability authority, arrangements are being made by property owners for the erection of from twenty to thirty new houses in that borough. As the buildings now erected there are mostly of brick and well finished throughout it can readily be seen that the above boom will mean not only a lot of work but the expenditure of a large sum of money in that town. In this respect Bellefonte may well envy State College.
The fortieth session of the Central Pennsylvania conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will convene at York next Wednesday. Rev. Stein will preach his last sermon for the conference year on Sunday and the Sunday thereafter there will be no preaching services in the Methodist church. There is every likelihood, however, that the reverend will be returned to Bellefonte, as a unanimous request from the congregation for his return will be made to conference. The lay delegate to the layman's electoral conference, which will meet on Friday, March 21st, is C. C. Shney, with W. T. Twimire as alternate. Both of the above gentlemen are members of the layman's association which will meet on Saturday, March 21st.

The irrepressible THEODORE P. RYNDER, who has returned from Erie to make his home at Milesburg, has jumped right into the swim by announcing himself as a candidate for the Legislature on the Republican ticket; his platform being the entire support of the public schools by the State and the consequent abolishment of all school tax. Of course Mr. RYNDER whenever he ran for office, and he has always been running ever since the writer knew him, has always been a fadist, so that his entry into the ring at this time and on such a platform is no novelty.
Just think of it! Only four weeks from next Wednesday until the opening of the trout-fishing season. And piscatorialists are already predicting that trout will be quite plentiful in Centre county streams this spring. Of course there always have been a good many trout in the streams, but the trouble was most of them remained there after the season closed. And if the prospect of the opening of the trout season is not enough anticipated enjoyment the "fans" will have their inning at about the same time, as the baseball season will open on April 14th.
Either deer must be very plentiful on the Allegheny mountains or else Phillipsburg is a very quiet town as on Tuesday a young buck ran down off the mountain and right through the main streets of the town to the dam where it jumped in the water to escape some dogs which were chasing it. John Dumbleton saw the deer and fearing it might drown in its exhausted condition got into the water and caught it, penning the animal up in his barn where he fed it and kept it until it became rested then turned it at large again.
The Bellefonte Electric company has become somewhat chilled on that day current business and as it looks now we will all have to continue to depend on steam, water and gasoline for power purposes.

The snow in this neighborhood is rapidly disappearing, and sleighing about ended.
The banquet of the K. G. E., which was billed for Saturday evening last, has been postponed indefinitely.
If the improvements in contemplation take place, our village will present a busy scene the coming spring.
The young folks from here had quite a lively dancing party at the home of Harvey Bailey, on Friday evening last. They report having had a delightful time.
W. S. Rosman, a student at our railroad station for about a year, has advanced very rapidly in telegraphy and knowledge of rail-roading, and has become very proficient as assistant agent. Those having business at the station are always received courteously and given prompt attention; there is never any delay. He has certainly won golden opinions from every one by his gentlemanly demeanor and affable manner.
Mrs. Jane Nofeker, familiarly known by everybody as "Aunt Jane," has been quite ill for several weeks and the greater part of the time confined to her bed, but is now up and about again. On Friday last she reached her 91st birthday, and had quite a large number of visitors, with remembrances, and also received many congratulations by mail. In the evening the Spring Mills club, consisting of C. C. Bartges, Frank McClellan, James Osman, Ivy Bartges, W. S. Rosman, Maurice Rachau and Frank Osman, all accomplished musicians, with a skillful leader in C. C. Bartges, made her a visit and rendered some of their choice music, much to the delight and pleasure of the venerable lady and those present. Refreshments were duly served and after wishing Aunt Jane many returns of the day and hoping to greet her when she reached the century mark, at an early hour all retired to their respective homes.

It seems like Spring, for we can now hear the "chirp cheer, cheer," of the robin, and see the blue birds and black birds fly from tree to tree.
Our hustling coal and grain dealer, George C. Meyer, is now housed up with the numps and John Bohn is in the house very ill with the same, he having gone out to the barn and caught cold.
