Result of Saturday's Primaries.

The voters of Centre county, and the whole State for that matter, had their first real opportunity last Saturday to test the advantages and disadvantages of the Uniform Primaries law, and though it may be a success in some ways, personally we prefer the old-time way of making nominations. While it may be considered that the new way gives to the voters themselves the power of making the nominations by direct vote instead of through delegates in convention assembled, yet it was fully demonstrated at the primaries last Saturday that the nomination can be cornered for any man who goes after it in the right way.

As an offset, there is no question but that the new method not only entails a burden of work on the County Commissioners to tabulate and count the returns but it also delays knowledge of the correct vote an interminable length of time. For instance, the returns were not all in until Tuesday morning and then many of them were brought in sealed and could not be seen until officially opened by the Commissioners. The Commissioners began to tabulate them at noon on Wednesday and up until the WATCHMAN went to press last evening they had not finished their job, so that it is impossible to give the exact vote pulled. Enough is known, however, to tell who is nominated.

Probably the biggest surprise of the primaries was on the Republican side in the nomination of R. B. Taylor, for Legislature by about 275 majority. But then this is just what the WATCHMAN predicted all along. William Brown's nomination for Recorder on the Republican ticket was also somewhat of a surprise, especially to the candidates who were running against him. The Democratic ticket nominated is undoubtedly one of the choice of the majority of the voters. It is a good ticket, well located through-out the county, and one that every loyal citizen can support. The only thing now to do is for every Democrat to get to work and keep at it from now until the election in November and thus will success be assured. The two tickets nominated are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Party. Includes X. B. Spangler, Nat. Delegates; Lewis E. Emery, Harry Bouillon, Harry Kerr; D. J. Kelley, State Delegates; Ed. Blanchard, W. Gross Mingle, E. G. Zimmerman, F. W. Grobe, Ed. Sellars, Jacob Woodring; W. H. Walker, Congress; Charles F. Barclay, J. C. Meyer, Assembly; R. B. Taylor, F. P. Smith, Sheriff; Wm. E. Hurley, J. D. Miller, Treasurer; G. G. Fink, F. P. Musser, Recorder; W. H. Brown, G. F. Weaver, Register; E. C. Tuten, J. L. Dunlap, Commissioners; H. E. Zimmerman, C. A. Weaver; J. W. Beck, Auditors; R. D. Musser, John L. Cole, H. B. Postius; P. S. Fisher, Coroner; (Scattering).

The Ticket.

The ticket chosen by the Democratic voters of the county at the primaries, on Saturday last, will be found at its proper place in this issue of the WATCHMAN. It may not be exactly the ticket that all of us wanted, but it was made, honestly and fairly, without the manipulation of politicians or the interference of would-be bosses and represents the desire of the Democratic people as expressed by their ballots. It is made up of men who are fitted for the various positions to be filled—men of good character, correct habits and who will honor the party and the people supporting them, by the faithful and efficient performance of any public duty expected of them. The ticket is well distributed over the county and should, and we sincerely hope will, arouse such enthusiasm among the Democratic voters as will assure a full vote and a rousing majority for every man upon it.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF W. R. JENKINS.—Dying as suddenly as he did last Thursday evening, with hardly a moment's warning, the WATCHMAN last week was able to get only a brief announcement of the death of Mr. Jenkins; and then it came with such suddenness as to be a severe shock to his many friends, most of whom had seen him on the street and conversed with him that morning. He had been in usual health up until a day before his death when he had an attack of indigestion. He consulted a physician, but his case was not even considered serious until about three o'clock on the day he died when he felt so weak and languid that he told his wife he would lie down a few minutes. He was immediately taken worse and physicians, on being summoned, found him suffering with a very bad attack of acute indigestion. Every known remedy was resorted to, but he sank rapidly until the end came at a quarter of six o'clock.

William Rhys Jenkins was a native of Wales. He was born February 20th, 1844, so that his age was just 64 years, 1 month and 18 days. In 1852, when he was only a child, his parents, William and Elizabeth Jenkins, came to this country and a year later located at Howard, where the elder Jenkins secured an interest in the Howard iron works. It was there that the subject of this sketch received his education in the public schools while his technical knowledge of iron and its manufacture was learned from working in the rolling mill after he became old enough.

While yet a young man he was apprenticed to Todd & Duncan, of this place, to learn the trade of a machinist. His parents having moved to Milton he joined them in 1873 and with his father and brother organized the Milton Iron company and operated quite an extensive plant at that place. He was there only a short time when he received a flattering offer from the Valentine & Anderson company, Williamsport, and went with them, finally becoming a member of the firm. In 1879 he came to Bellefonte and with J. H. Lingle bought out the interest of Mr. Todd in the firm of Todd & Duncan, forming the partnership of W. P. Duncan & Co., operating the machine shops and foundry in the rear of the old Snow Shoe depot. In 1888 Mr. Duncan retired and the firm became Jenkins & Lingle. Mr. Jenkins remained a member of the firm until in March, 1902, when he retired and with his brother, John Jenkins, of Milton, organized the Howard Iron & Tool company, and ever since has been engaged in operating their extensive plant at Howard.

Mr. Jenkins was a man not only thoroughly conversant with the iron industries and manufacture in every detail, but was a man of genius and very inventive mind. His first successful venture was in equipping the plants of the Bellefonte Iron company with machinery which proved a marked success. Possibly one of his most prominent inventions was that of the power hammer which has been widely adopted and is universally known among iron manufacturers. The continuous rolling mill was also one of his inventions while others were a water wheel, low water alarm, coal oil burner, rake, hoe, olevis and ice creper, etc. The four latter with a shovel are the principal products being manufactured at the present time by the Howard Iron & Tool company. He was also interested with G. Willard Hall in constructing an auto-buggy, which has not yet been brought to a stage of perfection.

In addition to his business activities Mr. Jenkins was a man of progressive ideas as to the welfare of the town and community. He served one or more terms as a member of the Bellefonte council and made a good law maker. Socially he was one of the best of men and in this respect the town is a great loser. He was a member of the Bellefonte Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, and of the Chapter and Commandery. He was high priest of the Chapter and a trustee of the Lodge at the time of his death. In his home he was the most loving of husbands and fathers.

He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Elizabeth Garner, who died a number of years ago. One son, Harry Jenkins, of this place, survives as the result of that union. His second wife was Miss Catharine Stott, who also survives with one daughter, Dorothy. He also leaves one brother, John Jenkins, of Milton, and one sister, Mrs. E. S. Dorworth, of this place. The funeral was held at ten o'clock on Monday morning from the house. Rev. J. Allison Platts officiated at the services while burial in the Union cemetery was made under the auspices of his brother Masons.

DECKER.—Though she had lived beyond the allotted years the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Decker, wife of Frederick Decker, at her home on the Branch, last Saturday, is being universally mourned by all who knew her. She was in good health all winter up until several weeks ago when she caught a bad cold which finally developed into pleurisy, causing her death.

Deceased was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Strouse and was born at Pine Hall seventy-five years ago. During her girlhood days and ever since her marriage she has made her home in College township, and was universally known for her many noble qualities. In fact her home was noted far and wide as being one of the most hospitable in all that part of the county. The latch-holding of her door always hung on the outside and it mattered not who the wayfarer was he was always sure of a welcome and a cosy chair by the Decker hearthstone. All her life Mrs. Decker was a faithful member of the Lutheran church and was just as consistent in her church duties as she was in her household affairs.

Surviving the deceased are her husband, one son and five daughters, as well as three sisters. The funeral was held on Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. Rev. J. I. Stonecypher, of Boalsburg, officiated and interment was made in the Slab Cabin cemetery.

WHITE.—W. A. White died very suddenly at the home of W. H. Thompson, in Howard, on Friday morning of last week. While working as assistant division foreman on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad about two years ago he hurt his leg and a bone soreness followed which compelled him to quit work. Last summer he was admitted to the Bellefonte hospital for treatment and after trying every means possible to save the leg the physicians found that the only hope of saving the man's life was by amputating the diseased member, which was accordingly done. He then recovered and since the first of April has been making his home with the Thompsons, at Howard. Friday morning he was feeling as well as usual and was helping Mrs. Thompson do the chores around the house when he suddenly became very ill and was compelled to go to bed. A physician was summoned but his ministrations failed to relieve the man and he died at 9:30 o'clock, apoplexy and heart trouble being the cause.

Deceased was born in Maryland over fifty-four years ago. Twenty-seven years ago he came to Centre county and located at Howard where he worked in the furnace for Bernard Lauth & Co. When the furnace closed down he went to work for the railroad company as a section hand and continued in the employ of that company until his disability compelled him to quit work. Since he lost his leg by amputation he had worked at the shoemaker's trade. He was a member of the United Evangelical church and a man who had many friends. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Tillie Schenck, of Boalsburg, two brothers and three sisters. Rev. W. W. Rhoads officiated at the funeral which was held at ten o'clock on Monday morning, interment being made in the Schenck cemetery.

CALHOUN.—Clifford Calhoun died on Monday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James I. Calhoun, in Union township, after an illness of some weeks. He was born in Union township and his death occurred on the thirty-fifth anniversary of his birth.

In addition to assisting his father on the farm he was a deep student of plant life and developed quite a skill as a landscape gardener. So much so, in fact, that his services were much in demand and more than one Bellefonte lawn and garden were planned and laid out by him. He was a member of the Unionville Methodist church and a man of a somewhat retiring disposition, though universally liked by all who knew him.

In addition to his parents he is survived by two younger brothers, George A. and Leo Roy. The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon, interment being made in the Unionville cemetery.

PARSIFAL.—Ruger, of theatrical fame, has just completed arrangements to secure direct from a New York firm the films of the beautiful sacred play, "Parsifal," and will have them here to place on exhibition next Monday evening. The fame of this pastoral play is known broadcast all over the land and its portrayal here next week by motion pictures will perhaps be the only opportunity the majority of Bellefonters will ever have of witnessing even a representation of the play. The complete reproduction requires two rolls, or two thousand feet of film, and it is estimated that it will take at least one hour to run it off on the screen. While the pictures are being shown it will be fully explained by a competent lecturer from the platform. The prices will be ten cents for adults and five cents for children. This picture will be given for four nights, beginning Monday evening, so that everybody will have an opportunity of seeing it.

ELDER.—Mrs. Mary Elder died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Dorman, at Flemington, on Wednesday of last week. She was 74 years, 8 months and 4 days old, and was born and lived for many years at Jackson, this county. She was the mother of fourteen children, six of whom survive, as follows: Mrs. Nannie McKibben, of Williamsport; Mrs. W. I. Watson, of Warren; Mrs. E. M. Dorman, of Flemington; Charles, Frank and William, at New Kensington. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, the remains being taken to Jacksonville for interment.

NEIDIGH.—Having been an invalid for quite a long time as the result of a stroke of paralysis Jacob Neidigh died at his home at Woodward on Thursday of last week. He was born in College township and was sixty-nine years of age. He was well known and universally respected in Haines township, where he lived for many years. In addition to his wife he is survived by two brothers, Daniel, of State College, and Augustus, living in Wisconsin. Rev. Sheeder officiated at the funeral which was held on Monday morning, interment being made in the St. Paul's cemetery.

HENDERSON.—Mrs. Margaret Henderson, widow of the late Dr. Joseph Henderson, of Lewistown, died at the home of her son, Dr. W. B. Henderson, in Philadelphia, on Tuesday morning, of apoplexy. She was eighty-four years of age and is survived by three sons, Dr. James Henderson, of Ocoela Mills; Joseph, of Lewistown, and Dr. W. B. Henderson, of Philadelphia. The remains were taken to Lewistown for interment there today.

WEDDED IN BELLEFONTE.—Tuesday's Altoona Times contained the following marriage notice.

DERSTINE-INGRAM.—Mr. Lee Derstine and Miss Dama Ingram were married in Bellefonte, last week by the pastor of the Episcopal church of that place. Both were devotees of the skating rink, where the friendship ripened into love.

The above might have been the happy culmination of the little romance referred to, if it were correct, but unfortunately it is not. As evidence of that fact it is only necessary to state that the Lee Derstine referred to was married in this place on Tuesday evening of this week to Miss Edna N. Wilson, justice of the peace John M. Keichline performing the ceremony.

The Miss Ingram referred to above was in Bellefonte the latter part of last week but she and Derstine were not married. JENKINS-MOORE.—A wedding that will be of interest to many WATCHMAN readers was that of Walter H. Jenkins, of Milton, but who has spent much time at Howard because of his connection with the Howard Iron & Tool company, and Miss Mabel C. Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Moore, of Howard. The two young people left Howard on the afternoon of April 3d, apparently for a drive, but their trip was lengthened until Bellefonte was reached and upon arriving here they went to the home of Dr. William Laurie, on Spring street, where they were quietly married. They kept the affair quiet until last week when their friends learned their secret and gave them a good, old-fashioned send-off.

RUMGAY-CLOUSER.—William Rumgay, an electrician in the employ of the Phillipsburg Electric Light and Street Railways company, and Miss Esther Clouser, of Morristown, slipped away together on Wednesday of last week and going to Altoona were quietly married at the parsonage of the First Methodist Episcopal church by Rev. Horace Lincoln Jacobs. Immediately after the ceremony the happy young couple left on a brief honeymoon trip returning from which they will immediately go to housekeeping in Phillipsburg.

ROSSMAN-WILSON.—Clarence Rossman of Clontondale, and Miss Josephine Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wilson, of Salona, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents at 6 o'clock last evening. Only a few intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom were present to witness the ceremony. After a delicious wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Rossman left for a brief wedding trip to eastern cities. The bride has frequently visited in Bellefonte and is a charming young woman.

MARKS-SMITH.—On Sunday Andrew Marks and Miss Nellie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, of Beech Creek, drove to Look Haven and in the parlor of the Columbus house were quietly married by Rev. William M. Grant, of Mill Hall, returning home the same evening. The young couple will go to housekeeping at Beech Creek, Mr. Marks being in the employ of the Pennsylvania fire brick company.

SHUEY-GROVE.—Wednesday, April 15th, at high noon, Dale L. Shuey and Miss Maud E. Grove, both of Lemont, were united in marriage by Rev. J. F. Hower, pastor of the United Evangelical church, of this place. Their numerous friends join in wishing them a prosperous journey over the matrimonial sea of life.

HEVERLY-STUNK.—At the parsonage of the United Evangelical church in this place, on Saturday evening, April 11th, James Orvis Heverly and Miss Mabel Strunk, both of Howard, were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Hower.

ANNIVERSARY MEETING OF COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY.—The Centre county medical society held its thirty-second anniversary meeting on Tuesday morning in the court house and the gathering proved to be one of the largest and most interesting of any held for a long time. Including the visitors there were just thirty of the learned M. D.'s present. Dr. Horace G. McCormick, of Williamsport, delivered a very able address on pneumonia and Dr. William S. Ross, of Altoona, told of the advantages to be derived from organization by both the physicians and the general public.

For some time past there has been a growing sentiment among the members of the society to change the time of holding its meeting from morning to evening, as it would give more time for discussions and the annual banquet. Following the meeting of Tuesday morning the members present partook of their annual banquet in a private dining room at the Brookerhoff house, the menu being one of the finest served in Bellefonte for some time. Out of town physicians who were guests of the society were Dr. H. G. McCormick and Benjamin H. Detweiler, of Williamsport; Dr. Francis P. Ball, of Look Haven; Dr. Saylor J. McGee, of Mill Hall; Dr. Samuel C. Stewart, of Clearfield; Dr. S. S. McCormick, of Hubersburg; Dr. J. W. Neff, of Snow Shoe, and Dr. M. A. Kirk, of Bellefonte.

ODD FELLOWS OFFICERS INSTALLED.—At a recent meeting of the Bellefonte lodge of Odd Fellows the following officers were installed for the ensuing year:

Acting noble grand, Stuart Fleck; noble grand, David Miller; vice grand, William Owen; financial secretary, H. B. Pontius; recording secretary, George Hazel; treasurer, Isaac Miller; right supporter to noble grand, W. S. Scholl; left supporter to noble grand, A. Lukenbauch; warden, Fred R. Bassler; conductor, B. D. Tate; inside guard, Isaac Miller; chaplain, S. A. Keifer. A smoker followed the installation.

COMMENT STUDENTS FOR FIGHTING FIRE.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the board of trustees of the Pennsylvania State College, held April 10th, 1908, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved: That this committee hereby expresses its high appreciation of the splendid work done by our student body and others who so heroically and successfully fought the fire which occurred in our chemical building on March 30th, 1908.

It is a noticeable fact that within ten minutes after the fire broke out a stream of water was turned upon it from within the building and within ten minutes four streams were playing from the outside.

Only the clear heads and heroic efforts of the students and the local fire company resulted in saving the building, as the place where the fire started was one of the most difficult to reach and required the most skillful work.

The executive committee cannot refrain from expressing their due appreciation to those in charge of the pumps in the engineering building used for the purpose of increasing the pressure of water when necessary. These pumps worked perfectly and secured a steady and adequate stream of water, which is a protection to the College property as well as that of the town. It is far ther.

Resolved: That we express to the insurance companies, who held the policies on the buildings and its contents, our thanks for their fair adjustment of the losses and their prompt action in the matter. MISS BUCHANAN IN SONG.—For the last time we wish to call the attention of the people of Bellefonte to the song recital which will be given next Thursday evening in the court house for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital. This promises to be the big musical event of the season and anyone who fails to attend will miss a rare treat. Miss Buchanan, who will sing, has a reputation that is more than local. A native of Philadelphia, she has sung in operas and some of the biggest churches in the land and both on the stage and in the choir has received the very highest praise possible to receive by any star. The press of that city has bestowed upon her unstinted praise and the program of songs she will render in Bellefonte next Thursday night will be one of her very best.

Her accompanist, Miss Rebekah Lyon, is a Bellefonte young lady and her reputation as a performer is very well known in Bellefonte. In fact she has few equals as a performer and with the two young ladies together the recital is sure to be exceptionally fine.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE.—Following close upon the celebration of the thirty-eighth anniversary of the Bellefonte Young Men's Christian Association on Sunday, April 5th, a tea table conference of the board of directors and a number of the loyal supporters of the institution was held in the association rooms last Friday evening. The purpose was to devise some sure means of raising the necessary fund to meet the current expenses of the association. Assistant state secretary A. F. Hoffmann was present and offered some very timely suggestions. At present it requires about $600 to pay the interest of the mortgage on the building and for heating purposes. If some means could be devised by which the mortgage could be lifted and an individual heating plant installed the above amount could be saved from the gross fund now required. While various plans were suggested nothing definite was decided upon aside from the old way of private subscriptions, as heretofore relied upon.

SEVEN GRADUATED.—The annual commencement of the Ferguson township High school was held in the I. O. O. F. hall at Pine Grove Mills at eight o'clock last evening, in the presence of a very large audience. Prof. G. W. Johnstonbaugh presided and introduced the class orators. David F. Fortney Esq., of Bellefonte, made the commencement address, which proved one of his usual forceful and interesting talks. The graduates of the '08 class number seven, as follows: H. F. Reed, L. F. Fishburn, L. C. Gates, A. C. Kepler, S. M. Hess, E. C. Martz, and Miss Mary F. Kepler, the latter being the valedictorian of the class.

H. E. Miller, of Mill Hall, formerly of this place, was here last week visiting relatives and friends, a guest of his sister, Mrs. C. C. Cummings.

Decidedly cold here on Saturday and Sunday last, with high arctic winds, playing havoc with considerable fencing in this neighborhood.

Rev. J. Max Lantz, the new appointee for the Pennsylvally charge, delivered his first sermon here on Sunday evening last, in the M. E. church, to quite a large congregation. The reverend gentleman was well received.

Fish Warden G. W. Shannon last week arrested Mr. Kerstetter and Jos. Auman for fishing with throw nets. Kerstetter, not able or unwilling to pay the price of $25 and costs, was committed to jail for 25 days. Auman's case was held over by magistrate Herring.

The barn, stable and corn crib belonging to T. B. Jemison with all their contents, were totally destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock on Monday last. When first discovered nearly the whole interior was ablaze, but fortunately the cow was gotten out slightly scorched and several bushels of corn, and that was all that was saved.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. At the time of the occurrence Mr. Jemison was absent, having left early in the morning to attend to some business in Georges valley, there he was informed of his loss and immediately returned home. The building contained all his farming implements, a new mowing machine, one sleigh, two wagons, three hogs just received the previous Saturday: seven tons of hay, two mows of straw, all his meat, seventy-five bushels of oats, 25 bushels of wheat, 15 bushels of rye and 40 bushels of corn. The buildings were worth about $1,000. The loss is only partially covered by insurance.

Saturday last being the grand opening day at Mrs. Ruhl's military parlors, it being an entirely new addition to her business, I availed myself of her kind invitation to call and take a look at the latest fad in feminine headgear. Her parlors were thronged with delightful sight-seers and expressions of admiration were on every tongue. The array of hats and so many bewildering and in all the fashionable shapes and colorings, charmingly trimmed with dainty wings and fancy feathers. They are all beautiful and artistic creations and unequalled in the excellency of the material and work. Mrs. Ruhl has certainly displayed an exquisite taste in her spring and summer selections.
