

To Correspondents.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

George Meese is seriously ill at his home on Thomas street.

Many gardens are now fragrant with the perfume of lilac blossoms.

Mothers day was not generally observed in this place on Sunday.

R. B. Taylor has begun work on the new state highway through the borough of Milesburg.

There is quite a large list of cases to be disposed of at quarter sessions court next week.

Landlord W. L. Daggett is so much improved these days that he is able to be up several hours at a time.

Mrs. George A. Beezer recovered sufficiently to be removed from the Bellefonte hospital to her home last Saturday.

During the past two weeks a force of workmen have been engaged repairing the Pennsylvania telephone company's lines in this place.

A very successful "kitchen shower" was held by the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church in the lecture room yesterday afternoon.

Farmers are so busy now putting in their spring crops that it is almost a novelty to see one in Bellefonte; especially when the weather is nice.

Rev. William Honck will fill the pulpit of the Methodist church Sunday, May the twenty-fourth, while Rev. James B. Stein is in Baltimore attending the general conference.

The last banquet for this season for the men's bible class at the Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening at 6.30 o'clock. Following the banquet there will be a special program of addresses.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harper moved their household goods to Curtin this week where they will store them and board until next spring, as they will be unable to get a house until that time.

Centre cottages will have their full share of courting this month, with three weeks of it from Monday morning last. But then it is likely neither week will be an exceptionally busy one.

Arthur Thomas was lucky enough on Tuesday morning to land a nice twelve inch brook trout from Spring creek, opposite the Bush house and the same afternoon he caught one which measured 17 1/2 inches.

George A. Beezer expects his new four-cylinder Buick runabout either tomorrow or in the beginning of the week and then some of the men who are now running around here in their old-time cars will have to take his dust.

After being housed up six weeks as the result of an attack of pneumonia Charles A. Glenn, the Water street photographer, was out for the first time on Monday, though he still shows evidence of the struggle he had to combat the disease.

Just so they won't be behind the times and in order to give that community a very spring-like and prosperous appearance Harry Winton, David Rice and John Lambert, all of Quaker hill, have had their properties improved with a new coat of paint.

With so many farmer's rural lines through Pennsylvania the business of the Pennsylvania telephone company in that part of the county has become so large that they are considering the establishing of an exchange at Spring Mills in order to give their patrons the best of service.

Quite a hard rain and hail storm passed over Bald Eagle valley last Saturday evening but fortunately did practically no damage to fruit trees, gardens or growing crops. It was the last hard shower of the three days rain and for several days afterwards there was real summer weather.

The hard rain of last Friday and Saturday compelled a cancellation of the State-Dickinson baseball game on Friday and the State-Carlisle Indians track and field meet on Saturday. The two games of base ball the Bellefonte Academy had scheduled to be played here on the same days were also cancelled.

William Walker of Harris township, who about five weeks ago was struck by the Lewisburg passenger train while crossing the track at Gregg, has recovered so that he is able to walk around though he cannot do work of any kind owing to the injury to his back. It is not yet known whether his injury will permanently incapacitate him from work or not.

When the passenger train east on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad arrived at this place last Saturday afternoon a big rooster was found wedged in so tightly alongside the bulldog on the pilot of the engine that it could not get out, and it was with some difficulty it was extricated. The fowl did not appear to be injured and was given in charge of the fireman.

The house owned and occupied by James Brooks near Pleasant Gap was entirely destroyed by fire at six o'clock on Tuesday morning. The fire was started from an overheated stovepipe through the roof. Only a few articles of furniture were saved. Mr. Brooks carried no insurance and the loss will be keenly felt by the man and his family, as he is not strong physically and cannot do any work.

P. S. C. STUDENTS GREET NEW PRESIDENT IN CHARACTERISTIC STYLE.—Dr. Edwin E. Sparks, called from the chair in History, University of Chicago, to be president of the Pennsylvania State College, arrived Monday afternoon to assume the duties of his new position. Although his formal inauguration will not take place until commencement, for which event elaborate preparations are being made, it was the unanimous desire of the students to extend an immediate welcome which was done on Wednesday morning in a unique and enthusiastic manner perhaps never excelled, if ever equalled, in the many demonstrations at State. A spontaneous greeting of this sort from a thousand students carries an import very different from the usual formal and often far from genuine public demonstration and must certainly be a happy experience to the man who elicits it.

A half holiday was declared for the celebration which began with Dr. Sparks' address to the boys in chapel. At nine o'clock there was drill of the two battalions in full uniform which culminated at ten o'clock in the dress parade of battalions and remaining students past the reviewing stand erected in front of the Auditorium and upon which Dr. Sparks and members of the faculty stood. An industrial parade of so ambitious a nature has never before been attempted which doubtless accounts for this so successful and original demonstration. The various schools of the College were represented chiefly by floats—technical, practical, ludicrous—that would have done credit to many more lavish and widely advertised celebrations.

The school of Engineering represented the mechanical department in perhaps the most striking and attractive float decorated with blue and white bunting and carrying an entire laboratory outfit for demonstration, the fire blazing, the anvil responding to the industrious forger who had his warning overhead in large letters "Watch for Sparks"; the electrical department by a dynamo other insignia; plenty of "jolly electricals"; the civil by men equipped for field work with chains, rods, etc. The school of Mines had a real miners' cart followed by most genuine looking miners—begrimed carrying picks and other mining utensils and demanding an "8-hour day and full dinner pail. "Swamps Angela" in laboratory coats and aprons with wash bottles, blow pipes and everything transportable from a chemistry department were both technical and ludicrous. "Felocty" mathematics were represented by transparencies and Zoology by a skeleton.

The school of Agriculture covered all the road space available and represented every phase of agricultural pursuit—the farmer sowing his seed, the spraying apparatus finding for demonstration on this occasion, spectators rather than San "Joey" scale, an experiment oat that gave oleomargarine out of one oat, cheese out of another, buttermilk out of another, an up-to-date milk wagon with an out-of-date milk, poultry, machinery ad infinitum, more stock, than the Forestry float, built of large logs, topped by erect pine trees, exceedingly attractive and followed by foresters with axes and plenty of rules for conservation of woods and water.

A department desired was represented by a small wheel-barrow carrying one chair and an appeal for a building. The ubiquitous "knocker" department by a float labeled "Not Any Traction Co." and propelled by muscle rather than electricity. In this department might also be included the "Slide Rule" and some other features which evoked merriment and applause. Prepared with good feeling, executed with enthusiasm, it was a noteworthy and most successful demonstration.

A BAD DIAMOND.—By the foregoing caption we do not mean a bad stone, but refer to the public square in front of the court house in this place and the word "bad" does not by any means express the deplorable condition in which it is. At one time it was paved with a mixture of stone, cinder, tar and sand, but now it is a conglomeration of rats and holes that would be a disgrace on a half respectable public road anywhere in the county. While it is the one place in the town that should be kept in the very best of condition it is now really worse than any of the side streets.

If it is correct, as stated, that the county commissioners are ready to put down a new concrete pavement in front of the soldiers' monument and court house yard just as soon as the borough engineer will give them a grade, why don't council see to it that a grade is given. And then follow that up with fixing the Diamond in some way or other that it will present at least a half-decent appearance. If there is any likelihood of getting that state highway through Bellefonte for which application has been made there is some reason for allowing the street to remain in the condition it is, but if there is none, and the borough authorities ought to find out whether there is or not, then why not fix it now and not allow it to remain in the condition it is all summer; to be commented upon by every stranger who visits Bellefonte as one of the disgrace of the town.

Most every street crossing in Bellefonte is bad enough, but goodness knows, the Diamond is far worse. Since the above was put in type, or rather Wednesday evening state highway commissioner Hunter and chief engineer Foster were in Bellefonte and went over the route of the proposed state road, so there is a probability of its being built soon.

The commissioners appointed to inquire into the advisability of dividing Harris township into two voting precincts will report in favor of doing so at next week's session of court.

Dr. M. J. Loeke has finally gotten his Buick machine out of shop and it presents a very noble appearance in its new coat of French grey paint. Remodeled with full elliptic springs in the rear it is now a much more comfortable riding car than before and the doctor is very much pleased.

In our article on the Academy minstrels last week we unintentionally omitted the name of William Crooks, one of the end men, in giving the names of those deserving of individual mention. Mr. Crooks, it will be remembered, was the young man who sang "In Bandanna Lan" and other songs, and really was one of the stars of the minstrels.

The annual ministerial, Sunday school and Keystone League Christian Endeavor convention of the Centre district of the United Evangelical church will be held at Centre Hall, May 19-21. An interesting program has been arranged. The pastors of the various appointments and delegates from each Sunday school and League are expected to be in attendance.

Charles Barnes, who the past month has been collector for the Pennsylvania telephone company in this place, has resigned his position and gone to Long Island where he has secured a good job with a large contracting firm. His brother, Joe Barnes, has resigned his position as driver for the Adams Express company and taken the job of collecting for the telephone company.

Two young men from Philadelphia were in Bellefonte last Saturday and spent a few hours at the Y. M. C. A. They are on a walking trip across the continent to San Francisco for the benefit of their health, and being amply supplied with funds were taking the trip easy. They stated that they were making an average of about sixteen miles a day and had no definite time set for reaching the Golden Gate.

If you happen to meet landlord Al. S. Garman these days don't ask him if he is through papering the hotel. It is a question that appeals very forcibly to him just at present. After going to considerable expense to have the office finished in the finest kind of style, the French linocut paper used is so heavy that it is falling off and pulling the whitecoating from the plastering, so that the entire office will have to be repapered.

A freight engine and train jumped the track near Julian on Saturday and before they came to a standstill knocked down two telegraph poles and broke telegraphic connection between this place and Tyrone, so that it was some time before word could be gotten to Tyrone for the wreck train. The engine and crew were the same that figured in the recent fatal accident in Look Haven when one man was killed and two others injured.

It has been currently rumored the past week that Horton S. Ray, landlord of the Brokerhoff house, had sold out to T. S. Strawn and would move to New York, but the rumor is not correct. It is true that when Mr. Strawn was here two weeks ago he made Mr. Ray an offer but the latter gentleman has decided that he will not accept the same. That he is going to continue as landlord of the Brokerhoff is a fact his many friends will be glad to know.

Fred Chambers has accepted a position with a large cigarette manufacturing company and will travel in their interest. Before going on the road, however, he will take a two week's vacation which he will spend with his parents, Col. and Mrs. Edward R. Chambers, in this place. He will then leave for the Pacific coast where he will spend four or five months introducing his line of cigarettes. The position not only carries with it a good salary but will enable him to see a large part of the United States as well.

Sunday was hospital day in the Methodist church and the pastor, Rev. James B. Stein, made the day the occasion for preaching two very strong and appropriate sermons. His text in the morning was "Faith and Works" and in the evening "Thou Shalt Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself." He gave a number of illustrations to show the great good that was being done suffering humanity through the medium of the hospitals and stated that they were deserving of most liberal support. The collections taken up both morning and evening amounted to sixty-eight dollars, which amount will be divided between the Methodist hospital, Philadelphia, and the Bellefonte hospital.

Monday evening the writer accompanied Frank E. Naginay for a little spin down over the state road and through Milesburg in his Ford runabout, and the two of us had about as narrow an escape from injury and perhaps death as either of us care about. R. B. Taylor started work on the state road through Milesburg by filling in this side of the bridge and had big stone filled in to a depth of three or four feet with apparently room for a driveway around the left side. There were no signal lights to apprise drivers of any danger and Mr. Naginay naturally took what he presumed was the roadway around the stone pile with the result that he came within six inches of running his machine down over the stone wall about twenty feet into the creek. Fortunately he discovered the danger in time to avoid a spill and ran his machine into the stone pile. Contractor Taylor, or whoever was superintending his work, was very negligent in creating a place like that and leaving it like that at night without danger signals, and if any fatalities would result thereby might be liable for a big bill of damages.

A. REIST RUTT OUSTED FROM ARDMORE SCHOOLS.—It was very much of a surprise to his many friends in Bellefonte to learn last week that A. Reist Rutt, a former teacher in the Bellefonte High school, had been ousted from his position as supervising principal of the Ardmore schools, in Lower Merion township, near Philadelphia.

When Mr. Rutt left Bellefonte nine years ago he went to Milton where he was principal of the schools for six years. Three years ago he was unanimously chosen by the board of directors of Lower Merion township as supervising principal of the Ardmore schools. During the three years he has been in charge there his work has been so eminently successful that the schools in that place are reputed to rank among the foremost in the State, and it was universally supposed by the patrons of the schools that Mr. Rutt was a fixture there as long as he wanted the place.

In fact he was given assurance by the board of directors that he could hold the position as long as he desired and so secure did he feel that he bought a lot and within the past year built himself a nice home thereon. During the past winter there was considerable agitation between the taxpayers and members of the board of directors over the proposition to build a new twenty-five thousand dollar High school building, but Mr. Rutt kept out of the controversy. As the time for choosing teachers for next year drew near he naturally saw the directors regarding his chances of being re-elected and had assurances of the support of five of the six members of the board, one of the number even pledging his support in writing.

Just what entered into his defeat has not been divulged unless it was the fact that some members of the board desired to get even with the patrons of the school on the High school building question. Anyhow, on Monday last week a secret meeting was held in the office of the president of the school board and five out of the six men voted against Mr. Rutt. The fact was then kept quiet until the latter part of the week when the action of the directors was made public and it brought forth such a storm of indignant protests that they may yet be compelled to reconsider their action.

As viewed from an unbiased standpoint it certainly was a very arbitrary proceeding on the part of the directors and one, if allowed to stand, will set a bad precedent, as no board of school directors should be allowed to go so directly in opposition to the wishes of the patrons and supporters of the schools, the big majority of whom, in this case, were in favor of Mr. Rutt's reelection.

THREE HURT IN RUNAWAY.—Last Thursday afternoon Albert Thompson, the liverman, with John L. Nighthart and a young man whose name we could not learn, left Bellefonte in a top buggy to go down Bald Eagle on a fishing expedition. Thompson was driving one of his own horses. Just when they reached Rhoads corner on Linn street an automobile came toward them at top speed and taken so unawares the animal naturally became frightened, reared and jumped to one side but did not get beyond control until they had gone perhaps fifty feet and the automobile was out of sight when the bit came apart and dropped out of the horse's mouth.

Quick as a flash he made a jump forward and then started on a wild run. Thompson attempted to pull him into the wall on the right hand side of the road and just where Curtin street intersects with the pike the front wheel of the buggy went into a ditch and the three men were thrown into the air fully twelve feet taking the top of the buggy with them. Falling on the hard road Thompson had his left arm and shoulder badly wrenched and sustained a number of cuts and bruises on the body. Nighthart got several bad cuts on the face and was otherwise pretty badly sprained and bruised. The third member of the party had one leg badly sprained and bruised, and the only wonder is that all three were not killed outright. The buggy was a complete wreck and the horse ran down to the Ardmore gap line kilns before he was caught. Neither man in the party had time enough to see who the automobilist was that first frightened their horse.

BELLEFONTE MAN ROBBED AND BEATEN BY THUGS.—Linn Saylor, an old Bellefonteer but who now lives in Kittanning, Armstrong county, was robbed upon by three thugs on Sunday night, set upon and sandbagged and then thrown over a high embankment and left for dead by his assailants.

He had been working as a puffer at Hyde Centre, Clearfield county, and on Sunday left for his home in Kittanning. At Mosgrove Junction he got on a wrong train but left it at Mahoning and started to walk to Templeton, a mile distant. Between the two places he was confronted by three men, two of whom held him while the third took $40, his gold watch and some papers.

When released Saylor showed fight. The three thugs sat upon him, beat him with a sandbag, cut his head with knucklers and finally threw him over the Allegheny river bank, the injured man rolling to the water's edge. In the darkness the footpads evidently thought he had gone into the river, but to make sure of their work hurled stones after him.

When the highwaymen left Saylor by a desperate effort crawled to the top of the bank and slowly made his way to Templeton, where Dr. J. Schaffner attended him, and he was kept until late Sunday evening before he could be taken home. He is now in a serious condition.

News Purely Personal

Mrs. Joseph Miller visited friends in Tyrone several days this week.

Mrs. R. A. Kinloe, of Philadelphia, is with her sister, Mrs. Hastings.

Miss Rebecca Rhoads is home from a five weeks stay in New York city.

David Keller, of Huntingdon, is visiting his many friends here and at Pleasant Gap.

W. T. Blair, the erudite editor of the Phillipsburg Journal, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday.

E. B. Eyer, the City Florist, left Monday evening for a few days visit at his home in Tyrone.

Charles Trout, of New York, but formerly of Tyrone, was a Bellefonte visitor over Tuesday night.

C. M. Parrish, the druggist, went to Ebensburg on Sunday morning and remained until Monday.

James Shook, a student at the Juniata College, Huntingdon, was home over Sunday visiting friends.

James Sanderson, of Millin, was a guest the past week of his sister, Mrs. A. O. Furst, on west Linn street.

Miss Luella A. Shook, a student in Potts business college, Williamsport, spent Sunday at her parents home in this place.

W. F. Leathers and Will Weber, two of Howard's substantial citizens, transacted business in Bellefonte on Tuesday.

Mrs. Frances Knoche, of Harrisburg, who spends a good part of her time at Gatesburg looking after her farm, was a Bellefonte visitor on Tuesday night.

Messrs. J. M. Bentley, of Pittsburg, and Arthur L. Valentine, of Crafton, both well known in Bellefonte, sailed last Wednesday on a business trip to Europe.

Christian Robb and Mrs. Sophia Linn, of Blanchard, were in Bellefonte Tuesday night, on their way to attend the funeral of Nathan (Grove at Lemont on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Faust returned to their home in Altoona on Sunday evening after a week's visit with Mrs. Faust's parents in this place, Mr. and Mrs. James Rins.

Rev. John Hewitt, Col. W. Fred Reynolds and Frank C. Montgomery attended the sessions of the Harrisburg diocese of the Episcopal church at Lock Haven this week.

Mrs. Witmer Smith, who has been for several weeks at White Haven, returned to Bellefonte Wednesday morning, greatly benefited by her treatment at that great sanatorium.

After spending the winter with her many friends in Altoona, Miss Beaulieu G. McCafferty, returned to her home on east Lamb street, where she will spend the summer months.

Chas. Wilcox, Phillipsburg's young contractor and builder, was among the men from the other side of the mountain who were here doing duty as jurors during the fore part of the week.

Howard Sergent, of Phillipsburg, was in town on Monday and Tuesday talking explosives, as usual, and, incidentally, making minor contributions to some of the charitable institutions in town.

Mrs. Mary Ann Johnston returned to Bellefonte Monday, after spending the winter in Beaver Falls with her daughter, Mrs. K. Kelley. Mrs. Johnson was accompanied by her son Harry and his wife.

Mrs. R. W. Ammerman and her son, A. T. Ammerman, of McAllisterville, Pa., who have been visiting with friends beyond Milesburg and in the vicinity of Unionville for the past three weeks, returned to their home the latter part of last week.

Aaron S. Boalick, of Osceola Mills, has been visiting with his sister-in-law, Mrs. John Kilgus, and family of east Lamb street, and friends at Axe Mann, for the past week. Mr. Boalick left Bellefonte in the sixties and this is his first visit in the past eight years.

Cyrus Hunter, Stormstown's tomb-stone maker and irrepresible politician, was a Bellefonte visitor on Monday and with very expressive declarations that he could not do without the WATCHMAN made himself solid with both us and the Postoffice Department in Washington.

Mrs. A. T. Leathers, of Washington, D. C., and her mother, Mrs. Thomas Taylor, came to Unionville Friday of last week. Mrs. Leathers having come up with her mother who has been spending the winter with her, returned to Washington this week, while Mrs. Taylor has opened her home expecting to be for the summer in Unionville.

Although our good friend, D. J. Gingerich, of Martha, was too busy getting that corn ground of his in shape for planting to come to Bellefonte himself, he was not too busy to remember the printer; and as he doesn't like to read a paper that hasn't been paid for he sent the necessary equivalent down by messenger to make us his debtor for a year in advance.

After a fortnight's visit with her mother, Mrs. William Dawson, in this place, Mrs. Thomas Moore left for her home in Philadelphia last Friday. She was feeling considerably better for her stay in Bellefonte and if her nervous system cannot stand the strain of life in the Quaker city she will return and make her home permanently with her mother in this place.

Miss Sarah Collins, who several weeks ago sustained a fall while sojourning at Atlantic City, breaking her collar bone, has recovered sufficiently to be brought to her home in this place on Tuesday evening. She was accompanied by her brother, Mr. Peter Collins, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Thomas A. Shoemaker, and was taken to her new home on Curtin street, the house recently vacated by Nelson E. Robb and family.

That substantial citizen and uncompromising Democrat, Mr. Michael Moyer, of Kyrletown, Pa., was one of the welcome callers on the WATCHMAN last week. Mr. Moyer didn't come to settle up arrears either. He is one of the kind of men who don't allow arrears to accumulate against him, and called to see why his tab was marked up to the time he had paid his paper. After looking up matters the WATCHMAN had to "acknowledge the corn," that mistake can be made even in the best regulated printing office and hereafter Mr. Moyer's WATCHMAN will reach him without a postage stamp upon it.

Dr. S. C. Nissley and wife are now residents of Bellefonte, having moved here last week. In speaking of their departure from Middletown the Press, of that city, says: "Dr. Sol Nissley and wife will move to Bellefonte, next Tuesday. Dr. Nissley is a graduate from the University of Pennsylvania as a veterinary surgeon and has been very successful in all his practice in this community. We regret very much seeing him leave here; but he is looking for a larger field of usefulness and we bespeak for him abundant success with the Centre county people, to whom we most heartily recommend Dr. Nissley."

Dr. Edwin Erie Sparks, the new president-elect of The Pennsylvania State College, with his family, passed through Bellefonte on Monday on their way from their old home in Chicago to their new home at State College. And while in Bellefonte between trains the doctor found time to make a brief call at this office. Dr. Sparks, of course, is not a stranger at State College and the people of that borough as well as the alumnus of the institution will give them a royal welcome. Of course it goes without saying that the one thousand or more students of the college will also extend to him the right hand of good-fellowship.

Mrs. Elizabeth Callaway is visiting with friends in Atlantic City.

Joe Lose, of Altoona, spent Sunday with his many friends in this place.

Boyd A. Musser, of Scranton, was a Bellefonte visitor several days this week.

Thomas Murray, of Snow Shoe Intersection, was a very pleasant caller on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Somerville, of Wimburne, visited friends in Bellefonte this week.

H. A. Brungard, of Zion, was in Bellefonte yesterday and favored this office with a brief call.

Henry Linn, of the China store, is home after a two weeks trip to New York and Philadelphia.

Miss Mary Ceder, who has been in Atlantic City and Philadelphia, returned to Bellefonte Saturday night.

Miss Anna McCoy and Miss Kate Shugert expect to leave Bellefonte early in June for a six weeks tour of Europe.

Miss Sarah Benner went to Greenville Friday of last week where she will visit for a time with her sister, Mrs. Karsenedden.

Maynard Murch, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Robert Urell, of Tioga county, were over Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Daggett, at the Bush house.

Mr. and Mrs. Willbur F. Harris and little daughter Elizabeth, of Mechanicsburg, have been in Bellefonte this week guests at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Henry Harris, on Howard street.

C. P. Hewes Esq., with his son Furness, and James Hutchinson, the young son of the late Thomas Hutchinson, of Kane, were arrivals in Bellefonte on Tuesday and guests at the Hutchinson home on Howard street.

LUKENBACH—ROWE.—Though their many friends have long anticipated that something desperate was going to happen very soon Charles A. Lukenbach and Miss Ellen E. Rowe succeeded in getting married in the town and getting away with only a very few knowing about it until it was all over. Miss Rowe had been in Philadelphia for ten days or two weeks and on Saturday evening Mr. Lukenbach also left for the same place and it was naturally supposed they would be married away from home.

But such was not the case as they returned to Bellefonte Sunday evening. But at six o'clock Monday morning they went to the Catholic parsonage on Bishop street where they were quietly married by Rev. Father McArdle. William C. Rowe and Miss Rebekah attended them. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple proceeded to the depot and left on the 6.30 train for a brief wedding trip.

Both young people are well known in Bellefonte and quite popular, the bride being a daughter of recorder John C. Rowe while the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lukenbach. He is employed as a clerk in the First National bank. Upon their return they will go to housekeeping in the Nichols house on east Curtin street.

MCCULLOUGH—BRYAN.—Quite a pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents in Milesburg on Tuesday evening when George McCullough and Miss Meda Bryan were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. There were no attendants and only the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. M. C. Piper. Mr. and Mrs. McCullough left on the evening train for a wedding trip to Gettysburg and other towns and upon their return will go to housekeeping in Milesburg.

EPWORTH LEAGUE ELECTIONS OFFICERS.—At a regular monthly meeting of the Epworth League the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Grace Blackford; first vice president, Sydney A. Keifer; second vice president, Olive Steele; third vice president, Mary Grimm; fourth vice president, Rachel Shuey; secretary, Frank Steele; treasurer, Viola Robb. The regular anniversary services of the League will be held on Sunday.

The Centre County Pomona Grange will meet in the Hall of Walker Grange at Hahlersburg on Friday, May 22nd, at 10 o'clock a. m. All 4th degree members are cordially invited to attend.

D. M. CAMPBELL, Secy.

Bellefonte Produce Markets.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Potatoes, new, per bushel; Onions; Eggs, per dozen; Lard, per pound; Country Shoulders; Hams; Butter, per pound.

Bellefonte Grain Market.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Wheat, No. 2; Corn, Yellow; Corn, White; Oats; Flour—Winter, Per Br; Penna. Roller; Favorite Brands; Rye Flour Per Br; Baled Hay—Choice; Timothy seed per bushel.

Philadelphia Markets.

Table with 2 columns: Commodity and Price. Includes Wheat—Red; No. 2; Yellow; Mixed New; Oats; Flour—Winter, Per Br; Penna. Roller; Favorite Brands; Rye Flour Per Br; Baled Hay—Choice; Mixed.

The Democratic Watchman.

Published every Friday morning, in Bellefonte, Pa., at $1.00 per annum (if paid strictly in advance) $1.50, when not paid in advance, and $2.50 if not paid before the expiration of the year; and no paper will be discontinued until all arrearages are paid, except at the option of the publisher. Papers will not be sent out of Centre county unless paid for in advance.

Table with 3 columns: Space occupied, 3m, 6m, 1y. Includes One inch (12 lines this type); Two inches; Three inches; Quarter Columns (6 inches); Half Columns (10 inches); One Column (20 inches).