

The most interesting base ball game of the season in Bellefonte will be the contest between Juniata College, of Huntingdon, and the Academy nine. This game will be played on Saturday afternoon, June 6th, at two o'clock sharp. The Juniata boys have defeated Dickinson Seminary, of Williamsport, twice this season. This fact alone indicates the strength of that team. Their pitcher is said to be of a professional order. Be sure to patronize whatever games are played and thereby help the Academy and receive the pleasure to be derived therefrom.

—Wednesday afternoon Dr. W. H. Fry, the veterinarian of Pine Grove Mills, was in the neighborhood of Oak Hall looking after some sick stock. He was driving along the road all unconscious of danger when a runaway team came up from behind, caught one of the rear wheels of his buggy and practically wrecked the vehicle. Dr. Fry was thrown out and sustained one or two broken ribs as well as quite a number of cuts and bruises, but was able to secure his horse and make his way to Oak Hall, where he got fixed up before proceeding on his way. The runaway team was that of butcher J. F. Kimpfort, of Boalsburg, whose wagon was also badly damaged.

Spring Mills.

John Homer has greatly improved the appearance of his residence by a coat of white paint.

C. A. Kraps has just opened his summer line of shoes for ladies and gentlemen. The styles are beautiful and besides are made for comfort and wear, he deals in no other kind. Our genial post master is never behind the times, but like the business in the post office department is always up to the latest.

Road master Andrew Corman, instead of fooling with a wood bridge across the road to the station washed out by the recent high water, put in clay piping and covered it over like the road. That, he says, will last. To put a plank bridge there is simply foolery. Mr. Corman knows what he is talking about.

Last week in reporting the program for Memorial day the speakers for Spring Mills had not been secured, but since then the committee have secured former State Senator W. C. Heinle and Rev. J. Max Lantz for the orators. Exercises will begin at the Union cemetery at 9.30 a. m., in Georges Valley at 2 o'clock p. m., and Spring Mills at 5.30 p. m.

At the fifth anniversary of the Spring Mills Lodge, No. 597, I. O. O. F., grand master Rev. B. H. Hart, a very prominent clergyman of Harrisburg, will deliver the address in the Lutheran church here on the evening of Thursday, June 4th. The reverend gentleman is a very able and fluent speaker and his discourses on this occasion will be highly interesting and a rare enjoyment to hear. An invitation is extended to everybody to be present. Lodge, No. 597, is forging straight ahead and ranks high in the order. The members are so proficient and well informed, although the lodge is young in years, they are frequently called upon by other lodges to exemplify the work. Among its membership are some of our most prominent and influential citizens.

On Wednesday of last week we had high water in this locality almost equal to the disastrous flood of 1894. Penns creek above the junction of Sinking creek was the highest ever known, but Sinking creek was lower. Had the latter stream been as high as the former Spring Mills would have been deluged. As it was Penns creek like an angry flood swept over the main road west of the bridge, extending in width 300 feet, reaching the porch of the hotel, destroying the greater part of the garden on the east and completely surrounding the shoe maker shop of Geo. Huss. Mr. Huss was obliged to walk up the railroad about two miles to cross over in order to reach his shop, and then could only look at it. The water madly crossed the road tearing out the yard fencing of Robert Smith in the north and east ruining his garden and flooding his barn and outbuildings. The road to the station was from 2 to 5 feet under water. From the bridge over Sinking creek the water extended south to the repair shop of Harry Brian a distance of 400 feet flooding the cellar of Wm. Smith and all the cellars along Sinking creek. At the M. E. church building just below the junction of the two creeks the water was even with the flooring, and surrounding the dwelling below occupied by James Leitzel, and extended up the alley way 400 feet to the barn of M. T. Duck, and inundating his grounds. The foot bridge over Penns creek below the post office was swept away, leaving only a few steps to tell the story. From the residence of John Brown on the creek road, for 150 feet or more, was fully two feet under water, flooding the cellar of merchant H. F. Rossman and doing considerable damage to the surroundings. From the site of the foot bridge for a considerable distance down the roadbed is somewhat elevated, but at Dr. Brauch's residence it is lower and the water completely washed out his garden which fronts the road, and extended back to his barn and the eastern side of his dwelling. From here to the iron bridge over Penns creek, possibly 250 feet, all the boardwalks were completely torn out but much of the wreck was secured before drifting away. Many of the fields below town on both sides of the creek were covered with water from one to three feet deep and some were only planted last week. All the families residing along the creeks were up all of Tuesday night, of course there was no way to reach the south side of the creek nor the station for a day or two except by driving, and then only by a long circuitous route, owing to the washing out of the road bridge on the station road. The damage to crops, garden truck and property can hardly be estimated.

Lemont.

Chester Kerstetter Sundayed at the home of M. A. Williams.

Dr. W. H. Fry, the bustling veterinarian, reports lots to do in his line at present.

John Garner, of State College, visited with George Williams Sunday and Monday.

John I. Thompson has been on the sick list this week with indigestion and stomach trouble.

Dr. H. H. Long and wife, of Berwick, spent a few days among friends in these parts last week.

G. W. Williams and family returned from Hannah Furnace, Wednesday, where they visited among friends.

William H. Mogle has been very ill with rheumatism of late and cannot be out of bed or even feed himself.

Al. Witmer had the misfortune to have a cow break a leg, but Dr. Fry set it in plaster paris and she is getting along fine.

Mrs. Sarah Eppers and Mrs. Belle Ralston were delegates to the ministerial convention, held at Centre Hall this week.

The Memorial services at Houserville, Sunday, were well attended and every one was pleased with the sermon delivered by Rev. Joseph E. Miller.

Mr. Brady, from Brookville, moved to town and will stay for six or eight weeks while he canvasses this neighborhood selling a fine line of sprayers.

These hot days are bringing the crops along in fine shape and by all appearances there will be the finest hay and wheat crops that there have been in years.

William Young and son Norman, of Boalsburg, were in town, Monday, clipping sheep with their patent clipping machine, and it seems by the way it works that they should not be idle while there are any sheep to clip.

Monday while John R. Williams and son were working with their team, at their garden, a fine doe came near them and stayed for about one hour. She acted as though she had been run by dogs and did not go to the mountains until she was rested.

Pine Grove Mention.

You don't want to forget the ladies' festival Memorial day.

Mrs. David Snyder is quite ill, threatened with an attack of fever.

Alex. B. Tanyer, of Pittsburg, is visiting his old chums hereabouts.

A. M. Brown shipped a car load of horses and cattle east on Tuesday.

Partly owing to the wet spell and had seed some farmers are replanting corn.

Miss Allie Irvin is spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Weiland at Linden Hall.

D. G. Meek is having his new home at Bunker hill donned in a new coat of paint.

The venerable Jacob Neidigh, one of our oldest citizens, is quite feeble and is confined to bed.

J. H. Ross spent last Tuesday in the Mountain city looking after his flour and grain trade.

Our mutual friend, Jacob Herman, is off duty this week, laid up for repairs with kidney trouble.

John Harpster, who is freight agent at Philadelphia, was visiting his parental home at Tadpole on Monday.

A. H. Garner and wife, of Buffalo run, spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Mary Wright, on Water street.

Ishler Bros., butchers, are fitted up with a new meat wagon built by the Weilands, of Boalsburg. It's a dandy.

Frank Weiland is out in Clearfield county this week looking after his extensive grain and hay trade in that section.

Arthur Cummings went to the Williamsport hospital Tuesday, for the purpose of having an ulcer removed from one of his eyes.

W. H. Irvin, who has been confined to his bed all winter with inflammatory rheumatism, is able to sit up in an arm chair.

That famous bird, the stork, was quite busy last week and left a girl baby at Albert Garbricks, one at David Snyders and one at John Harshbargers.

Mrs. Mary Shugerts and Mrs. Amanda Fisher, of Boalsburg, enjoyed a drive Wednesday and spent the day at the Harry Shugerts home on the Branch.

Miss Effie Glenn, who has been a very sick lady the past month or more, has recovered and was able to spend Wednesday with her lady friend, Miss Anna Dale, at Boalsburg.

Last Monday Master Earle Catherman was nine years old and his mother planned a nice birthday party to which all the youngsters of Linden Hall were bidden. Many presents were brought and a splendid dinner served.

Dr. Frank Bailey closed his dental parlors at Milton and came up for a week's angling with H. M. M. T. and Dr. R. M. Krebs and Prof. M. E. Heberling, who are camping at the old Ross place on Stone creek. A big haul is looked for as well as big stories on their return Friday evening.

Last Sunday the Lutheran church was filled with standing room to hear Rev. E. H. Bergtresser preach the Memorial sermon to the G. A. R. "Peace" was his theme and the young divine, in his eloquent manner, vividly recounted the brave and daring deeds done from Sumpter to Appomattox.

Operators to Store Millions of Tons of Anthracite Coal.

Port Clinton, Pa., May 26.—Anthracite miners numbering 140,000 men are to be given steady employment, and not a day will be lost to them, if the rapidly maturing plans of the operators are carried out.

The three-year wage agreement under which the miners are working expires on April 1, 1909, and it is the desire of the operators to store before that time not less than 10,000,000 tons of various sizes of hard coal, in anticipation of any prolonged disagreement over the terms of the next wage contest.

There is very little hard coal in storage now, for the production since the industrial depression began last October has been greatly restricted.

Woman's Body Found in Water. New York, May 26.—The body of Mrs. Helen Hart was found in the waters of Little Hell Gate under such circumstances as to lead at first to reports that she had been the victim of foul play. The body was badly bruised and the face was so cut by contact with the rocks as to indicate that Mrs. Hart had been beaten to death. One report declared that the body was tied in a barrel when discovered, but this was disproved. Mrs. Hart's son said his mother had been missing for several weeks. It is believed that she committed suicide.

Heart Pierced by Piece of Mirror.
Pittsburg, Pa., May 26.—A dagger-like piece of broken glass from a mirror, smashed during a runaway in the West End, pierced eighteen-year-old Edgar Burns' heart and he died within a few minutes. Burns was assisting a neighbor in moving when the van loaded with furniture smashed into another wagon. The heavy mirror, which he had been holding, was shattered and two thick pieces of glass penetrated the chest. The boy was dying when assistance reached him.
