THROUGHED WHEN OTHER STORES ARE WELL NIGH EMPTY MEANS WHAT?

It is current comment, in and out of trade circles, that our store is one of the few stores constantly crowded, and that a view of the stirring scenes here daily is conducive to optimism. We count it a flattering tribute to the fairness of our methods and the justness of our strictly cash system. We enjoy a high degree of confidence of the public, even this early in our business career, because everybody desires of saving. We buy for cash, sell for cash, give no discount and pay no commissions. Our system knows no favorites and it grants no special privileges that cannot be shared by all. Our business is storekeeping, collecting and distributing goods along the lines of least resistance like the shoemaker, we stick to our last, the net result is absolute understanding supremacy and that is the reason why there is no sign of hard times in the throngs you daily find under our roof.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

Bellefonters will be interested in knowing that W. J. Nicol's latest novel, "Brunchilda of Orr's Island," is proving a marked success and being favorably spoken of by the critics. The Philadelphia Press, in its book review, says: "William Jasper Nicol's in his new novel, 'Brunchilda of Orr's Island,' has created a heroine who is not afraid to take a 'dare.' While visiting a friend in Portland she is dared to return to her home on Orr's Island by means of a trim little yacht which the two girls have seen lying in the harbor. Brunchilda accepts the challenge, puts out to sea in a rowboat, halts the captain of the yacht which is now well under way, and unceremoniously asks to be taken aboard. One may well say, with Southern, 'What will not women, gentle woman, dare?' Upon this episode hangs the plot of the whole story, which is pleasingly told and has a happy ending.

Life.

The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, in honesty to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist; for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abounding. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.

—Some people are so popular with themselves that other folks feel in the way.

The Summer Vacation Guide

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

BULLETIN

JUNE ON THE GREAT LAKES.

Restful, delightful, interesting, and instructive, there is no trip like that on the Great Lakes, those inland seas which form the border line between the United States and Canada. And June is one of the most charming months in the year in which to take a trip.

For comfort the fine passenger steamships of the Anchor Line have no superiors. As well-appointed as the palatial ocean greyhounds which plow the Atlantic, their schedule allows sufficient time at all stopping places to enable the traveler to see something of the great lake cities and to view in daylight the most distinctive sights of the lakes, and the scenery which frames them.

The trip through the Detroit River, and through Lake St. Clair, with its great ship canal in the middle of the lake, thence through Lake Huron, the locking of the steamer through the great locks at the Soo, and the passage of the Portage Entry, lake and canal, across the upper end of Michigan are novel and interesting features.

The voyage from Buffalo to Duluth covers over eleven hundred miles in the five days' journey. Leaving Buffalo, the steamships, Juniata and Tionesta, make stops at Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, Mackinac Island, the Soo, Marquette, Houghton and Hancock, and Duluth.

The 1908 season opens on June 16th, when the Steamer Tionesta will make her first sailing from Buffalo.

The Anchor Line is the Great Lakes Annex of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the service measures up to the high standard set by the "Standard Railroad of America."

An illustrated folder, giving sailing dates of steamers, rates of fare, and other information is in course of preparation, and may be obtained when ready from any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent, who is also prepared to book passengers who may desire to take this trip through the Great Lakes and back.

Bellefonte Lumber Company.

Consider these things; they are facts that may change your building program if you rightly understand what they mean. Concrete is the material for ALL construction work of any importance in twenty-five countries. We mention a few undertakings, Official government reports and responsible magazine articles describe them fully to you.

They use concrete construction in the New York Subways, and tunnels under the river; in similar tunnels at Detroit; for breastworks, foundations and stations in railroad construction, as for example in the new Philippines Railroads; for bridges, culverts and abutments in roads; all government harbor improvements and breakwaters; Government and private dams in irrigation and reclamation service; for paving whole cities; in Government Post Office and city specifications for buildings, everywhere; or farm buildings, drains, etc., where they have learned the value. And Double Air Chamber Concrete blocks—concrete's most effective form—are the thing for you. It's too big a question to be decided off-hand—or at a village store session. It demands investigation—a thorough going after the facts from reliable information.

If we demonstrate to you the correctness and moderate cost of using Concrete for your buildings, will you use it?
