ARRESTED AFTER STRUGGLE

Attempted to Draw Revolver When Secret Service Officer Grappled With Him—Will Be Examined As to His Sanity—Rumor That Mr. Roosevelt Was Fired On From Ambush While Horseback Riding is Emphatically Denied — President Not Told of Crank's Visit.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 8.—A crank, armed with an antiquated "bull dog" revolver, was caught near the president's house at Sagamore Hill by the secret service guards. The man described himself as John Coughlin, a detective, and when stopped by the secret service men presented a card upon which was inscribed his name and the word "officer." He said that he had come to ask the president to order out 10,000 troops to catch yegmen who had been terrorizing Boston.

Secret Service Agent Adams tried to explain that the president was not seeing visitors at the moment, hoping to get him quietly out of the grounds. Coughlin hesitated a moment and then slid his hand toward the back pocket of his trousers. Adams grappled with his man without further parley. Coughlin struggled for a moment, but he is a slightly built man and Adams had no difficulty in holding him until Agent James Sloan, Jr., came to his assistance. Sloan searched the prisoner and found in his hip pocket a thirty-two caliber revolver of the "bull dog" type. The weapon was wrapped in a woolen bag and, according to the secret service men, was not loaded.

The slight struggle near the tennis court had not been observed at the house, and the secret service men, without alarming the president's family, called one of the government automobiles and carried Coughlin down to the Oyster Bay town hall, where he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Franklin on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Justice Franklin committed Coughlin to the county jail at Mineola. During his detention at the county jail Coughlin will be examined as to his sanity.

According to the secret service men, Coughlin told them that he had been confined for three years in an asylum for the insane. President Roosevelt had returned from a horseback ride only a short time before Coughlin appeared at Sagamore Hill. He did not witness the arrest of the crank and has not been informed of the occurrence.

The news that an armed crank had attempted to reach the president at Sagamore Hill started a series of the usual rumors accompanying such an incident. The one most widely circulated here was to the effect that a shot had been fired at the president while he was out horseback riding last Saturday. It was said that the president was riding along the Cove road near the house of his cousin, W. Emilen Roosevelt, when he was fired upon by some one concealed in a clump of bushes at the roadside.

That there was any foundation for the story was denied by those in a position to know. James Sloan, Jr., the chief of the president's guard of secret service men, emphatically denied the story of the ambush, and his denial was echoed by the other operative who was said to have been with the president.

Killed Brother Shooting at Hawks. Philadelphia, Sept. 8.—William Nemec, aged thirteen years, was shot and killed by his brother Anthony, aged fifteen years, while they were shooting at hawks together at their home on the outskirts of the city. The older brother's gun was discharged by the trigger catching on a stump as they were making their way through a wood. The charge struck William in the abdomen. With the assistance of another brother, Edward, Anthony carried the wounded boy more than a mile, and after getting a horse and wagon took him to a hospital, where he died. The mother of the boy is seriously ill and has not been told of the accident.

Feather-Weights Fight Twenty-three Round Battle. San Francisco, Sept. 8.—Abe Attell, the champion feather-weight of America, and Owen Moran, England's premier boxer in the same division, fought a drawn battle at the Colma open air arena in the presence of about 6000 spectators. The battle lasted twenty-three rounds and at its conclusion Referee Jack Welch unhesitatingly grasped both lads by the hand, signifying that the fight was a draw. The decision seemed to please the crowd and there were cheers for each fighter as he wended his way from the ringside. The fight on the whole was rather tame, but this was offset by the cleverness of both fighters. It was a very even fight and was marked by Moran's aggressiveness and Attell's cleverness in blocking and his all-around work from a defense standpoint.

Moran's face was much battered and the left eye was nearly closed as a result of Attell's almost ceaseless prodigal. On the other hand Attell emerged from the fight without a mark. A resume of the fight by round shows that Attell had more or less advantage in nine rounds, Moran was given six and the balance showed even honors.

The Great Union County Fair. A Matchless Exhibition to be held this year.

The 55th annual fair to be held at Brook Park, Lewisburg, Pa., September 22nd, 23rd, 24th and 25th, will be the largest ever held by that association. The premium list has been carefully and thoroughly reviewed, revised, corrected and amended. The State appropriation warrants the society to increase their premiums from fifty to seventy-five per cent. By this increase in the premiums the association expects a mammoth exhibition. Captain Webb and his troupe of trained seals and sea lions will give an exhibition in front of the grand stand every day. This act has been pronounced by prominent theatrical managers to be the greatest feature of its kind. The feats performed by the seals and sea lions are almost past belief. The work done by these animals is both interesting and instructive and must be seen to be appreciated. The track is in splendid condition and some very fast horses are already booked for that place. The association offers a special premium to the horse that lowers the present track record of 2:05 1/2.

Lewisburg is also the home of the Buffalo Valley Poultry Association, the largest aggregation of poultry fanciers in the state. They recently purchased a car load of coops which will be used for exhibition purposes.

Bellefonte Lumber Company. Are you worrying about fire? Thinking of water in the cellar? Are rats running through the walls and in the garret? Did you have to pay a big paint and repair bill this morning? If you had only used CONCRETE—DOUBLE AIR CHAMBER BUILDING BLOCKS and concrete to finish foundation, walls and cellar—when you were building you would not be doing those things now. If you do not fancy your present position tell your friend that is going to build to "build well." Tell him to look into this matter and not to ignore concrete, for if he does, he too, will some day ask himself why. If concrete is used the children and grand-children will add their O. K. to the sound judgment of the man who built that house. BELLEFONTE LUMBER CO., 52-2-1Y Bellefonte, Pa.
