Wages in Paris.

Consul C. P. H. Nason, of Grenoble, submits some statistics concerning the earnings and incomes of certain classes of the French people in Paris, as recently pub-lished by M. Andre Lefevre, the president of the paris Municipal Conneil. The Consol writes :

The annual income of the average Paris household is placed at about $730. In the fashionable quarter of the Champs Elysees magistrate. the annual average household revenue is said to be about $5600; in the near-by Faubourg St. Honore, $3700, while in the Madeleine district it falls to $3500.

As to the incomes of certain professional men in France, it was ascertained that out of the 2000 advocates practicing at the Paris Bar only about 200 earn over $2000 a year, and only about 50 receive above $10.

The number of physicians practicing in Paris is placed at 2500, but only about onehalf (1200) of these make more than $1600 a year. Dentists do somewhat better ; a fashionable one can easily earn $6000, while in some cases this figure is greatly exceed.

In French families of the humbler clase the living expenses in many instances are met only by the wife contributing to the common fund out of her marriage portions. Oftentimes this portion, or "dot," of a French girl is used in part to establish the husband in business.

Saleswomen in the largest department stores earn $60 a month. Male and female house servants receive, respectively, in the neighborhood of $20 to $80 a month. The bottom of the scale seems to be reached with the poor seamstresses, who toil from dawn to dark in the making of children's clothes. One cent au hour is indicated as their stipend, by if exceptionally clever they earn 35 cents for 12 hours' work.

Rust That Farmers Fear.

Rust still corrupteth the American cereal crops, and that to annual damage exceed. $500,000,000. The Department of Agriculture has put on record the amazing statement that the injury to wheat and oats from rust probably exceeds that caused by any other fungus or insect pest, and in some localities is greater than that caused by all other enemies of the crops combin

The farmer in some season orother, in look ing over his fields during early summer cannot help noting that the fresh green appearance of the wheat crop is changing in color from day to day, becoming gradually quite yellow. On examining closely one of the withered leaves the observant cultivator can detect orange yellow spots or lines, and with the aid of a low power lens also can see that the opidermal tissue of the leaf has been ruptured by the emission of countless numbers of orange yellow seeds or spores.

The spots and lines upon the leaves multiply rapidly, and when the leaves are shaken by the wind the spores are set free and fall upon the other leaves, and thus the disease is spread. Wherever wheat is grown this destructive pest is known and dreaded.

YEAGER, YOU ARE CRAZY

Yeager's Shoe Store.

That is just what a salesman, representing one of the Largest Shoe Manufacturers in the U.S., said to me when I told him I would take all of the 1100 pair of Shoes he was trying to sell in small lcts. He said :- "You cannot sell them, you do not have enough people in your community to sell them to." Well, I said, I am crazy enough if you give me my price on the whole 1100 pair to try it. I got them at my price, for less than the cost to manufacture. This is a lot of
