

Pine Grove Mention.

Oliver Shaw is spending this week with friends in York.

The frost is on the pumpkin but the corn is not all on shock.

Waldo Cori is nursing a colony of half a dozen Job's comfortors.

Wm. G. Ghener is making a month's visit among relatives in Michigan.

Miss Vida Cori had the misfortune to cut off the end of her index finger.

H. W. McCracken and daughter Lizzie enjoyed a drive to State College Monday.

This end of the county is well represented at the county fair in Bellefonte this week.

George Bell, one of Spruce Creek's hustling farmers and lumbermen, spent Sunday with relatives in town.

Arthur Campbell, son of Rev. and Mrs. R. M. Campbell, came home from Pittsburg in very poor health.

John Reynolds and wife, of Grayville, tarried in town a short time Saturday en route to State College.

Perceval Rudy and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarlane, of Boalsburg, are among the visitors in Philadelphia this week.

Mrs. Clarence Lemon and little daughter Helen, after a months visit, left for her home at Morgantown, W. Va., last week.

This section is having a bumper crop of clover seed. Thus far W. K. Cori's new huller has cleaned eight hundred bushels to date.

Fred Meyers and son Charles were among the passengers on the early train for Bellefonte Monday on business that usually comes but once in a life time.

Dr. A. S. Markle and brother, J. H., came down from Tyrone for a share of the frisky tribe, with headquarters at the Capt. Kepler home, but report poor luck.

J. F. Sausserman was the only lucky fellow who came in the first day of the hunt with a full quota. Some got two and three but lots of fellows got none.

On last Tuesday while Clarence Irvin with his team of mated blacks assisted blacksmith Harry Bigelow fit to Stonevalley one of his horses sickened and died the same night.

Torry Glenn and wife, of Buffalo Run, drove over Sunday morning bright and early to spend the day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Glenn, on the Ross farm just west of town.

Sorry to note the serious illness of Mrs. Henry Sankey, one of Potter township's oldest and most highly respected citizens, suffering from a stroke of paralysis. She is a sister of Hon. Leonard Rhone.

While out driving Saturday evening Waldo Cori had a collision, when three young ladies in a rig capsized him, making kindling wood of his buggy. Fortunately no one was hurt. After a short run the horse was caught.

Last Friday there was a gathering of neighbors at the Peter Cori place at Struble to lend a helping hand at the Cori barn raising. Dinner and supper was served in full and plenty. W. B. Ward is the builder.

Mr. and Mrs. George McWilliams, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin and Miss Mary Goheen are in Philadelphia this week for the big time. While there Miss Goheen, who has not been well for some time, will consult a medical specialist.

Last Thursday W. C. Patterson and Dr. E. E. Sparks, of State College, were here and reports say they represented the Campus Water company in a purchase of the mill and land east of the public road on Water street. The price stipulated is $4000.

Spring Mills.

A large number of our folks will attend the county fair this week.

C. P. Long is shipping apples by the carload, and buys all that are offered.

Harvey Rachau was quite ill the forepart of last week, but is able to be about again.

Mrs. M. B. Hering, who has been ill for several weeks, is not improving very rapidly.

The United Evangelical's have put down concrete steps and a walk to and from the church building.

The new telephone exchange just established here, will be ready for business in about two weeks.

Andrew Shook has greatly improved his property by adding a large two story summer kitchen to his residence.

Miss Anna M. Cummings and Miss Mary Ulrich made a visit to friends in Millheim and Coburn on Saturday and Sunday last.

The new residence being erected by J. P. Long on the Avenue, is rapidly approaching completion. It is quite an attractive building.

The hunting club here is now fully organized. Notices of no trespassing will be plentifully posted throughout this neighborhood.

All our merchants report just a fair average business for September. Previous to the Granger picnic it was quite active, but since then very dull.

In one of his western speeches last week, Roosevelt's proxy said "I am going to be elected, but forgot to finish it by adding—to stay at home."

Few candidates have reported themselves in this locality. It is because the Democratic nominees will receive the full party vote any how, and the Republicans think it of little use to kick against thunder—a wise conclusion.

On Wednesday last, Mrs. G. N. Wolfe had her opening day for the display of millinery goods, and wishing to see the latest Paris and New York styles of feminine headwear, I stepped into her parlors and found them thronged with anxious sight seers. The array of hats is simply bewildering. The shapes and styles are models of beauty and taste, many of the hats are of elegant material and beautifully trimmed. Some of the styles were so readily disposed of that a duplication of the order was necessary. Mrs. Wolfe has displayed her usual exquisite taste in her fall and winter selections.

"Did you ever take advantage of anybody in a bargain?"

"Not of recent years," answered Mr. Cumrox. "You see, we've been livin' so much in great capitals of Europe that I've got sort of accustomed to bein' the feller that pays up without askin' questions."

COULDN'T MAKE KOCH RETRACT

"Devil Chaser" Threatened to Kill His Children—Foraker Abandons Fight For United States Senate—Two Killed When Auto Plunged Over Embankment—Child Fatally Burned Trying to Light Pipe—Driven to Suicide By Campaign Yarns—Dropped Dead Talking to Students.

A signal victory was won by the opponents of the theory advanced by Dr. Robert Koch, the eminent German scientist, minimizing the danger of human infection from bovine tuberculosis bacilli, when the sixth triennial Congress on Tuberculosis at Washington, just before the final adjournment, placed itself squarely on record in opposition to the views of the German savant.

The controversy over this momentous issue, which has been the subject of much spirited debate during the entire proceedings of the congress, reached its climax when that body, by unanimous vote, adopted a resolution recognizing the "possibility" of human infection from the bovine tuberculosis bacilli. The text of the resolution, which was one of a series of official declarations, is as follows:

"Resolved, That the utmost efforts should be continued in the struggle against tuberculosis to prevent the conveyance from man to man of tuberculosis infection, as the most important source of the disease.

"That preventive measures be continued against bovine tuberculosis, and that the possibility of the propagation of this to man be recognized."

This official expression, which was one of the most important results of the sessions of the congress, was greeted with prolonged cheers.

An effort was made at a secret meeting of notable American and foreign scientists to induce Dr. Koch to recede from his position, but he refused.

The meeting was very spirited. Dr. Abraham Jacobi, of New York, declared at one point: "The lives of thousands of babies in the world are far more important than the reputation of one scientist."

Threatened to Kill Family.

Another insane outbreak among the "Devil Chasers," whose religious orgies were responsible for the death of a beautiful little girl in the early summer, came when William H. Bachman, a cousin of Albert Bachman, the Nazareth man who killed the child in the first outbreak, went upon one of the frenzied "Bible studies" to which the members of the sect are addicted.

William Bachman, who is now in jail as an insane patient, first exhibited his frenzy by kicking his wife out of the house at West Leesport, near Reading, Pa., and then turning in to beat all of his five children, whose ages range from a baby of a year to a boy of eleven, for their "sense," as he called it.

He got the children together in a room, and with an old army cutlass and a flint-lock rifle in his hands, danced around them, declaring that he was inspired to blow all of them "into eternity."

Auto Plunged Over Embankment.

In an automobile plunge over a 25-foot embankment at Gordon, Pa., Mrs. Peter Young, thirty-four years old, and her daughter Helen, aged eight years, were instantly killed, and her husband, Peter Young, Sr., their son Peter, Jr., aged six years, and Charles Clark, a nephew of Mrs. Young, all of Ashland, sustained fractured skulls and internal injuries. The injured were taken to the State hospital, where the physicians state that there is little hope of their recovery.

The steering gear of the machine failed to work, and in his eagerness to apply the emergency brake Mr. Young, who was driving the car, put on the power, which caused the 3500-pound machine to veer and plunge over the embankment, trapping the victims beneath it.

Fear That Bears Have Eaten Child.

Melvin Robbins, aged four, son of Ellis Robbins, of Emmons, a mountain town near the Sullivan county, Pa. line, has been lost in the woods since Tuesday, and though a determined hunt has been made by organized possees no traces of him can be found. A number of bears have been seen in the vicinity recently, and it is feared the child has been eaten by one of them.

Driven to Suicide By Campaign Yarns

After telling his friends he would rather die than live to hear the reports which some of his political opponents were circulating about him, W. Reagan Rice, registrar of deeds of Madison county, N. C., shot himself to death at his home, near Marshall. Rice was elected on the Republican ticket two years ago.

Son's Blow Killed Father.

In a quarrel over money matters, Samuel Mohenshelt, aged eighty-three, was knocked off the front porch of his home at Stroudsburg, Pa., by his son John. His head struck a stone and he died in twenty minutes. The son was arrested.

One Good Feature.

Guilty Wife Kills Herself.

The axiom that "the woman pays" had its illustration at Milford, Del., when Mrs. William Cirwithien, who, being detected as a guilty wife, unfaithful to her marriage vows, shot and killed herself in her angry husband's presence. The man in the case, Fred Windsor, had four shots fired at him by Cirwithien.

So far as the husband was concerned, suspicion reached a climax Tuesday, and he resolved to make a test of them. He was due to start out on his usual weekly trip, but instead of going far away he arranged to get back home in the middle of the night. This he did, reaching the house just about the stroke of midnight.

Entering with his night key, Cirwithien went upstairs and surprised his wife and Windsor alone together. Windsor fled, brushing past Cirwithien and darting out of the house. The husband drew a revolver and, despite the screams and pleas of Mrs. Cirwithien, shot to shoot, fired four shots after Windsor.

Returning to the house, Cirwithien went to his wife's bedroom and upbraided her for her unfaithfulness, finally telling her to dress and leave the house. There was a scene, but Cirwithien refused to yield to the tears of his wife and her pledges, telling her to go back to her parents. Finally she dressed and, taking an umbrella, started to leave the house. Secretly, while she had been dressing, Mrs. Cirwithien took from her bureau drawer a revolver she had borrowed several days ago from a neighbor.

Standing within a foot of the door, Mrs. Cirwithien pointed the revolver at her breast and fired. The bullet took effect in her heart and she fell dead.

Cirwithien heard the shot and ran downstairs to find his wife lifeless, the revolver in one hand and her umbrella in the other.

Two Killed By Explosion.

Two persons lost their lives and twenty or more others were injured in Spencer, N. C., by the explosion of a powder storage house in the yards of the Southern Railway company, and most of the buildings nearby were damaged by the shock and the fire which followed.

Fire was discovered in the storage room of the powder house, and the Spencer shop fire department rushed to the scene. C. H. Layton and W. P. Stafford were holding the fire hose when the explosion occurred and were buried under the debris. With great difficulty their bodies were pulled out of the burning ruins after the scene was reached by fellow workmen.

The Lord's Day Alliance.

Official announcement has been made in Philadelphia that a national convention has been called to be held in the Second United Presbyterian church, Pittsburg, Dec. 1, 2 and 3, for the purpose of organizing a National Lord's Day Alliance of the United States. It is proposed that the alliance shall be organized on the same lines as the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada, which is said to be doing effective work in the preservation of the Sabbath. All religious bodies, labor organizations and other organizations interested are invited to send representatives to the convention.

Father Shot Son and Killed Himself.

Because his son Richard refused to give him money which he demanded, John Burkhardt, sixty-six years old, shot and seriously wounded the younger man, drank carbolic acid and jumped from a window of his home at Union Hill, N. J., in an effort to end his own life. While the father and son were being rushed to a hospital in an ambulance the old man sprang upon the wounded boy and attempted to strangle him. He fell back and died just as the ambulance reached the hospital. Young Burkhardt probably will recover.

Foraker Abandons Fight For Senate.

Senator Joseph B. Foraker announced at Cincinnati, O., that he would not make a speaking tour of Ohio this fall in advocacy of his re-election to the United States senate. This announcement, following one made just after the Hearst expose, saying he would tour the state and speak in defense of his connection with the Standard Oil company, is taken by his opponents to mean that Foraker recognizes the futility of trying for re-election to the senate.

Fatally Burned Trying to Light Pipe.

Wandering away from his home, Edward Thompson, four years of age, was burned to death near Tower City, Pa. A searching party found the child near a haystack terribly burned. He was still living and managed to tell his mother that he had tried to light a pipe and his clothing took fire. He ran along the cornfield where he knew his father was working, but was unable to reach him. The little fellow died in great agony a few hours later.

Dropped Dead Talking to Students.

While conversing with students in Princeton (N. J.) university, Samuel Calhoun, sixty-five years old, died of a hemorrhage. Mr. Calhoun had been for twenty-three years the day policeman in the college and was known to many generations of Princeton men. During his long period of service he was never known to have been tardy in ringing the college bell every hour of the day.
