THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

A class of ten probationers were taken into the Methodist church on Sunday.

Friday, October 23rd, has been designated by Governor Stuart as fall arbor day.

Frank Sasser has moved his barber shop from this place to State College.

Donald Potter underwent an operation for appendicitis in St. Luke's hospital, Pittsburg, yesterday.

Spring creek is now the lowest it has been at any time since the dry season began in the early part of August.

The regular meeting of the Centre county medical society was held in the arbitration room in the court house on Tuesday.

Centre county had another rain Saturday night, but not enough of it to raise the water in the wells or start the dried-up streams.

The steam heating plant recently installed in the Y. M. C. A. building was fired up and put in operation on Monday, working very satisfactorily.

At the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Shoemaker for Mr. and Mrs. John Blanchard at the Country club Saturday evening, thirty-eight covers were laid.

Captain and Mrs. Heather, of the Salvation Army, will hold their farewell meeting on Sunday evening, as they expect to leave for other fields of usefulness early next week.

James Lowery and family this week moved from the Dunkle farm near Hecla to the house on Bishop street owned by his father, and vacated by him when he moved his family to State College.

Robert, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Taylor, has recovered from an attack of diphtheria, the house has been thoroughly fumigated and the quarantine was lifted on Tuesday evening.

The rabbit and wild turkey season opened yesterday but up to the time of going to press with the WATCHMAN we did not notice any abundance of them brought in by Bellefonte hunters.

The Panther hunting club will hold their first meeting for this season tomorrow evening to begin arrangements for their annual hunt this year, which they will take the last two weeks in November.

Now that the big Centre county fair is over politics are warming up to that degree where not only the various candidates but the voters in the county will be kept in hot water until after the election.

Sample ballots have been received by the county commissioners from the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. It will be of blanket size this year, that for Centre county being 17x22 inches without the stub.

The oldest night this fall was Monday night when ice froze a quarter of an inch thick. Heavy frosts prevailed both Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, opening the chestnut buds and bringing down the leaves in showers.

A Tafs and Sherman transparency has been placed on Temple Court, over the windows of Republican headquarters. It is similar in design to the Bryan and Kern transparency at the Democratic headquarters in Crider's Exchange.

The confirmation services in St. John's Catholic church on Sunday will be held at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon instead of 10:30 in the morning. In addition to Bishop Garvey, of Altoona, several visiting priests will be present.

Stuart St. Clair, son of Mrs. Jennie St. Clair, of Harrisburg, has been awarded a trustee scholarship at The Pennsylvania State College. He was the successful one of eight candidates who underwent an examination for the appointment.

Rally day services will be held in St. John's Reformed church on Sunday. Special services will be held in the Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. It is just possible that Rev. Thomas Levan Biekel, a former pastor, but now of Philadelphia, will be present. The public is invited.

Rufus T. Strohm will sail tomorrow for London, England, where he goes to take charge of a branch house of the International Correspondence school, of Scranton. Mr. Strohm is a son of the late ex-county commissioner James B. Strohm, of Centre Hill, and is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school.

The State football team proved a difficult proposition for the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia last Saturday, and had it not been for a fluke on which Penn scored her only touchdown the result would have been a 0 to 0 score. Tomorrow the Geneva College team will be State's opponent on Beaver field.

Ed Brown Jr., has very generously donated the use of his vacant store room on Bishop street in which the Ladies Auxiliary of the Bellefonte hospital will hold a rummage sale in the near future. Monday, October 19th, will be the date upon which they will call on the people of Bellefonte for contributions of cast-off clothing, etc., while the date of the sale will be announced later.

WOMAN'S BUILDING AT STATE COLLEGE WILL BE DEDICATED TODAY

The new woman's building at The Pennsylvania State College will be dedicated today and formally opened to the teachers and students in the new course of home economics. Quite a large number of ladies are present from all over the State, representatives of the Federation of Women's Clubs, and the exercises will be of a very interesting character.

The first thing this morning the visitors will assemble in room 109 in the agricultural building at ten o'clock for an inspection of the creamery and poultry yard and at twelve o'clock they will be entertained in the woman's building at a luncheon prepared by the students in the home economic courses under Miss Waugh and Miss Bemis; to be followed by an inspection of the new laboratories and dormitories. The public will also be shown an exhibit of the students' work in sewing, etc.

The speech making will take place at a meeting in the auditorium at 2:00 o'clock this afternoon. There will be addresses by Dr. Edwin E. Sparks, president of the College, and others. Mrs. Anna C. M. Tillinghast, of Tittusville, chairman of the committee on domestic science scholarship in The Pennsylvania State College, of the northwestern Federation of Pennsylvania Women's Clubs, will read a paper on "The Place of Domestic Science in the Amelioration of Mankind." Miss Myra Lloyd Dock, of Fayetteville, one of the vice presidents of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women's Clubs, will read a paper detailing the experiences of herself and Miss Kate Cassatt McKnight before the last Legislature which made possible the appropriation to establish a course in home economics at the College and also enlarge the woman's building, and Mrs. E. T. Rorer, of New York city, will make a short address on "Educational Values of Domestic Science."

The introduction of courses in domestic education into the curriculum of The Pennsylvania State College was discussed in the programs of various women's clubs of the State and an agitation was begun, headed by Miss McKnight, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Pennsylvania, which resulted in an appropriation of $12,000, made June 30th, 1907, by the State Legislature for establishing a Department of Home Economics for Women in the College, and $13,000 for renovating, altering and enlarging the existing dormitory for women.

The old dormitory was erected in 1889 at a cost of $12,016, the money being appropriated by the Legislature. The new woman's building just completed is located on the west side of the old building and connected therewith with a wide hallway. The plans for the building were drawn by architect J. Herbert Hall, of Huntingdon. It is of the same style of architecture and material as the old one so that the two buildings harmonize as one. The entire building is about one hundred and forty feet in length, fifty feet deep and four stories in height. It contains thirteen suites of rooms, each suite being comprised of two bed rooms and a sitting room; and nine single rooms in the dormitories, enough to accommodate twenty-two students as well as the instructors. On the first floor is a big reception room, an immense laboratory and two smaller demonstrating rooms. There are also several small laboratories on the second floor. All in all it is a most complete building and one very cleverly adapted to the needs of the course in home economics.

President Edwin E. Sparks extends a cordial invitation to the ladies of Bellefonte to go to the College this (Friday) morning and participate in the dedicatory exercises. He especially desires as large a representation from Bellefonte as possible.

WHAT A POOR BUT ENTERPRISING YOUNG MAN CAN DO

—Eighteen or twenty years ago James H. T. Ryman, of Boggs township, while only a lad in his teens worked in the ore mines until he managed to save one hundred and fifty dollars. With that amount he paid his tuition in the Bellefonte Academy for three years. The ensuing winter he taught a private school in Milesburg and the next summer went to Missoula, Mont., and went to teaching in the public schools for sixty dollars a month salary.

He was there only a few years when at the urgent solicitation of friends he ran for county superintendent, and was elected. In the meantime he invested what money he made in mining and real estate interests and prospered accordingly. Some eight years or more ago he was one of the promoters and organizers of the Western Montana National bank, of Missoula, of which he was made cashier, a position he still occupies.

He grew in prominence as he prospered financially and is now among the foremost citizens of Missoula. He has always taken a great interest in education and was one of the foremost in urging upon the Legislature of Montana to establish a University of Montana at Missoula, which was finally done and Mr. Ryman was made president of the university board. Dr. Duniway was recently elected president of the University and was formally inaugurated on Monday, October 5th, with very impressive ceremonies, over which Mr. Ryman presided.

Mr. Ryman's career shows that a young man can do if he has the necessary nerve and determination. He set out to conquer adversity and he did so and made of his life one worthy of emulation, even though he is yet a young man. And through it all he has not forgotten the home of his youth or his alma mater.

This is shown in the fact that when the Academy grounds were fixed up several years ago Mr. Ryman sent his check for one hundred dollars to help bear the expense, and last fall he sent a check for fifty dollars to help pay for fixing up the new Athletic field. If every student of the Bellefonte Academy was as liberal in contributing to its needs the long felt want in the way of additional buildings might soon be realized.

—About three weeks ago the farm of the late W. W. Clark, on Marsh Creek, in Liberty township, was sold at public sale by W. Edgar Clark, attorney for the estate. It was purchased by Frank Clark, of Alexandria, Louisiana, one of the sons, for $5,100, who in turn gave the farm outright, by deed, to his brother, J. Irvin Clark, who has been occupying the property a number of years.

—Residents of Bellefonte are very much interested in the two electric light propositions now awaiting action of the borough council to decide whether they be put through or not. According to the promises of the projectors both propositions offer to the people of Bellefonte cheaper light and power and these are reasons that should induce council to consider the matter very carefully and grant any reasonable franchise asked.

—Monday afternoon a freight wreck at Snow Shoe Intersection blocked the railroad tracks several hours, so that both the east and west bound passenger trains were considerably delayed. On Tuesday morning the shifting engine in the Bellefonte yard jumped the track near the tower and before it could be stopped had torn up fifty or more feet of track. It took two hours or longer to get the engine righted and the track repaired.

—Russell Jury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Jury, had his finger caught and broken in the moving picture machine at the Electric theatre on Wednesday evening. The show had just started for the second exhibition when there was a snap of the machine and the picture came to a standstill. It was only a minute until Edwin F. Garman appeared and announced that the exhibition would close for the evening, and in explanation announced that the operator had his finger broken by being caught in the machine.

BIG TOMATO CROPS.—Mrs. William Johnson, of Howard township, is the champion tomato grower in Centre county. Last spring she planted one and three-quarter acres in tomatoes, from which she sold to the Howard Canning company 16,175 pounds, retailing 3,500 pounds in Bellefonte, made thirty-eight gallons of catsup, twenty gallons of obo-chow and eight gallons of chili sauce. From nine hundred plants Joseph Herr, of the same place sold 3,800 pounds of tomatoes, or an average of forty-five pounds to the plant.

—Hunters in Union township, as well as a few in Bellefonte, are longing to get a shot at what they consider the "daddy" wild turkey gobbler in the Alleghenies. It has its range from the top of the Allegheny mountain down to Bush Hollow, where it has been seen most every morning feeding and drinking. It is a wary old bird, however, and takes flight at the slightest strange noise. Those who have seen it declare the gobbler stands fully four feet high and has a beard almost a foot in length. If such is the case he is not only a monster but must be as old as he is big.

Schad's Corner is already giving promise of being a very imposing place in Bellefonte when it is completed. The place referred to is the square on the corner of Spring and Lamb streets, purchased some time ago by Albert Schad from the Humes estate. He has already put down a concrete pavement along the entire project on both streets and is at work on the building of two substantial double houses, both to face on Spring street. That vacant lot has been an eyesore in that neighborhood for years but when Mr. Schad gets his houses up and lots leveled off it will be quite a pretty place.

—Have you heard Miss Hovey, the girl with the beautiful voice, sing at the Scenic this week? If you have not you have missed a musical treat such as you don't have an opportunity of enjoying very often. Miss Hovey, whose home is in Buffalo, N. Y., possesses a full, rich soprano voice of extreme wide range and is not afraid to use it; while her enunciation is so distinct she can easily be heard in the remotest corners of the house. She will be at the Scenic tonight and tomorrow night, and very likely all of next week. In addition to Miss Hovey's singing manager T. Clayton Brown continues to hand out every night a big double program of the best pictures obtainable; and all for the small sum of five cents.

—That well known boniface, Peter Metzler, of Lock Haven, spent two days in the Clinton county jail last week for threatening to kill attorney George A. Brown. When Mrs. Metzler died several years ago she left her property to her granddaughter, Miss Edna Dornblaser, of Philadelphia. Brown was not only made executor of the estate but was appointed guardian for Miss Dornblaser until she became of age. Recently Mr. Metzler found fault with Brown's management of the estate and Thursday evening went on the hunt for him with a gun. Brown swore out a warrant and had him arrested and for two days the veteran hotel keeper refused to accept bail and remained in jail. Finally on Saturday evening, through the intervention of friends, the case was settled and Metzler released.

WRECK ON L. & T. RAILROAD.—The passenger train on the Lewisburg & Tyrone railroad, due to arrive in Bellefonte at 4:20 Tuesday afternoon, was wrecked at Centre Hall by running into an open switch and colliding with a string of box cars. Conductor U. H. Reamer was badly out and scorched by being pitched head first through the glass in a car door while the entire train crew and a number of the passengers received severe bumps and were badly shaken up by being thrown against seats, etc.

The accident occurred at the eastern end of the siding at Centre Hall and would have been far more serious only for the fact that the train was already slowing down for its stop at the station. As soon as engineer Theodore Cherry saw the engine take the open switch he closed the throttle, threw on the air and calling to fireman Underwood to look out jumped back on the tender. The engine struck the freight cars with such force as to knock off the pilot, headlight and badly derange some of its mechanism. The baggage car was not damaged to any extent but the rear car was raised from the track by the force of the collision and the front platform broken to pieces.

Conductor Reamer had just called out the Centre Hall station in the rear car and was about to open the door to go forward into the smoker when the collision occurred and he was pitched headlong against the door with such force that his head crashed through the glass. Fortunately the glass was broken all to pieces else he might have received more serious cuts. J. C. Harper, of this place, was sitting in the front seat of the rear car and he was thrown forward with such force as to have the skin knocked off of his right leg from the knee down, but observing Mr. Reamer's plight he helped several other passengers release him and carry him to the station at Centre Hall.

There an examination showed a cut on the right temple which required seven stitches to close, another cut near the left eye and quite a number of scratches on the face, while the third finger on his left hand was knocked out of joint. He was fixed up as well as possible and not only brought his train to Bellefonte but went out on the run next morning.

A college student, William Twaddell, of Philadelphia, in the rear car was thrown forward against the seat and sustained a cut on the lip from which the blood flowed quite freely, so that he looked as if he was half killed. The engine was so badly damaged another one had to be secured from Sonbury to bring the train to this place, so that it was after seven o'clock when it reached here. Just who is responsible for the open switch has not yet been divulged but an investigation is being made to find out where to place the blame.

JOHN W. VOGEL'S BIG CITY MINSTRELS.—On Wednesday, October 21, at the opera house an unexcelled minstrel performance can be looked for, for on that date John W. Vogel's Big City Minstrels will be on the program.

Vogel is known as the greatest manager, while Chas. Gano is conceded to be one of the most popular comedians in the minstrel world, and there is little doubt but what the organization is as claimed, the richest and costliest in existence. The first part will be set in a new creation, entitled The Electric Velour Palace, a magnificent affair; beautifully staged and appropriately costumed. The overture is teeming with charming up-to-date music, excellent vocalism and graceful action. The vocalists include the famous alto, Mr. Harry Leight, the most wonderful Aeolian voiced child soprano; Master A. Newton, the Louisiana Glee Club and a host of others. Sam Harris, droll humorist; "Bill" Carney, oboe shouter; The Great Rolen, novelty entertainer; John Goss, bone soloist; The Lane Trio, and others will appear in the all-features olio. Sale of seats begins at Parrish's drug store on Monday, October 19th.

REUNION 49th PENNA VOLS.—The twenty-seventh annual reunion of the veteran society of the Forty-ninth regiment Pennsylvania volunteers, will be held in Bellefonte Thursday and Friday, October 22nd and 23rd. The first session will be held at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon in Gregg Post rooms and in the evening at 7:30 there will be a campfire in the court house. There will be two sessions on Friday in the Post rooms. All of the meetings will be public and everybody is invited.

The Forty-ninth regiment was recruited in Centre, Mifflin, Huntingdon, Juniata, Snyder and Chester counties. They went to the front in September, 1861. They were engaged in practically all the battles of the peninsula in which the Army of the Potomac fought, and were almost invariably in the thickest of the fight. In the battle of the Wilderness the regiment lost fifty-five men while at Spotsylvania 346 were either killed, wounded or taken prisoners out of a total of 474. R. S. Westbrook, of Altoona, is secretary of the society.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.—Luther C. Mann, aged twenty-three years, son of O. H. Mann, a wealthy manufacturer of Chicago, was arrested in Philadelphia last Saturday evening on a warrant charging him with having murdered Mrs. Fannie Thompson in a rooming house in the Windy city on July 3rd. Young Mann arrived in Philadelphia on Tuesday last week registering at the Potter house. He remained there until Saturday evening when he boarded the five o'clock train for Clearfield and was arrested on the train by a detective from Chicago. The officer left the same evening with his prisoner for Chicago.

SCHEENK—LUCAS.—A pretty but quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Harvey, in Lock Haven, at noon last Thursday, when Miss Nancy Miles Lucas, daughter of Mrs. H. T. Lucas, of Howard, became the bride of Anson A. Schenk, of the same place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. C. Patterson, pastor of the Disciple church of Blanchard. There were no attendants outside the members of the Harvey family.

The bride is one of Howard's best known and most popular young women while her husband, Mr. Schenk, is engaged in quite a thriving hardware and plumbing business in the same place. They are now away on a honeymoon trip to Buffalo and other points in New York State and will not be at home in Howard until after November first.

FOOTBALL TOMORROW.—Lovers of football in Bellefonte will have an opportunity of witnessing what promises to be a very good game tomorrow when the Bellefonte Academy team will play the strong Williamsport High school eleven on the new Athletic field. The Williamsport boys have already beaten the Lock Haven Normal team this year so that they will come here with a good record. The Academy team has been beaten only once this season, and that was last Saturday by the Indiana Normal team by the score of 15 to 0. But that defeat is partially accounted for by the fact that the Academy boys played the strong Pottsville High school team just the day previous, defeating them by the score of 6 to 0, and were in no shape to go in to Saturday's game. However, that is now history and the Academy team will endeavor to continue its good work by adding another victory to its good-sized string tomorrow. Go out and see the game and help the boys along by your presence and financial assistance.

A big crowd of rosters will accompany the Williamsport High school football team to this place tomorrow in the hope of cheering the Lumber city students on to victory. Last Saturday the Williamsporters defeated the Lock Haven Normal team by the score of 5 to 0 and they think they can do the same here. That they are a good team is shown by the fact that they are scheduled to play the Penn freshmen this season. Bellefonte wants to turn out a big crowd of rosters to encourage the Academy boys.

Wednesday morning Joseph E. Bruger, of Union township, was driving down a steep hill when the neck yoke broke and his horses ran away. Mr. Bruger was thrown out and run over by the wagon. His right arm was broken and he sustained internal injuries, though just how serious is not known at this writing.

Hon. and Mrs. James Wolfenden, of Lamar, celebrated their golden wedding on Wednesday.
