THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Mrs. William Daley, of east Lamb street, has been quite ill the past week or ten days with erysipelas.

Mrs. Lillie G. Reeder entertained at Mrs. Harris' Wednesday night, in honor of Mrs. W. C. Stoddard, of Germantown.

Hugh N. Crider, who has been confined to the house the past week as the result of a bad cold, has about recovered.

Frank Montgomery will close their residence on east Linn street tomorrow and go to Mrs. Louisa Harris' for the winter.

The Sophomore—Freshman cider scrap took place at State College last Saturday afternoon and was won by the Sophs by the score of 44 to 15.

M. L. Altenderfer was last week appointed district deputy, I. O. O. F., for Centre county by Grand Patriarch Edward Zarekoon, of Philadelphia.

George T. Bush has had a new section of bill board erected on Water street to take the place of the piece blown down and broken some months ago.

Andrew Gregg, of Centre Hall, this week moved his family from that place to Soranton where he has been given a deserved promotion with the Pennsylvania telephone company.

Miss Pearl Kniesly will entertain a party of young friends at a Halloween party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kniesly, on Thomas street, tomorrow night.

The plant of the Bellefonte Electric company now looks as epic and span as a new one. The building has been repainted outside and inside and so freshened up that the owners hardly know it.

Bellefonte butchers have reduced the price of meat, the reduction ranging from one to two cents a pound. This, quite naturally, is good news to everybody as the meat bill is quite an item in every household.

Tomorrow night will be Halloween night, and while the young folks in general may count on having a good time, they should not be destructive of property. A number of Halloween parties are scheduled for the evening.

A concrete pavement was put down along the county property on High street directly south of the court house. It will be quite a convenience in summer time, perhaps, and in winter time will make an excellent shoot the shutes.

If the weather next Tuesday is as pleasant as it has been this week a large vote should be polled at the election. In this respect every Democrat in the county should make it his business to go to the polls and vote, let there be no stay-at-homes.

Street commissioner Samuel Showers has been working on north Spring street the past few days, filling up the middle of the thoroughfare from High street to Howard. A top dressing of finely crushed limestone will also be put on which will put the streets in good condition.

In order to get home early on Sunday the University of West Virginia football team undertook the journey from State College to Tyone in a big motor car. About four miles from Tyone the car broke down and the members of the team were compelled to walk the distance into town.

Centre county farmers are now well along with their fall work and if the weather continues nice a week or two longer they will have all their corn husked and in crib and their fodder housed. The apple crop is also being cleaned up as fast as possible, by storing or marketing the winter varieties and making cider out of the others.

The rain on Saturday and Monday nights was all right for the fall sowing of wheat but it was not a "drop in the bucket" to what is needed to start the water supply of the country. It will take from three to four days steady rain to do that. The precipitation in other parts of the State, however, was considerably in excess of what it was in Bellefonte.

While the Lewisburg freight train was being made up in the Bellefonte yard Tuesday morning George Smith, of Sunbury, flagman of the crew, was thrown from the caboose. He fell upon the pilot of the engine and received quite a severe wound on the head. A physician dressed the wound after which he was taken on the train to his home in Sunbury.

Beginning on Tuesday last the Thompson touring car at State College started a system of regular trips to Bellefonte, which for the present, will be made on two days a week, Tuesdays and Fridays. For the present only one trip will be made, the car leaving the College at 7:45 a. m., but if the business increases enough to warrant it the car will be run two trips.

John Porter Lyon and J. Malcolm Mitchell are now driving a new fifteen hundred dollar, four cylinder Chalmers—Detroit touring car. It is one of the new low-priced cars on the market and apparently runs very smoothly. It is thirty horse power and so far takes the hills in this section at good speed. And of course it is quite conspicuous, owing to its being painted a bright red in color.

ARTIST POTTER IN HIS BUNGALOW.—In striking contrast to their comfortable studio and home on Walnut street, Philadelphia, is the bungalow and studio of W. W. Potter, the artist, and his wife, in Milesburg. That "a prophet is not without honor, save in his own country," was never more truly exemplified than it is in the life history of Mr. Potter.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Potter, he was born in Bellefonte and got his education in the public schools of the town, graduating from the High school. During his last years in school the family lived in Milesburg and in his leisure hours young Potter would go to the brick yard of Frank Wallace and spend his time making clay models. He evinced such a remarkable talent in this direction that his modelings attracted general notice and he finally went to Philadelphia and studied sculpture. When he completed his course he stood so high in the estimation of the professors at the Art Academy that he was given a position as a teacher.

It was while teaching sculpture that he took up painting and in a very short time had produced several landscape paintings which drew forth favorable criticism not only from the press but leading artists as well. In 1904 his lead pencil sketches of miniature landscapes were considered so meritorious that the committee in charge of the exhibition at the Art Academy conceded him one entire wall on which to hang his display. A year or two later he not only had paintings hung in the Academy for their annual exhibition but received very favorable mention. He has also had pictures hung in both the Chicago and New York academies and now has little trouble disposing of his paintings at prices that in his boyhood days would have seemed a fabulous sum.

And yet with all the above how many of his boyhood associates know anything about what the man and the artist is now doing. Very few, in fact, know that every summer he returns to the home of his youth and spends two or three months, not in an idle vacation but in sketching and painting. The first year of his return he secured the old brick school house in Central City, standing on the bank of the Bald Eagle, and partitioning it off into several rooms fitted it up as a studio and a home. It is not luxuriously furnished, in fact only the bare necessities in the way of furniture have been installed, as the prime object was a workshop, and this is the dominant fact throughout.

But a workshop it has been in every sense of the word, as is shown from the amount of work done there this summer by Mr. Potter. In the two or three months he has been in Central City he has painted probably fifteen or more pictures, ranging in size from 12x18 to 24x36 inches. It was the privilege of the writer in company with H. S. Ray to be shown Mr. Potter's exhibit, one day recently, and we have no hesitation in confessing surprise and amazement at what we saw. Confessedly we are no art critic but it does not require the eye of a connoisseur to tell that they are works of art. Mr. Potter's entire work is confined to landscape and marine paintings and he displays the happy faculty of grasping the effect of his subject in its entirety and transferring it to canvas in a way characteristically true to nature.

Last summer Mr. and Mrs. Potter spent some weeks at East Gloucester, Mass., and there the artist made a number of sketches which this summer he has completed in oil. They are principally marine paintings of views along the rugged coast of Massachusetts at what is termed Bass Rocks. They are exceptionally well executed paintings and it is a matter worth comment that one of the number, a large 24x36 inch painting entitled "The Incoming Tide," will be left in Bellefonte when the Potters return to their Philadelphia home.

His collection also contains a number of landscape paintings that are very striking. He is now about finishing two which he will send to the exhibition at the Art Academy, Philadelphia, November 16th to December 20th. One is a painting about 18x24 inches in size entitled "A Winter Scene." It is from a sketch made last winter near an old saw mill on Dobb's creek, in Chester county. The other is a smaller picture and was also sketched in the same locality. He has several moonlight paintings in his collection, one of which is a sketch made from the rear of his bungalow in Milesburg and takes in the Bald Eagle creek with Money mountain as the background. The gap through which runs the road to Bellefonte is plainly seen in the distance.

In his work Mr. Potter displays an individualism all his own, though a few of his pictures show the Lawson style. In fact one or two of his marines, so far as their pronounced coloring is concerned, are not unlike in style the work of Constable and Turner, the famous English artists. That his pictures are growing more definite every year is a fact admitted by the best art critics in this country and there is every reason to believe that some day he will rank high up in the list of American artists.

Mrs. Potter also paints, but her work is in the portrait line, and as she is as yet only a student none of her work has been placed on exhibition or received the criticism of experienced painters.

The date for the wedding of Col. James A. McClain, of Spangler, and Miss Emma Holliday, of this place, has been set for Wednesday, November 11th. The wedding of Clarence Swarr Gachman, of East Petersburg, Lancaster county, and Miss Margaret Brachbill, of this place, will take place early in December, and that of Ray Acheson, of Niagara Falls, and Miss Agnes T. Shaughnessy, of Bellefonte, immediately after Christmas.

Mr. E. H. Meyer, who for several years was a member of the Bellefonte Academy faculty but who a year ago resigned to accept the principalship of the Hazleton schools, has resigned his position there and gone to McKeesport as principal of the public schools, a position which gives him a much better salary. Mr. Meyer was born and raised in Boalsburg, this county, and his numerous friends will be glad to learn of his advancement in the educational world.

Last Friday morning fire broke out in a room on the fourth floor of the State College hotel and, though the flames were extinguished before they proved very destructive the damage by water, etc., will probably exceed one hundred dollars. Kniesly brothers, the landlords, were the biggest losers. Following close on the fire a ten pound baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kniesly the same day and as it is the tenth child the family makes quite a household.

The State College football team won another deserved victory on Saturday by defeating the strong University of West Virginia eleven, on Beaver field, by the score of 12 to 0. But they had to put forth their best efforts to do so, as the husky warriors from Morgantown put up a stiff game. Hirschman had his back injured in the second half but will not be out of the game indefinitely. This week State has been practicing hard for their game with Cornell, at Ithaca, N. Y., tomorrow.

The indications are that the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. will have a strong basketball team in the field this winter. At a meeting on Monday evening Edward Shields was elected captain of the team and Raymond Lingle assistant. Among the candidates trying for the various positions are Shields, Wallace and Lingle, as forwards; Harold Kirk at centre; Keichline, Lane, Struble and Walker as guards. The first game will be played this evening at Huntingdon with the local team of that place.

The Bellefonte Academy students had a big bonfire and held a rousing open-air meeting in the Diamond on Monday evening in honor of their football team's victory over the Williamsport Dickinson Seminary eleven on Saturday. A huge pile of boxes and barrels furnished fuel for the flames while the speechmaking at the meeting was done by Hon. W. C. Heine, Col. D. F. Fortney, James R. Hughes, coach Charles E. Hall and others. It was a proud day for the students on Saturday and a big time for them Monday night.

Democratic county chairman W. D. Zerby and Republican county chairman Harry Keller have combined and secured a special telegraph wire over which to receive the election returns next Tuesday night. The wire will be run into Mr. Keller's private office in Temple Court where an operator will receive the returns in duplicate, one of which will be given to the Republicans and one carried by messenger to Democratic headquarters in Crider's Exchange. The Bellefonte club will also have a private wire and operator.

A number of the Slavish residents near the Bellefonte furnace celebrated a christening on Sunday with the usual quantity of beer, and after imbibing quite freely a free for all fight was started. As fists were not considered sufficiently destructive as implements of war clubs were brought into play with the result that a number of the participants were pretty well battered up. On Monday five of those engaged in the fight were arrested and jailed until Tuesday afternoon when they were given a hearing before justice of the peace John M. Keichline and each one fined quite heavily.

The Bellefonte Academy football team sprang a surprise on the Dickinson Seminary team at Williamsport on Saturday by defeating them by the score of 18 to 0. Before the game was called the Williamsporters were offering bets that the Academy would be defeated at least 25 to 0. Even the Academy was surprised at the outcome. And they were still more surprised at the kicking of Wyckoff, whose punting was the feature of the game. On Monday next the Academy will play the strong Indiana Normal team in this place, and that will be a game you all want to attend.

Two weeks from tomorrow, or on November 14th, the Panther hunting club will leave Bellefonte for their annual two weeks hunt on the Allegheny mountains, near Eddy Lick, in the Scotoos region. The deer season this year will come in on Sunday so that the first day deer can be legally killed will be on the 16th. While the Panthers are going out for the double purpose of hunting small game as well as deer yet they want to be on the ground the opening day, so that if any of the fleet footed animals are chased into their camp they can capture them. This is the reason for their going out on the 14th.

Lovers of football in Bellefonte will have an opportunity of witnessing a very good game next Monday afternoon when the strong Indiana Normal school team will be here and play a return game with the Bellefonte Academy team. The Indiana boys are the only ones who have so far beaten the Academy and that is partly accounted for in the fact that the Bellefonte boys undertook to play two hard games in two successive days and, of course, lost the second game. They expect to retrieve themselves on Monday, however, by winning from the visitors. Don't fail to see this game, as it will be well worth seeing.

OLD SOLDIERS REUNITE.—Forty-four old soldiers, members of the Forty-ninth regiment Pennsylvania volunteers who served through the Civil war, met in their twenty-seventh annual reunion in Bellefonte last Thursday and Friday, and it was a gathering of pleasure and sorrow mixed. Pleasure because men who had fought side by side through three long years of that terrible strife had been spared to again meet together after forty-three years of peace and grasp each other by the hand; and sorrow because the big majority of their comrades had answered the last roll call and marched to that bourne beyond the Great Divide.

Capt. James A. Quigley, of Blanchard, presided over the business meeting which was held in Gregg Post rooms Thursday afternoon. After the reading and approval of the minutes of the last meeting of the association the president appointed the following committees:

Obituary—A. M. Smith, Jackson Corliss and Henry Robinson.

Auditing—Oliver S. Rumberger, Don Juan Willings and J. B. Downing.

A number of telegrams and letters of regret were read after which the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Oliver S. Rumberger, of Warriors-mark; vice presidents, David Yeager, Sunbury; Samuel Ewing, Newton Hamilton; Samuel B. Miller, Altoona; W. H. Irwin, McVeytown; Samuel H. Bickie, Yeagertown; secretary, R. S. Westbrook, Altoona; treasurer, Robert A. Work, Honey Grove; chaplain, W. B. Bratton, Orange, N. J.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Harrisburg at a time to be fixed by the secretary.

Thursday evening at seven o'clock a meeting and campfire was held in the court house. Both the Coleville band and Christy Smith's orchestra were present to furnish music. The meeting was opened by Rev. James B. Stein invoking the Divine blessing after which ex judge John G. Love made the address of welcome. The response was by J. B. Downing, of Philadelphia. Addresses were also made by Rev. John Hewitt, Col. H. S. Taylor, Dr. A. M. Schmidt, Clement Dale Eq., Col. John A. Daley and Col. Austin Curtin.

The closing session was held on Friday morning when the reports of the various committees were presented and a vote of thanks was tendered all those who in any way helped to make the reunion a success.

The Forty-ninth has a record second to no command in the federal army. They went out in September, 1861, and won distinction for bravery in the battles at Williamsburg, Garrett's Hill and Golden's farm, Virginia. During their term of enlistment they also fought in the battles of Rappahannock Station, the Wilderness, Spotsylvania, the Bloody Angle, Winchester, Yorktown, Savage Station, White Oak Swamp, Malvern Hill, Crampton's Gap, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Salem Church, Gettysburg, Loon's Grove, Mine Run, Cold Harbor, Weldon Railroad, Ream's Station, Petersburg, and Saylor's Creek.

The total enlistment during the service of the regiment was 1597. Of this number 303 were either killed or mortally wounded; 403 were wounded; 170 died from disease and accidents and 29 were taken prisoners. Of those who survived the war only 387 are now living, and these are scattered throughout twenty-six States. The obituary list for the past year numbers thirteen, as follows: Frank Bolig, Frank Taggart, John Lepley, Henry Hickson; William Freeman, William Noll, David H. Johns, Capt. Calvin DeWitt, Abram A. Boyer, Samuel B. Bartley, Israel Albright, Joseph Eckley and James A. Shields.

The forty-four veterans who were present at last week's annual reunion were as follows: Isaac Armstrong, Lemont; Samuel Bickie, Brantown; W. H. Bratton, Orange, N. J.; W. A. Bridges, Beech Creek; Abram Chilcote, Lewisport; Jackson Corliss, McVeytown; Wm. Colpeter, State College; J. B. Downing, Philadelphia; Henry Duke, Williamsport; W. H. Erwin, McVeytown; Samuel Ewing, Newton Hamilton; Charles Eckenroth, Bellefonte; W. M. Irwin, Williamsport; Jacob M. Grant, Aspen; J. Miles Green, Milesburg; Patrick Geigherty, Mt. Union; John Holmes, Howard; George Harkless, Philadelphia; Uriah Kitchin, Beech Creek; Henry H. Lamb, Beaver Springs; Lewis Lieb, Montandon; Samuel Loggner, Cherry Tree; David Macker, Hollidaysburg; C. D. McCloskey, Beech Creek; W. McMillan, Bellefonte; Samuel B. Miller, Altoona; W. G. McGinnley, Milesburg; James Mountain, Stewart's Station; Samuel D. Osborne, West Chester; John N. Patterson, Spruce Creek; James A. Quigley, Blanchard; Theo. B. Reeder, Tyone; Henry C. Work, Honey Grove; James Wyble, Howard; Don Juan Willings, West Chester; Israel Young, Boalsburg.

THAT RUMMAGE SALE.—The Ladies Auxiliary of the Bellefonte hospital realized the very comfortable sum of $463.74 by the rummage sale and exchange held for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. While the above amount is a very nice sum, and those in charge are to be commended for their efforts in behalf of the hospital, the sum possibly could have been increased if the ladies had had the time to make a house to house canvass to solicit contributions for the sale. While probably the majority of people in Bellefonte knew of the sale many failed to contribute because they were not personally asked to do so. As it is, however, the Ladies Auxiliary desire, through the columns of the WATCHMAN, to extend thanks to all those who so generously contributed articles or in any way assisted in the good cause.

A. S. Allen and family have moved from Boalsburg to Centre Hill.

THE BELLEFONTE SCHOOLS.—The attendance of pupils in the Bellefonte public schools has been especially good during the past school month, the weather being such that there was no cause for stay-at-homes. This (Friday) afternoon those pupils who have not been absent nor tardy during the month will be granted a half holiday. This is in accordance with the established custom to reward all those pupils who have a perfect record in attendance by giving them a half holiday on the Friday afternoon following the end of the school month. The following list shows the number in each school with a perfect record:

DEER ARE SCARC.—Such old-time and well informed hunters as David Chambers and George and James Uzzle are authority for the statement that deer hunting in Centre county this year will be very poor sport. During the early and middle summer the indications were that deer would be quite plentiful and hunters were looking forward to a good season next month. But the long continued drought and protracted mountain fires, especially the latter, have resulted in driving the deer into other sections. In fact during the first ten days of the open season in New York, which began on October 16th, just fifty-six deer were killed in one county, just over the boundary line from Pennsylvania. As this is an unprecedented number for that region, where deer have been comparatively scarce in past years, it is evident they have been driven there by the mountain fires in Pennsylvania.

Whether they were or not, however, the one potent fact is that they have been driven out of Centre county, according to reports of old hunters who have been out on the mountains looking up the prospects, and he will be a lucky hunter who succeeds in bringing his buck to earth during the deer hunting season. A number of hunting parties throughout the county have sent scouts to the woods to ascertain, if possible, what the outlook for deer and other game is, as they do not care to go to the trouble of making a trip to the mountains only to find it denuded of game.

FLEMING—DONALDSON.—The wedding last Saturday of Montgomery Ward Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson I. Fleming, of this place, and Miss Winifred May Donaldson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones Donaldson, of Butler, was quite a prominent society event. The marriage took place in the parlors of the hotel Clinton at six o'clock in the evening and was attended by quite a large number of friends of the contracting parties.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. A. C. Johnson, of Ben Avon, assisted by Dr. E. J. Knox, of the Butler Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev. Marshall B. Lytle, of Pittsburg, a cousin of the bride. The attendants were Miss Maude Ritts, of Butler, maid of honor; Miss Mary Herr, of Butler, bridesmaid; and Elias Ritts, of Butler, best man. Dr. Sydney B. Carrier, of Pittsburg, and Harold B. Lingle, of Bellefonte officiated as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held which was attended by about one hundred and twenty-five guests. Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left Butler the same evening for a wedding trip to eastern cities, expecting to return to Bellefonte to-morrow.

THOMPSON—REESE.—A quiet little wedding was celebrated at ten o'clock Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. William Reaser, on Thomas street, when Miss Irene Reese was united in marriage to Norman Thompson. Rev. D. B. Baringer performed the ceremony which was witnessed by only a few friends. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left on the 4.44 o'clock train the same evening for Cleveland, Ohio, where they will make their future home.

The entertainment will be from 6.30 to an hour and a half in duration and twenty-five cents admission will be charged. The entire proceeds for the evening will be applied to the Episcopal church repair fund.
