

Pine Grove Mention.

Mrs. J. E. Ard and Mrs. John Gummo are among the sick. Mrs. J. E. Heberling, who has been ill with fever, is some better. Nurman King, John Dunlap and B. F. Krebs came home to vote. Joel Ferree is off on a month's jaunt through the Buckeye State. A nice little girl came to the home of C. M. Johnson, at Pine Hall, Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Bloom visited friends at McAlevy's Fort in the beginning of the week. Sheep dogs have been playing havoc with New Hess' and John Dreibleb's flocks recently. Edward Elder has improved and is able to be moved to his father's home on the Branch. Jerry Borest and wife, of Mooresville, spent several days among friends here in the beginning of the week. Prof. Davis, superintendent of Public Instruction, of Blair county, with his wife, visited Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Neidigh last week. Charles Snyder and Wm. Garner, our two oldest men, who cast their first vote for J. K. Polk, were out Tuesday to vote the ticket of their choice. Ed Elder, who has been ill for several months, is some better, but has decided to quit farming and has his sale billed for November 20th. The Hallow'eners behaved unusually well in the country, but the State College campus had the appearance of a county fair on Sunday morning. McClellan Rossmann's Belgian stallion died Sunday afternoon after a few hours' illness. He was a valuable animal and the loss is heavy on Mr. Rossmann. The Frank Wrye public sale last Saturday was well attended, although bidding was not as spirited as at the spring sales, though everything sold at fair prices. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnson spent Sunday over the mountain with Mrs. Johnson's mother, who expects to close her home for the winter and visit with relatives. Last Sunday Rev. Bergstresser, of the Lutheran church, gave notice to his flock that he was about to accept a call from Altoona to take effect about December 1st. Homer and Harry Oaks, J. H. Oaks and R. E. Johnson, of Stone valley, attended the State College horse show Saturday, and Mr. Johnson captured a blue ribbon for his pair of blacks. Rev. Phillips, of the M. E. church, has been holding a protracted meeting the past ten days at Huntington Furnace. Some thirty persons have made profession and a large number are still at the altar. On Saturday of last week, while Bert Musser was driving a four horse team, he was thrown from the saddle. His foot caught in the stirrup and he was dragged some distance before the team was stopped. The ligaments of his left ankle were badly torn and it will be some time before he will be able to be around as usual. On Monday afternoon while Waldo Gray was driving home from High school his horse took fright at a steam thrasher at J. C. Strubles, just west of town, began kicking and the harness breaking he ran away. After running a mile he ran against the fence and stopped, with the buggy somewhat the worse for the mishap. Young Gray received a kick on the arm but was otherwise unharmed. Spring Mills. Mrs. H. I. Brian and Mrs. Margaret Duschy made a visit to Millheim on Saturday last. Roadmaster Andrew Corman has been busy all week; replanked the lower bridge over Peans creek, and also repaired the road bridges. Very like winter here on Saturday last, dark leaden clouds were hovering overhead all day, with high cold winds and occasional snow squalls. Our hunters are not particularly joyful over their success so far. Game must be scarce, or are remarkably shy and keep themselves well covered. Quite a number of commercial agents stopped off here on Saturday last—all on the home road to vote. They all report business on the road from fair to middling. Magistrate M. B. Hering has been quite ill for the last ten days. Mrs. Hering, who has also been ill for some time, is convalescing, but the improvement is very slow. Up to Saturday last, that enterprising merchant of our town, C. P. Long, shipped from this station 9000 bushels of apples and has orders for several more car loads. Former Senator Heinle was in this neighborhood for a day or two last week. Both he and Geo. F. Weaver, Democratic nominee for Register, left on Friday for Bellefonte. On Saturday last Major Geo. Husz, the well known shoemaker of our town, reached the half century mark of continuous service at his trade—almost a lifetime. The Major is still as sturdy as the oak, and says he can still make a shoe or boot that will outwear two pairs made by machinery. Having occasion to call into the millinery parlors of Mrs. Geo. N. Wolf a day or two since, she called my attention to a superb line of fur hats she had just received. They are beautiful, but chiefly in the form of turbans and toques. Of course there are some much larger hats among them, about like a 25 inch umbrella. Some of these hats are very handsome and stylish. They are in mink, lynx, white fox and gray squirrel. Mrs. Wolf has made no mistake in her selection. Hallow'en—regarded by many of our ancient dames as the spookiest night of the whole year, where fierce goblins sit on fence posts and smoke huge pipes, queer looking and ill shap'd elves play marbles in the road, while fiery and angered old witches ride through the air on greased broomsticks,—was celebrated here about as usual. Throwing corn at doors and windows was fun for the girls, after which they hastened to one of their homes to eat apples, nuts and candies, tell love scraps by counting the seeds of the apples and then wind up with a marvelous ghost story. The boys must have encountered a goblin or spook which scared them so much that they did very little mischief.

Smalltown.

H. E. Stover contemplates moving to Woodward about the 15th, where he will engage in farming. October came in as a lamb and went out as a lion. Hope we may be favored with mild or weather yet for a while. Ramor has it that a saw mill will be erected south of town in the near future, then there will be work and noise around. C. H. Bierly has purchased the Lizzie Royer tract of timber and has already moved his saw mill there and expects to operate ere long. Rev. J. Max Lantz preached an able sermon here Sunday, he being accompanied by Mr. Campbell, railroad ticket agent at Spring Mills. H. H. Stover has almost completed his photo gallery and expects to be ready to accommodate the public in this line about November 20th. Some of our people attended revival services at Wolf's Store during the past week, our genial merchant in kindness furnishing the conveyance. Soon the butchering season will open, and there are hoags in this town that will be sure to get sore throats. Then for sausages, pudding, and pan-hans. Mrs. Louis Trump and Mrs. Ritter, of Jersey Shore, have spent some time here pleasantly among relatives and friends. The former was a resident of this town years ago. James Miller, who had been spending some time with his son Luther, at Hagerstown, Maryland, returned home a few days ago, and reports having had a very good and enjoyable time. A. E. Strayer and his crew of painters are doing work for Howard Struble, at Zion. Mr. Strayer is a practical painter and is known and in demand not only at home but in other valleys. Revival services began in the Methodist church here Wednesday evening. Hope the good work will be prosperous and that people professing the faith may become a unit in the work of the salvation of souls. Our merchant, Edwin Snell, was tendered a surprise by the Hallow'eners' Saturday evening. No doubt the snow flurry of that afternoon inspired the thought to furnish Mr. Snell with a sled, for Sunday morning dawned with a sled on his store porch. It was loaded with boxes, stib wood and posts, indicative of the approach of winter. The merchant had his first sled ride that morning, taking the conveyance to his home, from which in the future he expects to use it as required. While eating dinner on Monday Mr. W. T. Speer had a slight fainting spell, caused no doubt from an attack of biliousness, and since then he has been somewhat indisposed, though at this writing he is much improved. Elevator Cut Woman in Two. York, Pa., Nov. 3.—Louisa Aument, fifty years old, was caught between the second and third floors of the John H. Baker cigar factory in an elevator, and her body was nearly severed in the middle, causing almost instant death. Mrs. Aument was a tobacco stripper, and had just started work for the cigar company, having induced the foreman to give her a job by telling him that her husband was ill with typhoid fever, and that the family had no money. While taking tobacco from the first to the third floor, it being the first time that she ever operated an elevator, she became frightened and attempted to jump after the elevator passed the second floor. Work For 1000 Men; Pittsburg Happy. Pittsburg, Nov. 3.—There was rejoicing in East Pittsburg, where the plant of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company is located, over the announcement from Philadelphia and New York that the Westinghouse company had been awarded a contract involving $5,000,000 at the start for the electrification of the Pennsylvania company's New York terminals. The contract, it is said, will give immediate work to at least 1000 more men than are now employed and will keep the plant running for twenty months. Suicide at Niagara Falls. Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 3.—Charles A. Hengerer, son of the late William Hengerer, and former vice president of the William Hengerer company, one of the largest department stores in Buffalo, committed suicide here by jumping into the river and going over the falls. Millionaire Kills Grizzly. Glenwood Springs, Colo., Nov. 3.—One of the largest silver-tip grizzly bear hides ever seen in this region has just been sent in to a local taxidermist from Jake Borah's camp on the Mnddy river. The bear was killed by Harry Payne Whitney, of New York, who is out with Borah and a party of eastern friends on a hunt that will last several weeks. Walks Miles With Fractured Skull. Selinsgrove, Pa., Nov. 3.—His skull fractured by a limb falling from the top of a tree he was alone attempting to fell, Noah Brouse, seventy-three years old, of Kraberville, Snyder county, exhibited remarkable nerve by walking from the mountains to his home, two miles distant. His right ear was torn off. Moro Outlaw Chief Killed. Manila, Nov. 3.—A force of constabulary from the town of Iligan, sent in pursuit of a band of Moros which has been raiding plantations and causing other depredations in the province of Misamis, on Mindanao Island, overtook the outlaws, killed the leader, and is now following the rest of the band.

Prince Henry in Airship.

Prince Henry of Prussia spent several hours in the air as the guest of Count Zeppelin at Friedrichshafen, Germany, who made an ascension in his remodeled airship. Not only did the prince thoroughly enjoy his experience, but he sat at the steering wheel for many miles of the flight, guiding the movements of the craft and compelling it to execute all kinds of complicated maneuvers. Prince Henry's satisfaction at the great flight was unbounded, and he gave expression to it in a telegram which he sent to the emperor: "Under Zeppelin's guidance I felt just as safe as on my own flagship." After manoeuvring above Lake Constance in full view of the city for some time, the airship made its way towards the Swiss frontier, disappearing in the direction of Tyrol. It returned to its moorings about sunset. Captain Mischke said that the prince was anxious to remain for a few more flights, but that he was uncertain whether his engagements would permit. The prince expressed himself as astonished to find that the lengthy body of the airship showed only the slightest vibration. He regarded the vertical steering gear as simply perfect. Cashier Guilty of Embezzlement. William Montgomery, who was the cashier of the Allegheny (Pa.) National bank until the discovery of a shortage in its funds of over $1,000,000 early last summer necessitated the closing of the institution, was for the second time found guilty of embezzlement and abstraction of funds, his pecuniations in the two cases amounting to $612,000. The case involved the abstraction of $144,000 worth of the bank's bonds, and, as in the first case, Montgomery offered no testimony in defense. Every effort has been made by the prosecution and the bank's directors to learn from Montgomery what became of the money abstracted or who besides himself received the money, but the cashier has steadfastly refused to involve others, and it is generally believed that it was to prevent the possibility of others being dragged into the case that no defense was offered in the two cases. Find Skeleton Near Washington's Tomb. Through the finding of the skeleton of a man on the historic Mount Vernon (Va.) estate, at one time the home of George Washington, the authorities of Fairfax county, Va., have to solve what appears to be a murder mystery. Gatekeeper Vickers, employed on the estate, discovered the skeleton, together with the dead man's clothes, a gold watch, a bottle of whiskey and a calendar, in a patch of woods near the entrance to the grounds. Upon the calendar the name "Antonio" was written, and a bullet was discovered among the bones. The theory of the police is that an Italian workman, employed two years ago in the construction of a road near the point where the skeleton was found, was shot by one of his fellow workmen. Died Suddenly in Wilds of Mexico. A telegram has been received at Lancaster, Pa., telling of the death of Dr. Samuel T. Davis on Oct. 23 in the mountain district of Mexico while on a gunning expedition with A. C. Kepler, of this city. The telegram states that Dr. Davis died from heart failure near Colonia-Pachico, Mexico, and was buried on the following day. The hunters were in camp and were a week's journey from civilization. In company with Mr. Kepler, he has hunted big game in all parts of Canada, British Columbia, Mexico and the United States, and has been a prolific and interesting writer on the subject. An effort will be made to bring his body to Lancaster. Betrayed Black Hand—Both Arms Off. With both his arms cut off below the elbows by members of a Black Hand gang he was believed to have betrayed. Villardo Dipitti appealed to the police at Newark, N. J., to protect him against any further vengeance. Dipitti told the police he joined the Black Hand in Morehorn, W. Va., a mining settlement, last winter. In the spring he was accused of having betrayed some of the members of his gang. He was enticed, he said, to St. Michael's, Pa., where he was seized and dragged into a shanty near the railroad. There one of the men, a doctor, cut off both his arms. Bank Cashier's Account Short $549,884. The report of Receiver Griffin, of the People's bank, of Portsmouth, Va., shows a shortage in the accounts of Cashier Alexander B. Butt of $549,884. The ex-cashier is now serving a sentence of three years in the penitentiary upon a plea of guilty of misappropriating the bank's funds. Commonwealth's Attorney Stewart has been petitioned by the depositors of the bank to have Butt returned upon the expiration of his term and prosecuted upon nineteen remaining indictments. Decapitated By Red Hot Wire. Erick Els was decapitated at the American Steel & Wire company's mills at Cleveland, O. Els was a wire drawer. While drawing the red hot wire it broke. The end struck him about the neck, and the wire, released from the tension, suddenly coiled about his neck. His neck was burned through in a few seconds by the hot wire, completely severing his head from his body. Miss Elkins to Wed Dec. 1. Henry Gassaway Davis, grandfather of Miss Katherine Elkins, is credited with a statement that the marriage of Miss Elkins and the Duke of the Abruzzi will take place at Halliehurst, the Elkins home, at Elkins, W. Va., probably Dec. 1.

Hon. James Kerr.

In the death of ex-congressman James Kerr, which occurred at his summer home in New Rochelle, New York early on the morning of the 31st, Pennsylvania loses one of its most prominent citizens, the business member a man of endless energy and courage and his party one of its most active leaders. Mr. Kerr had been ailing for over a year, but with many business interests with which he was connected needing his attention. His love for politics and his devotion to what he deemed a duty to his party he refused to believe himself outaged and although at times scarcely able to be about resolutely continued his active work until about three weeks ago when his condition became such that he was compelled to relinquish all work. Shortly after seeking a sanatorium, a consultation of physicians was called, who determined that his life could be saved only by an operation. This was performed on the afternoon of the 29th, but it was found of no avail. His illness intestinal trouble having made such strides that nothing could be done. His children were at once summoned to New Rochelle, Albert B. Kerr, a lawyer of this city, was the first to reach his father's bedside. Frederick B. Kerr, who is in Clearfield, Pa., the Kerr was democratic chairman during the Patsion-Delemater gubernatorial campaign in Pennsylvania, one of the rare occasions when the state went Democratic. In 1902 he received the votes of the Philadelphia delegation and other scattering votes for the democratic gubernatorial nomination in Pennsylvania, although not a candidate. Mr. Kerr had been identified with the timber and coal interests of Pennsylvania and was president and a director of a number of coal mining companies. The funeral was held at 2.30 o'clock on Monday afternoon and was attended by a large number of prominent men from this and adjoining States. The Crosby peach has proved itself the best for Northern and Eastern growing. It is the hardest peach known and is a sure and regular bearer in New England. Books, Magazines, Etc. A new story by Ernest Thompson Seton will be one of the fiction features of The Century during 1900. The Century is to have also a new story of Japan by the author of "The Lady of the Decoration," Frances Little. St. Nicholas Notes.—The new volume of St. Nicholas is to have a serial story of adventure by Bradley Gilman, "A Son of the Desert." It will begin in the November number. Colonel Charles W. Larned, a professor at the West Point Military Academy, has written for the November St. Nicholas of "The West Point of To-day." The story is to have for illustrations a number of West Point pictures, which were obtained by Colonel Larned specially for this sketch. New Advertisements. NEW BELLEFONTE RESTAURANT. THINK IT OUT!
Think it out—you men who have the habit of reasoning why—the B. L. Co., has been here under this name or another for many years. A fine equipment of machinery and the know-how to handle it has been accumulated. Our men can decide without the loss of a minute or a cent what would best suit your order. They are used to planning for whole buildings, planning without waste. When they decide a certain thing is what to give you, the stock room will NOT be out of that. Everything you need for any building—not part here and part elsewhere, and each part overlapping.
