THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team will play the Big Five in Tyrone this evening.

This week has been observed as a week of prayer at the Young Men's Christian Association.

R. S. Brouse was compelled to stay in the house several days this week on account of a bad cold.

Emil Joseph was confined to the house several days this week as the result of an attack of indigestion.

John Garthoff is improving his property on Reynolds avenue by building an L and a big porch thereto.

Mrs. Shelden entertained Tuesday afternoon and evening with bridge, at her apartments in the Bush house.

Miss Helen Crissman, who was taken sick last Saturday and threatened with appendicitis, is recovering very nicely.

Memorial services will be held by the local Lodge of Elks on Sunday, December 6th. The speaker has not yet been selected.

A party of seven Tyroneans are this week camped on the mountains near Snow Shoe hunting for rabbits and other small game.

The pavement and gutters surrounding the residence occupied by Emil Joseph and family are being repaired and put in good shape for winter.

The storm doors were put up in front of the Bush house entrance on Wednesday, which is a sure sign that cold weather will soon be here.

A basketball game between the Y. M. C. A. and Belleville High school teams last Friday evening resulted in a victory for the former by the score of 24 to 20.

The complete returns from the Twenty-first congressional district give Taft a majority of 5457 votes and Barlow for Congress only 2702 votes over Walker.

Postoffice inspector Dobbins, of Washington, was at State College last Thursday looking into the advisability of establishing free mail delivery in that borough.

The Round Table conference of superintendents and principals of schools for Central Pennsylvania will be held in DuBois on Friday and Saturday, November 20th and 21st.

Thursday, November 19th, is the date for the expiration of the time for filing of applications for liquor license in Centre county, and consequently the various landlords are now getting busy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Saxton, of State College, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Pearl Saxton, to John W. Morrison, of this place; the wedding to take place the latter part of this month.

Benjamin Bradley Jr., of Philadelphia, will finish up all the work his father, Benjamin Bradley Sr., had contracted for prior to his death several weeks ago. This includes the Episcopal church and several houses.

Miss Nancy C. McClain, daughter of Col. James A. McClain, will be married tomorrow to Harry J. Hinterleitner, of Pottsville. The wedding will take place at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harvey D. Lingle, in Paton.

Dr. John Sebring on Saturday sold Dr. S. M. Huff, of Milesburg, the second hand model G Franklin touring car he has had on hand the past month or so, and now the latter will be able to glide around the county with the best of them.

From all accounts that "Pair of Country Kids" at the opera house on Monday night were so near the real thing that the audience felt very much like throwing cabbages and turnips at them to make the part they tried to represent more home-like.

Harry Daniker, of Sandy Ridge, and Miss Mary Griffey, of Osceola Mills, were married on Tuesday of last week. They will make their home at Sandy Ridge, Mr. Daniker being bookkeeper for the Harrison-Walker company at their brick works at Retort.

One of the most pleasing of all the Shakespearean plays is David Garrick, and Belleville will have an opportunity to witness its portrayal next Tuesday evening when Clifton Mallory will be the star at the opera house. The play will be given under the auspices of the Logan fire company.

Don't forget the country store the ladies of the Reformed church will hold in the W. C. T. U. rooms in Petriken hall today and tomorrow. Children's clothing, cakes, candies, homemade bread, pies, etc., will be on sale. This will be an excellent opportunity to get good things at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is earnestly solicited.

On Monday of last week while Charles F. Cooke was splitting kindling he made a mistake and his his foot instead of the block of wood. The result was a bad cut which laid him up for several days so that it was not until Friday that he was able to get out, but this week he has been as his desk in the bank of the Belleville Trust company as usual.

McCLAIN—HOLIDAY.—Quite pretensions in character, if not in size, was the wedding on Wednesday at the home of Col. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler, of their daughter, Miss Emma Alvira Holliday and Col. James A. McClain. The happy event was witnessed by about one hundred and twenty-five invited guests and the affair proved a brilliant social function.

The parlors of the Spangler residence were profusely decorated for the occasion, the predominant colors being yellow and white against a green background. Chrysanthemums were the principal flowers used. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Father McArdle, of St. John's Catholic church, took place before a floral altar erected in the southwest parlor. Christy Smith's orchestra played the Mendelssohn wedding march and the bride was given away by Col. Spangler. The attendants were Miss Margaret Brisbin, as bridesmaid, and Thomas Sharbaugh, of Carrolltown, best man.

The bride was gowned in a white lace robe trimmed in lace applique. She wore a white lace hat with ostrich plumes and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a gown of white organdie trimmed in lace and carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony and congratulations an elaborate wedding breakfast was served by caterer Joseph Ceadar, after which there was a regular program of music and mirth until late in the afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. McClain left on the 4.44 train for a wedding trip to Washington thence to Florida.

The bride is one of Belleville's best known and popular young ladies. She is highly accomplished and fitted in every way to grace the fireside as well as preside over her husband's home. She was the recipient of a large number of presents which included silver, china, cut glass, linen, bric-a-brac, etc. The bridegroom is a native of Belleville and well known all over the State. About twenty-five years ago he served two terms as Register of Centre county. When the coal boom struck Cambria county he was one of the first to leave Belleville for that place and now he is not only interested in various coal operations there but cashier of the First National bank at Spangler and has a number of other business interests in that section; and it is at Spangler they will make their home after December first.

Among the out-of-town guests present at the wedding were Mr. Harry V. Bigler and daughters, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Joseph H. Reilly, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Michael McMenamin, of Hampton Court, Philadelphia; Mrs. Montgomery, Lawrenceville, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor, Coalport; Mr. and Mrs. Sharbaugh, Mrs. Meehlin and Miss Wetzel, of Carrolltown.

WALKER—WEAVER.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Weaver, at Linden Hall, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday of last week when their daughter, Miss Bertha Eve Weaver, was united in marriage to Foster D. Walker, of Spring Mills. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. A. Black, of Boalsburg. Both Mr. and Mrs. Walker are among the well-known young people of the South Side and their many friends wish them a long life of wedded happiness.

LINGLE—BRADY.—On Wednesday of last week Richard Lingle, of Blanchard, and Miss Mabel H. Brady, of Beech Creek, went to Williamsport where they were married the same afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. A. Brady, of Canton, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Carekadden.

HEINER—YEAGER.—John Heiner and Miss Bessie May Yeager were married at Mt. Eagle on Tuesday, October 27th. The ceremony was performed by Squire H. Laird Curtin.

DAVID GARRICK.—Every one who is a lover of all that is beautiful and refined in the way of theatrical performance should make special effort to witness the presentation of the great romantic English comedy, "David Garrick," by the romantic actor, Mr. Clifton Mallory, supported by a competent company, which will be presented at Garman's opera house, Tuesday, November 17th, under the auspices and for the benefit of the Logan Fire company. The play is staged with all the wealth of splendid scenic equipment and magnificent costuming. Mr. Mallory is an actor of sterling worth and ripe experience and gives a splendid portrayal of the leading role. His clear resonant voice, charming manner, and splendid stage presence enable him to make the leading character as near perfect as it has been made by any actor of his age. By missing this play you will miss a treat, and by attending you will have an evening of rare entertainment and at the same time will be helping the firemen along.

CELEBRATED HER BIRTHDAY.—Last Friday evening the comfortable home of Mrs. Laura Bricker, at Boalsburg, was invaded with a large crowd of friends, both young and old, who gave that good lady a genuine surprise party on the occasion of her fiftieth birthday. In order to make the gathering more complete each guest took a basket and a sumptuous layout was the result. It was a pleasant evening for all present and no one enjoyed the time more than Mrs. Bricker.

Rev. Newton S. Bailey has taken the rooms over W. Harrison Walker's law office and will make that his abiding place for the ensuing year; or until the United Brethren conference meets again and perhaps gives him a change in assignment.

On account of moving to Altoona on or about December first Rev. R. H. Bergstresser, of Pine Grove Mills, is offering his driving outfit, horse, buggy and harness for sale. See advertisement in this issue.

On Sunday the bans of James A. McCafferty, of this place, and Miss Mary E. Jackson, of New York city, were read in St. John's Catholic church for the first time; the wedding to take place the latter part of this month.

George A. Bezer was threatened with an attack of appendicitis last Thursday but by a prompt application of efficacious remedies the inflammation was scattered and he was able to be out and around by Saturday afternoon.

The Methodist congregation at State College are planning to erect a new church in the near future. At a congregational meeting held on Wednesday evening of last week $7,050 were subscribed toward a building fund. As planned now about thirty thousand dollars will be spent on the erection and furnishing of the new church and parsonage.

Albert Sebad intends to have a nice block on the corner of Spring and Lamb streets. In addition to building two large double houses he is now at work raising the two double houses already on the lot. They will be raised about four feet to bring them to the level of the pavement. They will then be improved and fixed up into model dwelling houses.

The Reformed congregation and Sunday school of Jacksonville will observe Home Mission service on Sunday evening, November 15th, at seven o'clock p. m., the proceeds to be given to the First Reformed church of Howard, which is now being built. An excellent program has been prepared by the Home Mission Band and the public in general is invited.

The new Olive Branch union chapel at Coleville is about completed and will be dedicated on Sunday, November 29th. This neat little house of worship was built mainly through the efforts of the Olive Branch of Coleville and Missioner Crittenden, of this place. The American Lime and Stone company very generously contributed material for the building and the people of Coleville both labor and money.

The Pennsylvania railroad company's special training school of agriculture, run in conjunction with The Pennsylvania State College through the southeastern part of the State on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, was taken advantage of by a far greater number of farmers than was anticipated by the projectors. The instructors were Dr. Thomas F. Hunt, Prof. Alva Aze, Prof. H. E. Van Norman, and A. S. McDowell, all of State College.

Edward Gehreit and John Lambert have gone into the contracting business and one of their first jobs is the building of two houses for F. W. Cridler on east Lamb street, on which they are now engaged. They are both enterprising and hustling young men and will no doubt make a success in their business. In order to be in direct communication with the public they have had a Pennsylvania telephone installed and thus can be reached at any time.

The scenic theatre continues to draw big crowds every night in the week, and Saturday nights it is almost impossible to accommodate the crowd. This shows what enterprising management and a determination to give the people the best in pictures and songs that can be obtained, regardless of expense, will do. John R. Smith, of Cincinnati, has been doing the musical stunts this week. He has a good baritone voice and pleases his hearers very much. The show tonight and tomorrow night will be just as good as past entertainments.

The Belleville Academy football team was again victorious last Saturday when they won from the Altoona High school team by the score of 12 to 5. The game was played in the Mountain city and in the first half it looked as if the Academy would go down to defeat, as the only score was made by the High school boys. But in the second half coach Hall's eleven got in the game and through the excellent playing of Smith and Dillon the Academy scored two touchdowns and got two goals, while the Altoona boys could not score again.

In another column of the WATCHMAN will be found an account of the tragic suicide of B. Frank Hall, of St. Marys, a brother of Senator J. K. P. Hall, of Ridgway. Centre countyans are naturally interested and sympathize with the family in their present trouble because of the fact that the Hall family were originally from Centre county, having lived near Milesburg, in Boggs township. From there they moved to Karthaus where Frank Hall was born and where they resided until they moved to their home in Ridgway. Frank was the next to the youngest of the family.

Fire on Monday evening entirely destroyed the house of Lewis Dietrich, a mile below Hecla, and occupied by James Lowery and family, formerly of this place. Mr. Lowery was in Belleville at the time and Mrs. Lowery and the children having retired to bed had a narrow escape with their lives. In fact Mrs. Lowery was compelled to make a rope of the bed clothing and lower her children to the ground from the second story window, herself escaping the same way. All their household goods and clothing were burned. There was a small insurance on the house and furniture.

COMMISSIONER'S APPOINTMENTS.—Woodring and Zimmerman, the two Republicans elected county commissioner last week, lost no time in making their appointments. They held a meeting in this place last Saturday and elected Edward J. Williams, of Unionville, as clerk; Clement Dale Esq., attorney, and Levi Symmonds, of Benner township, janitor. Mr. Williams was the only candidate for clerk while Mr. Symmonds had an easy time in being selected as janitor. The principal contest was on the selection of an attorney. For this position, which pays three hundred dollars a year, there were six applicants, or practically every Republican lawyer in Belleville, and naturally every one of them presented a long list of reasons why he should be appointed.

With such a condition of affairs the commissioners-elect did nothing Saturday forenoon but consider the propositions of the various candidates with the result that all of them were eliminated from the contest but ex Judge John G. Love and Clement Dale Esq., and at a meeting Saturday afternoon the latter was selected. In making their appointments so soon after being elected the new commissioners displayed good common sense, inasmuch as it will save them a lot of trouble in being worried by an army of candidates for the various positions; and will also save any expense and anxiety that would necessarily have followed in the wake of an application for a job. Dr. W. W. Feidt was appointed county physician.

FOREIGNERS IN TROUBLE.—On Sunday a number of foreigners who are inmates of a boarding house near the old glass works went to the home of another of their countrymen and spent the most of the day drinking beer. Late in the afternoon they went to their boarding house, considerably under the influence of liquor. The result was a disturbance was started which the boarding house keeper undertook to quell and in doing so ejected one man from the house. His friends called up the Sheriff's office by telephone and asked for help. Deputy sheriff Fred Reese and policeman Harry Dukeman went down. Upon their arrival the only man to be found, it is alleged, was the boarding house keeper and another foreigner who had taken no part in the scarp, so they arrested them and put them to jail. On Monday when it was discovered that two innocent men had been arrested they were discharged, but were compelled to give bail for the payment of the costs.

GOOD TELEPHONE SERVICE.—In the rush of compiling election returns, etc., last week, the WATCHMAN only casually referred to the efficient service rendered by the Pennsylvania telephone company on election night. That company inaugurated a new departure on election night by undertaking to furnish the election returns, both local and national, to the public. To do this a number of long distance telephones with special wires were installed in a number of places in the town, one of which was the WATCHMAN office, and the service rendered was of the very best. Not only were the county returns quickly and accurately handled but among the earliest news received from the State and nation was that served by the telephone company. And the best part of it all was that the service was free, a fact which demonstrates that the Pennsylvania company does all it can to cater to the interest of its customers, as well as the public at large.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH ALMOST COMPLETED.—The repairs on St. John's Episcopal church will be completed in ten days or two weeks and the edifice then opened for public worship. The pointing and replacing of the broken stone in the walls were finished last Friday and the carpenters are now at work on the changes to be made on the interior. These are principally around the pulpit and are quite elaborate. A Spanish dome will be placed in front of the chancel as the gift of Mrs. Edward Richard. All new windows will be put in with the exception of the large memorial windows. The doors have been changed to open outward instead of inward, thus affording a better means of egress in case of fire. When finished the Episcopal church will be one of the handsomest houses of worship in Belleville.

RHONE MAY PRESIDE.—Hon. Leonard Rhone, of Centre Hall, past master of the State Grange, has been selected to preside at the annual meeting in Altoona during the week of December 7th in the event of grand master W. F. Hill failing to return from the international congress of agriculture at Rome in time to serve in that capacity. Mr. Rhone presided at the meeting of the State Grange the last time it was held in Altoona and his selection to do so again is a compliment to his ability as a presiding officer. Dr. Edwin Erle Sparks, president of The Pennsylvania State College, will be the principal speaker at the meeting on Tuesday evening, December 8th, when he will talk on the subject, "Washington, the farmer."

STATE DEFEATED BUCKNELL.—The big game crowd that ever witnessed a football game on Beaver field saw State easily defeat their old-time rivals, Bucknell, at State College on Saturday, the final score being 33 to 6. The Bucknell team with three hundred students and friends came to the College in a special train of seven coaches while scores of the alumni of both colleges were there to see the game, which was the first played by the two teams in eight years. Thus the visitors were entirely outclassed can easily be seen by the score. To-morrow State will play Annapolis at Annapolis.

Jefferson Deeter, of Warriorsmark valley, who is well known in the upper end of Centre and in Huntingdon county as the champion hunter of that section, has this season caught twenty coons. He has also in his credit a mountain lion, three wild turkeys, a lot of rabbits and a big string of squirrels. Mrs. Deeter also shot a wild turkey this season.

Ex-Sheriff Cyrus Brungart was over from Centre Hall on a business trip on Monday and found time to make a short call at this office. Of course he was not any better pleased with the result of the late election than the rest of us Democrats were.

Frank Cole, a former Belleville boy, spent last Saturday with friends in town. He had recently been employed by the Keebler company in Williamsport but resigned his position there and was on his way to Franklin to accept a position with a large contracting firm.

Mrs. D. Q. Decker, of Altoona, was in Belleville this week attending the funeral of her uncle, the late William L. Steele, on Tuesday, and on Wednesday was a caller at this office for the purpose of renewing her subscription to the WATCHMAN for another year.

Messrs. C. G. Shuey, John M. Shugert and George R. Meek represented the Belleville hospital before the Board of Charities in Harrisburg Wednesday night. Our institution is asking for $8000 for maintenance and $13000 for the completion of the new building and deserves every cent of it.

Miss Minnie Collins, who has been visiting friends in this section for a week or so left on Tuesday for her home in Philadelphia. Before going, however, she called at the Watchman office and enrolled her name as a subscriber to the paper for the reason that she wants to get all the news from Centre county.

Mr. Abram V. Miller and daughter, Mrs. James Blythe, of east Linn street, left last Friday for Baltimore, Md., as delegates to the national conference of the Society of Friends, which will be in session there until tomorrow. While there Mrs. Blythe went to see Miss Louise Armor and she reports that she is getting along splendidly. In fact is much better than she expected to see her.

THAT AIR LINE RAILROAD.—The corps of engineers who have been at work in this part of the State for some time past, surveying for that much talked of air line railroad projected by Joseph Ramsey Jr., is still in Centre county, surveying in the upper end of Pennsylvally. They have run a number of surveys through Halfmoon and Ferguson townships and have evidently not yet found the route they desire. From all indications State College seems to be an objective point but they have so far failed in finding a route which will take them through that town. The last survey they have made runs from a point near Loveville through Gatesburg and the Barrens to the grange hall at White Hall and across to the base of Tussey mountain a short distance west of Boalsburg, where they take up the course of the old original survey. This line is from one to two miles west of State College and from four to five miles north of Pine Grove Mills. Of course the survey has not been determined upon, even in the problematical stage of the road, and if it is even built an entirely different route may be taken. Be that as it may, however, the presence of the engineers in the west and southern portions of the county is causing considerable excitement among the farmers and others in the neighborhood in which they are working.

PENNSYLVANIA DAY.—Pennsylvania Day at The Pennsylvania State College will be observed next Friday, November 20th, and the celebration bids fair to rival even the most memorable of past occasions. Assurances of attendance have come from a number of prominent men of the State. The program for the day will be arranged with the thought of conveying to the visitors some adequate conception of the daily life of the twelve hundred students. In addition to the public meeting and addresses in the auditorium as well as an inspection of the shops, laboratories and buildings, the regiment of college cadets will be officially inspected and the annual game of football will be played between the Sophomore and Freshman teams, which is one of the big events in college athletics. The Belleville Central railroad will run a special train to the College that day, leaving Belleville at 9:35 o'clock in the morning.

The large barn on the farm of Peter Meyers, near Martha, and which was tenanted by his son, Charles Meyers, was entirely destroyed by fire last Wednesday night. When discovered about nine o'clock in the evening the flames had gained such headway that nothing could be done to save the building. Mr. Meyers and his son attempted to rescue the stock and narrowly escaped with their own lives. In addition to the barn three horses, three head of beef cattle, three hundred bushels of wheat, this year's crop of hay, corn fodder, etc., as well as all the farming implements were burned. The total loss is estimated at about four thousand dollars on which there is only a partial insurance. From the barn the fire communicated to a tract of woodland nearby and it required the combined efforts of quite a force of men all next day to conquer the flames.

Ray Baird, of Milesburg, foreman of the printing department at the Pennsylvania Match Company's factory, on Monday got his right hand caught in the press and had the same badly mashed. He is now undergoing treatment in the Belleville hospital.

Centre County Pomona Grange will meet in Milesburg Thursday, November 19th, at 9:30 a. m., to hold their fourth quarterly meeting for this year. The officers of Pomona Grange will dedicate the new hall of Bald Eagle Grange at this time and will also confer the fifth degree during the afternoon session. All fourth degree members are cordially invited. There will be an interesting program. The busy season is over; let us have a good turnout.
