

Pine Grove Mention.

Messrs. Wilson and Mateer, lumbermen of Stonevalley, spent Monday in town.

Ed Sellers, the bustling implement manufacturer, of Oak Hill, was here Monday.

A slight taste of real winter and sleighing prevails and party goers are getting busy.

W. E. McCormick, electrician, was along the telephone line on Monday adjusting the kinks.

Farmer Newt Hess, of the Branch, is arranging to build a home at State College, next summer.

J. G. Strayer, of Gatesburg, passed through town Monday with a bran new sled, built by Weiland & Co., of Boalsburg.

Howard Wright took a few days off last week to visit his former home in Blair county, returning with a new buggy.

Harry Bigelow, of Stonevalley, was in town Saturday night and the boys are keeping a lookout for the license list.

George Potter Jr., says he has another mouth to feed and a baby to clothe. Its a nice little girl and came last week.

Prof. Houtz, of the Susquehanna University, will fill the pulpit in the Lutheran church next Sunday, at 10.30 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Heberling, J. B. Heberling and wife attended the Perry Gates funeral Tuesday, at Warriorsmark.

Miss Sadie Heberling has been at Warriorsmark the past ten days administering to the needs of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Gates.

Mrs. Mary Bronse closed her house and went to lend a helping hand to her brother-in-law, J. N. Dinges, who is at death's door.

John I. Markle, one of Pennsy's masons and bridge builders, at Bellwood, is at his home here. The recent cold snap laid him off.

A. M. Brown is breaking ground for a new house in Tyrone, so that indications point to our losing one of our most substantial citizens.

D. Ross Gregory, of Mooresville, was around among the farmers the early part of the week and bought and shipped a car load of lambs to New York.

Harry Stuart, a former Pine Grove Mills boy, was taken to the Wills Eye hospital where he will undergo a third surgical operation for his eyes. He was accompanied by his brother, J. W. Stuart, of State College.

James W. Larimer, an old Pine Grove Mills boy, who went west over forty years ago, is back at the home of his birth, casting his eye over the old pavements where he used to stub his toes, and greeting his old friends.

Dr. Eric Sparks and Col. W. C. Patterson came over from State College on Tuesday for the purpose of making negotiations with one or two parties who desire to purchase the old mill property. Mrs. Sparks accompanied them for the pleasure of the outing.

We are sorry to note the illness of Mrs. B. F. Homan. On Sunday Drs. Woods and Kidder performed an operation, and on Monday morning her daughter Gertie, a trained nurse, was called to take charge of her mother, whose condition is not much improved.

Thirteen year old Samuel Gregory was out at the barn on Monday watching the men thresh when the wind blew a big barn door off its hinges and it fell on the lad, breaking one of his legs and otherwise badly injuring him. Just a year ago the boy fell on a large iron spike which penetrated his body, causing a painful injury from which he just recovered.

Rev. C. T. Aiken filled the three pulpits of his old charge and presided at the congregational meeting for the election of a new pastor, which resulted in an almost unanimous call to Rev. Shultz, of Johnstown. But two negative votes were cast, one here and one at Pine Hill. The secretary of the joint council was instructed to inform Rev. Shultz of the result.

Just now there is a boom in real estate here. Wm. Dale, of near Pleasant Gap, bought the J. B. Heberling corner for $4,000, and will take possession April 1st, 1909. Tate and Markle succeed Mr. Heberling in the furniture and undertaking business.

On Monday J. H. Ward sold his home on Water street to A. J. Tate at near the $1200 mark. Mr. Ward will move to Treverton. It was reported that J. G. Bailey had bought E. & McWilliams property down town, but as yet it is not confirmed. Simon Ward is offering his new home for sale, as he wishes to locate at State College. Several parties are dickering for the flooring mill.

Carnegie Subpoenaed.
Andrew Carnegie was subpoenaed to appear before the house ways and means committee to testify in the tariff revision hearings being conducted by the committee. The future sessions will be very interesting, as several persons of prominence are to be called to testify. If these witnesses refuse to respond to subpoenas they probably will be cited before the courts for contempt, as was done in one instance during the hearings on the Wilson bill.

Shipping Thousands of Xmas Trees.
The annual cutting of Christmas trees in the Adirondacks near Utica, N. Y., is now in full swing, and carloads of the trees are being shipped to points far and near. Thirty thousand trees have come out of the Adirondack forest north of this city within the last two days, and the cutting goes merrily on. The trees are from five to ten feet long, and the average price paid, collect freight charges, is 10 cents apiece.

Suicide After Dispute.
Michael Bolley, of Steelton, Pa., hung himself at his home after a dispute with his family. Following the quarrel the man went to the front part of the house and made deliberate preparations for his suicide, tearing a strip from the stairs and nailing it to a beam, to which he attached a rope. Then, standing on a chair, he kicked it away and strangled to death.

Died From Overdose of Medicine.
Mrs. Bettie F. Shelton, aged fifty-four years, wife of Charles H. Shelton, agent for the Leroy Steamboat company, died suddenly at her home in Norfolk, Va., following an overdose of nerve tablets, taken for the cure of headache.

An Unjust Verdict.

To the Editor of the Watchman:

In looking over the cases brought before court in last week's WATCHMAN my indignation was aroused by the verdict rendered in the case of Clark against Toner for cruelty to his horse. Instead of Clark having to help defray expenses, he ought to have a reward for what he did. I have heard that the children, as well as the animals, need protection in the defendant's family. When the men in high authority forget all about the quality of mercy and also the gospel teaching of "Blessed are the merciful for they shall obtain mercy." (Matt. 5:7) and also "The merciful man doeth good to his own soul; but he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh." (Prov. 11:17); it certainly shows our great need of an active society for prevention of cruelty to animals in Bellefonte, where one so often wishes one could make it pleasanter for the patient dumb animals.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD BULLETIN

THE STEEL COACH—A TRAVEL SAFEGUARD.

The Pennsylvania Railroad now has in operation on its lines east of Pittsburgh over two hundred passenger coaches, dining cars, baggage cars, and mail cars of the new all-steel type.

The solid steel framework of these cars, designed to resist shock and minimize the dangers of collision, is further strengthened by the steel sheathing enclosing the body of the car. In fact, everything about the coach is steel, save the window frames, the cushions of the seats and the flooring. Such little woodwork as enters into the make-up of the coach, the plush with which the car seats are covered and the hair with which they are stuffed is treated to a fireproofing process, whilst the floors are cement, thus rendering the coach at once practically indestructible and thoroughly fireproof. It is built like a battleship.

The new coach is longer than the standard car generally in use on the railroads of this country, and has a comfortable seating capacity of sixty to ninety people according to the style of the coach.

The unusual weight of the coaches give to them a solidity that greatly increases the comfort of the passengers.

The seats are adjusted to a more convenient space and angle, the coaches are all lighted with electricity and amply ventilated in winter as well as summer by new and thoroughly tested methods.

The interior finish of the coach is plain though pleasing to the eye. The absence of ornamentation enhances the idea of strength and at the same time assures absolute cleanliness and thorough sanitation.

Steel cars are now in use on the principal trains between New York, Philadelphia, Washington, and on the Main Line between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. The number of cars is constantly being increased as the finished product comes from the shops.

The Pennsylvania Railroad's equipment is recognized as the Standard of America. 53-50-1f

To Subscribers.

Some of you will notice that the figures on the label of your WATCHMAN are such that after the first of January the postal authorities will begin to get busy. We do not want to discontinue sending the paper to you, but you are already acquainted with the ruling that the meddling officials at Washington made last year and we don't see how it will be possible to do it unless you make a remittance between this and the first of January.

We publish this notice with the hope that you will act promptly because you can readily see that we cannot afford to pay postage on separate letters to each of you when the price of the paper is so low now that it scarcely pays for the material that is in it.

We would thank you very much for a prompt reply and if when you send in your renewal you would send along an order for a new reader it would be an additional gratification.
