

Leaders of Workmen Summoned to Indianapolis For Conference With Leaders in Bituminous Coal Fields. Preparing to Submit a Final Proposition to Operators.

Philadelphia, March 27.—Notwithstanding the general belief that the anthracite miners will renew the present wage agreement, the operators are taking no chances and decided that they will make no reduction in the price of coal until a wage contract has been signed.

More than that, the operators have decided to run every colliery from now until April 1 in order that as much coal as possible may be mined. Just as soon as the miners and operators come to some agreement the operators will put into effect the usual reduced prices for the summer trade.

Leaders of the anthracite miners have been summoned to Indianapolis for a conference with the leaders in the bituminous coal fields so that whatever proposition President Lewis and his committee submit to the hard coal operators will have the hearty support of every member of the United Mine Workers of America.

In response to instructions received from Indianapolis, Presidents Adam Rascavage, of District No. 1; John McElhenney, of District No. 7; and John Fahy, of District No. 9, started for Indianapolis.

The trip of the three presidents to Indianapolis is significant at this time, inasmuch as at the tri-district convention in Scranton the details of further negotiations with the operators were left entirely to the executive boards of those districts with power to act.

When President Fahy was asked the significance of his trip to Indianapolis, he said that he was under instructions to say nothing about it. He admitted, however, that when the anthracite miners' committee comes to confer with President Baer and the other operators again it will be prepared to submit a definite and final proposition.

President Lewis will remain in Indianapolis all of next week, and it is not expected that any conference with the hard coal operators can be held before week after next. A movement is on foot to have the next conference in New York, although President Lewis personally prefers this city.

No Reduction in New York.

New York, March 27.—There was no reduction in the price of coal here, the meeting of the Coal Merchants' association, which had been called to declare the usual spring reduction, being postponed because the expected notification of a reduction in the wholesale price by the operators was not received.

BROKE MONTE CARLO'S BANK

New Yorker "Cleaned Up" a Modest $24,000 at Roulette.

New York, March 31.—Henry B. Harris is "The man who broke the bank at Monte Carlo." He broke it two weeks ago and he got away with his winnings, amounting to $24,000.

Mr. Harris didn't know any more about roulette than he does about ping pong. He watched some of his friends play and lose. Then he became interested and he laid two 150 franc notes on a number.

The wheel turned and the little ball spun, and Mr. Harris looked up to see that it had fallen to his number. He was paid $750 francs, about $1750. He kept on winning until the bank suspended.

Fourteen May Be Dead in Havana Fire

Havana, March 31.—Fourteen members of the crew of the Hamburg-American line steamer Altenburg, which was burned here Monday, are missing, and it is feared that they have perished. The Altenburg caught fire at the burning pier of the Havana Central railway, and the flames spread so quickly that the officers and crew were forced to abandon the ship. It was supposed that all had gotten away safely. It was found, however that fourteen men were missing.

Crazy Snake's Band Has Broken Up Into Small Groups and Are Being Pursued by Deputy Sheriffs and Soldiers—Numerous Rumors of Engagements—Crazy Snake Surrounded.

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 30.—A detachment of Crazy Snake's band of belligerent Indians was surrounded by deputy sheriffs near Crazy Snake's home and a lively battle ensued. More than 200 shots were fired and one Indian was killed. Eight Indians were captured and the remainder fled, with the deputies in pursuit.

There were about fifteen Indians in the band, and they had taken refuge in a house. The deputies had tracked them for some distance.

Advancing from all sides, the posse fired a volley at the frail house. The Indians rushed out, scattered among the trees and made a valiant defense. The posse, firing steadily, advanced and routed the band. None of those captured is seriously injured, but it is said that a number of other Indians were hit with bullets.

Chitto Harjo (Crazy Snake) is surrounded in the North Canadian bottoms near Pierce. Three hundred militiamen, cowboys and deputy sheriffs are closing in on him and his capture is expected.

Crazy Snake's band apparently has broken into numerous small groups. It seemed at nightfall that each Indian was trying to accomplish his own escape without regard for the grand dreams of the chieftain to realize which they were called together Sunday by the smoke of signal fires. All efforts at organized resistance seemed to have been dropped.

The militiamen seemed well able to cope with this latest phase of the situation, however. They, too, scattered in bands, invaded the hilly wooded region of the Creek nation in a determined effort to hunt down both leaders and members of the war party. The wisdom of this policy at once became evident, for very soon the soldiers had captured eight members of Crazy Snake's forces, one of them a sub-chief.

There are numerous rumors of engagements here and there, with a varying number of fatalities. One story was that a posse of farmers near Checotah fought a large band of negro renegades and killed twenty. This and similar reports cannot be confirmed. A disquieting condition exists throughout the troubled region, however, and almost anything in the way of a fight would not be surprising.
