Street Car Workers Attend Opening of Club Provided by the Receiver of the Railroad Company and Drink Tea Served by Society Women.

New York, April 13. — The Third Avenue railroad set was entertained at tea by Frederick W. Whitridge, the receiver. Socially prominent controller twisters, bell pullers and car nurses from the dry dock, East Broadway and Battery, the Kingsbridge and the Harlem circles, as well as the union younger set from The Bronx, indulged in tea, lady fingers and pleasurable conversation until a late hour. A good time was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Whitridge has thought for a long time that the employes of the Third Avenue would much prefer a cup of the cheering oolong to a shell of vulgar snuff, and a plate of tea biscuits to a forkful of sauerkraut from the free lunch counter. When he fell heir to the old Mount Morris hotel, at Third avenue and One Hundred and Thirtieth street, Mr. Whitridge tore it down and built in its place a clubhouse for the railroad men.

As soon as the day crews had worked out their tricks the men beat it up to the clubhouse for the formal opening. They went just as they quit work, except for a dab or two at the face and hands. Nobody had to bother about climbing into troublesome frock coats and top hats, or worry about the proper shade of Ascots for afternoon functions.

Miss Anna Morgan, the daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan, helped Miss Eleanor Whitridge and Miss Jean Whitridge entertain the Third Avenue men, and some of the others who were kept fairly busy from the middle of the afternoon until late in the evening were Miss Edna Biddle, Miss Pauline Robinson, Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Miss Marjorie Curtis, Miss Katherine Maher, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman and Mrs. Clement Griscom.

Thieves Stole a Locomotive. Thieves stole a locomotive on the New Haven railroad at Hopewell, N. Y., and after running it ten miles abandoned it when the steam gave out. The stalled locomotive tied up trains until more steam could be generated. The thieves escaped.

Declines Ambassadorship. It was announced that Judge Mayer Sulzberger, of Philadelphia, has declined the post of ambassador to Turkey, offered him by President Taft. Judge Sulzberger is a distinguished member of the bar of Philadelphia and a well known Oriental scholar.

Burned to Death Cleaning Gloves. While attempting to clean gloves with gasoline, flames from a gas stove ignited the gasoline and set fire to the clothing of Miss Jennie Livingston at Lynn, Mass., and she was burned to death.

Oil Was Placed on the Free List, But Free Lumber Was Voted Down—Duties Increased on Gloves, Stockings and Barley—Tobacco Raisers Must Not Pay Manufacturers' License to Sell Crop.

After three weeks of consideration the Payne tariff bill passed the house of representatives by a vote of 217 to 161. One Republican (Austin, Tennessee) voted against the measure, and four Democrats, all from Louisiana Messrs. Broussard, Estopinal, Pujo and Wickliffe, voted for it. An attempt by Champ Clark, the minority leader, to recommit the bill with instructions, signally failed.

One of the principal changes effected in the bill since its introduction was the placing of petroleum upon the free list. This involved a more seriously contested fight than any of the other amendments. Speaker Cannon, during debate on the amendment to reduce the duty, took the floor in defense of the higher rate of duty. Although an amendment to place oil on the free list was lost Thursday a similar amendment offered by Chairman Payne was carried.

Among the other important amendments were those striking out the provision for a duty on tea and the countervailing duty proviso on coffee. The elimination of the maximum duty of 20 per cent on coffee, contained in the maximum and minimum section of the bill, was also significant.

The section restricting the contents of packages of tobacco was amended to conform to the present law in order that union labels may not be excluded from such packages. The drawback section was added so that it could not be taken advantage of for the purpose of speculating in grain, and the Philippine free trade provision was amended so that rice will not be admitted free from the islands. The countervailing duty clause on lumber was stricken out, but a strong effort to place lumber on the free list did not succeed.

The duties on barley, barley malt, charcoal iron, pineapples in crates, saccharine, medicated cotton and cotton collars and cuffs, as originally in the bill, were increased.

The internal revenue law was also amended so that raisers of tobacco will not have to pay a manufacturers' license in order to dispose of their leaf tobacco. There were several technical changes in the steel schedule, principally downward, and lace curtain and netting machines were included in the proviso which permits the entry free of duty of lace machinery prior to May 1, 1910. Hides, hosiery and gloves were left as reported by the committee, hides remaining free and an increased duty being presented for gloves and stockings.

Glanders From Pet Horse Kills Woman

Through her fondness for a very gentle horse, Mrs. John W. Fenner, of Hilltown township, near Doylestown, Pa., died of glanders, a fatal disease with which her favorite horse was afflicted.

It was Mrs. Fenner's custom to pet the horse and fondle its head, in which way she readily contracted the disease, which has not appeared in this county very often.

The symptoms were so mild that, until last week, when she became alarmingly ill, it was not suspected that she had the disease.

To prevent the spreading of the glanders, four horses on the farm were killed and the premises will be under the strictest quarantine.

Roosevelt Meets King of Italy.

Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt and King Victor Emmanuel met on the Italian battleship Re Umberto in the Messina harbor. The meeting was characterized by the utmost cordiality, and the king took occasion to express the gratitude of himself and the Italian people for the generous assistance of the American people to the earthquake sufferers. At the close of the interview Mr. Roosevelt went ashore and inspected the ruins of the city, the desolation of which moved him strongly. He then boarded the steamer Admiral, which hoisted her anchors and proceeded on her way to Mombasa.

Coal Men Are Deadlocked.

After conferences in the city of Philadelphia, extending since Wednesday, the anthracite coal operators and the officials of the United Mine Workers of America, representing the miners, at which the question of a wage agreement was discussed to replace that brought about by the anthracite strike commission, the operators rejected the modified demands of the miners, and the conference adjourned deadlocked.

There will be no strike inaugurated by the mine workers, however, and the only danger of a suspension of mining in the near future, according to the mine workers' officials, arises from the possibility of the refusal of the operators to permit the miners to work without an agreement.

The modified demands of the miners requested that the mine workers be recognized as "Anthracite Workers" and that certain conditions regarding new work by the miners in which wages were involved and which would give increased pay to the miners.

Found $1000 Bill on Collection Plate.

The insertion of an advertisement in a Washington, Pa., paper to the effect that there had been found in the collection plate of the Roscoe Methodist Episcopal church, near here, after the services last Sunday night a $1000 bill, developed the fact that the church officers think the donor made a mistake. The yearly collections of the church do not average much more than this amount, and the officials in the advertisement state that they will return the money to the owner if he wants it back and can prove he inadvertently dropped it into the plate.

May Spank Girl of 17.

In the police court at Detroit, Mich., Justice Jeffries gave a decision upholding the right of a father to administer the old fashioned spanking to his seventeen-year-old daughter, even if her dignity suffered. Margaret Granzin, aged seventeen, had her father arrested for disturbing the peace after a spanking. Granzin told the judge that the punishment was part of an effort to keep his daughter away from cheap theaters, and the justice decided that spanking young ladies of seventeen was admissible in moderation.

Killed in Fight Over Schoolgirl.

Walter Gillespie is dead from a stab wound, and Jester Gray was exonerated by a coroner's jury at Milford, Del., and was discharged from custody, as the result of a fight over Miss Frances Bennett, a pretty eighteen-year-old high school girl.

The fatal wound was inflicted with a common pocket knife, the blade of which is less than three inches long. The tiny blade reached Gillespie's heart, however, at a single stroke and he died almost instantly. Gillespie was the aggressor.

Strikes Blow at Oil Trust.

Wednesday was a bad day for the Republican organization of the national house of representatives. By a coalition between Republican "insurgents" and the Democrats, the ways and means committee was bowled over and the advocates of free crude oil and its products won a signal victory, when an amendment by Mr. Norris, of Nebraska, placing the insignificant duty of 1 per centum ad valorem on those articles was adopted by a substantial majority.

Six Persons Burned to Death.

Six people lost their lives, three others were badly burned and a property loss of between $200,000 and $300,000 was caused by a fire in the heart of the business section of Lenox, Mass. Four business blocks, two dwellings and two other structures were destroyed in a section bounded by Franklin, Main, Housatonic and Church streets. The fire is believed to have started in the Clifford building from spontaneous combustion.

Bit Baby to Torture Wife.

James Strube has been sentenced to confinement in the Atlanta, Ga., workhouse for two weeks on a charge of biting and pinching his ten-month-old baby. The child was brought into court by the mother with its left cheek badly bruised. Strube admitted that he bit the baby, and said he did it to torture his wife, who, he said, had become indifferent to repeated beatings at his hands.

Philadelphia, April 13.—Tossed from girder to girder of a big department store in course of construction in the central part of the city, William Roan, a structural iron worker, met his death in sight of hundreds of horror-stricken shoppers and business men. Roan, who was thirty-six years old, had worked at his trade in all parts of the country. He was about to swing the last beam into place on the third floor of the new building, when he missed his footing and fell to the sub-cellar six floors below. Every bone in his body was broken.

With a heavy wind blowing and no fire department near at hand nothing could be saved. The loss will reach $15,000.

Lima, April 12.—There was a tremendous earthquake here, which threw down walls and cornices and stopped the clock in the town hall. There was a panic, the occupants of houses vacating them and thronging the plaza and other open spaces. So far as can be ascertained there were no fatalities.
