

HICK'S FORECAST FOR MAY WEATHER.

Rev. I. H. Hicks' forecast for May is as follows: 1st to 5th—mild period—Fine enjoyable and springlike conditions will prevail at most points lying east of the Mississippi river. Rather dull, smoky and dry at many points in western and northwestern sections. 6th to 9th—torpedo period—Destructive lightning and hail in Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas. Tornado storms in Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa and Illinois. Great wind energy expended over the Lake region, Middle Atlantic and the New England states. 10th to 12th—cool period—Abrupt fall of temperature over the Rocky Mountain highland and northwestern states. Cool, frosty nights and mornings as far north as Nebraska, Iowa, West Virginia and Maryland. Temperature 25 degrees at Omaha, 30 at Dubuque, 32 at Columbus and 30 at Cumberland. 15th to 20th—storm wave—General rains in New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma. Thunder storms in upper Mississippi river valley. Unusually damp and foggy over Lake regions and the Ohio valley and portions of the Middle Atlantic and New England states. 21st to 26th—mild wave—Seasonable weather in southwest and at all points in south and southeast portions. Clear and dry conditions are due for the Middle west and northwest. 27th to 31st—warm wave—Advanced heat at all points except over the highland region of the west and the mountain sections of the east. Severe drought in southern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. Temperature 100 degrees at Wichita, 95 at Cairo and 95 at Cincinnati. The temperature will fall slightly below normal at most points. The rainfall will be excessive in portions of the southwest and Middle Atlantic and New England States, but will be below normal at many points in the west and northwest.

BIG DAY FOR KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Sunday was a big day for the Bellefonte Castle Knights of Columbus, as it not only marked the first anniversary of their institution but also was the occasion of the initiation into the order of thirty-eight new members. To assist in the work of putting such a large number of candidates through large delegations of Knights, about seventy-five in all, were present from Altoona, Tyrone, Philipsburg, Snow Shoe, Williamsport, Lock Haven, Renovo and Lewistown, the latter delegation coming across the mountain in four big automobiles. Anniversary exercises were held in the lodge rooms on the third floor of the Reynolds block at 10.30 o'clock in the morning and it took most of the afternoon to complete the work of initiating the large class of new members. The Bellefonte Castle, though only one year old, has now considerable over one hundred members and is in a flourishing condition. It occupies the entire third floor of the Reynolds building and the rooms have been fitted up with the best of furnishings.

BIG BARN BURNED

During Sunday evening's hard storm lightning struck the large barn on the William H. Bailey farm near Pine Grove Mills, setting it on fire with the result that the building was burned to the ground with all its contents, except the horses and cattle which were gotten out. The burned contents included oats and corn, hay and straw, harness and farming implements. Several out-buildings were also burned, in one of which were a number of old and about two hundred young chickens. The loss is estimated by Mr. Bailey at $2,500, on which there is an insurance of $1,556 in the Centre Hall fire insurance company. The barn will be rebuilt at once.

On Wednesday Mrs. Maria Reiser

moved from Snow Shoe to Bellefonte, into one of the Rhoads houses on east Lamb street.

A big crowd gathered at the Bailey field Friday afternoon to see our boys knock the starch out of the State College High school team—score 21 to 0.

Postmaster Archey, at Pennsylvania Furnace, has purchased a lot and is arranging to build a large office and ware room, coal and implement shed just east of the railroad station.

Mrs. W. E. McWilliams spent last week in the Allegheny hospital where her daughter Sarah, who is a trained nurse, is ill with fever and erysipelas. She is convalescing nicely.

A broken neck yoke caused a spirited mule team, near McAllister Myton, had a narrow escape with his life, and as it is, is laid up with a broken shoulder and many bruises.

Miss Esther Osman, with her black steppor, is handing her sister, Mrs. Sue Fry, of Altoona, around among her many friends here and at State College, where Mrs. Fry will be remembered as a very efficient telephone operator.

Farmer Peterson came down from Franklinsville Tuesday to see how his son Dent was coming along farming on his own hook, and was very agreeably surprised to see the boy well on with his spring work and everything prospering on the Lytle farm.

Lemont

W. G. Ogden recently made his annual trip through this community.

Mrs. Daniel Grove is able to be out some now, and is in a fair way to get well again.

Orien Grove, of Redding Hill, came home for a vacation of a few days with his parents.

The swallows have come for the summer so we will not have much cold weather from now on.

J. C. and M. A. Williams are busy plastering several houses at State College, at this writing.

George R. Roan's sale was largely attended on Saturday afternoon, and things brought a fair price.

Darius Hite is having a coat of paint put on his house, which will greatly improve its appearance.

Mrs. George O'Brian, of Axe Mann, visited at the home of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Bathgate, Saturday.

The cat birds have come to make it lively, for all who love the song of the birds, it being a beautiful singer.

Howard Grove, who has been suffering the last nine months with stomach, liver and kidney trouble, is not improving very fast.

Mrs. Charles Houser is quite ill at her home near Shiloh, and it is found that she is suffering with throat or lung trouble, but it is hoped that she will soon be well again.

George Roan, who is going out of business, will go to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Norris Martz, as soon as he can dispose of all the furniture that he has on hand, which he will sell at cost.

Last Friday brought rain and snow and both Nittany and Tussey mountains were white. Then on Saturday and Sunday mornings the ground was frozen, and some of the fruit blossoms were frozen.

Spring Mills

Our farmers so far have planted only a limited quantity of oats; considerable plowing is still to be done.

House cleaning troubles are about over and no doubt the next move will be to call into requisition the whitewash brush to paint the front and garden fences and all the posts.

Our fishermen are not particularly elated over the success of their catch of trout. A few net with some success, but more failed to catch sufficient for just a moderate breakfast.

H. B. Heing, one of Pine Hall's influential citizens, having been appointed a notary, has his new sign up as notary public and surveyor and is now authorized to attest writings, etc.

The juveniles of the town are still busy organizing a boss baseball team but it seems difficult and uphill work as the team they are engineering for is one in which all can act as "boss," in any game and at one time.

Mrs. Kate Shook has greatly improved the appearance of her spacious residence by having it very artistically painted. The colors are beautifully blended and the work evidently executed by an artist at home painting.

Last Friday and Saturday were decidedly cold and winter like in this locality. On both nights ice a quarter of an inch thick was formed. The cold rain on Friday was accompanied by snow flakes that looked like dinner plates—only not quite so big.

The Taft prosperity still continues to sweep the country like a new broom. Idle men everywhere, labor scarce and wages out to death; mills entirely silent or operated on half time, furnaces closed down it is said, for repairs. What a convenient term for all our pension—repairs, hush! Shut down owing to the depression of business and our fuel tariff. There is no repairs about it.

W. M. Grove, surveyor and one of our enterprising and active citizens, is making excavations in the rear of his beautifully located residence for a large cistern, and will extend the back porch to surround it. This will certainly be a great convenience. Owing to the wagon road being objectionably close to the dwelling on the west, he closed and added it and opened a new road a dozen or more yards above, which adds greatly to the appearance of the dwelling and surroundings. Mr. Grove contemplates other improvements during the summer.

Thirteen-Year-Old Adele Boas Tired of Her Job When She Cut Her Finger in a Boston Quick Lunch Place and Started For Home—Found on a Train.

New York, April 27.—Giving as the only reason for having run away from her wealthy parents a romantic desire to see the world and earn her own living, thirteen-year-old Adele Boas, daughter of Arthur E. Boas, was returned safely to her home, after having been missing since last Friday afternoon.

The girl, for whom a reward of $5000 had been offered by her father, had wandered as far as Boston, where she sought and found work at $3.50 a week in a quick lunch place. She abandoned her dream of making her own way in the world when she cut her finger in the cheap restaurant.

Adele was taken to her home by two detectives from the central office, but declares that there is no use of her father paying the $5000 reward he offered, as she returned home voluntarily.

Long before the police knew of the whereabouts of the runaway through their efforts, Mrs. Elizabeth Upton, of Boston, had discovered her identity and telephoned to Inspector McCafferty. The girl was later seen boarding a train at Boston bound for New York, and detectives went to Stamford to meet her.

They boarded the train and found Adele. All she would say was that she had left home to go and see the world and make her own living. She said that it was for this purpose that she had saved the $14.50 which she had taken from her bank.

On her arrival here the detectives took the girl home in a taxicab. The door of the Boas home was opened before the taxicab came to a stop, and Adele bounded out and into the arms of her father. Mrs. Boas had followed her husband outside the house. She seized the girl and bore her weeping into the house.

When the girl leaped out of the taxicab a cheer went up from the crowd which had told people for blocks around that Adele Boas had been found.

"I believe that Adele had a rush of blood to her head," said Mr. Boas, "and that is the reason she left her home."

Drowned Trying to Save a Woman. Moundsville, W. Va., April 27.—A woman known as Katie Kouch and a miner named Peter Auman were both drowned here. The woman jumped on board a small skiff and it upset. Auman tried to rescue the woman, but she threw her arms around him and both went down.

Lifetime Office Holder Dies.

Sam Matt Fridy died at his home at Monntville, Lancaster county, Monday morning, after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Fridy was born in 1837 and held public office almost continuously from the time he became of age until his death. He began his political career in 1850 as a Justice of the Peace. Upon the breaking out of the Civil war he was given a place in the War department. In 1867 he became a deputy in the State department at Harrisburg and served in that capacity during the administrations of Governors Geary, Hartranft and Hoyt. Then he became prothonotary of Lancaster county, followed by the justice of the peace of West Hempfield township, this in turn by Collector of Internal Revenue for the Ninth district, resigning the latter place in 1894 to take the position of Deputy Auditor General under Amos Mylin, during Governor Hastings' administration. He continued in this office until the expiration of the term of Dr. Snyder. At the time of his death he was Burgess of the borough of Monntville.
