

Party Broke Camp and Started For Sir Alfred Pease's Ranch—Smallpox Is Prevalent at Nairobi and Precautions Have Been Taken to Prevent Its Spread to Hunting Party.

After a brief hunting expedition at Kapiti Plains, in British East Africa, ex-President Theodore Roosevelt and his party broke their camp and started for the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease, on the Athi river. Colonel Roosevelt spent part of the day sorting his kit, while Kermit and several of the men went to try their luck with the rifles. An old settler, who seemed to take a great liking to Kermit, offered to show him a likely place for good sport. They succeeded in bringing down one buck.

Smallpox is prevalent at Nairobi, and two cases have developed among the porters at Kapiti. These have been quarantined and the strictest precautions are being observed to prevent a spread of the disease among those attached to the Roosevelt party. The danger of this is now considered slight.

The police still maintain their measures for the protection of the Americans from annoyance. They will not permit any, except those designated by Colonel Roosevelt, to go with the expedition. It has now been definitely learned that none of Mr. Roosevelt's baggage is missing and that nothing has been stolen. Game was very numerous on the plains.

Pardons For Goebel Suspects.

Governor Wilson, of Kentucky, has cleared the court records of the state of all charges growing out of the murder in January, 1900, of Senator William Goebel, who was declared by the legislature to have been elected governor, except those hanging over state evidence witnesses in the alleged conspiracy, by granting pardons, before trial, to former Governor W. S. Taylor and former Secretary of State Charles Finley, who have been fugitives in the state of Indiana for nine years; to John Powers, brother of Caleb Powers, who is believed to be in Honduras; to Holland Whitaker, of Butler county; John Davis, of Louisville, and Zach Stevie, of Bell county, who did not flee the state. Caleb Powers was pardoned last summer.

Those over whom indictments are left hanging are Wharton Golden, of Knox county, now in Colorado; Frank Cecil, of Bell county, now a railroad detective in St. Louis, and William H. Culton, of Owsley county, said to have died in the west recently.

These cases, with the possible exception of that against Cecil, will be dismissed, leaving Henry E. Youtsey, now serving a life sentence in the state penitentiary, the only person to suffer for the assassination of Governor Goebel.

Rebbed by Black Hand.

Nicholas Angelo Nuzzo, an employe of the plant at Pottstown, Pa., disclosed to Magistrate Missimer a most unusual story of extortion, whereby he was robbed of $1200 in broad daylight on Sept. 20, 1908, by two Italians. Nuzzo was at work when two fellow countrymen covered him with stiletos and pistols. Threatening his life if he made an outcry, they took him to his shack at the furnace settlement. Here they bargained with him, and he, fearing for his life, drew $1200 from the Tri-County bank. They believed Nuzzo was going to return to the old country and gave him the money, the result of twelve years of frugal living. Outside the bank Nuzzo paid the money over. Before leaving their victim, the plunderers threatened to take his life if he disclosed the story within six months.

Lost Fortune on Race Track.

Mrs. Anna Trafford, a handsome widow, whose husband, a Peruvian silver miner, left her $75,000 three years ago, was held by a Brooklyn police magistrate for trial on a charge of stealing bread and milk from doorsteps. Her hearing brought out the fact that she had lost all but $500 of her fortune on the race tracks, which she frequented daily. Half of the $500 was lost in a bank failure and the remainder went quickly for living expenses. She said she had lived recently only on her pilferings of milk and bread in the early morning from doorsteps.

In Court She Said She Had Been Unable to Resist the Temptation to Bet on Horse Races and that in one day she had wagered and lost $1500.

Whitla Kidnappers Indicted at Mercer.

Indictments were returned by the grand jury at Mercer, Pa., against James H. Boyle and his wife, in connection with the abduction of Willie Whitla, of Sharon, Pa., which occurred on March 18.

A true bill was found against Boyle, charging kidnapping. The maximum sentence is life imprisonment. In the case of the woman, the same bill was also returned, with an extra count charging her with aiding, assisting and abetting in the kidnapping. The indictment against Mrs. Boyle identifies her as follows: "Mary Doe, alias Helen Anna McDermott, Parker, Miner, Yorke and Boyle." The trial of the abductors will begin next Friday, April 30.

Smuggled Gowns Worth Millions.

Further investigation of the systematic smuggling of Paris gowns into the port of New York has led the custom house officials to declare that the syndicate has probably smuggled in $1,000,000 worth of goods each year for the last ten years, thus defrauding the government out of $600,000 annually in customs duty. Efforts to avoid criminal prosecution and to shield from publicity the prominent women for whom the $55,000 worth of recently seized gowns were intended, resulted in the offer by reputable attorneys representing anonymous clients of $260,000 to the government to drop the investigation.

Jeffries Will Fight Johnson.

"I will fight Mr. Jack Johnson. I will defend my title as undefeated heavyweight champion of the world." Before an audience that packed the American Music hall in New York, and in which there were as many women as men, James J. Jeffries made this formal announcement. There are several conditions attached to Jeffries' re-entry into the prize ring. First, Johnson must defeat Ketchel. Then Jeffries cannot sign articles for possibly ten months, and he insists that the fight shall take place in this country and that it shall be unlimited as to rounds.

Connecticut's Governor Is Dead.

Governor George Leavens Lilley died at the executive mansion in Hartford, Conn., after battling with disease for four weeks. The end came peacefully, as the distinguished patient did not regain consciousness from the coma in which he had lain for many hours and which was the result of acute nephritis and its attendant complications. There were at the bedside Mrs. George L. Lilley, the three sons, Frederick, John and Theodore Lilley, and Mrs. John A. Lilley and the attending physicians. The scene was a pathetic one, although the family had known all along that the battle was a losing one.

Keener Freed of Murder Charge.

The Keener murder case at York, Pa., which caused widespread interest early last winter, was disposed of when the grand jury ignored the bill and Keener was released from jail. Keener was charged with murdering an unknown man last summer and disposing of the body by cutting it up and burning and burying the fragments. The accusation was made by Lorena Tenser, his housekeeper. Keener later admitted the killing of a man. The identity of the dead man was never established.

Many Saloons Wiped Out.

Judge White, in Portsmouth, Va., license court, restricted the liquor licenses for Norfolk county, including the Ocean View and Pine Beach summer resorts as never before known. He refused all licenses outside the Ocean View and Pine Beach enclosures, and granted only one license each within those enclosures. The licenses in Norfolk county were reduced from about fifty to fifteen. Many saloons are wiped out.

Pointed Paragraphs

If time were a woman would it wait for a man? Police magistrates have the courage of their convictions. It's easier to find a dozen faults than it is to mend one. Even a palmist can't read all the lines in the hand of a poet. A man isn't necessarily a coward because he is afraid to work. When a woman affects simplicity in dress it sets a man guessing. Show us a knocker and we will show you a man who failed to make good.

—The prairie dog has become such a pest in the national forests of Arizona and New Mexico, that the United States Forest Service has decided to carry out an active campaign for its extermination. Poisons are used such as strychnine, cyanide of potassium, anise oil, and molasses, the poison being smeared over wheat. The riders carry the wheat in a tin pail supported by a gunny sack slung across the shoulder. One hand is free for the reins. With the other the rider uses a weapon to measure out the poison. —Scientific American.

The Surprised Highwayman.

The highwayman stepped out behind a fashionable young woman and hit her a tremendous blow across the side of the head with a piece of gas pipe, expecting to send her to the ground unconscious and rob her of her valuables. Imagine his surprise when, instead of a dull thud, a muffled scream and a fall to the pavement, the weapon bounded back as though it had struck a large piece of rubber, and the victim of the attack turned angrily with: "Beast! What do you mean by trying to disarrange my hair?"
