Col. Edward R. Chambers, who has been in poor health practically all winter and the past two weeks has been confined to bed, is not getting along as well as his friends would like to see him do. Wednesday he was able to sit up and even wanted to come down town but had a bad night, Wednesday night, and yesterday was not feeling so well.

The Bald Eagle telephone company, whose operations heretofore have been confined principally to the lower end of Bald Eagle valley, have under course of erection a new line out Marsh creek. Contracts for fifty new phones have already been signed and when the line is completed and in full operation the company will have quite a number over one hundred phones in service.

The Lafayette baseball team cancelled the game they were scheduled to play with State College on Wednesday and the next game will be today (Friday) weather permitting, when Dickinson will play State on Beaver field. The ball game and track and field events which will proceed it, will mark the opening of State's new athletic ground and a large crowd will likely be present to witness both events.

On Monday afternoon Dr. M. J. Locke was driving east on Lin street in his automobile when something broke in the steering apparatus and the machine being thus rendered unmanageable turned sharply to the right and, before it could be stopped, ran into the gutter and against the stone curb at the Lutheran church. The right front wheel and right front spring were broken but the doctor was not injured in the least.

Jacob S. Kusely has decided to return to Bellefonte after his two years residence at State College and the past week has been busy looking for a home, which he wants to buy instead of lease. He will come to Bellefonte with the intention of engaging in the blacksmithing business, though at what stand has not yet been decided. It is also quietly rumored that he will go into training for the shrievalty run on the Republican ticket two years hence. The fact that Jake is just a little in excess of the heavy weight class now may account for the allegation that he is to go into training so long beforehand.

One of the prettiest homes in Bellefonte is the one now owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Garman, on east Curtin street. The house he has repaired to look like new and his spacious stable on the rear looks nice enough for a residence. The extra lot on the east and in the rear of the house was last year leveled up and sodded and in the fall over one thousand spring-flowering bulbs were planted in beds laid out by an experienced landscape gardener and now that they are growing nicely and some of them already out in bloom it presents a very pretty sight.

On Tuesday Frank E. Naginay purchased Will Chambers' Ford runabout automobile with a rumble seat and so pleased was he with his bargain that he spent most of the afternoon and evening taking some of his friends a ride. About eight o'clock in the evening he decided to quit running for the day and take his machine to the garage. In order to keep within bounds of the law he lit the lamps on the machine and in pushing the door on one of them shut pushed his right hand through the glass, cutting a big gash in his little finger and badly lacerating two others. As the very best he will have a very sore hand for a week or so.

The Ladies of the Macabees who are in process of organization, under the direction of Mrs. Belle N. Doughty, deputy great commander for Pennsylvania, are succeeding finely in the work. A number of meetings have been held and a full corps of officers have been elected and are taking the instruction. The organization of the Ladies of the Macabees is well known to be the largest among women and has the finest record of all women organizations from a financial standpoint, having paid more than seven million dollars in sick disability, and death claims since its inception. We wish the L. O. I. M. of Bellefonte a successful career.

The delegation of Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of Altoona with their drum corps, who accompanied the remains of John W. Leech to Bealsburg on Tuesday afternoon and remained for the funeral, missed the train on their return to Oak Hill station, although they aver that they were near enough to be in plain sight when the train pulled out. With no hotel accommodations in that locality they were in a bad predicament and telephoned to State College for auto buses to bring them to Bellefonte. The College Transportation company's machines were all engaged, however, and not being able to secure any other conveyances the men were compelled to hunt lodging at private houses to spend the night; passing through Bellefonte Wednesday morning on their way home.

NOLL.—The visitation of death is always distressing enough to acquaintances of those bereft but when death enters the household of one whom you esteem as a warm personal friend the loss is far more keenly felt and that is the reason that we sympathize most deeply with Col. Emanuel Noll in the death of his wife, Mrs. Sarah C. Noll, which occurred between twelve and one o'clock yesterday morning. Mrs. Noll had been a sufferer for some time with stomach trouble which finally resulted in more serious complications which her attending physician was unable to combat and her death was the result.

She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Thomas and was born in Pennsylvania about sixty-eight years ago. When a young woman her parents and family moved to Milesburg and after the death of her father and mother she kept house for her brother, William B. Thomas, until in 1881, when she was united in marriage to Mr. Noll. In 1889 they moved to their present home in Spring township, just outside the borough limits on North Allegheny street, where they have lived ever since. When a young woman Mrs. Noll became a member of the Sinking Valley Presbyterian church and is the last surviving charter member of the Milesburg Presbyterian church and was always a faithful attendant. A few years ago when the chapel was built at Pleasant View she was one of the most active workers in its behalf and since then has attended services there. She was a woman of rare christian attainments and unselfishly devoted to all kinds of church work.

In her home she was the embodiment of all that enters into the makeup of a happy household. Kind, loving and cheerful, always, even when suffering the pangs of illness, she gave to her family and her friends the helpful care and heartfelt sympathy of the true womanly woman. As a neighbor she had always a thoughtful care for the welfare of all with whom she came in contact, and she will be greatly missed, not only by her husband and family but by her friends and her church.

Surviving her are her husband, one son, E. B., in Illinois, three step-children, Mrs. Chancy F. York, of Detroit, Mich.; John, of Altoona, and Miss Rebecca, at home; and one brother, William B. Thomas, of Milesburg. The funeral will be held tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon from the house and interment will be made in the Union cemetery.

GENZEL.—Dr. Daniel E. Gentzel died at his home near Spring Mills on Tuesday morning at six o'clock. His death was the result of a paralytic stroke which he suffered on the Saturday previous and from which he never rallied in the least. He was born March 20th, 1845, on the old Gentzel homestead in Penn township, hence was 64 years, 1 month and 15 days old. Eighteen years ago he moved to Potter township and a few years later to Gregg township where he lived until his death. By profession he was a veterinary surgeon and was quite successful in his practice. He was a man who stood high in the estimation of the people in the various communities in which he lived.

On November 7th, 1871, he was united in marriage to Miss Harriet Harter. To them were born nine children, seven of whom with the widowed mother survive, as follows: Daniel M., of Penn Cave; J. B., of Wolf's Store; E. E., of Julian; R. M. and G. C., of Spring Mills; Catharine and Andrew H., at home. He also leaves the following brothers and sister: Henry P. and C. Perry Gentzel, of Spring township; J. B. Gentzel, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Neese, of Beauer township. The funeral will be held at nine o'clock tomorrow morning, burial to be made in the Liberty cemetery.

He was a foreman by occupation and when a young man located in Howard and went to work in the rolling mill there. He has made that place his home ever since. Mr. Hopkins was an educated and well read man and for a number of years wrote for various newspapers throughout the central part of the State over the name of "Forgeman." He was a member of the Methodist church and an exemplary citizen in every way.

In 1854 he was married to Mary Ann Rumberger, of Huntingdon, who survives him with three daughters, namely: Mrs. J. B. Holter, Misses Maude and Nellie Hopkins, all of Howard. Rev. W. W. Rhoads officiated at the funeral which was held at one o'clock on Sunday afternoon, interment being made in the Schoenck cemetery.

BIDDLE.—Another old-time citizen of Centre county has passed away in the person of John H. Biddle, who died at the home of his daughter in Tyrone on Monday morning. He had made his home with his daughter since last December and, considering his age, was in comparative good health up until Saturday evening when he was stricken with paralysis. He lingered in a semi-conscious condition until eleven o'clock Monday morning when his death followed.

Deceased was born at Bealsburg, this county, February 24th, 1822, hence was 87 years, 2 months and 11 days old. He was a farmer by occupation and the greater part of his active life was spent in Buffalo Run valley. In 1862 he was united in marriage in this place to Miss Mary Badger, who preceded him to the grave many years ago. Surviving him, however, are the following sons and daughters: Lowry, of Clintondale; Rev. C. A. Biddle, of Newport; Rev. John Edward Biddle, of Tyrone; Mrs. Laura Thompson, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Rev. Fletcher W. Biddle, Bedford; Mrs. H. L. Chaney, Tyrone; H. W. Biddle, Ocoela Mills, and Mrs. Samuel Coulter, Williamsburg.

He was a consistent member of the Buffalo Run Methodist church and a most exemplary citizen in every way. He was at one time a prominent Odd Fellow and a member of the encampment. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon.

SCHENCK.—Ammon William Swengle Schenck died at the home of his father in Howard township at three o'clock last Friday morning. He was taken sick ten days previous and at first the nature of his illness baffled attending physicians but later it developed that he was suffering with an abscess on the brain, and that caused his death.

Deceased was born in Howard a little over twenty-two years ago and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schenck. He was an intelligent and industrious young man and stood high in the estimation of the people of that community. He was a member of the Patriotic Order Sons of America and of the Howard Methodist church.

His mother died several years ago but surviving him are his father and the following brothers and sisters: Sylvester E., of Wilmerding; Mrs. F. M. Pletcher, of Blanchard; Alonzo E., Oscar L., Otto E. and Florence G., at home. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. R. S. Taylor officiated at the services and the P. O. Burchfield, in Altoona, on Saturday afternoon, from injuries sustained in an accident he met with in the Altoona yards on the night of April 27th. The external injuries received were not of a serious character and it was not until several days later that it developed he had been injured internally, and from that time he sank until his death.

Deceased was born at Bealsburg and was twenty-nine years of age. He went to Altoona four years ago and had since been employed as a freight brakeman. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and its newly organized drum corps. He was born in Union county and had lived until the 27th of this month he would have been eighty-two years old. He was the last surviving member of a large family of children, and his aged widow is his only survivor. He was a stonemason by trade, an occupation he followed all his life until advancing age compelled his retirement. He was an old soldier, having served all through the Civil war with bravery and distinction. At the time of his death he was a member of the Methodist church and Rev. R. S. Taylor conducted the funeral services which were held on Tuesday afternoon, burial being made in the Fearon cemetery.

FISSEL.—Mrs. Almarata Fissel, wife of Charles Fissel, died at her home in Altoona last Friday evening of a complication of diseases after an illness of only a few weeks. Eagle, this county, being a member of the well known Leathers family of that place. He was the namesake of Rev. Nathan J. Mitchell, one of the pioneer ministers of the Baptist church in Centre and Clinton counties, and whose daughter, Miss Charity Mitchell, he married. They made their home in Howard for many years, later moving to Philadelphia.

Pleasant cemetery.

NATIONAL GUARD NEWS.—In last week's WATCHMAN it was stated that the Fifth regiment led in the highest percentage of rating at the annual spring inspection but the figures were not then obtainable. From a detailed statement issued from the adjutant general's office on Saturday it is learned that the headquarters of the regiment attained the remarkable rating of 98.64 per cent. in efficiency. Company C led the regiment with 94.67 per cent., thus winning the gold medal held by the company having the highest rating, and which was held by company B, of this place, for three consecutive years. Company B, by the way, this year rated fourth with 92.80 per cent., while the general average for the entire regiment is 90.35 per cent.

THAT HYDRO-ELECTRIC PLANT.—In the advertising columns of today's WATCHMAN will be found the advertisement of the special water committee of the borough council asking for bids for the building of the new municipal electric light and power plant on the old Green property at Milesburg. The plans call for the construction of a concrete dam and races, and the erection of a water wheel, generator, reconstruction of power house building, transmission line, motor driven pump, etc., which means that the council evidently still has faith in the municipal ownership of such a plant, and also has figured out the financial end of it.

NEW Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY.—Dr. R. L. Weston, of Parkersburg, W. Va., has accepted a call from the board of directors to become general secretary of the Bellefonte Young Men's Christian Association. Mr. Weston is a practical man, having had a number of years experience in Y. M. C. A. and gymnasium work, hence comes to Bellefonte with the very best of recommendations.

Cyrus Labe, who has been in Bellefonte the past year or more, ever since the hard times struck Altoona, has secured a good position in the Mountain city and with his wife and child will move there the latter part of the month.

Only two weeks more and the pupils of the Bellefonte High school will have taken their final examinations and be ready for the commencement exercises of the graduating class the week following. Until the Bellefonte Academy will not close until near the middle of June.

Harry Houser, son of Mrs. Amanda Houser, of this place, is having his share of bad luck. Last week while working in a large rolling mill at Colonia, Beaver county, he was caught in the shafting and had three ribs broken. While laying off for repairs he caught a bad cold and is now confined to bed with pleuro-pneumonia, though as yet his condition is not considered serious.

The Forty hour devotion services held in St. John's Catholic church from Sunday morning until Tuesday evening were the most interesting and successful ever held here for many years. They were conducted by the Carmelite Father, Rev. McDonald, who was assisted by Father Kelly, of Tyrone; Father Corcoran, of Snow Shoe, and Fathers McArdle and O'Hanlon, of this place.

Because the recent Legislature failed to increase the appropriation for the maintenance of the schoolship Adams from $32,000 to $50,000—making it $35,000—Captain Atwater has resigned his command of the ship and his first officer, Lieut. George P. Runkle, an old Bellefonte boy, has been placed in charge by the commission which has control of the ship and its affairs, with the probability that he will be kept permanently in command. Capt. Runkle went on the Saratoga about twenty years ago to learn to be a sailor and has been in the school ship service ever since, and by strict attention to duty and discipline has worked himself up to the highest position on the ship. He is a good and capable officer and his friends here hope he will be retained in the position he has just been elevated to.

MERITED TRIBUTE TO LIVES OF TWO GOOD MEN.—On Sunday Rev. John Hewitt preached a sermon in St. John's Episcopal church in which he paid glowing and well merited tributes to the lives of the late George C. Thomas, of Philadelphia, and C. Frank Montgomery, of Bellefonte, taking for his subject: "The spirit of service to the Master as exemplified by Nicodemus and Joseph of Arimathea." So heartfelt were his references to the two men that at a meeting of the Vestry on Monday evening a resolution was passed requesting the publication in the WATCHMAN of such extracts of his sermon as referred to them and we herewith print the same, as follows:

It is reflected in the lives of two such men as Mr. George C. Thomas and Mr. C. Frank Montgomery who, as to the flesh, have just been taken from us. Both have left their impress on our church life here; the former appealing to us from the star-stone of our national church firmament, the latter from the lower but sunlit summits of our parochial sphere.

The meek but masterful spirit of our General Board of Missions Treasurer found its way to every nook and corner of the world where our church is known, and carried with it a summons to service for the Master which opened hearts that never before understood the wideness and the worth of the Gospel story. Perhaps less than half a dozen here had the privilege of knowing him personally; but in a blessed way his church life entered ours and left a witness of the fact in money given for the restoration of this building, and, more recently, in Bibles bought for our little Sunday school.

Besides being a master in Israel who knew his own nation's needs, he was also a christian knight who, having seen and entered the kingdom of God, wrought right nobly for its spread among all other nations of the world.

In 1886 he and I entered the General Convention of our church for the first time as members of it, and there and then we became members also of the Church Unity Society whose object is to unite all christians in one fold under one Shepherd. While Mr. Thomas wrought faithfully within ecclesiastical lines his broad christian sympathy extended far beyond them. His face seemed to have great influence with God as well as with men. And as it was with his Saviour, there is no grave that can hold him, for he lives not only in all who know him, but in his works that follow him. We thank God for his life and example and will remember him in our communion today.

Our "pen is inditing of a good matter" when we refer to Mr. Frank Montgomery. But our sorrow in the parting with him is all too fresh to make sure of choosing fitting words to express a fitting tribute to his memory. Locally, everybody knew him and he knew everybody. More than this, locally everybody loved him and he loved everybody. No matter what the station, dress or color of any whom he met, whether rich or poor, man or woman, boy or girl, white or black,—there was always on the instant a sunny greeting for that individual such as could come only from a heart that was right with God and man.

In his dealings of every kind there was a ruling generosity of spirit which challenged the squander and the honesty of every one, and so shaped conditions that in the event of loss to any one he himself would be the loser. Among those whom we sometimes describe as "generous to a fault" he was a notable example. We say this not to blame but to praise him.

But in speaking of Mr. Montgomery from this place we must confine ourselves to facts which concern the church. Born, brought up, and spending all his days as a member of this parish, at the time of his death his life had covered all except about ten years of our parish life and may be cited as a shining example of what the church can do for a man. On the other hand, considering his services as Vestryman, Warden, Treasurer, Lay Reader and Sunday school Superintendent, his life is an equally conspicuous illustration of what a man can do for the church.

There is scarcely a page of our parish history on which his name does not appear to illumine it with proofs of his devotion to the church's interests, as well as within a few weeks, there was scarcely an occasion of public worship when his reverent voice was not heard inciting devotion in others. In fact it may be said that when it came to serving the Church, as the Spirit-bearing Body of Christ, he was, according to his opportunity and ability, a Nicodemus and a Joseph of Arimathea all in one. We shall miss him from the place he so well filled in all our parochial activities. But we shall long be conscious of a helpful presence that links us with the abounding grace of Father, Son and Holy Spirit. May he rest in peace, and may light perpetual shine upon him.

BOROUGH COUNCIL.—Only six members were present at Monday night's meeting of borough council. Claude Cook was present and as receiver for the Bellefonte Swing company, put in a claim for damages to the factory sustained during the recent high water. The matter was referred to the borough solicitor for investigation.

Borough engineer J. H. Wetzel submitted a survey of the proposed state highway through Bellefonte and the same was accepted and approved by council, Mr. Wetzel being empowered to act in conjunction with the state highway commission in the construction of the road.

The Fire and Police committee reported the receipt from the burgess of $25.85, fines collected, and the borough treasurer reported a balance in his hands of $658.38. A resolution was passed that hereafter the fumigating of all houses in Bellefonte shall be done by the police under the direction of the board of health.

A new market ordinance was passed fixing Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays as regular days for the curb market, providing for appointment of a market clerk and fixing the licenses, etc.

The following bills were approved and ordered drawn:

The condition of Miss Margaret Garman, who is in the Keiser sanitarium at Williamsport suffering from some peculiar malady or affliction, is reported as somewhat improved at this time and there is now some hope that she will recover; although there is still danger of brain fever setting in.

That manager T. C. Brown is giving the people of Bellefonte a liberal supply of pictures for their money is demonstrated in the fact that every week he exhibits at the Seenic two-thirds of all the pictures manufactured by the nine companies included in the big motion picture combine in the United States. Just eighteen pictures are released every week and of this number twelve are shown at the Seenic; and those are always the best obtainable. Don't fail to attend if you want a half hour's good entertainment. A big feature picture last night was one of Wilbur Wright's Aeroplane and its behavior and manipulations on the occasion of his longest experimental trip. A number of other very interesting pictures were shown during the week.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—The following marriage licenses were issued the past week by Register Earl C. Tuten:

Reuben Frantz, of Worth township, and Isabella Newman, of Taylor township.

Wilbur H. Boney and Julia E. Lamb, both of Bellefonte.

Edwin R. Wolf and Chestie I. Zeigler, both of Wolf's Store.

Lloyd Sampel and Esther D. Grove, both of Bellefonte.

Emmanuel Vonada, of Madisonburg, and Ella Jordan, of Penn township.

Ernest W. Corman and Bertha M. Eckley, both of Bellefonte.

James M. Moyer Jr., of Millheim, and Dora M. Wamer, of Aaronburg.

John G. Barger, of Roland, and Stella V. Bitner, of Mt. Eagle.

Spring Mills

J. W. Brown, of Altoona, was a business visitor here last week.

All our merchants report a fair business during April. Commercial agents stopping off here say that merchants everywhere continue to sail close to the shore and sales are limited, but their expenses are not curtailed any.

The piping along the south side of the avenue carrying the water to the creek being clogged, causes the back water to cross the road just along the Lutheran church, in quite a stream. Andrew Corman, road master, is having workmen dig the pipes out to remove the obstruction.

J. W. Wood, the popular landlord of the Spring Mills hotel, will have quite a number of boarders this summer, as several parties who were here last summer enjoyed themselves so highly that they engaged rooms for the season last week. Mr. Wood says that no matter how many boarders he may have he will see that his transient trade is well taken care of.

Last week we had all kinds of weather in this valley. On Thursday, snow, hail, sleet and rain accompanied by vivid lightning and heavy peals of thunder. On Saturday night plenty of ice, followed on Sunday with snow squalls and cold, high winds, not exactly May weather by any means. Evidently the calendar has gone astray. Owing to excessive rains Penn and Sinking creeks are bank full, in some low places the water extends over the public road.

At the solicitation of several customers Mrs. G. N. Wolfe ordered for a sample one of the extreme spring styles of bushel basket hats, fully trimmed with all the vegetables. It is a holy horror, and without exception the most hideous looking thing a woman could possibly put on her head. Mrs. Wolfe at present is the only milliner we have in town and is doing a large business. Her taste in refections is exquisite, some of the hats are of strikingly beautiful effects and original designs. In her now handsome parlors there is no confusion nor delay in displaying goods.

Ivy Bartges, one of our active young men, is not only an able mechanic but is also quite skillful with the rifle and can hit the bull's eye nine times out of ten at 150 yards. On Wednesday last, when returning from a jaunt on the mountains, his attention was called to something that looked like an umbrella emerging from a tree and sailing rapidly through the air, but in reality it was an eagle, and knowing that the eagle was a bird of lofty flight, and not to lose the mark, Mr. Bartges without a moment's delay shot at it, and supposed that he had made a mis. For the bird immediately ascended very rapidly to a height of fully 300 feet, remained stationary for a few moments and then slowly descended to the ground. In securing his prize Mr. Bartges soon discovered that he had made no mis but had shot it. The eagle was a beautiful specimen, but not one of the "Golden Eagles" we hear so much about, but a bald eagle measuring from tip to tip of wings 6 feet, 8 inches and with talons that look like huge iron hooks.
