—The curb market will open tomorrow (Saturday.)

—There will be room for you at the hospital benefit tonight. If you can't get into the opera house get into the ambulance, anyway.

—HENRY H. ROGERS, vice president of the Standard Oil company is dead. Another tentacle of the great octopus is out of business.

—Mr. Philadelphia JACK O'BRIEN won doubtful honors by standing up for six rounds against the negro pugilistic champion, JACK JOHNSON.

—On Tuesday Christ Berzer went to Lewisburg where he purchased a handsome pair of driving horses for the Josephs. He drove the team home on Wednesday, arriving here about supper time.

—On Tuesday landlord Richard Sheebs, of the Garman house, purchased a driving horse and buggy from the Palace livery and henceforth will spend his spare time driving around the town and country.

—During the recent warm days the condition of Col. E. R. Chambers permitted of his being taken out onto the porch where he lay on a cot. He is still too weak to walk but appreciates the outside atmosphere.

—Willard Hall has purchased the interest of the late W. R. Jenkins, of this place, and John Jenkins, of Milton, in the Jenkins-Hall automobile and he is now anxious to form a stock company in Bellefonte to manufacture the machines. Failing to do this he will accept the best of several offers he now has to have them built somewhere else.

—A bargain counter sale isn't it in with the crush there was in Parrish's drug store at nine o'clock yesterday morning when the chart for the hospital ambulance entertainment was opened, and before noon the big bulk of the tickets were taken. But don't let this fact keep you at home tonight, as there are still a few seats left and lots of standing room.

—Have you been to the Scenic this week? If not, you have missed some good pictures and a half hour's very pleasant entertainment every evening. The picture on Monday evening of life on a French battleship was an exceptionally interesting one, and at the same time highly educating. Pictures like that are of far more educational value than half a book of descriptive matter on the same subject and the wonder is that moving picture companies do not make it their business to secure more of them. Pictures of that character, of travel and of places of interest would raise the standard of the motion picture shows in general one hundred per cent, and the combine ought to be smart enough to see it. As it is now, however, manager Brown always gets the best there is in the market for the scenic and this is a fact his patrons can always rely upon.

—Monday evening James Bayard and Brint Mongon inhaled a little too freely with the result that they were placed in the lookup. Not being exactly suited with the confining qualities of their quarters they attempted to break out but only succeeded in badly damaging the look up over the door. Being baffled in their delivery purposes they tackled the water spigot and managed to break it off. It is hardly likely they contemplated the result, but be that as it may, they met their just deserts. The water poured into the building and there being no escape it soon covered the floor and began to rise. The men bellowed for release but got no reply. They finally managed to knock a hole in one side of the building about eight inches from the floor and this kept the water from rising higher than that. As it was, however, they were compelled to stand in water over ankle deep all night, and as punishment for their act the burgess kept them there until late Tuesday afternoon, when they were released, looking more like drowned rats than anything else. The next time they are looked up they won't monkey with the water spigot.

CANDIDATES REGISTERED.—Last Saturday was the last day for the registration of candidates to be voted for at the June primaries and following is the list:
Republicans.—For State delegates, Hon. John G. Love and Harry Keller, of Bellefonte, and George W. Ziegler Esq., of Philipsburg.

For jury commissioner, John D. Decker, of Potter township; C. L. Gramley, of Ebersburg, and W. B. Krapp, of Spring Mills.

For county chairman, Harry Keller. Democrats.—For State delegates, Fred F. Smith, of Rush township; H. J. Yearick, of Walker township; W. M. Grove, of Gregg township; Hon. John Noll and James H. Corl, of Bellefonte.

For jury commissioner, J. Adam Hazel, of Spring township.

For county chairman, W. D. Zerby and James Connelly, both of Bellefonte.

DUNNING.—It was with extreme regret that residents of Bellefonte learned of the death, last Friday, of William F. Dunning, at the home of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Charles T. Dunning, of Juniata, of pulmonary tuberculosis. He had not been in good health for a number of years but stuck to his work until six weeks or two months ago when he was compelled to give up and after that his decline was very rapid.

He was born at Petersburg, Huntingdon county, and was only 30 years, 9 months and 1 day old. As a boy he evinced a marked talent for music and given every opportunity for study while yet young in his teens he won fame as a musician. One of his first engagements was as organist in the Trinity Methodist church at Philipsburg. From there he came to Bellefonte several years ago as organist in the Bellefonte Methodist church. He was here about a year and during that time added to his laurels as a musician as well as made many warm personal friends. About eighteen months ago he went to Harrisburg to become organist and choir master of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church and through his indefatigable efforts and ability made it the finest choir in that city. He remained there until his failing health compelled him to give up his labors and return to the home of his father, who is now pastor of the Methodist church at Juniata.

In addition to his parents he is survived by two brothers, Prof. Charles E. Dunning, who three years ago was assistant principal in the Bellefonte High school but who is now located in Harrisburg, and Rev. James E. Dunning, pastor of the M. E. church at Lumber City. The funeral services were held on Monday at the home of his parents and later the remains were taken to Harrisburg for interment in the Paxtang cemetery.

HECKMAN.—John Frederik Heckman, a well known and esteemed resident of Gregg township, died at his home near Penn Hall on Tuesday morning. About a year ago he was stricken with paralysis which left him in an almost helpless condition and from that time on his decline was gradual until the end.

Deceased was within seventeen days of being seventy-seven years old and was born in the house in which he died, known as the Heckman old homestead and which has been in possession of the family for over a century. He followed farming all his life until his retirement a few years ago. In politics he was a Democrat and always staunch and true to his party and its principles. He was a member of the Lutheran church and at all times lived a consistent praiseworthy life.

When a young man he was united in marriage to Miss Rebecca Smith who preceded him to the grave about one year ago. Surviving him, however, are the following children: Adam E., of Spring Mills; Mrs. Robert Metz and Mrs. Miller, of Lena, Ill.; Mrs. Samuel Niece and Mrs. Wm. Niece, of Gregg township, and Oscar, of Penn township. He also leaves two brothers and a sister, namely: Daniel, of Bellefonte; Eli, of Orangeville, Ill., and Mrs. Henry Maik, of Penn Hall.

The funeral will take place tomorrow (Saturday) morning from the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Niece, interment to be made in Heckman cemetery.

DIED IN KANSAS.—On Tuesday Dr. J. E. Ward received a telegram announcing that his brother, J. Allen Ward, of Salina, Kan., had been stricken with apoplexy and his condition was critical. Wednesday morning another telegram contained the announcement of his death. Deceased was over fifty years old and was born at Pine Grove Mills. Thirty years ago he went to Kansas as a school teacher and has remained there and followed the same occupation ever since, most of the time being located at Salina. He never married but is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Dr. J. E. Ward, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Gussie King, of Williamsport; William, of Pine Grove Mills; Herbert, of Treverton; G. W., of Pittsburgh; Ira, of Danville, and Misses Clara, Lucretia and Mary, at home.

Dr. Ward left on the 1:05 train on Wednesday for Salina to take charge of the remains and attend to the funeral but he will not know until he gets there whether burial will be made at that place or the body brought to Pine Grove Mills for interment.

FLECK.—Mrs. Hannah Fleck, formerly of Martha, died in the county hospital at Hollidaysburg on Monday night, aged 72 years, 4 months and 8 days. The remains were taken to Martha on Wednesday, where interment was made.

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA CONCERT.—One of the best musical treats given in Bellefonte in many a day was the concert by the Penn State orchestra last Thursday evening and to the shame of the people of Bellefonte it must be said that there were not enough of people present to justify the young men in giving the concert; and yet, for the benefit of those who did attend they gave their full program. The orchestra is composed of thirty young men under the leadership of Robeson H. Allport, of Philipsburg, and their selections were all classical and rendered in a masterful manner. The mandolin solo by Mr. Meyer, a baritone solo by Armstrong, State's well known singer, and a violin solo by Mr. Meisner were also exceptionally pleasing to the audience. If the orchestra should return to Bellefonte at a more opportune time they doubtless would be well patronized.

—About forty members of the Society of Druids, at The Pennsylvania State College, will enjoy a Dutch smoker at the Brookerhoff house this (Friday) evening.

MAY COURT CULLINGS.—The regular May term of court convened on Monday morning with Judge Ellis L. Orvis presiding and Gilbert S. Barrows, of Sunbury, present as court reporter. Owing to the recent death of court crier Charles Smith the court was without an official crier and the vacancy. The reports of the constables and justices of the peace throughout the county took up most of the forenoon and it was well along toward noon when the grand jury were called and sworn and A. C. Thompson, of Philipsburg, appointed foreman.

In the afternoon the list of civil cases on the docket for the week was gone over and those in which the parties were not ready to go to trial were continued. The one civil case tried was that of Gamble, Gheen & Co. vs. Henry Rothrock, an action brought to recover for an over-payment on wheat delivered to the plaintiff's mill. The claim was for sixty dollars and a verdict was given the plaintiff for $32.39. The following cases in the quarter sessions were disposed of:

Commonwealth vs. Sadie M. Fehl, adultery. The defendant waived the finding of the grand jury and pleaded guilty, sentence being suspended upon the payment of costs. Sim H. Royer, who had been indicted with Mrs. Fehl for the same offense, also pleaded guilty and sentence was suspended upon the payment of costs.

Commonwealth vs. William Zimmerman, assault and battery. Bill ignored and the prosecutor, Frank Thomas, to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Levi Segner, assault and battery. Bill ignored and the prosecutor, Harry Cook, to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Harrison Kline and John Saylor, assault and battery; prosecutor, James R. Hughes. Defendants waived the finding of the grand jury, pleaded guilty and sentence was suspended upon the payment of costs.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Weir, larceny. Two weevils a horse and a rig from liverman W. C. Condo, of Philipsburg, and the same day sold the same. He pleaded guilty, but has not yet been sentenced.

Commonwealth vs. Garfield Boalick, larceny. The prosecutor was landlord Frank McClure, of the Ramsdale house, Philipsburg, and the allegation was that the defendant had taken a bottle of brandy and one of tomato bouillon. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and the prosecutor to pay the costs.

Theodor Boalick was the prosecutrix in two assault and battery cases against Wm. Cronover and one against Susan Cronover, the whole three being ignored and the costs put upon the prosecutrix.

Commonwealth vs. H. F. Kesinger, assault and threats, his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Martha Kesinger, being the prosecutrix. The grand jury ignored the bill and divided the costs between the two.

Commonwealth vs. James Uzzle, C. H. Watson and George Uzzle, malicious mischief and interfering with borough officers, W. D. O'Brien being the prosecutor. Bill ignored and the county to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. A. B. Antes, statutory rape and assault with intent to commit rape. The prosecutrix was Mrs. Harriet Ginnick and the offense charged was enticing the defendant's fourteen year old daughter. A verdict of guilty was rendered.

Commonwealth vs. Boyd Reed and Bruce Yarnell, furnishing liquor to minors. This is the case reported in last week's WATCHMAN. Reed pleaded guilty and Yarnell was tried and found guilty.

The grand jury completed their work on Wednesday morning and were discharged.

FRANK THOMPSON SCHOLARSHIPS.—Special efforts are to be made this year by the Pennsylvania railroad to induce the largest possible number of the sons of its 175,000 employees to participate in the competitive examinations to be held in June for the Frank Thompson scholarships.

These provide an income of $800 a year for four years for each of the successful candidates, enabling them to take a full course at any of the leading colleges of the country.

The Thompson scholarships, two of which are awarded every year, were established in 1907 by the children of the late Frank Thompson, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, as a memorial to their father. They are endowed in the sum of $120,000, and are designed to afford to the sons of both living and deceased employees an opportunity to qualify themselves for employment by the company. Four scholarships have been awarded in the past two years. One of the successful contestants is at Yale University, another is at the University of Michigan, and two are at the University of Pennsylvania.

The examinations this year will be held under the direction of the College Entrance Examination Board of New York city. They will be open to the sons of the employees of all the lines of the Pennsylvania system.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY.—A delightful surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Williams, at Blanchard, on May 13th, in honor of the twenty-seventh birthday anniversary of their daughter, Mrs. M. F. Gardner. In the afternoon of that day Mrs. Gardner was taken on a visit to a friend's house some distance from her parent's home and was not aware of what was happening until her return home when she was greeted with a household of friends, over one hundred people being present. The Williams home was very prettily decorated for the occasion and everybody did justice to the elaborate dinner served at long tables, which were loaded down with appetizing edibles. It was a happy evening for everybody present and one that will not soon be forgotten by the principal character, Mrs. Gardner.

LITTLE DOING IN COUNCIL.—At the regular meeting of borough council on Monday evening chairman Kirk, of the Water committee, reported that they had investigated the claim of the Bellefonte Spring company for damages on account of high water at their plant about a month ago, and could find no grounds for such action, as it was the opinion of the committee that whatever damage was done was by surface water. Chairman Kirk also called attention of council to the fact that plumbers in the town were tapping water mains and making connection without first securing permission of council or the Water committee. There is an ordinance regulating the tapping of water mains which provides a penalty of twenty-five dollars for such action as above and the Water committee was instructed to notify all the plumbers in town and any infringement in the future will result in the parties being prosecuted.

Complaint was made of the bad sanitary condition of east Lamb and Logan streets. Neither of these thoroughfares has a sewer and all waste water is poured into a surface gutter alongside the street where it becomes stagnant and the result is a very disagreeable and unhealthy condition. The matter so far as east Lamb street was concerned was referred to the Sanitary committee with power to act.

The Street committee recommended that repairs be made on Spring street where it intersects with Lamb and council so ordered. Borough treasurer Edward Gebret reported the balance in his hands as $470.99.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn:

Street pay roll.....	$40 70
Police pay roll.....	15 75
A. Allison.....	22 97
J. H. Wenzel.....	8 00
J. Matthews.....	25

Total.....	$621 65

—Yesterday, May 20th, was the thirty-fourth anniversary of the big fire which almost entirely wiped out the borough of Ooseola Mills. Even though a third of a century has passed since the fire, and the town is now bigger than ever, the event is still fresh in the minds of many.

—Any pupil seeking admission into the Bellefonte High school next September, or wishing to enter the grades may arrange to do so with supervising principal Jonas E. Wagner at the High school building next Tuesday.

Lemont

The ground is getting quite dry at present.

Mrs. Emma Kerns is slowly getting better.

Nelson W. Williams is on the sick list at this writing.

Rev. Newton Bailey is circulating among the people in town this week.

The fruit crop promises to be a large one if nothing sets in to injure it.

The railroad company have hands repairing the derrick at the station.

Mrs. Matilda Dale is visiting with her daughter in Cottensville, Md.

Mrs. Julia Williams visited at the home of John R. Williams, Tuesday.

Miles Barr and wife visited at the home of Emanuel Houser this last week.

Miss Ruth Bottorf came home from Lewisburg, Friday, for a visit with her mother.

A roving band of cypresses passed through town Tuesday going toward State College.

The farmers are busy planting corn and sowing oats this week, so they are getting their crops in in good time.

The trees are putting forth their leaves and the forest is very inviting for the weary, or for those seeking a pleasant retreat by the cool brooks.

Mary Baker, who spent the winter in Kansas with her brother, George Baker, returned to town Monday, and she will stay until fall when she will return to Kansas again.

Monday night the house at Houserville occupied by Grant Coble took fire and was burned to the ground. He lost everything excepting his stove and a few other things, which was a great loss to him, and what makes it worse is that he had a good deal of sickness in his family during the last month.

State College Items.

David Johnstonbaugh has a force of twelve men engaged in laying walks in this place.

Mr. Harvey Robb, of Lock Haven, transacted business in State College on Monday.

Mr. Taylor, the borough street commissioner, is rapidly putting the streets and crossings in good condition.

The Methodist people are taking up a subscription for a fund to repair the old church or build a new one.

Memorial services will be held in State College and vicinity on Saturday, May 29th. The stores will be closed part of the day.

Rooms are now being engaged for the commencement week. People from a distance should put their applications in early for there will be a shortage in rooms before another week passes by.

Hosterman and Mingie, our new restaurant, are enlarging their business by renting another room and putting in a bakery plant. They had a wagon built with which to deliver their bread, cakes and rolls, and it is certainly a dandy. The firm will be delayed a few days in supplying the trade with the above named articles as Mr. Hosterman, the baker, had the misfortune to break his arm a few days ago.

Pine Grove Station.

Harry Bloom and wife spent Tuesday at State College.

Miss Margaret Peters visited friends in Altoona last week.

Miss Kate Dunlap came home from Pittsburg for a few days rest at the old home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Miller and Mrs. W. S. Tate enjoyed a drive to Bellefonte Friday.

Miss Jessie Gregory, a student at the Juniata College, is home sick with the measles.

Randall Dunlap left for Williamsport last week where he is enrolled as a business college student.

Farmer Samuel Shank, of Stonevalley, came over Monday on business that required his attention.

Miss Sadie Dannley enjoyed a drive over to State College Tuesday, handling the ribbons over a fine stopper.

D. A. Grove, the noted horseman from Lemont, was here Wednesday looking for horses for the eastern market.

Hon. James Schofield, of Bellefonte, was circulating among his friends here Wednesday, mixing pleasure with a "needle" business.

Mrs. Alfaretta Goss came up from Watson-town to spend a few days with her aged mother, who has been very ill but is better now.

The firm heretofore known as Meyers and Albright have dissolved, Mr. Meyers having purchased Mr. Albright's interest in the thrasher outfit.

Wilson Ghancer, of Scottdale, spent Wednesday in town. He says prosperity has not yet reached their works, where many men are out of employment.

Rev. J. S. Bierley will preach the Memorial sermon in the M. E. Church June 6th at 7:30 p. m. All old veterans whether members of the G. A. R. or not are cordially invited.

Our road supervisors are getting a hustle on and are keeping both stone crushers going on full time. W. G. Gardner is roadmaster for the western precinct and Alfred Albright for the eastern precinct.

J. H. Bailey, of Pennsylvan lodge, of I. O. O. F.; J. L. Holmes, of State college lodge; John Grove, of Lemont lodge, and Al Gingrich, of Bonshurg lodge, are representatives at the Grand Lodge meeting at Harrisburg this week.

Dr. T. S. Christ, probably the oldest G. A. R. man in this part of the county, took violently ill in church last Sunday morning and it was not until some time after he was taken home that he recovered consciousness. We are glad to say he is better now.

Prof. W. B. Wright and wife have planned an extended tour among the Great Lakes and in Canada. They will leave to day and will be absent about a month or more. This will be in lieu of their bridal trip that they failed to take several months ago when they were married.

Dr. L. C. Thomas, of Latrobe, came in on his auto last Friday. He was accompanied by his son Walter and nephew Lawrence Gates. After visiting old chums in the valley they spent Sunday at State College, leaving bright and early Monday morning for a spin over the Alleghenies homeward bound.

Lemont

Automobiles have been running quite lively on our roads of late.

Mrs. W. T. Stealy, of Sunbury, made her sister, Mrs. C. C. Cummings, a flying visit on Friday last.

C. P. Long has opened an ice cream saloon and did a good business on Saturday evening last.

Is any farmer in our county planting the hybrid potato, said to grow on vines like the tomato, and to be far superior to the ordinary tuber?

During the last few days, between rain drops, our farmers were busy plowing and planting oats. It's a trifle late, but weather conditions are difficult to control.

At our last election the candidates for registration assessor were tied. The commissioners awarded the election to Mr. Bartley and the court gave it to O. T. Cornman. He received the necessary books a week or ten days since. The commissioners were evidently a trifle off.

Harry I. Brian, after an absence all winter in Nitany, has returned and fitted up his place of business with considerable improvements and resumed operations in repairing bicycles, etc. Mr. Brian is quite a skillful mechanic. He has in stock quite a line of bicycle goods and also deals in cigars and tobacco.

The latest report from darkest Africa is that Teddy shot an elephant. What a wonderful hunter he is! Nimrod of old is not a circumstance. Elephants, lions, tigers and the horned rhinoceros have not the slightest chance of defending themselves. All avenues of escape are closed when this wonderful skill is on the warpath. But then some unkind people say that over half of these wonderful achievements are simply claptrap and hoax—very likely.

J. C. Condo, of the Penn Hall carriage works, has about completed stocking his saleroom with as fine a line of substantial vehicles as was ever exhibited in this end of the county, all upholstered and finished in the best possible manner. He has also samples of iron fencing of the Stewart manufacture, of Cincinnati, Ohio, for which he is the sole agent. The fencing is in beautiful designs. Mr. Condo has in front of his residence this fencing very artistically painted in colors, executed by J. W. Sheeley, an expert painter. It certainly presents a very handsome and attractive appearance.

Oh, Darn the Springtime.

From the Boston Herald.

The gentle days of spring have come, but still I make the furnace hum, and wife's nose gets pale and blue because she's done her peek-ahoo; while I, with winter flannels off, don't do a thing but sneeze and cough. In early morn I'm nearly froze, by noon I sweat from head to toes, and while I am so bloody hot I seek a quiet shady spot, and there I catch an awful cold and grip germs have me in their hold. Oh, darn the springtime, anyway! I'll choose old summer, any day!

Platt Clique is in Control, and It is Said the Directors Have Voted Exorbitant Salaries to Insiders and Used Funds For Speculative Purposes.

New York, May 18.—Charges of misconduct in the use of money and in the management of the United States Express company, to the detriment of the interests of the stockholders, are made in the action brought by John L. Dudley, a stockholder, against former United States Senator Thomas C. Platt, president, and other officers of the company, to have a receiver appointed to take charge of its affairs.

Among other things it is asserted that the directors have paid dividends imperiling the company's capital; that they have voted themselves extravagant salaries; used the funds for speculative purposes and surrendered large amounts of business unnecessarily to rivals.

A meeting of stockholders to elect officers, it is alleged, has not been held for forty years, and during that time the directors, it is said, have made of themselves a "self-perpetuating body."

Co-defendants with Platt are his sons, Edward T. Platt and Frank H. Platt; James C. Fargo, president of the Wells-Fargo Express company and a director in the United States Express company; Levi C. Weir, president of the American Express company and a former director of the United States Express company; Francis Lynde Stetson and Chauncey H. Crosby.

It is asserted that the defendants, while controlling the entire direction of the company, own less than half of 1 per cent of the stock. The complaint further declares that President Platt is an old man, in poor health, and is unable because of his physical weakness to perform the duties of his office.

The proceedings consisted of an argument before Supreme Court Justice Gump in a motion to show cause why a peremptory writ of mandamus should not be issued, permitting Dudley, with counsel and accountants, to examine the records of the company. An action with a similar object was begun recently by B. F. Spraker, of Canajoharie.

Quarrel Over a Crap Game Ends In Brutal Murder.

Wilmington, Del., May 18.—During a fight here Isaiah Lyster, a negro, aged twenty-six years, was stabbed to death by Samuel McCoy, also colored, aged twenty-two years. The victim was terribly cut, a half dozen wounds being inflicted. Lyster died in a patrol wagon while being taken to a hospital.

Two hours after committing the deed McCoy was captured while hiding on a lot along the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in this city. William Anderson, another negro, who was aiding the murderer to escape, was also arrested as an accessory. Lyster and McCoy quarreled over a crap game.

Paroled, No Work, Returns to Prison.

Auburn, N. Y., May 18.—"An ex-convict has no chance to get work in this country, and I had to live, so I asked them to cancel my parole," so declared Frederick Austin Findlay, a burglar, who was released from Auburn prison a year ago on parole for good conduct and who returned to the institution.

Mustn't Even Drink From Own Bottle.

Topeka, Kan., May 18.—Under a new law which has just gone into effect it is a crime in Kansas to drink intoxicating liquor even from your own bottle. This is said to be the most drastic prohibition law in existence.

Sixteen Years Ago: Has Rabies.

Winston-Salem, N. C., May 18.—Miss Maud Kimmel, sixteen years old, the daughter of a Forsyth farmer, who was bitten two years ago by a rabid dog, was declared to be suffering from hydrophobia. It is said she can live but a few days.

Bryan at McKinley's Tomb.

Standing in the mausoleum at Canton, Ohio, in front of the sarcophagus where rest the remains of the last President McKinley and his wife, William J. Bryan paid silent tribute to the memory of the man who twice defeated him in the presidential race.

Bishop Galloway Dead.

Bishop Charles B. Galloway, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South Mississippi's distinguished divine and best known publicist, who for the last twenty years held rank among the greatest pulpit orators of America died at his residence in Jackson, Miss. after an illness of several days with a mild form of pneumonia, complicated with heart trouble.

Tillman Would Tax Tea.

Senator Tillman has introduced an amendment to the tariff bill making tea dutiable at 10 cents a pound. The purpose is to protect the tea industry of South Carolina.

Canoe Capsized; Two Drowned.

While canoeing on the Genesee river at Rochester, N. Y., J. Louis Minges, aged twenty-eight, and his sister, Carrie Minges, thirty years old, were drowned.

Tornado Wrecks Town; Three Dead.

Three persons were killed and ten injured by a tornado which wrecked Hollis, Kan. Every building in the town was wrecked or damaged.

Texas Bank Robbed of $4000.

The State bank of Frankstown, near Palestine, Tex., was dynamited and robbed of $4000.
