

His Wife, Son and Daughter at Bed-side When Death Came — Short Stories Made Him Celebrated—Was Chaplain of United States Senate.

The morning light was breaking as the venerable Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D., chaplain of the United States senate, Unitarian divine, philanthropist, author, journalist and lover of peace, breathed his last in his home in Roxbury, Mass. He was eighty-seven years old. At the bedside were his wife, his daughter, Miss Ellen D. Hale, and his son, Philip L. Hale, the artist. Two other sons, Arthur Hale, of Washington, and Professor Edward Everett Hale, Jr., of Union college, returned home later. The funeral took place on Sunday in the South Congregational church, of which Dr. Hale was the pastor emeritus.

It seemed as if the whole country joined in mourning the loss of Dr. Hale. Messages expressing sorrow and esteem poured into the Hale household, one of the first being from President and Mrs. Taft. Edward Everett Hale was born in Boston in 1822. As an author Dr. Hale's fame rests on his short stories, such as "The Man Without a Country," as an instigator of the social uplift, the work of the two great organizations, the Lend-a-Hand clubs and the King's Daughters, will always add to his renown; as a minister and pastor his half-century in the pulpit of the South Congregational church and his preaching in many other churches were prolific of wise spiritual inspiration, while as a historian his writings have become authorities. It was Dr. Hale, who twenty years before its consummation, predicted a world wide peace tribunal; it was Dr. Hale who upheld Garrison and Phillips in their anti-slavery work; it was Dr. Hale whose benevolent counsel brought comfort to the sick and the wounded soldiers of the battlefields of the Civil War, as a member of the sanitary commission, and it was Dr. Hale who gave to the world the famous stanza:

"Look forward and not down;
Look forward and not back;
Look out and not in;
Lend a hand."

Man of 86 Slays Man of 87.

Mark Vandusen, aged eighty-six years, shot and killed his brother-in-law, George E. Baker, aged eighty-seven years, at the latter's home, about three miles from Honesdale, Pa. Mrs. Baker, Vandusen's sister, noticed that her brother was acting strangely when he left the house and started for the barn, and she decided to watch him. Soon after he had entered the stable where Baker was milking Mrs. Baker heard a shot. She summoned her niece from an adjoining farm, and just as the latter arrived at the house another shot was heard. The niece rushed from the house, intending to investigate the shooting, and stumbled over Vandusen's body a few feet from the kitchen door. He held a revolver in his hand, and there was a bullet hole in his head.

Mrs. Baker had been ill for several weeks, and her husband had told Vandusen that he must find another home. It is believed that worry over this order unbalanced his mind and caused him to commit the horrible crime.

Burglars Carry Off Band Stand.
The palm for pure, unalloyed and unadulterated "nerve" will have to be awarded to the merry band of burgling and house-breaking individuals who descended upon Mary Benson park, in the Italian quarter of Jersey City, N. J., and carried off the band stand, which for many years had constituted its chief ornament.

The deliberateness with which the work of demolition and later transportation by truck was accomplished entirely disarmed suspicion, and the stand had disappeared several hours before the authorities could bring themselves to a realization of what had happened.

The structure was fifteen feet square, with an ornate balustrade, steps and ornamental metal roof.

Six Men Burned to a Crisp.
In a horrible accident at Martins Ferry, O., at least six men were burned to a crisp, four fatally injured and ten seriously hurt. Thirty others had narrow escapes. A "slip" occurred in the furnace of the Wheeling Steel and Iron company. A force of workmen, numbering fifty, were gathered about the furnace making ready to drill in for the cast. Without a moment's warning there was a terrific roar and great masses of molten iron spouted from the furnace, sweeping down the workmen.

Filipinos Mutiny; One Killed.
A portion of the second company of native constabulary stationed at Davao, in the Island of Mindanao, mutinied on the night of June 6, and attacked the company quarters, which they captured after wounding one of the native officers.

After a fight lasting two hours on the following day, in which one man named Libbey was killed, and four others wounded, the mutineers took to the mountains on the approach of a company of the constabulary stationed at Mapl, which was hurried to the relief of the besieged Americans and the loyal natives.

Bryan to Run For Senate Next Year.
William J. Bryan will be a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Elmer J. Burkett, whose term expires in March, 1911. This announcement was made by Richard L. Metcalf, editor of The Commoner, at Omaha, Neb., and is considered to be official. Bryan will make the race under the direct primary law modeled after that of Oregon. Nebraska will elect a legislature in November, 1910, and the primary will be held in September of that year.

This is the first authoritative announcement of Bryan's candidacy, and local politicians predict a walkaway for him.

Hail Destroys Crops.
The neighborhood of Collierstown, in Rockbridge county, Va., was visited by the most disastrous hail storm that has ever been known in that section. For a distance of over ten miles in length and more than a half mile wide all vegetation was totally destroyed. Wheat, corn and garden vegetables were driven to the earth. Hail drifted into ravines to the depth of two feet or more. Farms were absolutely ruined, all the soil being washed from the uplands. An idea can be obtained as to the great damage done when out of entire fields of heading wheat not a single stalk was left standing.

Trainer Squeezed by Elephants.
Charles Mills, of Mansfield, Minn., an elephant trainer with the Barnum & Bailey circus, was seriously injured at Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Mills was taking the elephants from the cars in the Pennsylvania railroad yards for the purpose of preparing them for the parade. In lining them up one of the elephants became restless and began to crowd the others. Mills was finally squeezed against the side of a car, and when help reached him he fell almost lifeless to the ground. He was hurried to the Mercy hospital, where it was found he was injured internally and had his shoulder broken.

Lightning Struck Church; One Dead.
Lightning struck the steeple of the Holy Cross Catholic church at Bay Settlement, near Green Bay, Wis., during mass and killed Edward Duchane and shocked and injured sixteen other persons, two of whom may not survive. Panic prevailed for several minutes, following the crash of the lightning. It was some time before Father Mickers could quiet the excited congregation of more than 200 persons.

Mother Slays Children and Self.
Cecelia Zwimer, a widow, of Rochester, N. Y., took two of her three children into a bedroom, where she lay down after turning on the gas and was asphyxiated with them. A third child, a boy nine years of age, was playing outdoors and so escaped death. The woman was an Austrian and, it is said, had brooded over the recent death of her husband.

Woman Murdered; Children Arrested.
With a gas in the top of her head, and with her throat cut from ear to ear, the body of Mrs. Victoria Griffin, of Columbia, S. C., was found in the well on the premises of her home. In the kitchen was found a bloody axe and razor, with which the murder evidently had been committed. Three sons and a daughter are under arrest.

Made His Own Casket.
Tilghman H. Reinsmith, who had been an undertaker at Emaus, Pa., for the past thirty-three years, died there at the age of seventy-four years. Reinsmith made his own casket and selected the text and hymns for his funeral. Reinsmith built a silk mill a year ago, which he operated. He was burghess of Emaus from 1902 to 1904.

Millionaire's Widow Leaves Only Daughter a $15 Table.
Newark, N. J., June 15.—A dining room table "valued at $15" is the sole bequest made to an only daughter in the will of Mrs. Frances Hartley, the widow of a millionaire gun manufacturer. More than $1,000,000 in cash is distributed among relatives and friends, and several bequests of from $1000 to $5000 are made to servants who attended her in her home at West Orange, N. J., where she died in April. No reason is given for the cutting off of the daughter, Mrs. Helen K. Jenkins, of New York city.

National Liquor Association Trying to Secure Assistance From Corporations in Halting Wave of Popular Uprising Against Unpopular Interests of All Kinds.

Atlantic City, June 15.—Charges that big corporations of the country have financed saloon movements are given as the reason for the warning issued to the trusts by Chairman G. C. Dempsey in the report of the executive committee of the National Liquor Dealers' association during the presentation of his formal report before the committee.

Chairman Dempsey declares that the prohibition laws in states that have gone "dry" have acted as practical confiscation of the big breweries and distilleries of the states and he draws attention to the fact that similar legislation leveled at corporations would have practically the same effect with their properties. "The new laws prohibiting the making of beer and whisky passed in prohibition states acts as practical confiscation of their properties," he said, "and it is beginning to be apparent that other interests are in danger if the laws made by popular vote allow this confiscation."

Individuals of the association admit that the move is made with the object of securing assistance from corporations in halting the wave of popular uprising against unpopular interests of all kinds, and that there is also a movement on foot to attempt to divert public wrath against the trusts that are accused of bucking the liquor interests in the effort to direct public attention away from the fight against the liquor traffic.

The liquor dealers state their willingness to join with the National Brewers' association in reforming the liquor trade and wiping out the dives and will make no fight against state measures made by the brewers that whisky selling is the real evil of the business. Figures quoted in the report claim to show that the prohibition wave has not halted the sale of either beer or whisky, which is still growing with the population. The executive committee asks support of the association in prosecution of all retailers who place obscene literature or pictures on bottles.
