Dr. Frederick A. Cook American Explorer, Reaches North Pole.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 1.—The observatory here received the following telegram to-day dated Lerwick, Shetland Island, announcing the discovery of the North Pole by the American explorer, Dr. Frederick A. Cook. "Reached North Pole April 21, 1908. Discovered land far north. Return to Copenhagen by Steamer Hans Egede. (Signed.) "FREDERICK COOK."

The American officials at the observatory state the despatch is surely authentic and the North Pole has been reached for the first time and by an American.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Next week the scenic will open promptly at seven o'clock instead of 7.30.

Mrs. Elizabeth Callaway will give a supper at Hecla park tonight, in honor of her house guests.

Mrs. James E. Lane moved from Mrs. Louise Harris' to the Bush house the beginning of the month.

Mrs. H. S. Cooper entertained at her aunts, the Misses Benner, Tuesday night, with three tables of five hundred.

This is only the third day of September but the weather this week was cold enough to be the forerun of November.

William Johnstonbaugh, of Zion, last Saturday bought the Henry Thompson farm near Houserville for $12,500.

Frank Davis, who the past two or three years has worked as a cigar maker in Kinsley Bros. factory in this place, is now working for the Pennsylvania telephone company.

The venerable Edward Brown, who next March will celebrate his ninety-ninth birthday anniversary, recently had his picture taken at Miss McGarvey's studio and as is proud of it as any young boy could be.

Irvin G. Gray on Wednesday night closed the deal whereby he became the purchaser of the great running horse, Lamprimmer, from Dr. Rook, of Altoona. This will give him a string of four horses to take around the circuit this season.

On business men's picnic day last week some person or persons broke into the house of G. R. Loder, of Zion, and stole a Bellefonte Trust company savings bank belonging to Mr. Loder's daughter and which contained about four dollars, as well as a razor and a few minor articles. Mr. Loder has a suspicion as to whom the guilty parties are.

Saturday night was another big night at the opera house. The pictures were fine and Christy Smith's orchestra is too well known to need any comment. Be sure and go this coming Saturday night. Next Friday, September 10th, the great play "Girls will be Girls," with some of the best talent on the stage, and a chorus of thirty, ought to be the grandest opening attraction we have had in years.

Last Friday evening Laurence McMullen and Bert Fulton's dogs got to fighting in the pavilion at Hecla park while quite a crowd was dancing thereon and in attempting to separate the infuriated canines Mrs. Fulton was severely bitten in the arm and foot by her own dog. The dog was killed the next day. The four year old child of Philip Paeni, of Winber, and a grandson of William Hampton, of this place, was playing on the street of that town on Saturday when he was attacked by a large dog, which sprang at his throat and bit him severely before help could arrive. The dog made its escape.

Every day almost the writer is interrogated with the question as to whether the proposed trolley line from Bellefonte to State College will be built or not. Naturally, we are not in a position to give a positive answer one way or the other, but this we do know that appearances now are more indicative of the road being built than ever before. The public at large know that Bellefonte council has been asked for a franchise through the borough; that the Milesburg and State College councils will be asked for a similar privilege at their next regular meeting; that Major Richter and a corps of engineers are hard at work on the preliminary survey, and for all this work the people behind the movement are paying, not asking Bellefontes to contribute a cent. Further, one or more of the head men are expected in Bellefonte today to see what is being done, so that there is every reason to believe that they mean business.

DINGES.—Another of Centre county's old veterans of the Civil war has answered the long roll in the person of J. N. Dinges, one of the best known residents of Boalsburg, who died last Saturday morning after an illness dating back two years or longer. On the 24th of December, 1862, he was shot through the body at the bloody battle of Fredericksburg, Va., and it was the result of his wounds which caused a complication of ailments and his final death.

Jeremiah Noah Dinges was born in Pittsburg May 29th, 1842. He had just completed his education in the common schools when the war broke out and he enlisted in company I, 136th Pennsylvania volunteers. That was in August and four months after he received wounds which it was believed would cause his death ere he could be removed from the field, but in some miraculous way he recovered, though incapacitated from further service.

Upon his return from the war he entered a drug store in his native city and studied pharmacy. Thirty-five years ago he moved to Boalsburg and opened a drugstore, a business he conducted until five years ago when failing health compelled his retirement. He was a man who always took a prominent part in everything that pertained to the good of his home town. Politically he was a Democrat and during his residence in Boalsburg he held a number of township offices.

On March 20th, 1878, he was united in marriage to Miss Julia Young, of Boalsburg, who survives with no children. But he leaves one brother, William, of Oregon, and a sister, Mrs. Lena Geary, of Iowa. He was a member of the Old Fort lodge of Masons, a large number of whom attended the funeral, which was held on Monday afternoon. The services were in charge of Rev. A. A. Black, assisted by Rev. J. I. Stoneypher. Interment was made in the Boalsburg cemetery.

CROWELL.—Clark E. Crowell, for years a well known resident of Phillipsburg, died at his home in Patton on Friday as the result of injuries sustained on Tuesday evening of last week by being knocked down by a horse. He was standing on a street corner listening to an address on Socialism when a runaway horse came dashing by knocking Mr. Crowell down before he could get out of the way. His head struck the curb causing concussion of the brain, from which he died.

He was born in Clearfield county and was 62 years, 9 months and 3 days old. He was a carpenter by trade and most of his life was spent in Phillipsburg. During the Civil war he served as a private in company A, Fifty-eighth regiment Pennsylvania volunteers and was a member of the John W. Geary Post, No. 90, G. A. R., of Phillipsburg.

He was united in marriage to Miss Mary Woomer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Woomer, of Osceola Mills, who survives with three children, namely: Mrs. John Mitchell and Carl, of Swiseland, and Charles, of Patton. He also leaves one brother and a sister. The remains were taken to Phillipsburg on Monday morning for interment in the cemetery at that place.

BOWMASTER.—Samuel Bowmaster, one of the best known residents in Bald Eagle valley, died at his home in Beech Creek on Tuesday morning after several weeks' illness with heart trouble and dropsy. He was past eighty-seven years of age and up until his recent illness was a man of exceptionally strong constitution. In fact, during his entire life he was known far and wide because of his phenomenal strength. He was an ironworker by trade and for many years made his home in Boggs township. His wife died a number of years ago but surviving him are a number of children, among them being Samuel Bowmaster Jr., of Boggs township; Mrs. Carpenter Miller, Mrs. John Heverly and Mrs. Wessner, of Beech Creek, he having made his home with his daughters the past six years.

TUTEN.—Frances Alice, the ten months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Tuten, died at their home on north Penn street, at 1.43 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She was taken ill two weeks previous with cholera infantum and though the disease was in a measure combated it left her in such an enfeebled condition that she could not rally from the shock. She was a sweet and lovable child and her death has been a severe blow to the grief-stricken parents, who with one brother, Edward Tirrell, survive. The funeral was held at four o'clock on Tuesday. Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt, of the Reformed church, officiated and interment was made in the Union cemetery.

NEESE.—David Neese, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Neese, who live on one of the Reynolds farms near Rock, died last Saturday evening as the result of typhoid fever. He had been ill for three weeks or longer and was practically regarded on a fair way to recovery, when perforations of the bowels occurred and he died within a few hours. He was only nineteen years old and an industrious young man, assisting his father in his work upon the farm. In addition to his parents he is survived by two brothers and three sisters. The funeral was held at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning, burial being made at Shiloh.

MEZGAR.—Amalda H., the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Metzgar, of Benedict, Cambria county, but formerly of Blanchard, died last Saturday. The remains were taken to Blanchard where interment was made in the Disciple cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

FORTNEY.—Rev. G. W. Fortney, a native of Centre county and a brother of D. F. Fortney Esq., of this place, died at his home in Suffern, N. Y., on Monday, as the result of paralysis with which he had been afflicted for three months. He was born in Potter township in 1845. In 1859 his father and family moved to Ferguson township and there his early schooling was received. Later he attended the academies at Boalsburg, Pine Grove Mills and Penn Hall, and in the fall of 1868 he entered Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg, graduating from that institution in 1872. He then divided his time between teaching school and studying theology and in 1880 he was ordained as a minister in the Lutheran church. During his pastorate he served charges at Chatham, Ancon, Athens and Wartsburg, N. Y.; Tarbottville, Pa., and Suffern, N. Y. He is survived by his wife, two sons and two daughters. Burial was made at Suffern, Thursday afternoon.

SASSARIE.—Charles J. Sassar, of Pittsburg, an acrobat with the John Robinson circus when it showed in Bellefonte several months ago, died in Phillipsburg on Wednesday last week of tuberculosis. He became too ill to follow his profession two months ago and about five weeks ago went to Phillipsburg in the hope that the change of climate would prove beneficial but he grew worse until the end. His wife, who survives, was a Miss Rhey, of Clearfield county. During his illness in Phillipsburg he was cared for by the Odd Fellows and Sol Schmidt accompanied the remains to Pittsburg where burial was made.

YON.—Mrs. Lucinda Yon, widow of the late Samuel Yon, died at her home in Altoona last Saturday morning after a brief illness with cancer of the stomach. She was born at Bald Eagle, this county seventy-one years ago and was a daughter of Adam and Mary Woolcater. She is survived by eight children and two sisters. The funeral was held on Monday, burial being made in the Oak Ridge cemetery at Altoona.

KEELER.—William Keeler died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jerry Lutz, at Nittany, last Sunday evening, aged 71 years, 9 months and 23 days. He is survived by six children and two brothers, one of whom is Wallace Keeler, of this place. The funeral was held on Wednesday, interment being made at Nittany.

INTERESTING STATISTICS OF CENTRE COUNTY.—While Centre county is the largest in area in the State it is not nearly so thickly populated as a number of other counties, but at that it shows an aggregate of wealth according to the last general assessment which bears a favorable comparison with any other county. As compiled by chief clerk E. R. Williams and assistant clerk J. Homer Decker, in the county commissioner's office, the statistics of Centre county are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Description and Value. Includes: Total number of acres of cleared land, 155,998; timber land, 158,771; aggregate, 314,769. Unsettled land, etc., 451,411, a grand total of 766,180 acres in the county. Total assessed value of all real estate, $13,570,174.00. Value of all real estate subject to taxation, $11,298,137.00. Value of real estate exempt from taxation, $2,272,037.00. Number of horses in the county, 7,085; assessed value, $385,675.00. Number of cattle in the county, 7,473; assessed value, $141,362.00. Assessed value of salaries and occupations, $294,252.00. Amount of money at interest, judgments, mortgages, etc., $3,014,225.00. Value of property taxable for county purposes, $12,399,563.00. Aggregate of county tax at 5 mills, $62,019.67. State tax levied at 4 mills, $12,003.82. Of this amount three-fourths will be returned to the county and the commissions and exonerations must be deducted, as well as the rebate for prompt payment.

Davis, of the University of Indiana, instructor in mathematics. J. Frank Jones, of Swarthmore College, instructor in English.
- School of Natural Science.—William R. Ham, of the University of Maine, professor of physics. W. P. Davey, of the University of Chicago, instructor in physics.

—Renovo and Bellefonte will cross bats on Hughes field this (Friday) afternoon at 3 o'clock. Go out and see the game.

BELLEFONTE WITHDRAWS FROM CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA BASEBALL LEAGUE.—Bellefonte has withdrawn from the Central Pennsylvania baseball league. There was little else to do. It is regrettable that such should be the outcome of our venture in a friendly rivalry with sister towns but such has been the case. There will be no more eliminations and re-eliminations, no doubt, but the people in Bellefonte who have supported the team endorse the withdrawal for the reason, stated above, that there was little else to be done.

When the league was organized it was understood that it was to be confined as nearly as possible to home, amateur players, and since the line was not properly drawn probably it would have been better had there been no line at all. For gradually more and higher priced men were being drafted by all of the teams so that it seemed nothing but a show down as to which community could produce the most money with which to buy the best players. All the element of interest and good sport that characterized the opening games of the season disappeared in the wrangle over the players who should be eligible for the closing games. Then, too, an element in each community conceived the highest ideal of the game to be a betting proposition. Whichever pool would lose, naturally it would raise an ado about the make up of the team that had won.

So that there was a continual clash and struggle for new men on the teams who could win games. Not win them for the glory of their town or the perfection of the sport but to swell the wads of the gambling element.

While Bellefonte may have done some things she should not have done we think she was neither flagrant nor offensive in this respect. Our team has changed little during the season. It lost constantly at first, but practice together and team spirit was rounding it into a very creditable organization. Our people were as loyal to it as losing as they were delighted when it won. But feeling that the team would stand no chance against the continuing importations of the other teams, and not caring to follow that practice, it was decided that the proper course was to withdraw from the league.

In doing so manager Cunningham sent the following letter to the president of the league:

Bellefonte, Pa., August 30th, 1909. DR. GEORGE D. GREEN, President of the Central Pennsylvania League, Lock Haven, Pa.

Dear Sir:—I write to confirm my conversation by telephone today with Mr. Reilly, the secretary of the league, in which I notified him that the Bellefonte Baseball Club has withdrawn from the Central Pennsylvania League, and in doing so we desire to state our reasons.

Our conception of the purpose of the league was to play good but clean baseball in honest and straight-forward rivalry among the communities interested in the respective clubs and we think that we have maintained that standard throughout. Recent developments have convinced us that that original purpose of the league is not being maintained. In support of this assertion we would particularly refer to the disregard which has lately been shown to a resolution adopted at a recent meeting of the league at Lock Haven, to the effect that any players signed by any of the clubs from and after the date of that meeting were to be bona fide players of such club and should remain with the club and upon its salary list for the balance of the season.

We regret very much that we are forced to take this position but we are satisfied that it is no longer possible to maintain the character of base ball intended when we entered the league; and this is the only kind of base ball which our club will play or our community countenance. We regret this the more because our communities are deprived of the character of base ball which this league presented to its supporters and patrons through such practices were indulged in. The contests were close, good ball was played and our communities had a sport that was fine and clean between evenly matched teams. The practices that are now indulged in can do nothing else than degrade the spirit of the game and are calculated to produce nothing more than a mere gambling contest.

Very truly yours,

J. M. CUNNINGHAM, Manager of Bellefonte Baseball Association.

At a league meeting on Monday evening, at which Bellefonte was not represented, Renovo also withdrew from membership and it was then decided to disband the league, inasmuch as the season was within one week of being at an end.

But this does not mean that Bellefonters will not see any more baseball this season. Bellefonte has already arranged a series of games with Tyrone, Renovo, and it is possible games will be arranged with the Phillipsburg team, the Altoona Independents and others, so that we will have as many if not more games here than if the season in the league had been played to a finish.

In last Friday's league game with the Lock Haven professionals Bellefonte lost by the score of 9 to 5, and at Renovo on Saturday they lost the first game 9 to 1 and the second game was called at the end of the fourth inning on account of rain with the score 2 to 0 in Bellefonte's favor. On Tuesday Bellefonte went to Renovo and played an exhibition game, being again defeated by the score of 4 to 0. Tuesday the Tyrone team defeated Bellefonte 8 to 2.

ON TRIAL FOR SHOOTING CAPTAIN.—Lisle Crabtree, formerly a corporal in Troop D, Second United States Cavalry, has been on trial by court martial the past week, at Omaha, Neb., for the killing of Captain John C. Raymond, at Fort Des Moines last spring. Crabtree is a native of Phillipsburg, this county, and at one time was a member of company B, in this place. His mother, Mrs. A. Beyer, of Tyrone, was one of the principal witnesses at his trial in an endeavor to make him out as insane when he fired the fatal shot. The result of the court martial has not been learned at this writing.

ODENKIRK—MEYER.—While not a very pretentious affair the marriage yesterday of Miss Dora Catharine Meyer, daughter of ex-county commissioner and Mrs. Philip H. Meyer, of Centre Hall, and William Alexander Odenkirk, of Glen Iron, was characterized with enough social formality to make it an event of some importance to the public at large as well as the two most directly interested.

The Meyer home was handsomely decorated with golden rods and ferns and about fifty guests were present to witness the ceremony which took place at high noon. Rev. Daniel Gress, of the Reformed church, officiated and the bride and bridegroom went to the altar unattended. Miss Rose Woods, of Boalsburg, played the wedding march from Lohengrin.

Following the ceremony and congratulations a delicious wedding breakfast was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Odenkirk left for a brief wedding trip east. The bride, who was the recipient of a large number of valuable as well as useful presents, is quite well known in Bellefonte from the family having lived here during her father's term as county commissioner. She is an accomplished and amiable young lady and has the best wishes of her many friends for her future happiness. The bridegroom is the son of the late John and Mrs. Mary Odenkirk, and now holds the responsible position of station agent at Glen Iron, on the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad, where they will go to housekeeping in the near future.

BRACHBILL — FOX.—Charles Brachbill and Miss Grace Fox stole a march on their many young friends in this place when they left town very quietly last Friday and going to Huntingdon were married at the parsonage of the First M. E. church by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Sonser. They are now away on a wedding trip which will include Philadelphia, Atlantic City and New York.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fox, of this place, and is quite an attractive young lady. For several years past she had been employed in Joseph Bros. store as a milliner and was as efficient in her work as she is popular among the young people of her acquaintance. The bridegroom is a son of William R. Brachbill and for a number of years past has been employed by his father in his furniture store on Spring street, and is an industrious and energetic young man. It is not yet known what place the young couple have made for the future, but if they get the full measure of happiness and success which they will be amply blessed, indeed.

McMURTRIE—MOBLEY.—Two of Howard's well known young people, in the persons of Edward McMurtree and Miss Stella Mobley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Mobley, were quietly married in Camden, N. J., last week. They succeeded in keeping the fact of their intended marriage a secret even from their most intimate friends. Miss Mobley came to Bellefonte in the early part of the week to visit friends and later was joined by her prospective husband and the two proceeded to their chosen Gretna Green where they were united in marriage. The bride is one of Howard's best known and most popular ladies in the younger set, having graduated from the High school in that place last spring. The bridegroom is also well and favorably known. Upon their return they will make their home in Tyrone.

LAUCK—SNYDER.—A quiet but pretty wedding was celebrated at the M. E. parsonage at Pine Grove Mills at seven o'clock on Wednesday evening when Charles D. Lauck, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam F. Lauck, of Bloomsdorf, and Miss Maria Snyder, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder, of Ferguson township, were united in marriage by Rev. J. S. Bierley. Following the ceremony a reception was tendered the young couple at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Mr. Lauck is employed by the Bellefonte Central railroad and is an industrious young man, while his bride is a young woman of most excellent qualities.

BAUDIS—FLICK.—Edward H. Baudis and Miss Isadora H. Flick, both of Patton township, secured a marriage license in this place Friday morning last and going to Altoona were united in marriage by alderman Theodore Crawford, at his office on Eleventh avenue. After a brief honeymoon the young couple expect to take up their residence in Bellefonte.

—Had it not been for a very timely discovery Centre county might now be up against the proposition of building an entire new court house instead of remodeling the old one. A few days ago the officials in the register and recorder's office perceived smoke issuing through the ceiling and notified the county commissioners. The latter sent for an electrician who, upon cutting a hole in the ceiling found the lath on fire for quite a little distance and the electric light wires burned off. Had the fire started at night when nobody was around the probability is that the court house would have been burned. The fire was undoubtedly caused by defective wiring and the decision of the county commissioners to have the whole house rewired in an up-to-date and safe manner, is thus shown to be a very wise one.

—Any one clearing their attic of old books, magazines, or clean papers will be doing a great act of kindness should they send them to Miss Margaret Miller, on Spring street, in the room next door to Mr. Schofield's saddle shop.

—While Miss Nan Hoy is ill at the hospital, her sister, Miss Mary, will be with Mrs. Reynolds; Harris will be at the Bush house and their guests, Mrs. Danot and daughter Miss Katharine, will be at Miss Emily Natts.

—Don't fail to call and examine our team and buggy nets and get prices as we are offering bargains in full dusters and sheets for the next three weeks. 54-34-24 JAMES SCHOFIELD.
