

Pine Grove Mention.

The venerable Samuel Markie is home for the winter.

Mrs. Ella Shadle, of Bellefonte, is visiting friends in town.

Master George Elder is a sick boy with catarrh of the stomach.

Frank Krumrine and wife spent Sunday at the G. B. Mc. Fry home.

Samuel Ripka, of Millheim, is Frank Homan's right bower on the farm.

Mrs. C. B. Hess was given a birthday surprise last Tuesday at her home at Baileyville.

John Musser is confined to bed most of the time with a general breaking down of the system.

George Dunlap on account of a big carbuncle on his arm, has time to go gunning for bunnies.

Mrs. D. G. Meek and Miss Ada Koch came over from State College to spend election day in our town.

Thomas A. Mallory has been promoted and is now handling the throttle on the Pennsy's western division.

Mrs. Marcella Sankey and Miss Edith Sankey visited the Hess home in the beginning of the week.

John Reynolds, the plumber, is building a new heater furnace in the basement of W. H. Goss' residence.

Ed Isenburg and wife and John Reynolds and wife went to Houtzdale Sunday in the latter's automobile.

Mrs. Nanette Bailey Morrison and daughter, of Oregon, are visiting the Wm. Bailey home west of town.

J. H. Ward, of Shamokin, and G. W. Ward, of Pittsburg, are now looking over their old camping ground.

Mrs. Geo. W. Homan, son John and daughter Mary visited the Jacob Harpster home at Fairbrook Sunday.

After a three months visit to her brother, Walter Woods, at Fort Wayne, Mo., Miss Mary returned home last Friday.

All of the personal effects of the late J. B. Ard will be offered at public sale Saturday, Nov. 30th, at his home on Main street.

Surveyor Grove with a corps of men has taken quarters at the St. Elmo surveying state lands westward on old Tussey mountain.

Tuesday the R. F. D. brought to John F. Kimport a shower of birthday postcards and yesterday N. C. Neidigh's mail box was likewise filled.

Bilger Miller, one of Colerain's representative men, with his wife spent Tuesday in town and while here bought a big assortment of furniture of Tate and Randolph.

Mrs. G. W. McWilliams, while at the supper table Saturday evening, suffered a partial stroke. On Monday she had another stroke and her condition is now serious.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson, of Spruce Creek, visited the N. L. Neidigh home Friday and Mr. Henderson took home with him a fine coat he bought of H. M. Greenoble.

Early Monday morning an army of gunners with a trail of long eared dogs were in the fields at break of day but found rabbits scarce, and many returned with empty bags.

Wednesday J. G. Goss and wife closed their home on Main street and left for their new winter quarters at Medina, Ohio. Their first stop was at Pittsburg to visit the McKee and Rhone families.

Rev. James Glenn, wife and little James are here from Carlisle visiting friends here and at Centre Hall. Mrs. Glenn and Master James came by rail while the reverend enjoyed a drive here behind his high stepper.

Hon. Leonard Rhone, of Centre Hall, spent several days in town in the beginning of the week. Just now he is a very busy man looking after the interests of the State College meeting to be held at State College later.

The body of Dr. Claude Ward was brought here on Saturday to the old family home where many friends viewed the remains on Sunday. Burial was made Monday at 10 a. m. in the new cemetery, Rev. J. S. Bierley, of the M. E. church, officiating.

Mrs. W. H. Maris, who has had serious trouble with one of her eyes, was taken to the Bellefonte hospital on Wednesday to have the affected optic removed, which was deemed necessary by the physicians in order to save the sight of the other eye.

Saturday while Ralph Heberling and Leo and Leslie Krebs were driving one of the State College horses hitched to a spring wagon loaded with apples. The bridleband broke and the horse ran a way making a wreck of the wagon. Heberling and Leo Krebs escaped with but a few bruises while Leslie Krebs sustained a broken collar bone.

Among those who were here attending the Dr. Ward funeral were Mrs. King and son Norman, of Williamsport; H. Ward, of Lewisport; Warren Ward and family, of Baileyville; Musser Ward, of Stormstown; James Ward and G. W. Ward and sister, of Pittsburg; Dr. J. E. Ward and family, of Bellefonte; and the widow, Mrs. Claude Ward, who of late has been making her home in Chicago, her native place.

Spring Mills

Allison's flouring mill with its entirely new machinery, is operating like clock work.

The high winds we had of late played havoc with quite a number of fences in this neighborhood.

Cleaning gardens, burning and removing the rubbish is about as much of a job as making grain in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cameron, of Tyrone; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Long, of Selinsgrove, and C. B. Cass, of Akron, Ohio, are registered at the Spring Mills hotel.

Mr. Ruhl, the liverman, is looking around to buy a couple of horses to take the place of two fine animals he had the misfortune to lose a few weeks ago.

Sunday last was to be a stormy day, as per weather bureau report, but the storm evidently went astray and got lost, for the day was beautiful and spring like.

M. T. Duck has just finished painting the residence of Doctor Lieb and it presents a very handsome and attractive appearance. The doctor has recently installed the telephone, and is now introducing steamheat into the building.

Hallowe'en was observed here as usual by the young folks. The girls by throwing corn at doors and windows, telling "spook" stories and scaring themselves 'till their eyes assumed the dimensions of cart wheels. The boys by removing gates, wagons, and in fact, anything that was movable to remote fields and localities—did no particular damage, but plenty of inconvenience and annoyance. Next comes Thanksgiving day.

Smalltown.

C. H. Bierly, of this place, is again housed up with rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. Israel Haugh returned home from Dents Run Thursday.

Mrs. Amanda Yoder, of Salona, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Jane Waite here.

George Smull and wife took a trip a few days last week, returning home Saturday morning.

Thaddeus Stover will expose to public sale, Saturday, his farming implements and some household goods.

November is at hand and now it will not be long until the Thanksgiving turkey will tickle the throat.

Miss Minnie Kline preached for the Methodists at this place Sunday morning in the absence of the pastor.

Mrs. J. F. Myers, wife of our merchant, was in Boalsburg several days visiting friends, returning home Monday.

J. W. Brungart of our town seems to have imbibed the western fever as he is thinking seriously of going to the State of Texas. It is but a few years he has lived here and I suppose he thinks another location more desirable. For business and financial advancement there are many places to be preferred, but for cheap living, healthy climate and pleasant surroundings, Brush valley is unequalled.

Jessie Long, an old veteran of the Civil war, called at the studio of H. H. Stover Saturday to have his face examined by means of the camera. After all was accomplished without any difficulty, the gentleman told Mr. Stover the reason of his coming for such work. He said he had been requested by a friend, an old time acquaintance to send a picture, so in order to do this he called.

Hallowe'eners did some disgraceful work about the property of the M. E. church here Saturday evening. We do not find fault with boys having fun, but when they do not know the proper place for such amusement and confine it to church property we do protest against it. Piling stones, boxes and boards against the door of a church where religious services are to be held next day is by no means civilized but belongs to heathens.

Lemont

James Kustabers entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman, Sunday.

Prof. R. U. Wasson was up from Aaronsburg for a day's visit with his mother.

Schreck Bros. are having their paint shop sided, which will make it much warmer.

Mr. Gardner and family visited several days last week at the home of John C. Hoy.

Mrs. Helen Sellers visited at the home of her father, John I. Thompson, this last week.

Mrs. Jacob Herman has been quite ill this last week with heart trouble, but is slowly improving.

J. C. Etter is busy putting a new roof on his house, and with the other improvements he intends making, his home will look handsome.

William A. Ferree loaded three cars of apples this last week, paying fifty cents per bushel for them. They found the fruit very imperfect.

The latter part of last week was the coldest of the season, and Sunday the thermometer stood at 71 degrees, while Tuesday was still warmer.

The boys were busy Saturday evening putting obstructions in the roads and taking corn fodder from the fields but they did very little damage for anyone.

Rev. Kessler, of Coburn, preached for the United Evangelical congregation Sunday forenoon, as the minister is suffering from the effects of a boil and was not able to preach.

State College Items.

J. C. Meyer, of Bellefonte, was a College visitor on Saturday.

Watch for another wedding in State College in the near future.

George Leathers and brother Cookman, were visitors in our town on Monday.

Wm. Garman, of Bellefonte, is now one of E. L. Graham's hustling clerks in this place.

Game seems pretty scarce in this locality. You can see plenty of gunners going out and coming in but never much game.

The football game on Saturday between Bellefonte High school and State College High school resulted in a score of 3 to 0 in favor of the locals.

There will be a large delegation of students and citizens attend the football game on Saturday to be played at Lewisburg. The opinion is that State will have an easy mark.

The ladies of the town have organized a Legion order. They are now soliciting new members, both beneficiary and associate. There will be quite a large number ride the goat in a few weeks.

The elder scrap on Saturday between the Sophomores and Freshmen resulted as follows: Sophomores 38 hands on the barrel, Freshmen 24 hands on the barrel. There were none injured in this scrap.

Immigrant Starves Because She Could Not Get "Kosher" Food.

New York, Nov. 2.—Orthodoxy so uncompromising that it prevailed even over the instincts of self-preservation caused the death in the Ellis Island hospital of Gisella Breiner, a young Hebrew immigrant.

On the nine days of her voyage across the Atlantic the girl could get no "kosher" food, and she fasted, with the result that she died of inanition.

SUMMARIZES HIS TOUR

Declares He Found People Content in Every City, Town and County He Visited — Spent Sixteen Hours in Jackson, Miss.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 2.—With New Orleans behind him, President Taft is on the last leg of his long journey. He has nine days more in the southern states, but he already has seen enough of the south to enable him to say that his two months' study of conditions throughout the country is practically finished. The impressions that he has gathered from the trip were summarized in a speech here. Said he: "I have gone from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean, down the Pacific coast to the southwest corner of the country, through the territories and that great domain of Texas to St. Louis, down the Mississippi to New Orleans, and I have made two hundred odd speeches, and I have survived the hearing of two hundred more, and I am able to say that we, never in all our country's history, were as homogeneous a people, as closely allied in all our hopes and ambitions, and in all our pride of country and patriotism as we are today.

Found No Discontent.

"It is possible that there are corners in this country that have escaped me where there is discontent, but if so I have not found them. In every town, I had almost said hamlet, in every city and county, in every state I have found the individual saying to himself: "I am contented here, because I know what will make this city, or this town, or this county, the best in the state, and I am going to do that very thing."

"And in respect to the ambitions of the people it is the same; every one is proud to be a citizen of the town or county or the state, and all proud to be Americans and to rejoice and thank God that the starry flag waves over us, united country."

The president spent sixteen hours in this city, more time than he gave to Chicago or San Francisco. Here in Jackson they say that Mr. Taft is the first president who ever discovered that the city is on the map.

Jackson appreciated the compliments and did her best to make the president's long stay in the city pleasant. The Mississippi folks certainly did their best to make the president's acquaintance, and Mr. Taft was equally cordial and chummy.

Jackson Had a Busy Day.

In carrying out this Taft celebration Jackson had a good many things to contend against. There was a state fair, a circus, a balloon ascension and a parachute jump. The circus and the balloon ascension alone would have discouraged the ordinary city, but Jackson managed to keep the circus parade and the Taft show separate. The circus outfit, with its long line of wild animal cages, Indians and bareback riders, waited in a side street until the Taft procession had passed and had disappeared into the state fair grounds. Then the circus bands struck up and followed on down the street, thus enabling the Jackson folks to kill two birds with one stone. The president helped swell the gate receipts of the Jackson fair just as he has the of many other shows on his trip.

The president acknowledged when he started out from Boston that this gate receipt swelling business was to be one of his chief functions, and fair managers have met him more than half way.

Gives $1,000,000 to Fight Hookworm.

John D. Rockefeller has given a million dollars for the eradication of the hookworm, the lay man's bug of the south. The disbursement of the money will rest with a committee of twelve, of which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a member.

The idea of going after the hookworm in a scientific manner presented itself to Mr. Rockefeller some months ago, and since then he has been making inquiries personally and through his agents as to the possibility of fighting it.

Discovers a New "Dope" For Butter.

Professor H. W. Conn, of the bacteriology department at Wesleyan university at Middletown, Conn., has announced the discovery of bacteria which, added to the inferior brands of butter, will make them rival in taste the finest outputs of June butter. Several years ago he discovered bacteria which would ripen butter. At first the farmers laughed at the idea of ripening butter by this method, but now all are using Professor Conn's bacteria or a substitute for them.

Aimed at Dog, Killed Friend.

Washington, Pa., Nov. 2.—Norman Patterson was shot and instantly killed near Millsboro by his friend and companion, Alvah Lemley. The latter shot at a dog that darted in front of a buggy in which the men were riding. Lemley attempted to shoot the dog but shot Patterson in the neck. No arrest was made.

His Ashes Thrown into River.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 2.—In accordance with his dying request, the ashes of Dr. E. H. Osborne, who died here last week, were thrown into the Mississippi river. Dr. T. D. Miller, with a quotation from Thanasopolis, consigned the dust to the waters.

Army to Shoot at Flying Machines.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Experiments will be undertaken within the next two months by the bureau of ordnance of the war department in shooting balloons and other air craft while flying. The experiments will occur at Sandy Hook.

Winner to Get 75 Per Cent and Loser 25 Per Cent of Purse—Each Fighter Deposits $5000 Forfeit.

Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson met in New York and agreed to box for the heavyweight championship before the club offering the largest inducement, bids for the fight to be submitted before Dec. 1 to Robert S. Murphy, of New York. The fighters agreed that each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $5000.

The date of the fight was fixed for July 4. Should there be any legal opposition to that date the battle will take place on July 5.

Jeffries and Johnson agreed to fight "forty-five rounds or more." It was agreed that the purse should be divided, 75 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser, each fighter to deposit now $5000 as a forfeit and an additional $5000 to go as a side bet.

George Little, manager of Jack Johnson; James J. Jeffries and his manager, Sam Berger, got together at the Hotel Albany to discuss the details of the fight. Little urged that the fight should be winner take all, but he said in that case Johnson would want to fight within three months. He asked that it be agreed that the bidding should be left open for one month.

Johnson was not at the hotel when Little arrived, and word was sent to Wilkins' sporting resort for him to "get a move on." An enormous crowd gathered outside the hotel, and hundreds tried to gain admission, but were kept out by the police. The conference was held in the banquet hall, which was jammed by friends of both fighters. A guard was put on the doors of the hall, and these sentinels were fairly mobbed by fans eager to see the fighters.

Twelve Men Killed in Mine.

Twelve men were killed in the Cambria Steel company's coal mine, two miles from Johnstown, Pa., as the result of what is supposed to have been a dynamite explosion.

Three men escaped with their lives by a perilous climb on life ladders through poisonous mine gas and falling slate up the steep walls of the main shaft. At the time of the explosion only fifteen workmen, all track layers, were in the mine.

It is not expected that the cause of the explosion will ever be learned from the men who were at work in the mine, as the three who made their way to the surface are lying in the Cambria hospital here at the point of death. They were almost suffocated by the smoke during their perilous climb.

The explosion occurred as the workmen were putting their tools away at the end of their day's work. The concussion caused by the terrific subterranean blast caused many windows in the mining village surrounding the Cambria mine to be broken into bits. Hundreds of persons gathered at the mine entrance within an incredible space of time.

A force of men, working in shifts, began clearing the debris and fallen slate in the lower levels of the mine where the explosion occurred. It was hours before the workers gained perceptible headway. When the final barrier of rocks was passed the rescue party found twelve huddled forms close together, the bodies indicating the men had died of suffocation.

Prince Ito Assassinated.

Prince Hirobumi Ito, former Japanese president general of Korea, and probably Japan's foremost statesman, was assassinated at Harbin, Manchuria, by a Korean, who had followed him there for the express purpose of killing him.

The motive of the assassin, who was arrested with two companions, was revenge.

The venerable Japanese diplomat was acknowledging the noisy welcome that had greeted him as he stepped down from the coach that he had occupied in the railroad train. Smiling and bowing, he turned to make his way toward the Russian finance minister, M. Kokosvoff, who was awaiting him on the station platform a few paces distant.

Suddenly a half dozen revolver shots, fired in quick succession, were heard, followed by the cries of those who were standing near the prince, who had either been wounded or imagined themselves to be. At the second report Prince Ito staggered and fell fainting. It was subsequently found that he had received three bullets, two of which entered the abdomen. Prince Ito did not recover consciousness and died twenty minutes later.

Father and Son Drown Together.

E. C. Holland, a prosperous farmer, and his twenty-one-year-old son Rufus were drowned in the Breaklink river near Milton, Del., when a small skiff in which they were riding was upset in midstream. Their bodies have not been recovered.

The father and son had been fishing and had rowed up from the Lewes river into the Broadlink. At the Jetty they met the steamer Marie Thomas on her way from Philadelphia to Milton.

To make better time they hauled for a tow and soon had a rope made fast and were pulled up the river by the steamer. At a small creek, near their home, where they wanted to cast off, the elder man stepped to the bow of the boat to cast off the rope. His weight and the rate of speed at which they were going combined to push the nose of the little craft under water and sink it.

The two men were wearing heavy gum boots and as they went overboard clamped each other in arms.

Syndicate Furnishes Sermons. Members of the Calvary Presbyterian church at Milwaukee, Wis., are wondering who runs the sermon syndicate that furnished the same sermon to each of two candidates who have just appeared before the congregation.

The church has been seeking a new pastor for some time. On Oct. 9 Rev. T. H. McConnell, of Chicago, occupied the pulpit of Calvary church as a possible pastor.

Last Sunday Rev. S. Munneke, of Mendota, Ill., preached before the same congregation. When he announced his subject — "The Church Glorious" — there was a general look of astonishment. This was increased when the same phrases and same divisions of subject were presented that they had heard two weeks before.

At first the audience believed it was in the nature of a joke, and then there was a wave of criticism. No one has offered the answer to the problem.

Alleged Embezzler Arrested.

New York, Nov. 2.—Henry T. Cochran, who is wanted in Indianapolis, on the charge of embezzling $7000 of the funds of the American National bank in that city, was arrested on Sunday at Fort Slocum, N. Y., where he was serving as bookkeeper for Colonel P. F. Dugan.

Pastor Refuses Princeton Chair.

Pittsburg, Nov. 2.—Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, and one of Pittsburg's most prominent ministers, has declined the offer of the chair of homiletics in Princeton theological seminary.

Dying From Snake Bite.

New York, Nov. 2.—Albert Price, of Hazleton, Pa., a snake charmer, failed to soothe a rattlesnake in a Fourteenth street museum and was bitten. He is now unconscious and not expected to live.

AN ORDINANCE

To provide for the construction of a public sewer on Logan street, from Ridge street to Allegheny street, for the collection of a portion of the same, that a public sewer be constructed on Logan street, between Ridge street and Allegheny street, of terra cotta pipe of six inches in diameter;

Section 1. That the owner or owners of property adjoining or adjacent to said proposed sewer are hereby assessed (in cents per front foot, such assessment being laid as a portion of the cost thereof as a sewage tax on said properties;

Section 2. That the owner or owners of the property adjoining or adjacent to the line of said proposed sewer shall pay the assessment for sewage tax laid as herein provided within sixty days from the date of notice of the passage of this ordinance, and upon the failure of such owner or owners to pay the assessment of which they receive notice within said sixty days, a municipal lien shall be entered therefor;

Section 3. That the owner or owners of the property adjoining or adjacent to the line of said proposed sewer shall connect his, her or their premises with such sewer in such manner as shall be approved by the Council, for the purpose of having all waste water and sewage matter discharged into said sewer, within sixty days after they have received notice so to do after the passage of this ordinance; that a permit shall be issued, directed to a plumber for which each applicant shall pay the use of the borough the sum of two dollars and fifty cents, before the issue thereof for each separate tap or connection; and on failure of such owner or owners to make the proper connections with such sewer within sixty days after such notice has been served or to pay for the issue of said permit, such connection shall be made by the borough at the costs of such owner or owners, with twenty per cent penalty in addition thereto, which costs and penalty shall be collected as debts due the borough and are now collectable.

Ordained and enacted into an ordinance this 1st day of November, A. D. 1900.

Attest: D. F. JUDD, President of Council.
W. T. KELLY, Clerk.
