Don't miss the big football game on Hughes field on Thanksgiving afternoon.

Dr. David Dale has had his automobile repaired, with red hood and running gears, so that it now looks very much like a new one.

You'll miss a good game if you fail to take in the Bellefonte Academy—Osgood game on Thanksgiving day; called at 2 o'clock sharp.

We are glad to note that Peter F. Keibline, who had been confined to the house several weeks with illness, is able to be out and around again though he is yet enough of an invalid to walk around very cautiously.

The annual Thanksgiving social of the Home Missionary society of the Presbyterian church was held yesterday afternoon. There was a business meeting at 3.30 o'clock which was followed by a luncheon.

In the rating of efficiency of the National Guard published on Monday the Fifth regiment is at the foot with a percentage of 92.35. The sixteenth regiment leads with a total of over 98 per cent. The rating is one of the best, if not the best, showing by the Guard since its organization.

The young men and women of Bellefonte who will assist the Elks Charity club in presenting "The County Fair" in the opera house on December 3rd and 4th, are requested to bear in mind the fact that the next full rehearsal will be held on Monday evening, November 29th, and all are urged to attend.

While working at the new High school house the latter part of last week, James Cornely fell off of a ladder and sustained a number of bad cuts and bruises on his face and body. He was working for Col. H. S. Taylor on the installation of the heating and ventilation system when the accident occurred.

At the closing session of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, in Harrisburg last week, Mrs. G. G. Pond, of State College, was elected a member of the executive committee and Mrs. Edwin Erie Sparks was elected a delegate to the National Federation which will meet in Cincinnati, Ohio, next May.

Mr. William P. Hanes calls attention in this issue to some very desirable building lots in Bellefonte that he will sell. They are located on east High and east Bishop streets and might prove an opportunity for some of you people who have been thinking of building a home of your own to make a beginning.

ON THE HUNT FOR DEER.—The deer season opened on Monday under most unfavorable circumstances, so far as weather conditions were concerned, and at this writing there is no information at hand as to how many, if any deer were killed in the mountains of Centre county or by Centre county hunters. But that is only one side of the deer hunting question.

If the reader were to be asked how many Centre countians are out on the trail this year, and how many hunters from other parts of the State were roaming the mountains in this county in quest of deer, it is very improbable that he would guess anywhere near the number. As a matter of fact the number can safely be estimated at from four to five hundred men. There are at least twenty-five hunting clubs in Centre county with a membership of from eight to twelve each. Counted on an average of ten that would mean two hundred and fifty hunters. And this number is very little more than half the throng. Parties from Philadelphia, Reading, Harrisburg, Schuylkill Haven, Pittsburg, Indiana, Patton, Clearfield and other places, from six to fifteen strong, were either in the county for the opening day or got here on Monday.

Hence with such an army of hunters it is not to be wondered at that there is grave danger of somebody getting shot, especially when there is always bound to be among such a vast crowd a few fools who shoot before they look, as well as some of the didn't-know-it-was-loaded kind. But this is a risk all recognize and take, counting it all as nothing to the zest of the chase and the possibility of bringing home the carcass of one of the fleet-footed kings of the forest, with a pair of antlers that would amply repay the lucky shot for all the risks run and hardships endured. And, if the deer are at all plentiful in the mountains, or only on an average as compared with former years, the kill in Centre county this year should equal last, as it will be hard for a deer to escape once it is driven from cover.

Inasmuch as most of the hunting camps are located miles from any post of communication it is impossible to give even a guess at the number killed up to this time, but so far as known the list is as follows: Harris Hugg, of Philadelphia, was the lucky member of one of the hunting parties from that place, having the good fortune to shoot a five pronged buck, which weighed over one hundred and fifty pounds, the first day.

The members of the State College gun club secured a big bear in Hubler's gap on Monday, but so far as known at this writing have no deer.

On the mountains in the neighborhood of Loganton three deer have so far been killed, but they were all secured by hunters from a distance. The carcass of a large doe was found in Diamond valley, near Tyrone, on Tuesday. The animal had evidently been shot in mistake for a buck by some hunter and when he discovered his mistake, of course, did not claim the lead animal.

Positive information was received here yesterday morning that the Panthers, the Bellefonte hunting club, had one big buck hanging up at their camp at Big Run, thirteen miles north of Hayes Run. The deer was shot by John Kuisely, the first he ever killed and naturally he is feeling big over it.

Reports from all of the Snow Shoe crowds have not yet been received.

James Uzzle, of Snow Shoe, got one deer on the Big Sandy; Lawrence Redding shot a 250 pound bear on Pine Run; the Woodward hunters got a deer in the Narrows; the Greenbriar party got one in Poe valley; the Modocs, of Boalsburg, have one in their camp at the Bear Meadows, and one of the Regulars of Potters Mills, got one on the Seven mountains, near Pat. Gherity's. William Leach, with the Riley party, got a big bear at the Bear Meadows. G. M. Cooney, of Colyer, went out alone the first day of the season and brought in a five pronged buck which dressed 215 lbs. He also got a pheasant and four gray squirrels.

Lewis Leigey, a watcher on the lands of the Spruce Run Rod and Gun club, has succeeded in trapping eight bears so far this season, a record not equalled by any other hunter in this part of the State.

DEER KILLED BY TRAIN.—Last Friday morning as the passenger train west on the New York Central railroad was speeding through the mountains in the neighborhood of Panther Run a spike buck jumped out of the woods directly in front of the locomotive with the result that it was struck and killed outright. The train was stopped and the carcass of the dead deer put aboard and taken to Clarence where it was turned over to a game warden. The animal was dressed and the warden decided that the venison should be turned over to some charitable institution and suggested sending it to the Lock Haven hospital but as the deer was killed within the boundaries of Centre county Constable Haynes maintained that the proper place to send it was the Bellefonte hospital, the deer being brought in on the Snow Shoe train Friday evening and taken out to the hospital. A rumor was circulated that the deer was wounded when struck by the train but the statement has not been verified.

HUNTING ACCIDENTS.—A. T. Boggs, postmaster at Milesburg, went out last Saturday as a member of a party of hunters from Philadelphia who are in camp in the Scotch region near Hayes Run. On the first drive Monday morning Mr. Boggs climbed a tree in order to afford him a better watch of the crossing on which he was placed. The next man to him was Harris Hogg, of Philadelphia, and on the first drive a nice five pronged buck was chased out to him which he shot and wounded. In his anxiety to get down and assist in the final capture of the deer Mr. Boggs was hurriedly descending the tree when his hold slipped and he fell to the ground. His collar bone and one wrist were broken and he sustained a number of bad bruises. He was taken to Hayes Run and from there sent to the Cottage hospital, Philadelphia, where his injuries were attended to after which he was sent to his home at Milesburg. The deer fell dead after running a short distance.

Willard W. Wilson, of Lock Haven, was accidentally shot and killed by Robert Peters, a colored man, while hunting in the neighborhood of the Otzinaschson game preserve on Monday afternoon.

The Thanksgiving market to be held by the women of the Reformed church, will be opened in Petriken hall, Tuesday of Thanksgiving week, and continued until Wednesday evening. Bread, cakes, pies, fruit, chickens, etc., will be offered for sale. There will also be an apron contest.

On Tuesday morning John Hayes, the young son of Dr. and Mrs. R. G. H. Hayes undertook to crank his father's automobile when the motor "back kicked" on him breaking his right arm. He was taken to his father's office on Spring street and the fracture reduced and at noon was taken home where he has since been resting as comfortably as possible.

The new building of the Pennsylvania Match company is up and almost under roof so that it will only be a short time until it will be ready to put in use when the company anticipates increasing their equipment of machinery so as to increase the capacity of their plant at least one-half. This naturally will necessitate the employment of an additional number of girls.

On Wednesday evening the members and friends of St. John's Reformed church gave an informal reception to Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt, D. D., and wife in commemoration of the eighth anniversary of the pastor's ministry in Bellefonte, and the twentieth anniversary of his ordination to the christian ministry. The reception was held in the chapel and it proved a very pleasant gathering.

Upwards of forty State College students attended the reception given by Father O'Haulon in the Knights of Columbus rooms on Wednesday evening. A large number of well known Bellefonte ladies acted as hostesses and following the reception a dance was given. Christy Smith's orchestra furnished the music and delicious refreshments were served by the ladies of the Catholic church.

The State College football team demonstrated their strength on Saturday when they defeated the reputed strong University of West Virginia team by the score of 40 to 0. The visitors, in fact, were hardly good practice for State, as the latter went through them and around them almost at will. State will not play tomorrow but will devote all her time to getting in trim for the Thanksgiving day game with the University of Pittsburgh.

When the list of grand jurors drawn for the regular term of December court was published in last week's WATCHMAN it was not definitely known whether they would be summoned to appear or notified not to, as was the case with the traverse jurors. This week, however, the court instructed the sheriff to summon the grand jury to meet in Bellefonte on Monday, December 6th, at which time they will make regular inquiry into the cases laid before them by the district attorney. All Commonwealth cases that can be disposed of without a jury trial will be acted upon while those necessitating a trial will have to hold over until the February term of court.

Rev. Demetrius Elias Constantinioussis Visbanoff M. D., of Thessalonica, Macedonia, who was the first convert from the Greek church to the Protestant faith of a noble family, and because of his conversion, his father, a very wealthy Macedonian nobleman and a close adherent of the Greek church, not only disinherited him but threatened to kill him so that he was obliged to flee the country to save his life, will speak in the United Brethren church on Friday evening, November 19th. Dr. Visbanoff will relate the story of his conversion, persecution and the sacrifice he has been obliged to make, because of his religious belief. He will appear in his nobleman's costume, will sing in Macedonian and Bulgarian languages, and will also exhibit some Macedonian and Bulgarian curiosities after his address.

In his management of the Scenic T. Clayton Brown does everything possible to give the people of Bellefonte everything worth seeing in the motion picture line, and if those attend fail to see them, it must be because of the big hats in front; as notwithstanding the oft-repeated and courteous requests for "ladies to please remove their hats," there are still some who ignore the request. Manager Brown, however, looks after the welfare of all and personally makes it his business to get the hate out of the way so that patrons of the Scenic can see the moving pictures on the canvass instead of a motion picture hat with a big feather trailing over the brim. Monday evening's extra attraction of a picture of one of the world's series baseball games brought out an immense crowd and this was only on a par with some other big features he will have in the near future. Miss Norton is more than pleasing the people with her delightful singing, which is an equal attraction to the splendid pictures.

THANKSGIVING DAY FOOTBALL GAME.

The Bellefonte Academy football management have arranged for a game here on Thanksgiving day with the strong Osgood eleven of Altoona. It has been some years since the people of Bellefonte have had the opportunity of witnessing a football contest in this place on Thanksgiving day and the Academy people will this year introduce the innovation. If the game is adequately patronized the Academy people will make it an annual event. The game next Thursday will not only be a very interesting athletic contest but it will doubtless be a society event in Bellefonte, as Thanksgiving day games are elsewhere. The new City band has been engaged to furnish the music and it ought to be a gala time.

As to the teams, the Academy eleven has been defeated but once this season and is unquestionably the strongest team by big odds the Academy ever had. The Osgood team is composed of players who have graduated from preparatory schools and colleges, some of them practically semi-professional, so that they are undeniably a strong aggregation and the game cannot help but be a good one. Both teams play the same kind of football played in the leading colleges.

Game will be called promptly at two o'clock p. m., and must be over by four o'clock, so that it will not interfere in any way with your Thanksgiving day dinner, whether you have it early or late. The price of admission will be but 25 cents, and everybody is asked to take the money with them and not try to see the game for nothing.

RE-ARRESTED IN PENITENTIARY AS TERM EXPIRES.—Three and a half years ago Frank Harris was given a five year sentence in the penitentiary by Judge Orville for horse stealing. Through good behavior the sentence was out down to three and a half years and Harris' time was up on Monday. For months past he had been looking forward to his release and a week ago had everything packed and ready to leave, he intending to go to the State of Indiana and make a new start.

At eight o'clock Monday morning Harris was taken out into the rotunda of the penitentiary by an officer and the first man he saw was deputy sheriff Ed Kneeb, of Cambria county, who had a warrant for Harris' re-arrest on the charge of horse stealing preferred by Louis von Lunen, of Johnstown. "Well, for Gods sake; up against it, up against it!" wailed Harris and broke down completely. He was taken to Ebensburg the same afternoon and lodged in jail. Four trained white rats he had in the penitentiary he gave to deputy sheriff Kneeb, of Ebensburg.

THE COUNTY FAIR.—The local talent entertainment, the "Centre County Fair," to be given in the opera house Friday and Saturday evenings, December 3rd and 4th, under the auspices of the Elks Charity club, will be one of the finest and most interesting entertainments ever given in Bellefonte, according to the arrangements now under way. It will be a real county fair, with pumpkins, potatoes and cabbage on display and real boyie races, horse races and pig races. There will be lots of fakirs with gold bricks and side shows. A real wild man and a fat lady. Jake Spruce and his wife will be there as well as Parson Briggs. Furniture dealer F. E. Naginny has offered a plush parlor suit to any couple in Centre county willing to be married at the fair. Advertisements have been sent to all the neighboring towns and there is every indication that large crowds will be in attendance each evening. Don't fail to be there yourself and see that all your friends attend.

COMEDY AND DRAMA NEXT WEEK.—The Price and Butler company, a repertoire attraction worthy of more than ordinary consideration, will open a week's engagement at the Garman opera house beginning Monday, November 22nd. This season their repertoire is composed of entirely new plays, many of which have enjoyed metropolitan success, and the management has spared no effort to duplicate to worth the original production. On Monday they will produce for the first time in this city the comedy drama entitled, "A Neglected Wife." High class vaudeville will be introduced between acts. Monday night ladies will be admitted for 15 cents. Tickets must be reserved before 6 p. m. Special matinees Thursday and Saturday. Popular prices 10, 20 and 30 cts.

YEAGER SWING COMPANY ORGANIZED.—The new Yeager Swing company was finally organized last Friday by the election of the following officers: President, A. R. McNitt; secretary, Don S. Potter; treasurer, Frank Crawford; general manager, Claude Cook. The above gentlemen and E. M. Hoyett, of Centre Hall, and P. P. Griffin, of Lock Haven, will constitute the board of directors. The new company will start out with a cash capital of ten thousand dollars and it is their intention to put the plant in full operation as soon as possible, and to that end work has already been commenced in putting the machinery, etc., in good shape.

NEW POOL AND BILLIARD ROOM FOR BELLEFONTE.—On Tuesday M. C. Gephart, the music dealer, moved his stock of musical instruments, etc., from the room he has occupied for several years in the Aiken block on south Allegheny street, into the room next Sheffer's grocery store occupied by G. Willard Hall as a graphophone store. Harry Otto and Harry Stevenson have leased the room vacated by Mr. Gephart and, taking possession on December first, they will open up therein an up-to-date pool and billiard parlor and cigar store.

BANQUETTED EMPLOYEES.—About a month ago the officials of the American Lime and Stone company announced that they would give a banquet to the employees at their various plants in this section who turned out the most lime in one month. The time limit expired two weeks ago and the fortunate employees were the crew at plant No. 13.

In compliance with the company's offer the banquet was given in the lecture room of the M. E. church last Thursday evening and was served by members of the Epworth League. About one hundred employees and guests were present. Following the repast speeches were made by general manager A. A. Stevens, Sydney A. Keefe, Rev. C. S. Shuey and others. The talk of Mr. Stevens was especially interesting inasmuch as he not only commended the men for the faithful performance of their duties in this place but made it clear to them that the sense of obligation between employer and employee was as great on one side as on the other. In concluding he presented crew thirteen with ten dollars to be divided between them and further stated that while this was the first banquet of its kind others would follow.

Mr. A. G. Morris, president of the company was unable to be present on account of being compelled to attend a meeting of the board of managers of the Huntingdon reformatory. Naturally the banquetted employees greatly appreciated this act on the part of the lime company officials, not alone because of the good time they had, but because it showed that all corporations are not soul-less to the endeavors of their employees to give them good service.

Late Saturday afternoon W. A. Lyon's hostler was driving up the state road in the butcher wagon when Boyd Scholl, who works at the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania round house, accosted him and asked if he could ride to town. Permission being given the young man jumped in the rear end of the wagon and in walking forward to get on the seat lost his balance and fell out of the wagon head first. He hit on a sharp stone, knocking him unconscious and cutting quite a gash on his head. It was five minutes before he regained consciousness when he was brought up town and had his injury dressed and, fortunately, has suffered no further ill effects.

Edmund Hayes and Malcolm Mitchell gave a little dinner on Monday evening to the guests here for the Rath-Orider wedding after which there was a dance in the hall in the public building which was attended by about twenty-five couple.
