--- William W. Waddle has severed his connection as secretary with the Bellefonte Furnace company and Nittany Iron company and Linn S. Blackford is temporarily filling the position. Mr. Waddle was with the Nittany Iron company quite a term of years and was a very competent official and bookkeeper.

-At their Country Store and social or Thanksgiving day the ladies of the Lutheran church of Pleasant Gap realized the song sum of $234.33, of which amount about $200 will be clear after all expenses are paid. The Whiterook Quarries treated all their employees, eighty-eight in number to a dinner at the company's expense.

-- William T. Kelly has been appointed acting freight agent at the Bellefonte station of the Pennsylvania railroad to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late John I. Potter until his successor is appointed. Mr. Kelly's friends are urging his permanent appointment to the position and he would unquestionably make a good man for the place.

---On Wednesday evening of last week William Weller, of Tyrone, fireman on the evening passenger train, had his right knee hurt and was brought to the Bellefonte hospital for treatment. The train had stopped at Snow Shoe Intersection for water and Weller was holding the pipe filling the tank when the large iron cap which covers the hole in the tank fell and struck bim on Several big leaks have been uncovered and it has been found that the wooden covering of the iron pipes is very much decayed. They are very nobby and attractive and when Jim Miller done his he will certainly attract attention.

-On Wednesday Edward Thompson vacated the room in the Crider stone building next the First National bank, which he has occupied the past year as a shoe shining establishment, and moved into the room in the rear of Nighthart's barber shop. The room vacated by Thompson will be occupied by Harry Macker, as his green grocery and produce trade has outgrown his [present quarters in the corner room of the same building.

STATE COLLEGE STUDENT DIES VERY SUDDENLY.-K. H. Held, a Sophomore at The Pennsylvania State College, died quite suddenly in his room in the main building on Monday morning. He was less than a month over nineteen years old and apparently a strong, bearty young man, though of late he had been more or less troubled with indigestion. He was partly paying his way through college by waiting on table and Monday morning he did his work as usual and ate his breakfast.

Shortly after he had gone to his room in the main bulding he was seized with a spell of vomiting and suddenly grew so sick that his roommates became alarmed and while one ran for a physician two others did all possible to relieve him but he died before the doctor arrived. His father, man paper at Erie, was notified that his

In the meantime coroner P. S. Fisher had been notified and after empanelling a jury on Monday afternoon the inquest was adjourned until after the arrival of Mr. Held on Tuesday when an autopsy was held. The autopsy revealed the fact that the young man was very badly affected with tuberculosis of the bowels and kidneys and that the direct cause of death was acute indigestion, superinduced by his tubercular condition.

Memorial services over the remains were held by the class in the auditorium late Tuesday afternoon after which the body under escort of a delegation of classmates was brought to Bellefonte over the Bellefonte Central railroad and taken on the 8.16 train on the Bald Eagle valley to his late home in Erie, where funeral services were held and burial made Wednesday afternoon.

KEPHART .- In the death of Caleb H. Kephart, at his home neal Filmore on Monday night Centre county loses a descendant of one of its most prominent pioneer families and a man well known and highly respected throughout this community. His death was merely the result of a general wearing out of the system. He went to bed on Monday night in apparently good health and was found dead in his bed on Tuesday morning.

He was a grandson of Gen. Philip Benner, who was so prominently connected with the early history of Centre county, and was born at Rock on the 9th of Feb. ruary, 1824, hence was 85 years, 9 months and 21 days old. When but nine years of age his parents and family moved to Filmore and engaged in farming and with the exception of one year, spent at State College, that had been his home ever since He followed farming all his life and was not only successful in his chosen avocation but was quite a factor in the life of the community in which he lived. And when you are making up your list of newspapers remember there are none in the county better advertising mediums than the WATCHMAN. It always brings results. > not already been commenced and the publie caunot see the road being graded and ties and rails put down, cousiderable skepticism prevails as to the building of the State College. But the public should bear in mind the fact that railroads are not about as much time to get things in shape to start work as it does to build the road after operations are once started. And the as fast as they can. They are working on ecuring the necessary rights of way for the line, one of the most important things to this they are meeting with good snocess. Every farmer and property owner along the proposed route of the road manifests an inerest in having it built and are about as enient in their concessions of a right of way through their premises as can be. So the public don't want to get nervous or skeptical. Give the projectors time to consummate their plans and then, if they fail to build the road, will be time enough to scoff at the proposition.

day, Thanksgiving day, and Centre county won more honors this year than ever before. In their final game State College defeated the University of Pittsburg on their home grounds by the score of 5 to 0. This victory gave State a clean record for the season, not having been defeated once. Two tie games were played, with the Carlisle Indians and the University of Pennsylvania, but in both contests State outplayed her opponents. So remarkable was the playing of captain Larry Vorhis that many football experts are already picking him for the All-American team. But State was not the only Centre county aggregation that made a good showing, as the Bellefonte Academy team is also entitled to considerable credit. During the entire season they were defeated but twice and in their last game on Thanksgiving they simply overwhelmed the Osgood Athletic olub team of Altoons, a bunch of semi-professionals, by the score of 24 to 0, in one of the prettiest and cleanest games ever seen in Bellefonte. So that Bellefonte. State College and Centre county have reason to feel proud of the achievements of --- The new High school building is every week showing more of a finished appearance. The slaters have about completed the roof on the building, the large columns at the main entrance have been concreted and the ionic caps put in place. Carpenters are fitting and putting in the windows in order to make the building more comfortable to work in in cold weather while others are putting up the studding for the partitions in the large rooms. The plasterers are also at work putting lath on those rooms already in shape while the people who have the contracts for the plumbing, the heating and ventilation and the artificial lighting are also rushing their work as fast as possible. While it is yet a little early to speak of it, the suggestion may not be unimely at that. There is no doubt that the new building when completed will be one of the lbest buildings in Bellefonte and probably the best school building in this part of the State, and when it is all done it very appropriate, for the school board to building. Invite educators from all over he State to come here and see the proand make a two days fest of it. Or better ing that time.
