THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY

Centre county license court will be held next Saturday, December 18th. Mrs. Ellen Eckley is critically ill with pneumonia at her home above Coleville. Ralph Moerschbacher and Joe Thal on Monday succeeded in bagging twenty rabbits. Mrs. W. A. Lyon entertained Wednesday with dinner at five o'clock followed by cards. Miss Longwell will open her Christmas bazaar December 13th at No. 110 north Spring street. Mrs. Francis H. Thomas and her two daughters entertained with cards Thursday night. The county commissioners have appointed John B. Harris, of Walker township, mercantile appraiser for 1910. Kneisely and Rhoads are now at work on a good sized contract of concrete work for the Bellefonte furnace company. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Somerville are the happy parents of a nice little girl baby, who came to their home in Winburne on Tuesday. Morris Bogle, who was in a Philadelphia hospital a month or more undergoing treatment, has returned home and looks exceedingly well. After being honed up most of last week with a case of tonsillitis Miss Marvin, head milliner for Joseph Bros. & Co., is able to be at work again. Mrs. D. H. Hastings has placed an order for a 1910 model E-M-F touring car, to be delivered in Bellefonte next May when she returns from Harrisburg. The rear addition of the First National bank in this place is now up and it will not be long until it will be completed and opened for the use of its patrons. Miss Jeanette Cooke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Cooke, entertained fifteen of her young friends on Monday afternoon in celebration of her birthday anniversary. The board of directors of both the Bald Eagle and Nittany telephone companies have declared a semi-annual dividend of three per cent, the former payable January 1st and the latter February 1st, 1910. Maurice A. Rankie, who for some years past has been clerking in a drugstore at Coatesville, recently resigned his position there and has gone to Altoona as head prescription clerk in Kautner's large drugstore. The Bellefonte lodge of Elks gave a dance in Bush Arcade hall last evening for the special entertainment of all those who assisted them in their entertainment, "The County Fair," last Friday and Saturday evenings. The Pennsylvania State College and the Bellefonte Academy will both close for their holiday vacation of three weeks next Friday, and all of the students of both institutions will go to their various homes for the Christmas festivities. In order to facilitate the handling of their immense freight traffic to and from this place the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania has rented a locomotive from the Pennsylvania railroad company to be used as a shifter in the furnace yards. On Monday evening about thirty people attended the missionary layman's meeting held in the Reformed church and last evening quite a large crowd attended a similar meeting in the Methodist church, which was preceded by a supper. While hooding hogs at his father's butchery yesterday Leslie Harper was badly lacerated in the face and about the eyes by the premature explosion of a cartridge. It is feared his eyesight may be impaired if not entirely destroyed. In the list of four hundred and eighty-four young women granted registration by the state board of examiners registered nurses in the name of Miss Margaret C. Garner, a graduate of the Bellefonte hospital training school for nurses. In attempting to jump from a train going at a speed of twenty miles an hour, Irvin Milton, of Beech Creek, telegraph operator at Panther Run, on the Beech Creek railroad, was thrown from the train and seriously, though not fatally, injured. J. A. B. Miller Esq., who has been undergoing treatment in a private hospital in Pittsburgh the past month, has practically recovered his former good health and expects to return to Bellefonte early next week and resume the practice of law at his old stand. This kind of weather makes the coal dealers smile but it is like sour grapes to the laboring man who has to pay the bills out of his meagre $1.25 per day and keep even on the other necessities of life. The only consolation he may have is that he can now out down his ice bill. The WATCHMAN office is deeply indebted to Mr. William Showers, of Hecla, for a basket of exceptionally choice apples, which he brought in the latter part of last week. Mr. Showers, by the way, is engineer at the plant of the Bellefonte lumber company in this place, and is a very efficient employee.

OF INTEREST TO FISHERMEN.—The semi-annual meeting of the State Board of Fish Commissioners will be held at the Bellefonte fish hatchery next Wednesday, December 15th. At this meeting the annual report of the chief fish warden will be presented and arrangements made for the preparation of the annual report of the commission. On Thursday morning, December 16th, at ten o'clock, fish commissioner W. E. Meehan and four members of the commission, namely: John Hamberger, of Erie; Henry C. Cox, of Wellsboro; Andrew R. Whitaker, of Phoenixville, and W. A. Leisenring, of Mauch Chunk, will hold a meeting at the Bush house to hear testimony of fishermen regarding the status of Penns creek as a trout stream. This action is the result of a dispute among fishermen as to whether any part of Penns creek is inhabited by trout or not, which dispute was referred for settlement to the Fish Commission under the Act of May 1, 1909. The meeting will be open to any person wishing to attend and all parties in any way interested should appear and bear testimony. Under the law any stream inhabited by trout cannot be fished with any device excepting a rod and line, and under a decision of the Attorney General a stream which is inhabited only in part comes under the provisions of the law and it is unlawful to construct therein fish baskets and eel pots, or use gigs, spears or loops for catching fish. Under the above ruling, if it is found that Penns creek in part is inhabited by trout it would be unlawful for the county treasurer to issue licenses for fish baskets, etc., and it is to decide this question that the above meeting will be held and testimony taken. The decision of the commission will be final.

WHAT SUPERLATIVE INTELLIGENCE!—As a sample of the knowledge some newspaper writers have of Bellefonte and its surrounding industries is the following item from the column entitled "In Other Counties" in Monday's Altoona Tribune: Lime burning is said to be becoming more general in the vicinity of Bellefonte where for years its use was almost unknown. The increased favor in which it is held is due to the agitation for its use in farmers' institutes and gatherings. Now whoever heard of anything as preposterous as the above? Lime burning being a thing almost unknown here, when it has been one of our most staple industries for a third of a century and is now the largest industry in this community, at present giving employment to eight hundred men or thereabouts, whose monthly pay roll runs way up in the thousands. And as to its increase being due to the agitation for its use at farmers' institutes and such like gatherings, why not one-half of one per cent of the lime burned here is taken by the farmers. It practically all is shipped to points all over the country, and used for various commercial purposes aside from that of a fertilizing agent. FILLING THE JURY WHEEL.—On Tuesday the jury commissioners, J. Adam Hazel and Clement H. Gramley, began the work of filling the jury wheel for the year 1910. The commissioners are subject to the orders of the court and prior to beginning their work they were instructed by Judge Orvis to put 700 names in the wheel this year instead of 650 as heretofore. This will be done to insure there being enough names from which to secure all the jurors needed for the ensuing year and obviate the necessity of calling talesmen from among the audience in the court room. Another point the court instructed them on was that while they were to be unbiased in the selection of names they were not to put in the name of any postmaster in Centre county; for the reason that it probably wouldn't suit them to be away from their office for several days or a week attending court. Aside from the above all right-thinking and law-abiding citizens are eligible to do jury duty and if you have any desire to serve in that capacity and send your name to the jury commissioners they will give it equal consideration with all others. FIRE BRICK COMPANY ELECTS OFFICERS.—At a meeting of the Hayes Run Fire Brick company held at Orviston last Friday the following directors were present: Judge Ellis L. Orvis, B. F. Brown, W. O. Bentley, Robert H. Furst, John R. Stevenson, Charles R. Kurtz and George R. Thompson. The board elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Ellis L. Orvis; vice president, John R. Stevenson; secretary, W. O. Bentley; treasurer, Ives L. Harvey; general manager, Carroll W. Keller. The roof of the new plant is about completed and nearly all the machinery has been received. In about two weeks the electric light plant outfit will be ready. The big Corliss engine is now being placed in position and the work of putting in the drying floor will proceed as rapidly as possible. Efforts are being made to get the plant in operation by January first. The company has many customers who are anxious for brick and the prospects for a busy time at the Hayes Run plant are very bright. Rev. E. I. Confer, of Millmont, had his foot badly slashed on Tuesday last week by getting it in contact with a planer running at the rate of five thousand revolutions a minute. Rev. Confer's health broke down about a year ago and he was compelled to give up preaching and went to work in a box factory at Millmont. While at work at the planer last week a board caught in the planer and he attempted to kick it out with his foot. Instead his foot was caught by the rapidly revolving knives and badly slashed. The reverend is a native of Bellefonte.

The voters of Benner township at the February election will vote upon the question of whether they will pay a cash road tax or continue to work it out in the same old way. Deputy sheriff James E. Strohm is now able to get around in pretty good shape without the aid of a crutch or cane, although he is considerably reduced in flesh from what he was when he had his leg broken and is not in exactly the right physical condition for a football game or a prize fight. The Garman are this week fixing up the basement under the west wing of the Garman residence on High street into two rooms, the smaller of which will be occupied by L. Torsel as a cobbler's shop and the larger one by an Italian with a green grocery and fruit stand. Doors have been put in where windows formerly were and steps built leading to the street. A large audience attended the annual memorial services of the Bellefonte Lodge of Elks, in Petriken hall last Sunday afternoon. Rev. John Hewitt made the address and it was one of high tribute to the honored dead. He also spoke very earnestly of the Elks as a benevolent and charitable organization and commended their work in this town and community. Most of the stores in Bellefonte have already donned their holiday attire and some really pretty exhibitions are presented to view, but so far very little holiday shopping has been done. An explanation for this may be found in the fact that a good many of the merchants have not advertised their goods and naturally the holiday shopper does not know where to go to be suited. The first real touch of winter the people of Bellefonte and Centre county have had this year came on Tuesday. It began raining between eight and nine o'clock in the morning and the weather was just cold enough that it froze into sleet and ice. About noon-time the rain turned to sleet and snow and just enough of it fell to make walking very hard and disagreeable. Fifty-one lecturers and demonstrators have been engaged for Farmers' Week at State College, which will be held the week of December 27th to January 1st inclusive, following the annual meeting of the State Grange. The program arranged is a very elaborate one and includes about everything in the line of lectures and demonstrations that will be of interest to the farmer. Already the indications are for an unusually large attendance this year, or much bigger than that of last year. J. Will Mayes, the marble and tombstone man, of Howard, has just erected a monument in Cedar Hill cemetery, Wednesday evening, December 15th. The play is from the pen of Clyde Fitch and has its credit all season run at Daly's theatre, New York. To create laughs was the intention of the playwright and in this he has been most successful. For the love of a woman later, for the man later, for young and old, in "Girls," and then again it contains a pretty love story so cleverly interwoven as to make it not only a play for those who seek the lighter form of entertainment, but one that appeals to the more serious minded. Taken as a whole "Girls" is credited with being one of the most entertaining productions of the season. Prices from 25 cents to $1.50. KLINE'S SHOE STORE CLOSED.—Ex-shepherd Henry Kline has given up the shoe business in Bellefonte. For some time past it was manifest to him that the business would not pay, as the most of the large stock of goods purchased for the fall and winter trade was still on his hands. Under such adverse conditions he decided that the best thing for him to do was to close his store himself and not wait for the sheriff to do it. By an amicable agreement the manufacturers from whom he purchased his stock will take it all back at the regular cost price so that Mr. Kline will be able to meet every obligation and retire from the business with very little loss. Just what he and his head clerk, James Corl, will do in the future has not yet been decided upon, so far as known. THE PHARSONIANS AT STATE COLLEGE.—The Pharsonians of the Pennsylvania State College will give their annual minstrel entertainment in the auditorium at that place on Monday evening, December 13th. It is claimed by those who have reviewed the rehearsals that the Pharsonians are unusually good this year. The second part is devoted almost entirely to typical college stunts, included in which is a very realistic hazing bee. One of the features of the olio is a snappy little skit entitled "Cook and Peary at the North Pole," which is reputed to be quite catchy. An unusual local interest is attached to this feature because it was written by Edmund Joseph, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Joseph, of this place, who is only in his first year at the college. COUNTIES ENTITLED TO SCHOLARSHIPS.—Five Freshmen scholarships are awarded each year by the Pennsylvania State College to the five counties of the State showing the highest ratio of students attending the college to the population of the county. Beginning September, 1910, the following counties will be entitled to one scholarship each: Centre, Dauphin, Franklin, Lycoming and Wyoming. The board of award in each county will be made up of the principals of the High schools with the county superintendent of schools as chairman. Due notice will be given of the competitive examination in which the appointment will be determined.

ROAD SUPERVISOR'S MEETING.—Thirteen road supervisors of Centre county, which included the officers and executive committee as well as a few others, attended a meeting of the Road Supervisors association held in the office of J. A. B. Miller last Saturday morning. The sub-committee which had in charge the preparation of a constitution and by-laws submitted its report and with a few changes it was accepted and both adopted as the governing power of the organization. The article on membership provides that all road supervisors are eligible and may become members if they wish to do so. No membership fee is required from active members and there is no provision for annual dues. Persons who are not road supervisors can become honorary members and from them any voluntary contribution they see fit to make will be accepted by the treasurer of the association for the purpose of covering any expense they may have. After the meeting the supervisors were entertained at dinner at the Brookerhoff house by the Bellefonte Motor club. It had been planned to give the supervisors an automobile ride but as most of the visitors left Bellefonte on the early afternoon train this part was dispensed with. The next meeting of the association will be held in this place on the second Saturday in March, 1910. THE HOLY CITY.—Mr. Clarence Bennett, the author, will appear here in "The Holy City," playing the dual roles of John and Judas, supported by Pauline Hario, as the Princess Salome. This well known production will be at the opera house next Tuesday evening, December 14th. The play of course, deals with sacred objects and subjects, the author having taken for his theme the thrilling story of John the Baptist, in which role he will appear, and the incidents of the Bible story just previous to and immediately following the crucifixion. The tragedy of Calvary is shown by a tableau after the famous painting by the Michael Angelo and is said to be one of the most striking and at the same time one of the most magnificent of stage pictures. The character of the Saviour is not in any way drawn into the play but many of those associated with Him while on earth are shown with a fidelity to the best conceptions of their characters and appearance, and the result is a play that is at all times absorbing in interest and elevating in its teachings. Clarence Bennett has provided a scenic equipment that has rarely, if ever been equalled and the costuming is said to be really magnificent. The Dance of Salome will be an added feature. Prices, 25 to 75 cents. "GIRLS" WILL BE HERE.—"Girls," under the management of the Shuberts, will be the offering at the opera house, Wednesday evening, December 15th. The play is from the pen of Clyde Fitch and has its credit all season run at Daly's theatre, New York. To create laughs was the intention of the playwright and in this he has been most successful. For the love of a woman later, for the man later, for young and old, in "Girls," and then again it contains a pretty love story so cleverly interwoven as to make it not only a play for those who seek the lighter form of entertainment, but one that appeals to the more serious minded. On Tuesday morning the mourners attending a burial in the Phillipsburg cemetery received quite a shock when they discovered the dead body of a man lying across a grave. An investigation disclosed the fact that it was a case of premeditated suicide. The man was Samuel Flickinger, a butcher by trade, and the grave he was lying on was that of his wife who died about six years ago. The revolver with which he shot himself was still tightly clasped in the man's right hand. News Parly Personal Mrs. Ross has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. Charles Morris. John L. They expect to make quite a stay there while Mr. Curtin recovers from his recent incipient attack of pneumonia. Mortimer O'Donoghue, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday with friends in Bellefonte. He manages to get back here about twice a year in order to keep alive the friendships formed when he was connected with the Centre Iron company twelve or fifteen years ago. James Garner, of Hubersburg, braved the very inclement and wintry like weather Tuesday to come to Bellefonte on a little matter of business and while in town was a caller at the WATCHMAN office. And he was not finding fault with the weather, either, but only hoping it would rain enough to raise the waters all over the country. Dr. Samuel H. Gilliland, of Lancaster, the new state veterinarian appointed to succeed the late Dr. Leonard Pearson, spent the most of last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gilliland, at Oak Hall. His new honors, by the way, sit very lightly on the doctor's shoulders as he is a man entirely qualified to fill the position. Thomas B. Nolan, of Washington, D. C., was in Bellefonte a day or two in the beginning of the week while on his way to Pittsburg, and took time to favor the WATCHMAN office with a call. In a liberal discount is made to persons advertising by the quarter, half year, or year, as follows:

ISHLER-HESS.—A well known Bellefonte young man figured quite prominently in a rather pretentious home wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Hess, of Homestead, last Thursday, when their daughter, Miss Charlotte Hess was united in marriage to Orin A. Ishler, a son of ex-sheriff and Mrs. William Ishler, of this place. The ceremony, which took place at eight o'clock in the evening, was performed by Rev. Thomas D. Edgar, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The beautiful and impressive ring service was used. The attendants were Miss Eva Miller as bridesmaid, and Harrison Whippo as best man. The bride wore a gown of white satin with a tulle veil fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Following the ceremony a wedding supper and reception was tendered the young couple after which they left on a wedding trip, coming to Bellefonte on Saturday and remaining until Wednesday at the Ishler home on High street. The bride is quite a talented young woman and is quite popular in her home town. The bridegroom is a graduate of State College and now holds the position of signal superintendent for the Pennsylvania railroad company at Trenton, N. J., where they will go to housekeeping in their own already furnished home. Among the guests at the wedding were Miss Alice Ishler and Miss Verna Smith, of this place. THE ELKS' COUNTY FAIR ENTERTAINMENT.—From their two night's entertainment, "The County Fair," given by the Elks Charity club in the opera house last Friday and Saturday evenings, that organization realized over two hundred dollars for charitable purposes. The house was filled both evenings and the gross receipts were $406. The cast was composed entirely of local people with the exception of Miss Book, under whose direction the entertainment was given, and while there was very little in the plot everybody carried out the part assigned him or her in a realistic way. The musical and dancing specialties interpolated were probably the most taking features of the entertainment. The Teddy Bear chorus of upwards of one hundred little girls and led by Geraldine Noonan greeted the audience at the rise of the curtain and the little Misses received their full share of applause, as did the ten little couples who sang the "Be Sweet to Me" chorus as the second specialty. These were led by Anne Shaughnessy. The other soloists of the evening were Misses Louise Maitland and Julia Cortin, H. B. Armstrong, Harold Foster, Lloyd Tyson and Mr. Beatty, of State College. The various choruses were composed entirely of Bellefonte young women, handsomely gowned and all of whom took their parts with the grace and ease of regular actresses. WOODMEN ELLECT OFFICERS.—At a regular meeting of the Bellefonte Camp, No. 5922, Modern Woodmen of America, on Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Past venerable consul, George T. Bush; venerable consul, William B. Lyon; worthy advisor, John C. Rumberger; banker, A. C. Mingle; clerk, J. Kennedy Johnston; escort, Andrew B. Young; sentry and watchman, John Fatkin; physician, Dr. M. J. Locke; managers, Edward O. Struble, George T. Bush and Milton R. Johnson. The Bellefonte camp has been in existence ten years and has not had a death in its ranks. During that time they have collected in membership fees, dues, etc., over eleven thousand dollars, most of which has been paid out in the way of donations for the assistance of members who have been sick, for annual banquets, officers salaries, etc.
