—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Leary are mourning the death of their four days old infant daughter, who died on Monday.

—During the past week a little daughter made her arrival in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sasserman.

—Mrs. Clark, housekeeper at the Brockerhoff house, has been confined to her room with illness the past few days.

—Miss Ella Levy and Charles Auman, both teachers in the Bellefonte High school, were sick and off duty most of last week.

—Miss Bertha Sourbeck, who has been ill for some time at the home of her parents on Bishop street, is slowly growing better.

—J. Harris Hoy won first prize at Tuesday night's meeting of the bridge party at the Bellefonte club, and Henry C. Quigley second.

—Mrs. Wm. P. Knecht will celebrate her twenty-fifth wedding anniversary at her home at Cedar Springs, on Saturday from eleven o'clock until four.

—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCafferty, who were both confined to the house for over two weeks with the grip, have about recovered and are able to be around again.

—Two sled loads of jolly young people of Unionville came to Bellefonte on Monday evening and were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rumberger, on east Linn street.

—W. R. Gainfort, 108 east Curtin street, begs to announce that his next shorthand class will open on Tuesday evening, February 1st. Those wishing to join will please apply at once. 3-2t*

—Wednesday's North American contained very good pictures of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rumberger, of Unionville, who on December 29th celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

—A new saw mill is being rapidly rebuilt on the site of the old one recently destroyed by fire for J. C. Nason, of Julian, and it will not be long until the whirr of the saw will again be heard at Nason's mills.

—Deputy recorder Walter B. Armstrong was taken suddenly ill with acute indigestion while at work in his office in the court house on Wednesday and had to be removed to his home on Howard street.

—The house on east Lamb street, occupied by Mrs. Nancy Confer and daughter, will be for rent after April first as they will move into the house owned by Mrs. Florence Jacobs on Penn street.

—W. Harrison Walker Esq., of this place, was named as executor in the will of the late John Long, of near Salona, who died last week leaving an estate estimated at from thirty to forty thousand dollars.

—H. Laird Curtin, of Curtin, who was so seriously ill with pneumonia, was able to be out of bed for the first time on Wednesday. Though it was only for a few moments it was a cheerful event for his friends.

—A. D. Mair has discontinued his moving picture show in Garman's opera house and will give his entire attention to the theatrical business and endeavor to secure a number of good attractions for Bellefonte.

—A number of Bellefonters have been housed up with the grip this week, among them being recorder William H. Brown, Levi Symmonds, janitor at the court house, and Jacob Marks, of Lyon & Co's store.

—James Schofield, the old reliable harness maker, will be at the National hotel, Millheim, on Monday, January 24th, to give prices and take orders for harness. All persons wishing to see him will be politely received.

—The Pittsburg Collegians, an unusually strong basketball team, will play the Bellefonte Academy five in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium this evening. This will without doubt be a very interesting game and a good crowd should be present to witness it.

—The mail and paper train on Sunday was a half hour late owing to a big freight wreck on the middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad in which sixty freight cars were piled up. The Lewisburg and Tyrone train was over an hour late on Monday morning.

—An all day's rain on Tuesday threatened the ruining of the good sleighing and the making of high waters, but fortunately the weather grew colder by evening and the sleighing was not impaired to any extent and the waters did not rise anywhere near the danger mark.

CASH VS. WORK ROAD TAX.—At the last session of the Legislature a bill was passed providing for a cash road tax but also giving residents of any township the privilege of voting on the question of substituting therefore a work tax by securing an order of the court and submitting the question to a vote of the taxpayers of the township. To secure an order of the court requires a petition signed by twenty-five citizens of said township. Four townships in Centre county will this spring vote upon the question of substituting a work tax for a cash tax. They are Benner, Patton, Halfmoon and Howard. Burnside also sent in a petition but it was several days too late, as the law requires that such petition must be filed with the court not less than thirty days prior to the election.

Under the new, or cash tax law, the State will give to the township fifty cents for every dollar assessed and paid by the taxpayers for the improvement of the public roads. Thus: If the road tax assessed and paid in cash, in any one township, aggregates $1,000, the State will pay over to the supervisor of said township the sum of $500, which will mean just that much more to be expended in road building. Under the work tax law, the system which has been generally in vogue for years, which permits every farmer and tax-payer to work out his road tax, the State will not contribute one cent to said township, hence the township in which the road tax assessed amounted to $1,000 would have only work to that amount for the benefit of their roads.

One of the arguments put forth by farmers and others against the cash tax system is that it gives the supervisor supreme control and that, if he saw fit, could import foreign laborers into the township and employ them in building the roads instead of giving the taxpayers the privilege of doing the work. But this argument is rather far-fetched. The average supervisor is a tax-payer and a fair man and he would naturally prefer giving the work to men from whom he received the tax. So that if a farmer paid twenty dollars road tax in cash he would most likely be given work to that amount, and probably more, and would be paid in cash for what he does. And in addition the supervisor would have an extra ten dollars received from the State to pay him or somebody else. At least it would be just that much more toward the building of good roads, and that is one of the leading questions all over the country today.

A PECULIAR MIXUP.—About a week ago Charles Saylor had the Italian who conducts the cobbler's shop in the Bush Arcade arrested on the charge of larceny and the hearing was held before justice of the peace W. H. Musser on Tuesday evening. From the evidence it was shown that for some time past a number of young men have been making the Italian's place of business a place to congregate late at night and do their drinking. Saylor was with the crowd one night and alleges that the next morning his tie pin and some other articles he had with him were missing. Not being able to locate the same he had the Italian arrested. Charley Dan acted as interpreter for the Italian and when he was testifying Saylor took exceptions to some of his statements and emphasized his exceptions with some very forceful language. He was cautioned by justice Musser to keep quiet and, though he promised to do so, he couldn't resist the temptation to let fly one parting statement and Mr. Musser at once instructed constable Montgomery to take him to jail for contempt of court. Inasmuch as there was no evidence to show that the Italian was guilty of larceny he was discharged but required to pay half the costs, which he promptly did. The other half of the costs were put on Saylor.

FRUIT GROWERS ASSOCIATION MEETING.—Members of the Centre County Fruit Growers association should bear in mind that the second meeting of the association will be held at Spring Mills on Saturday of next week, January 29th. There will be two sessions, in the morning and afternoon, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public as well as members to attend. Fruit growing is a science and if the farmers of Pennsylvania would make a more careful study of the most advanced and practical methods of it and then follow it out in practical work, they would find their source of revenue therefrom greatly increased. It is an acknowledged fact that Pennsylvania grows as fine flavored apples as can be grown anywhere in the world and with proper culture and care in marketing they can be made a very remunerative crop.

BADLY INJURED IN FALL.—While working on the dump of the washer at the Scotia ore mines on Tuesday Ross Grove slipped on the ice and fell a distance of over ten feet landing on his back on a piece of lumber. He was rendered unconscious and it was first thought his back was broken, but that was not the case. But his spine was injured to that extent that he is almost totally paralyzed and even should he live the probabilities are he will be a cripple the balance of his life. As Mr. Grove is married and has a family the accident is a most distressing one, and it is hoped it will not prove as serious as is now believed.

—The decorators are now here and at work on the ceiling and walls of the court house. The old finishing coat on the main corridor and the stairways is being removed preparatory to putting on a new coat. In the new building the wiring is being put in place and the whole thing will shortly be ready for the plasterers.

—Among the new advertisements in today's WATCHMAN are those of Sechler & Co., Claster's Underselling Store, advertising more big bargains in shoes and clothing; George M. Clements, the sewing machine man, and the Order of the Moose. In fact it will always pay you to read the WATCHMAN advertising pages closely and carefully.

—Rev. J. A. McSporn, who for a number of years past has served as pastor of the Great Island Presbyterian church in Lock Haven, and who on several occasions preached in Bellefonte, on Sunday preached his farewell sermon and on Monday left for his old home in Canada, much to the regret of his old congregation. He expects to spend several years studying abroad.

—The large barn and ice house of John Milward, at Ocoala Mills, were entirely destroyed by fire on Monday evening. Mr. Milward had just begun to harvest his ice crop so that he had only a small quantity of ice in the house at the time. The entire contents of the barn, however, were destroyed, entailing considerable loss. Both the buildings and contents were partially insured.

—Sunday was the coldest weather of the winter so far. In the morning the thermometer registered from four to twelve degrees below zero and at ten o'clock it was just at zero. It was cold all day and early Sunday night but moderated toward Monday morning. For some time past the weather has been such that the man who is always hankering after an "old time" winter ought to be fully satisfied.

—Inventory sale now on at Potter-Hoy Hardware Co.

—The revival services in the United Brethren church continue with unabated interest. Rev. Winney, though young in the ministry, preaches the divine gospel with a directness that appeals to the hearts of his hearers and the result is manifest in the number of seekers after faith at the altar every evening as well as the great spiritual interest shown by those in attendance. May the good work continue indefinitely.

—Clinton county is now in the peculiar condition of being without a corner. At the election last November Dr. Hal A. Laye, a brother of W. G. Laye, well known in this place, was elected coroner and took charge of the office on January 3rd. This week he closed his office in Lock Haven and moved to Galeton, Potter county, to go into partnership with his father-in-law, Dr. Burd, thus leaving Clinton county without a corner.

—Mr. R. C. Valentine, of Altoona, has been in Bellefonte this week organizing a local Order of the Moose and so far is meeting with a very favorable reception. The Order of the Moose is both fraternal and beneficial and is one of the growing orders in the country today, having a large and constantly increasing membership in this State and all over the country. In order to secure a good list of charter members for the local organization the membership fee has been made phenomenally low, only five dollars. This will be within the reach of all and as the annual dues are not excessive there is no reason why a large lodge should not be organized and instituted.

—January 20th to 29th—Potter-Hoy big inventory sale.

—The movement to secure a new baseball field and athletic grounds for the combined use of the Bellefonte base ball team and the Bellefonte Academy is progressing favorably and it is expected that within the next ten days or two weeks some definite action will be taken. The new grounds, which will be located out Bishop street, will be comprised of eight acres of land, enclosed with a high board fence. It will be large enough for baseball and football fields, tennis court, etc. It is also proposed to erect a grandstand and bleachers and a suitable track house for the use of the players. It is the desire of those interested to get the grounds in shape for use as early in the summer as possible.

—Col. H. S. Taylor now has a large force of men at work installing the heating and ventilating system in the new High school building and it is no small task. The system complete will require the putting in place of about three thousand feet of galvanized iron boxing, over a foot square in size and which will honeycomb the building so that every room will be properly heated and ventilated. It will all be on the thermostat system so that an even temperature can be maintained at all times and a full and free flow of pure, fresh air. The concrete men are still at work putting down the concrete floors and steps but at the rate that branch of the work is progressing it will be a month or six weeks before they complete the job. Plastering has not yet been started on the inside of the building and, until that is done, the carpenters will not be able to go ahead with the finishing wood work.

SALE OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE.—A private sale of household furniture of all kinds, parlor suit, dining room and kitchen furniture, bedroom suits, etc., is now going on at the residence of Mrs. Florence F. Dale, on east Linn street, and will continue until all is disposed of.

ARGUMENT COURT.—At argument court on Monday further evidence was taken in the license case of James W. Runkle, landlord of the Centre Hall hotel, and both the petitioner and the remonstrants were given a further hearing. After hearing the testimony for and against Judge Orvis gave the attorneys interested until yesterday to prepare and file their briefs of argument.

Some time ago the court appointed a commission in lunacy to inquire into the capability of John Todd, of Philipsburg, managing his own estate, and on Monday the commission reported that they found him incapable of so doing and recommended that his brother, Harry W. Todd, his wife, Mrs. Effie Todd, and his son, Walter Todd, be appointed guardians to take charge of the estate which is estimated at about thirty thousand dollars. The court accepted the report and appointed the persons recommended.

Final disposition was made of the case of Mollie Eckley against Flora King and John Fry, for aggravated assault and battery. This case was before two grand juries, the first time the bill being ignored and the costs put on justice of the peace John W. Keichline, by whom the case was returned. Not being satisfied the case was again returned and went before the grand jury. That time the bill was ignored and the costs in both cases put on Mollie Eckley. Judge Orvis on Monday made a decree directing the commissioners to accept Mollie Eckley's note for the amount of costs, which are something over sixty dollars, thus exonerating Mr. Keichline from the payment of any part of them.

—Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. now having big inventory sale.

—During the past few days there has been a persistent rumor around Bellefonte that Henry Kline had bought out J. Mitch Cunningham, of the Haag house, and that the latter was going to take charge of the Brockerhoff house. As to the first part of the rumor, it is true in a measure. Mr. Kline has been negotiating with Mr. Cunningham for the purchase of his interest as landlord of the Haag house but up to this time the deal has not been closed. As to the second part of the rumor, there is no foundation whatever for it. Landlord H. S. Ray has no intention of disposing of his interest as landlord in the Brockerhoff house, and he was never approached by Mr. Cunningham in any such way. His lease on the property runs for a number of years yet and he is very well satisfied to stay where he is.

—The weather this week has not been the most agreeable out of doors but there is just as good entertainment at the Scenic every night as if the weather was the very finest. It is well worth braving a little rain or snow to see the program of pictures manager Brown reels off every evening for the entertainment of his patrons. One never need fear running up against some old picture that has been shown in Bellefonte time and again, as no old pictures are shown at the Scenic. They are all new and up-to-date, and the quality is of a more interesting and elevating character than can be seen anywhere else. If you don't believe this, go and see for yourself.

—January 20th to 29th—Potter-Hoy big inventory sale.

—Mrs. Florence F. Dale has decided to give up housekeeping and make her home permanently at the Bush house, consequently John Blanchard has leased the house she occupied on east Linn street and with his wife will move there April first. Charles E. Dorworth has leased the house now occupied by the Blanchards and will go to housekeeping there while the Misses Hoy will move from Rockview to the small house of Dr. Hayes on the state road. Col. and Mrs. E. R. Chamber, will move into apartments in Petriken hall and Dr. Rodgers will move into the Gardner flat now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Irvin.

—See our line of inventory bargains—Potter-Hoy Hardware Co.

—Next Thursday evening, January 27th, the evening of the Academy football team banquet, the people of Bellefonte will be given an opportunity to hear a brief talk by Congressman Barchfeld, of Pittsburg, who will be the principal guest of honor at the festive board. He will speak in Petriken hall and his subject will be "The Nation's Progress." The meeting will be at 8.15 o'clock and it will be free to all. Congressman Barchfeld is a very learned and able man and a large crowd should turn out to greet him.

—Knisely & Rhoads are well along with their work of putting down the concrete floor in the new building of the Hayes Run Fire Brick company at Orviston and will probably complete the work within a fortnight. In the drying department the floor is inlaid with a network of steam pipes which will give it far greater drying capacity than the old one. The new building is fast nearing completion and it is expected that it will be equipped and in shape to resume operations quite early in the spring.

McDowell, who is growing to like Howard so well that he rarely comes to Bellefonte any more, was in town last evening between trains, looking well as usual, though we were extremely sorry to learn that his son, who has been stricken with rheumatism for over a year, is little if any improved.

GILLILAND-STUART.—Quite a pretentious and pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Stuart, at State College, on Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Miss Margaret J. Stuart, was united in marriage to Ray D. Gilliland, of Ridgway. The Stuart house was very prettily decorated for the occasion, the prevailing colors being pink and green and quite a large number of guests were present to witness the happy nuptials.

The ceremony took place at eight o'clock and was performed by Rev. Samuel A. Martin, of the Presbyterian church, the beautiful and impressive ring service being used. The attendants were Mrs. Davis, Robinson, III, as matron of honor; Miss Eva Miller, of State College, as maid of honor; Miss Nellie Cole, of Newport, and Miss Isabel Montgomery, of Muncy, bridesmaids. The bride and matron of honor wore lace robes over white muslin, and the maid of honor and bridesmaids wore gowns of pink messaline. Harry Houck, of Indiana, was best man and the ushers were Messrs. Kiss and Moorehead, of Indiana; Guy Jacobs, of Centre Hall; Murray Gilliland, of Snow Shoe, and Mr. Gilliland, of Philadelphia.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served the bridal party and guests present and yesterday morning Mr. and Mrs. Gilliland left on a wedding trip at the termination of which they will take up their residence at Ridgway where the bridegroom is in charge of a large drug store.

NICHOLS—GARMAN.—Tuesday morning, January 18th, at 11 o'clock, at the home of the brides sister, Mrs. John A. Witmer, of Valentine street, Miss Violet E. Garman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Garman, of Filmore, and Mr. Harold G. Nichols, of the same place, were married by the Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt. The bridal party stood under an evergreen arch and were attended by master Harold Witmer and Alice A. Owen, as flower children. The bride carried a marriage booklet that was used by Dr. Schmidt in performing the ceremony. After an elaborate wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Nichols left on the 1.05 p. m. train for a short wedding trip. Upon their return they will make their home with the bride's parents at Filmore. The hearty good wishes of their many friends follow the newly wedded couple as they take up the journey of life together.

MUSSER—NELSON.—Last Saturday afternoon Carl Musser and Miss Cora Annie Nelson, both of Philipsburg, were united in marriage at the United Brethren parsonage in Tyrone by Rev. T. P. Orner, pastor. They have been spending this week with friends in Tyrone and upon their return to Philipsburg will go to housekeeping at once.
