The Plot Thickens.

In last week's issue of this paper we mentioned the probability of a close fight for the Republican nomination for school director in the North ward between Mr. HENRY C. QUIGLEY and Mr. CHARLES F. COOK. The primaries are over and our prediction was fulfilled. In fact the plot thickens. Anyone who has been a close student of the local political situation will understand our statement that probably no phase of local politics has been as complex as the selection of nominees for school director in the North ward.

The trouble dates back years and to Republican, support her. follow it from the beginning down to the present time would take columns of our space so that we will not undertake to recount all the various divisions and dissensions of the Republicans of the North that led up to the downfall of Mr. QUIG-LEY on Saturday night.

Off hand, the casual observer might say that the new school building had after her marriage to David Robb, of something to do with it. Possibly it had, but at the most it could have been very little, for while there is no denying that there has been dissatisfaction over its construction we are of the opinion that the great majority of our taxpayers realize that it has gone too far now to back track made an operation necessary. Blood and that there is no other alternative day morning. than to accept what has been done and make the most of it. In fact this deduction is further supported by the re-nomination of Mr. HEINLE, without opposition, by the Democrats of the South. If there dren, Percy, Josephine and Frederick; was serious trouble in the North over the her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, of new school building for Mr. QUIGLEY surely some should have developed against and sisters: Thomas, of Williamsport: Mr. HEINLE in the South from the same cause.

On Tuesday evening a large gathering of the nembers of the Presbyterian congregation met at the home of Rev. Martin, and had a fine supper for all presont.

Carl Glenn, of Altoona, who is one of the postoffice clerks at that place, attended the funeral of Mrs. Thomas Glenn and then visited his cousin, George Glenn, who is assistant postmaster here.

LEMONT.

The caucuses were well attended on Saturday, A light snow fell Friday night and Saturday, and drifted quite a bit in some places.

John Schreck had the misfortune, Saturday forenoon, to fall through the trestle at Ross's coal shed, and was caught by his jaw, badly bruising it. He was fortunate that he did not break his neck the way he fell.

The heavy rains on Thursday night and Friday raised the waters from two to five inches higher than Spring creek was during the flood, when Johnstown was destroyed, and the two bridges between Lemont and State College were left in such an unsafe state that any one attempting to cross with a very heavy load will do so at their own risk, as one corner has been washed from under one and several posts from under the other.
