BELLEFONTE MOTOR CLUB GETTING ACTIVE.—A very interesting meeting of the Bellefonte Motor club was held in room 41 at the Brockhoff house on Monday evening, the first since last November, and if the same enthusiasm prevails throughout the coming summer that was manifested at Monday night's meeting it will undoubtedly prove a boom season for motoring in this section and an earnest campaign in the interest of good roads.

The road question was of course very thoroughly discussed, and while the members of the club were much gratified at the work done by the various supervisors throughout the county last summer to put the roads in good condition there was a big sentiment against the building of so many breakers in the roads; and it was the sense of the meeting that the club join with other organizations throughout the State in the matter of securing the passage of a bill at the next session of the Legislature requiring a system of underground drainage on all public highways, and thus do away entirely with the breakers and surface drains across the roads; an improvement that will be of as much benefit to the driver of a team and wagon as of an automobile. To further the movement the Law and Ordinance committee was appointed to take the matter up with other organizations.

APPROPOS of the meeting of the Road Supervisors association in this place tomorrow (Saturday) morning, the president was instructed to appoint a committee to meet with them, if agreeable, and convey to them the thanks of the club for the good work that was done last summer, even though they had only the latter part of the season in which to do it, and to make any suggestions they may deem proper on the building and improvement of the roads for the coming season. The committee appointed included Frank W. Crawford, W. Harrison Walker and N. B. Spangler.

The first annual meeting of the club will take place on the second Monday in April and as that will be the time for the election of officers and appointment of standing committees, and in order to insure a full attendance of members of the club it was decided to have a banquet that night and Dr. John Sebring and F. E. Nagney were appointed a committee to make all necessary arrangements, after which the club adjourned to meet Monday night, April 11th.

DID THEY ELOPE?—The people of Pennsylvania are considerably worked up over what they believe to be the elopement of a young married man and a sixteen year old girl. The suspected parties are Arthur Grove and Miss Esther Flory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Flory, of Potter township. Grove for several years has occupied the William Yearick farm between Old Fort and Spring Mills and has prospered very well. Last summer Miss Flory lived with the Grove family and at the time it was remarked by neighbors that there was considerable intimacy between the man of the house and his hired girl. But after the girl went home little was thought of the matter in that neighborhood.

Last week Grove completed the drilling of a well and on Friday morning he told his wife he was coming to Bellefonte to buy a pump and left on the morning train. The same morning Miss Flory packed her grip and told her family she was going to visit relatives in Tyrone. They both went on the same train and since then nothing has been heard of either and no trace of their whereabouts has been found and the supposition is that they went away together. What lends color to the story is the fact that one or two nights before Grove was seen talking to the girl in the lane near her parents home and it is thought the elopement, if elopement it is, was planned at that time.

Grove, who was always a very quiet and unassuming man leaves a wife and five children, one of them being born last Saturday, the day after he left home. His wife prior to her marriage was a Miss Haugh and her friends sympathize with her in her domestic troubles.

DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—A very interesting Sunday school convention for the district which includes Bellefonte, Spring and Benner townships, was held in the Methodist church at Pleasant Gap yesterday afternoon and evening. Rev. J. I. Stoneypher, of Boalsburg, led the devotional service at the opening of the convention at two o'clock in the afternoon and following the permanent organization and enrollment of delegates Rev. Fred W. Barry gave a very convincing talk on the subject of "Why organize our district." Bible schools, etc., was discussed by Revs. C. W. Winey and C. C. Shuey, while Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt conducted the question box. The speakers in the evening were Dr. Thomas S. Wilcox and Dr. J. Allison Platts.

WALLACE.—In the death of Frank T. Wallace at his home in Milesburg early Tuesday morning Centre county has lost another well known and highly respected citizen. He had been ailing for a year or more with a complication of diseases and several months ago tuberculosis developed since which time his decline was quite rapid.

Mr. Wallace was of Spanish descent and was born in Mexico May 31st, 1836, hence was almost seventy-four years old. His parents were Louis and Maria Wallace. His father died when Frank was only ten years old and three years later, or at the close of the Mexican war, he accompanied Gen. Watson to Centre county and went to live with the Alexander family on their farm near Centre Hall. He worked there until he was fifteen years old then learned the brickmaking business at Centre Hall. About 1855 he went to the western part of the State where he worked three years then returned to Bellefonte and engaged in the manufacture of brick and contracting business until the breaking out of the Civil war in 1861 when he enlisted in the Second Pennsylvania cavalry. He served all through the war, was wounded several times, was taken prisoner and spent months in rebel prisons. On his return from the war he resumed the manufacture of brick in this place but in 1866 moved to Milesburg and started the brick plant which he has operated ever since and which, under his careful management, grew into a large business. He was always scrupulously honest in all his dealings with his fellowmen and one who was esteemed by all who knew him. In politics he was a Republican but never one of the aggressive type. He was a member of the G. A. R., the Veteran Legion and the Union ex-Prisoners of War. He was also a member of the Presbyterian church and an earnest christian gentleman.

In 1858 he was united in marriage in this place to Miss Lucy B. Clyde by Rev. James B. Linn. To them were born thirteen children, eleven of whom with his wife survive, as follows: Wm. F., of Tyrone; Robert and Frank, of Centre City; Louis, of Bellefonte; Mrs. William C. Pletcher, of Chartiers; Mrs. Edward Williams, of Hagerstown, Md.; Mrs. Cornelius Blair, of Lock Haven; Harry R., Anna Belle and James G., at home and Winfield B., of Bellefonte.

The funeral was held from his late home at two o'clock yesterday afternoon. Dr. J. Allison Platts officiated and burial was made in the Union cemetery in this place.

DENNY.—When Joseph Denny died at his home in Tyrone last Friday morning the last surviving member of an old and well known Centre county family of over a half century ago passed away. He was born at Rock Forge, this county, and was one of a family of twenty-one children, all of whom are now dead. Mr. Denny had been a sufferer with cancer of the stomach for months but it was not until about a month ago that his illness assumed a grave character and from that time his decline was rapid.

He was born in 1841, hence was 68 years, 6 months and 21 days old. When only a young man he went to work with his father in the forge at Rock and was employed there when the Civil war broke out. Being of a patriotic temperament he enlisted at the first call for troops in August, 1861, as a member of Company A, One Hundred and Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers. He participated in every battle in the peninsula campaign in which his regiment took part until March, 1865, when he was taken prisoner and held in captivity two months when, the war having come to an end, he was released and mustered out of service. Upon his return home he located in Tyrone and for many years past had been employed as a brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad. He was a member of the G. A. R., the Sons of Veterans and of the Columbia avenue M. E. church.

In April, 1865, he was united in marriage to Miss Sarah A. Welsh, of Tyrone, who is his only immediate survivor. The funeral was held from his late home on Tuesday afternoon, burial being made in the Grandview cemetery.

DETWILER.—On Tuesday evening of last week Jacob Detwiler, one of the well known farmers of Pennsylvally, died at his home near Penn Cave, of pneumonia, with which he had been a sufferer only about two weeks. He was born in Penn township in 1841, hence was almost sixty-nine years of age. He followed farming all his life, most of the time at different places throughout Pennsylvally. He was an honest, industrious man and as such was greatly respected by all who knew him. Surviving him are his wife and the following children: Aaron O., of Spring Mills; W. Edward, of Harrisburg; Clayton S., of Philadelphia; Mrs. Elmer McClellan, of Potter township; Perry and Miss Mazie, at home. The funeral was held on Friday morning. Rev. H. A. Snook, of the Evangelical church, officiated and burial was made in the cemetery at Aaronsburg.

SHOWERS.—Mrs. William Showers died at her home at Huston last Friday night after nine month's illness. She was thirty nine years old and is survived by her husband and six children; her mother, six brothers and five sisters, one of the latter being Mrs. Harry Boyer, of this place. The funeral took place at one o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

HAWORTH.—The many friends of George W. Haworth, of Phillipsburg, will learn with regret of his quite sudden death in that place, on Saturday night, of pneumonia. He had not been very well for a week or so but it was not until the middle of last week that his illness developed into pneumonia, which at once assumed such a serious nature as to alarm his friends. Everything possible was done for him but he sank rapidly until his death Saturday night.

He was born in Accrington, Lancashire, England, about fifty-one years ago and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Haworth. His parents and family came to this country in 1865 and located at Powelton, moving to Phillipsburg about five years later. In his early life George followed the occupation of a clerk but about twenty-five years ago he with his brother Richard engaged in the undertaking and furniture business and later organized the Haworth Brothers Burial company. He was one of the original ten stockholders of the Centre and Clearfield Street Railway company, was a member of the Odd Fellows and of the Woodmen of the World. He was a member of the Baptist faith all his life and for a number of years a trustee of the church.

He never married and his love for the home family circle, and especially his mother, was unusually intense. His father died three years ago but his mother and the following brothers and sisters survive: Mrs. T. B. Eboch, James, Misses May and Annie, of Phillipsburg; Mrs. Charles F. Sweeney, of Loysburg; and Mrs. Henry P. Kirk, of Curwensville. The funeral took place from his late home at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, burial being made in the Phillipsburg cemetery.

LEATHERS.—Following an illness of several weeks with the grip Mrs. William T. Leathers died at her home in Howard at two o'clock last Thursday morning. Her maiden name was Miss Mary E. Hughes and she was born in Howard township in 1844, her age at the time of her death being 65 years, 7 months and 9 days.

She was a member of the Methodist church from early girlhood and hers was one of those lives which can be pointed out as worthy of emulation. She was not only devout in all her church work and associations but her life outside the church was so sincere and replete with acts of charity and good deeds that she was revered by all who knew her; and for years to come her memory will be kept green in the hearts of scores of those who knew her intimately because of the many acts of kindness she performed for others in time of need.

Her husband died eleven years ago and of their twelve children eight survive, as follows: James L., Lucy B. and Frederick, at home; Mrs. Ada R. Neff, of Curtin; George H., of Howard; Cookman A., of Northumberland; Jesse and Mrs. Martha Yearick, of Jacksonville. Rev. Rollin S. Taylor conducted the funeral services which were held in the Methodist church at Howard at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, after which interment was made at Curtin.

COX.—Old age and the infirmities incident thereto were the cause of the death on Sunday of Alexander M. Cox at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Greenwood, in Barnesboro.

He was born near Bellefonte April 18th, 1827, hence was 82 years, 10 months and 16 days old. The first half of his life was spent in this vicinity but about thirty years ago he moved to Phillipsburg and went to work for the Moshannon Tanning company. Thirteen years ago he moved from Phillipsburg to Barnesboro where he had since lived. When quite a young man he joined the Methodist church and for a number of years officiated as a local preacher and worked at the pottery trade. He was at all times a devout man and much esteemed by those who knew him.

Surviving him are nine sons and daughters, as follows: John Calvin, of California; Mrs. Hannah Brown, of Mill Hill; William H., of Wilkensburg; Mrs. Joseph Swift, of Phillipsburg; Elmer J., of Pittsburg; Mrs. Cora Barrett, of Salona; Mrs. Harry Greenwood, of Barnesboro; Alfred M., of Homestead; and Mrs. Clara Kitchen, of Lock Haven. One sister, Mrs. Martha Wagner, of Flemington, also survives. The remains were taken to the home of his daughter in Phillipsburg on Monday evening and the funeral held at two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

MOYER.—Joseph K. Moyer, one of the best known residents of Miles township, died on Tuesday evening of a complication of diseases, after being in poor health the past quarter of a century. He was born in Haines township and was 69 years, 11 months and 10 days old. LARIMER.—J. W. Larimer, a well known resident of Ferguson township, died early last Friday morning of heart trouble and other complications. He had been ailing for some time but was confined to his bed only five days.

He was a son of Hugh and Rebecca Larimer, early settlers in that locality, and was born October 23rd, 1843. He was educated at the Pine Grove Mills Academy and when a young man went west and located at Mt. Carroll, Ill., where he taught school several years then engaged in the mercantile business. Five years ago his health began to fail and he sold out his business and returned to Pine Grove Mills where he made his home with his sister, Mrs. W. H. Fry, and where his death occurred. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, a pleasant and genial gentleman and his death is mourned by a large circle of friends.

He never married and of his six sisters only two survive, Mrs. Fry and Mrs. R. H. Swartz, of Chicago. Rev. W. K. Harnish officiated at the funeral which was held on Monday morning burial being made in the new cemetery.

McQUISTON.—Mr. S. A. McQuiston received word yesterday of the death of his only surviving brother, Joseph McQuiston, at his home in Dewitt, Iowa. He was seventy-eight years old and had not been in Centre county since 1856. The cause of his death is not known, neither is it known how much of a family he left. Mr. S. A. McQuiston is now the sole survivor of a family of five boys and three girls.

He was seventy-five years old and almost his entire life was spent in Bald Eagle valley. For years he worked as a lumberman and was regarded as one of the most expert log drivers in the business. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon.

M. E. CONFERENCE.—Rev. Thomas S. Wilcox will close his first year as pastor of the Bellefonte Methodist church next Sunday—and it was a most successful year in every way—and on Tuesday will leave for York where the forty-second annual session of the Central Pennsylvania M. E. conference will be held, beginning on Wednesday, March 16th. Bishop Earle Cranston, of Washington, D. C., will be the presiding officer.

The sessions of the conference this year promise to be unusually interesting, inasmuch as a number of important questions will be brought up for discussion and settlement. One of these will be the trustees' report. A year ago the conference indicated a desire to have the number of trustees increased from seven to nine and that three be elected each year instead of the entire board.

Another matter which will cause much discussion will be the report of the commission consisting of ministers and laymen upon the advisability of reducing the number of districts in the conference. This matter has been before the conference before and has never failed to provoke discussion. The laymen's convention a year ago asked for the appointment of this commission and seems determined to bring the matter to an issue this year.

The subject of the conference providing for its own entertainment will also be up for consideration. In the Fifth street church of Harrisburg a year ago this subject was the cause of a most interesting discussion and by a very narrow margin the matter was laid on the table. This year the subject will be presented again in a way that will appeal to the conference. The difficulty of entertaining so large a conference on the old plan of having members of the church open their homes has been increasing of late years, and it is the growing conviction of a large number of ministers that a new method of conference entertainment must be devised.

MILITARY NEWS.—Several weeks ago Col. H. S. Taylor was elected captain of Company L, of this place, and at the time he did not accept. Since that, however, he has accepted and is now in command. On Tuesday evening Lieut. Colonel Barber, of Sunbury, was here and conducted an election for second lieutenant, which resulted in the selection of William H. Brown.

Several weeks ago a steam pipe in the armory burst and the escaping steam so rusted and otherwise damaged the rifles of the company that they were rendered unfit for service and last week a consignment of fifty-four new Krag Jorgeson rifles were received from the State for the company's use. The annual inspection of the company was held yesterday afternoon and evening.

PRICE AND BUTLER COMING.—The show that has been playing to record breaking business all season, is the Price and Butler company. Manager Garman was very fortunate in securing them for three nights on their return trip from the east, as they will play some of the best cities in the far west in the near future. The play last night, "The Minister's Son," has been one of the high priced one night stand attractions the past few seasons. Repertoire prices, 10, 20 and 30 cts. Matinee—Saturday afternoon.

JUDGE ORVIS HANDS OUT SOME SALTY SENTENCES.—At a short session of court last Saturday morning Judge Orvis imposed the following sentences:

Henry Gordon, who plead guilty to the charge of larceny in two cases, and was sentenced in the first case to the fine of $1, costs of prosecution, to the penitentiary for the maximum term of three years, and minimum term of nine months, and a like sentence in the second case. The second sentence to begin at the ending of the first, and was further informed that under the new law of 1909, upon any further conviction of the grade of crime in any court and the matter made known to such court of his past record, the sentence would be thirty years.

William Moran who plead guilty to six charges of larceny brought by so many prosecutors, was sentenced on two of them, maximum sentences in each case three years, minimum sentence in each case nine months, to the penitentiary, costs of prosecution and fine of $1.00 in each case. The second sentence to begin with the ending of the first. The other pleas of guilty were held over him.

Joseph Gordon, who plead guilty to charge of larceny, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1.00, costs of prosecution and to the reformatory.

Oscar Ostrander, who plead guilty to charge of furnishing liquor to minors, was called before the bar, and it appearing that he had a wife and three children, sentence was suspended upon him upon the payment of the costs and the taking care of his wife and children, and quit drinking, being subject to be called before the bar at any time for further sentence.

On the convening of court on Monday morning Burdine Butler, of Howard township, who was convicted almost a year ago of malicious mischief for cutting down a line fence, was called before the bar and sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars and costs. He refused to do so, gave bail and took out an appeal to the Superior court.

P. B. Swartz, also of Howard township, who was convicted in December, 1908, of receiving stolen goods, was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs. This is the case in which a barrel was taken from the premises of the Howard Canning company and a day or two later was found in Mr. Swartz's possession. A prosecution followed and while Mr. Swartz was not convicted of stealing the barrel he was of receiving stolen goods. The costs in the case were $79.77, so that the barrel cost him $129.77.

All jurors were discharged on Wednesday afternoon.

CASSIDY'S PRINTING OFFICE DESTROYED BY FIRE.—About two o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in the job printing office of W. C. Cassidy, in the Crider building, and before the flames could be extinguished the office had been completely gutted and everything in it either entirely burned or ruined. The flames were discovered by Gus Heverly, who lives in Crider's Exchange, and who speedily gave the alarm. The large hose in the hall of the building was brought into play and thus the flames were confined to the one room. Mr. Cassidy loses all his machinery, type, cases, etc., and in addition a large amount of work he had just finished and which was ready for delivery. His loss is estimated at from $1,200 to $1,500, with only six hundred dollars insurance. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

SUPERIOR COURT DECISIONS.—The Superior court sitting at Williamsport handed down decisions in two cases from Centre county. The first was that of Brew vs. Sharer, involving the title to some land in Taylor township, in which the judgment of the lower court was sustained. The second case was that of Boalich vs. Pierce, involving the right of the defendant to take advantage of the three hundred dollar reservation law. In this case the judgment of the lower court was also sustained.

About fifty people interested in fruit growing were present at the meeting in the court house last Friday evening to hear Prof. Surface and his assistants discourse on the best way of growing good fruit.

Miss Maude Decker, of Pine Grove Mills, has accepted a position in the millinery department of Joseph Bros. store.

YOUNG TRAIN DISPATCHER FAKES DESPERATE HOLD-UP.—William Chaney, the twenty-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Chaney, of Port Matilda, who for some time past has been working the third trick, from midnight to eight o'clock in the morning, as operator in the tower at Hannah station, on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad, faked a hold-up on Tuesday morning and did it so successfully that the truth was not discovered until he was put on the rack of inquisition in superintendent Johnston's office at Tyrone on Tuesday night when he broke down and confessed that he had faked the whole thing. The story told by young Chaney, and which was given out by his father in Bellefonte on Tuesday is as follows:

About four o'clock in the morning, he said, he heard some one try the door, which was locked. The man rattled the lock and young Chaney asked who it was and what was wanted. The man refused to give his name and demanded admittance under threat of breaking down the door. The young operator was naturally alarmed and called up the train dispatcher at Tyrone and telling him the facts said he had a mind to shoot through the door. The dispatcher answered O.K. and Chaney fired one shot.

This had the effect of driving the man away for a few minutes but he soon returned and resumed his siege against the door. Chaney then emptied his revolver as fast as he could shoot but this did not result in scaring the hold-up men away. When his last shot was fired, according to the young man's story, he went to the rear window expecting to jump to the ground and run but was confronted with a second man standing watch beneath. While he was looking at him the man on the stairs succeeded in breaking in the door and before he could make a move to defend himself he was grabbed by the throat and thrown down. The second man then came into the tower and the two of them bound him and tied a gag of oily waste in his mouth. They went through his pockets but secured less than one dollar in change and after kicking and jumping on him they decamped. Both men were heavily masked he claimed and he did not know whether they were white or colored. What gave a semblance of truth to the story was the fact that other operators along the line were unable to get an answer from Hannah so the operator at Port Matilda was instructed to have extra freight No. 2703 stop at Hannah and find out what was the matter. When the train was stopped the crew went into the tower and found Chaney lying on the floor under the table, bound and gagged. To them he also told the above story and showed them the bullet holes through the door, his empty revolver and the disarranged furniture as proof. The operator was taken to his home at Port Matilda and Tuesday morning railroad police and other officers from Tyrone went to Hannah and scoured the entire neighborhood but could get no trace even of any suspicious people having been seen in that locality.

Young Chaney was then summoned to Tyrone and in the superintendent's office that evening confessed that he had faked the whole thing. That he shot the holes through the door, upset the furniture then gagged and bound himself, but he refused to give any reason for doing so. As no charge could be brought against him by the railroad company he was sent home but in the future a new operator will work the ticker on the third trick in the tower at Hannah.

When night came he did not return and searching parties were sent out for him. They searched all night, during Tuesday night and Wednesday morning N. T. Krebs met him on the mountain road on his way home. He had hunted until he was tired on Monday then gone to Stonevalley to visit an uncle.
