-Harry J. Goss has sold his home in Philipsburg to Charles D. Kuhn and will move his family to this place on or about the first of April.

----When a few gentlemen in Bellefonte conceived the idea of having an old-fashioned singing school with Prof. Philip Meyer, of Centre Hall, as instructor they did not anticipate the great interest that would be taken therein. But in the few weeks the school has been maintained it has grown from a mere handful the first night into an attendance of two hundred or more; and if the number continues to increase the Presbyterian chapel will not be large enough and the church will have to be used. But it is a source of considerable satisfaction to see such interest manifested. If there is one thing the school has done it is to show that there are many good voices in Bellefonte but a woeful lack of training. In fact, it is astonishing how really few there are who thoroughly know the rudiments and fundamental principles of vocal music. Therefore this is an opportunity that should be taken advantage of by everybody who has the least talent for music, as it is an opportunity they may never have again.

Williams was in Bellefonte most of the day and so suspicious were his actions when in the company of a certain Bellefonte man that the attention of the police was attracted. Finally he was seen go into a certain bar room in town and from there direct to the office of the Bellefonter. The police followed close after and upon, entering and searching the office found a bottle of whiskey with two drinks missing in the bottom of the waste paper basket. The liquor was confiscated and Williams was taken to the hotel where the bartender identified him led him to retire. Within the palace the American re-relved all higher government officials, after which tea was served. The stay at the palace was brief, Colonel Roosevelt hurrying away to the railway station to meet Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel.
