WHAT THE BOROUGH DADS DID.—Every member was present at Monday night's meeting of borough council and president J. C. Harper gave an illustration of how quickly the business could be dispatched.

Samuel B. Miller was present and asked for a reduction of water tax assessed against the double house on the Dare property on Spring street from five to three dollars, owing to the fact that the house was not occupied all the time. Referred to the Water committee for investigation and report.

A communication was received from the Tyrone borough council announcing the election of J. A. Atlee as an auditor of the Pruner orphanage accounts.

A communication was also received from superintendent J. K. Johnston, of Tyrone, making complaint that the Steam Heating company in making repairs to their pipes had dug up the brick paving on High street and did not replace it properly. The matter was referred to the Street committee.

A report from the boiler inspector was read showing that the boilers at the water works had been inspected and found in good condition.

None of the standing committees had anything of special importance to report. Under the head of old business the agreement with the State Highway Department for the building of the state road through Bellefonte was taken up. Regarding the paving of the Diamond and Allegheny street from Pike alley to Bishop street with brick the borough solicitor reported that the property owners along that section had been seen and all signed the agreement to pay their share of the cost of paving with the exception of Dr. Roland G. Curtin, the county commissioner, the First National bank and the Thomas R. Reynolds estate. The estimated cost to the citizens will be about $2,100, and to the borough $2,800. The borough solicitor further stated that he expected to enter into an agreement this week with the parties at the head of the Centre County Traction company whereby they would put down their track at the time the road is built, and as their charter calls for them to pave ten feet in width, this would naturally give the borough a big rebate on the above estimate. Dr. Kirk objected to the proposition on account of the cost and because he "did not believe in fixing up the streets in that part of town at the expense of the others," but on a vote of council the president and secretary were instructed to sign the agreement, Dr. Kirk being the only one to vote against it.

Regarding the complaint of Isaac Miller, at the last meeting of council, that owing to the filling up of Wilson street the water was run down over his property, the Street committee reported that they failed to find any just cause for complaint.

A resolution was introduced by Mr. Musser and passed by council in effect that an order for three dollars be drawn in favor of J. H. Lingle which was to be paid him upon signing a receipt in full for all accounts to and including March 19th.

Mr. Keller, of the Finance committee, asked for the renewal of the following notes: One for $5,000 in favor of Daniel Hall; one for $2,000 in favor of F. W. Crider; one for $1,200 in favor of Oscar Wetzel; one for $2,000 in favor of Mrs. Harrison Kline and one for $4,000 to be discounted at Bellefonte Trust company to pay current expenses. Same was ordered by council.

The Pennsylvania railroad company asked permission to locate a watchman's box at the crossing near the Yeager swing factory. The street committee was instructed to give proper location for same.

Sigmund Joseph was reappointed a director of the Pruner orphanage for the ensuing two years, after which bills to the amount of $351.20 were approved and council adjourned after being in session just fifty minutes.

THE BEN GREAT PLAYERS.—The people of Bellefonte and vicinity who saw these players at State College last year in "The Merchant of Venice" and "Macbeth" will doubtless welcome the announcement of a return visit by the company on Saturday, April 9th. This year the company will present two of Shakespeare's most delightful comedies, "Twelfth Night" in the afternoon, and "A Midsummer Night's Dream" in the evening. At both of these performances the auditorium stage will be decorated with fresh green foliage so as to give as much as possible an out-of-door effect. Of special interest to lovers of music will be the announcement that the college orchestra will play the exquisite Mendelssohn score in the evening, giving the complete program, the overture, and all the incidental music to "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Arrangements have been made for special trains between Bellefonte and State College for both afternoon and evening performances. Tickets and all information regarding trains may be had at Parrish's drug store beginning Saturday, April 2nd.

JUNIOR PRELIMINARIES.—Fifteen members of the Junior class of the Bellefonte High school held their preliminary oratorical on Monday afternoon and out of that number the following ten members were selected to compete in the annual Junior oratorical contest at the commencement the latter part of May: Graham Hunter, Edith Houser, Claire Reynolds, Grace Showalter, Henry Keller, Anna Shuey, Mary Straub, Marguerite Coxe, Beulah Woods and Joseph Taylor.

—The Young People's Society Christian Endeavor of the Milesburg Presbyterian church will hold a social at the home of Mrs. Albert N. Bierly on Friday evening, March 25th. Everybody is cordially invited to attend. A silver offering will be accepted during the evening.

—Miss Lillian Muffly, who has been at the Renovo hospital while the DuBois hospital was being repaired of the damage sustained by fire last fall, has returned to the latter institution and is arranging the building for hospital purposes. She will hold the position of head nurse and be in charge of the training department of the remodeled institution.

—The third annual reunion of the Fifth regiment Spanish-American war veterans will this year be held at Indiana on Wednesday and Thursday, April 27th and 28th. The association was organized in Altoona two years ago and last year's reunion was held in Huntingdon. Col. H. S. Taylor and several other Bellefonte soldiers are members of the association.

—Mrs. Becker and Miss Elizabeth Brugger, daughters of the late Samuel Brugger Esq., of Unionville, and who last summer made such a success of the St. James Place and the Beach, Atlantic City, have taken the hotel for another year and are now prepared to welcome and care for any of their old friends who may feel like making an early trip to this popular sea-side resort.

—William McFarlane, who fell from an electric light pole last Wednesday afternoon and injured his back so that he was taken to the Bellefonte hospital for treatment, was able to leave that institution on Saturday and return to Philip Beeszer where he boards. He is now almost as fit as ever and doing light work for the company, though he will likely feel the kinks of his fall for some time to come.

—Charles E. Yearick, of Pennsylvania, recently sold his last season's hay crop, fifty tons, to L. L. Smith, at Centre Hall; the price received being nineteen dollars a ton delivered on the cars at that station. Mr. Yearick would thus receive $950 for his grass crop alone for last year and if he was fortunate enough to have raised hogs and chickens he will have no reason to envy any ordinary man's income.

—Almost thirty-five years ago, or on July 2nd, 1875, Mrs. Mary Still, of Blanchard, this county, mailed a letter to her stepson, Jerry Faust, at Pittsburg, Pa. Faust had left Pittsburg several years previous and the letter was not delivered to him until Tuesday of last week when it reached him in El Paso, Tex., where he is employed by the Southern Pacific railroad company. Where the letter has been all the intervening time is a mystery. Mrs. Still, by the way, has been dead over fifteen years.

—Several weeks ago L. A. Freeman, who the past year was employed as operator in the office of T. S. Strawn, broker, accepted an offer of A. H. Drake, of Pittsburg, to go to Cambridge Springs and take charge of an office there. He did so and is so well satisfied with his position that on Monday he telegraphed for his wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Myrtle Longacre, and on Tuesday she went out to join him. They will not go to housekeeping, however, for a month or so, at least.

—At noon on Monday of next week Miss Alice May Robison, daughter of H. L. Robison, formerly of Centre Hall but now of Milesburg, will be married to Dr. L. H. Harley, of Williamstown, N. J. About thirty intimate friends have been invited to witness the ceremony which will take place in the Milesburg Presbyterian church and be performed by Dr. W. H. Schuyler, of Centre Hall. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Harley will be driven direct to the depot and leave on the train east for their New Jersey home.

—The postmaster at DuBois, Clearfield county, must be a very busy chap—or else an exceedingly lazy one. Were he not we presume he would notify a newspaper of the new address of a subscriber moving out of his delivery, as he is expected to do by the Department and for which it furnishes him a card, in place of writing the single word "gone." Whenever a public official has too much of his or her people's business to attend to, to properly perform the duties for which he is paid, out of the public treasury, it is time for leave of absence without pay to be granted him. The DuBois postmaster seems to be an official of this kind.

—In another column of today's WATCHMAN will be found the advertisement of the Bellefonte Foundry & Machine Co., salesmen for "The Advance" gasoline engine manufactured by the Henry, Millard & Henry Co., of York. The engines manufactured by this firm have the reputation of being among the best on the market and the fact that they are all guaranteed for one year is evidence that the manufacturers have confidence in their own product. It might be further stated that both the senior and junior members of the manufacturing firm, the Henrys, at one time lived in Bellefonte and learned their trade as machinists in the old Jenkins & Lingle foundry. They are men of stability and a state-wide reputation. If you are in need of a gasoline engine inspect the one now on demonstration at the plant of the Bellefonte Foundry & Machine company.

CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA M. E. CONFERENCE.—The annual session of the Central Pennsylvania M. E. conference, held at York during the past week, was unusually interesting. In his report of the Altoona district, district superintendent B. C. Conner stated that the Bellefonte congregation had expended $243 for improvements on the parsonage and $102 on the church; Gray's church, $225; Howard, $125; Milesburg and Unionville, $75; Pennsylvania, $220; Phillipsburg, $50; Pleasant Gap, $100; Snow Shoe, $160, and State College, $150. The number of conversions reported by Centre county churches are as follows: Bellefonte, 27; Centre and Sandy Ridge, 40; Halfmoon, 71; Milesburg and Unionville, 82; Phillipsburg, 20; Port Matilda, 87; Snow Shoe, 84, and State College, 40. Special mention was made of the necessity of a new church at State College as follows:

State College: The town has had a boom this year. Many new houses have been erected. Scores of building lots have been sold. There are over 1,200 students in the College. About 300 of these are from Methodist homes. We have no room for them and for scores of others who would naturally come to our churches if we could properly accommodate them. We must have, we are going to have, a new church building in State College. Plans and specifications are in the hands of contractors for bids. The work will likely begin next month. The building complete will cost $20,000. The heroic members have pledged $10,000. They will probably give $5,000 more. The board of church extension will give at least $5,000 perhaps $7,000. So that from $8,000 to $10,000 must be raised outside of State College. Every preacher and every layman in this conference should be interested in this movement, and so far as possible, help to make it succeed. It is a great and growing opportunity we have at State College, to reach with the Gospel hundreds of choice young men who in a few years are to be centres of mighty influence. Brethren, take this enterprise on your heart and make it your own.

At Saturday's session of conference David A. Sower, who preached at Pleasant Gap last year, was advanced from the first to the second year studies. On Sunday members of the conference filled all the churches in York and thousands attended the services.

One of the interesting questions before the conference was the increasing of the number of districts from five to six. The committee of ministers and laymen appointed to inquire into the matter reported in favor of an additional district, providing there would be no additional assessment for the support of the additional district superintendent. This naturally brought forth protests from the present district superintendents, who objected to any reduction in their salaries, and the result was the proposition was voted down.

Conference voted to restore the three years term as the maximum time a minister can serve one congregation instead of five years as it has been for some time past.

At Saturday morning's session of conference the Rev. Emory M. Stevens, superintendent of the Williamsport district, extended an invitation on behalf of the official board of the Pine street church to hold the conference of 1912 in that church, on condition that the conference of 1911 confirm the action. The invitation was unanimously accepted. The invitation of the Bloomsburg Methodist church to hold the 1911 conference in Bloomsburg was accepted with thanks by a standing vote.

The one interesting thing at the closing session of conference on Tuesday was the case of Rev. C. V. Hartzell, of Harrisburg, who was before the conference on the charge of engaging in secular work in addition to filling a church appointment, he holding a clerkship under factory inspector John C. Delaney. The committee on conference relations in their report requested that Rev. Hartzell should be placed on the supernumerary list. This he refused to do and so earnestly did he plead his own case before the conference that it was voted to reject the report of the committee. Rev. Hartzell's relations therefore remain the same as before.

It was five o'clock on Tuesday evening when the appointments were read and those for the Altoona district are as follows:

EVERHART—REED.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, near Graysville, was thronged with over one hundred guests last Thursday afternoon to witness the marriage of their daughter, Miss Jessie Blanche Reed, to Benjamin Everhart, of Franklinville. The interior of the Reed home was beautifully decorated throughout in green and white, and an aisle formed with green and white ribbons marked the path of the bridal party to the floral altar in the parlor. It was just one o'clock when the beautiful strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin as played by Miss Mary Campbell, announced the entrance of the bride and her attendants. The bride wore a gown of white messaline, made en-train with a long veil, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor, Miss Grace Reed, was gowned in white and carried pink carnations. There were five bridesmaids, Misses Elizabeth Wigton, of Franklinville; Anna Reed, of Benore; Lorena Reed, of Salina, Kan.; Alice Lowe, of Altoona, and Martha Everhart, of Franklinville.

At the altar they were met by the bridegroom and his best man, Samuel Everhart, of Franklinville, with the officiating minister, Rev. R. M. Campbell, of Pennsylvania Furnace, who performed the ceremony which made them man and wife. A brief reception followed the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Everhart left on the train over the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad for an extended wedding trip through the west.
