

MUSSEY—SUNDAY.—On Tuesday evening of last week Paul Fortney Mussey, of State College, and Miss Laura Sunday, of Pine Grove Mills, quietly repaired to the Methodist parsonage in the latter place and were married by the pastor, Rev. J. E. Bierley. They managed to keep the affair a secret until the latter part of last week when it leaked out and since they have been receiving the congratulations of their many friends. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mussey, on the Branch.

CONFEE—CONFEE.—J. David Confee, of Blanchard, and Miss Anna B. Confee, of Orviston, were quietly married in Lock Haven on Tuesday afternoon by Rev. H. W. Laye.

SPRING MILLS.

Edward Winters will open his ice cream parlors on Saturday evening next.

Our fishermen are calculating on big catches of trout next month—possibly.

Miss Theresa Rachau is now home, having closed her school on Friday last.

Miss Mabel Long, a student of the Lock Haven Normal, is home on her Easter vacation.

Miss Grace Weaver spent last week visiting friends in Linden Hall and State College.

G. C. King was forced to suspend operations at his saw mill last week owing to a bad cold which settled in his eyes.

There must be some special attraction here, as several of the Bellefonte boys continue to make weekly visits in our neighborhood.

Of course the children had all the eggs they wanted on Easter, about every second youngster had a chocolate egg, but that was to be expected.

Maurice Rachau, after visiting in Lock Haven, Jersey Shore and Avis last week, secured a good position in the latter place and will return there on Friday.

Mrs. Sue Hering has been seriously ill for the past ten days. Mrs. Jane Nofsker her sister, is still on the sick list and Mrs. Lucinda Runkle is not improving any.

Quite a number of our folks have been making garden and planting onions—to be in time for the onion snow. Our farmers, too, are busy plowing and setting in shape for spring work.

Misses Mabel Allison and Orpha Gramley attended the wedding of Miss Alice Robison, of Milesburg, formerly of this place, to Dr. Harley, of Williamstown, N. J., on Monday last.

Over a year ago merchant J. H. Rishel planted in front of his residence two shade trees, and had them boxed so that they were growing nicely. Last summer some scoundrel broke off one of the branches, of course spoiling the tree, and on Saturday night last, possibly the same scoundrel, or some other miscreant, broke off the remaining branch ruining the tree entirely. A wretch guilty of such vandalism deserves a load of pepper and salt—possibly a load would be better.

LEMONY.

George Dale is still growing weaker.

Bruce Houtz and wife returned home last week. The croak of the frogs foretold pleasant weather and spring.

The sales are about all over and everything sold at high prices.

Isaac Armstrong is quite ill and it is feared growing worse.

Irvin Fife came up from Carlisle to attend his father's funeral Sunday.

The wheat looks fine so far and if nothing occurs a good crop is promised.

The farmers are busy plowing and getting the land ready to plant the spring crops.

This warm weather reminds us that spring is with us and all the people are on the stir.

The fire that raged on Nittany mountain the latter part of last week was the worst that has been known on that mountain. The reason was no help could be secured to put it out and if there is a fire warden he was not to be found.

Cattle Raiser Says Days of Cheap Meat Are Past Forever.

Washington, March 31.—"Unless some one can find a way to repeal the law of supply and demand, there is no remedy for increasing prices," asserted Samuel H. Cowan, of Fort Worth, Tex., counsel for the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, before the senate food investigating committee. "The people of the United States need never expect cheap meat again."

Mr. Cowan told the committee that in the future it would be necessary for cattle raisers to maintain as high or even higher prices in order to keep pace with the increased cost of grazing land and feed.

Like many other witnesses before the committee Mr. Cowan thought the present price of beef was due to the decreasing production and the increasing population. He said cities were luring young men away from farms to such an extent that it was almost impossible to get sufficient help.

The only way, he said, to attract men to the country was to give them high wages which, with the advanced price of land and feed, made it necessary for stock raisers to charge high for their cattle.

Men Condemned to Death in Electric Chair Cut Their Way Out.

Norfolk, Va., March 31.—Two colored murderers, condemned to death in the electric chair, and a white man charged with highway robbery, escaped from the Norfolk county jail in Portsmouth. They cut their way through the roof of the prison and lowered themselves to the ground by a rope made of torn bedclothing and pillows tied to a ventilating pipe.

The delivery was one of the most remarkable in criminal annals of Virginia. It was not discovered until early morning, and there is no clue to the whereabouts of the escaped prisoners.

Baby Wanders Away and is Found Dead in Water.

Gettysburg, Pa., March 31.—Rebecca Foreman, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Foreman, of Lykens, was drowned in a few feet of water at the home of relatives in Gettysburg, where the child and her mother had been visiting.

The little girl wandered into a building which shelters an abandoned hide vat. Her absence was not noted for some time, and she was dead when found floating on the water.

She Wanted to See Bill Taft.

New York, March 31.—A woman who said she was Mary Taft, twenty-one years old, of Funston street, Philadelphia, gave four policemen, one surgeon and an ambulance driver all they could do to land her in Bellevue hospital. "I came to town to see Bill Taft," she shouted. "He's a relative of mine." At Bellevue her trouble was diagnosed as alcoholic mania.

To Rebuild Women's College.

Norfolk, Va., March 31.—The Baptist Women's college at Murfreesboro, N. C., recently destroyed by fire, will be rebuilt at a cost of $150,000, and plans are being prepared.

No Faith in Bank; Robbed.

Because he had lost faith in the banks, the prediction, often made to Samuel Chatham, who lived alone in a lonely spot about two miles west of Nassaung Meeting house, in Worcester county, Md., that he would be robbed of his lifetime savings, came true when robbers entered the house while the old man was asleep and secured a sum of money estimated at from $3500 to $5000 in gold coin and currency.

It has been known for many years that the old man kept thousands of dollars in the house, and only last week his brother, C. W. Chatham, drove out to the hut and tried to persuade him to place the money in some bank for safe keeping, but he refused to part with his wealth.

Mr. Chatham made his money in the timber business and for several years was a money lender, but for the past four or five years he became imbued with the idea that those whom he had loaned money to were trying to beat him out of it, and he called all his loans in, hoarding it away in an old trunk. The trunk was found in a thicket near Chatham's home.

In the money stolen was $2100 in gold coin, mostly $20 pieces.

Aldis Branded as Bribe-Taker.

Just as the New York senate at Albany was about to vote on the question whether Jotham P. Aldis was guilty of accepting a $1000 bribe, as charged by Senator Benn Conger, Aldis resigned from the senate.

Thrown into confusion by this sudden and unexpected move on the part of the accused man, the senate took a recess for an hour to determine whether any further action could be taken.

Reassembling, the senate voted by 40 yeas to 9 nays that the charges against Aldis had been sustained. This vote was taken on a resolution offered by Senator Cobb, declaring that Conger's charges had been proved.

The report of the committee on the whole to the senate proper was adopted by 38 yeas to 8 nays.

Put Target on Breast to Kill Self.

Planning a paper target upon her breast, just over the heart, Miss Lillian P. Collins, aged twenty-six years, of Baltimore, Md., turned a pistol on the "bull's eye" and fired a bullet through her heart, dying instantly. Her body was discovered by her sister, with the ragged target still fluttering from her breast.

The target was a small circle about three inches in diameter, clipped unevenly from a newspaper and apparently had been punched at the middle to form a "center" or bull's eye. None of the girl's family could account for her act.

Third Similar Accident Fatal.

After having lived for sixty years with a deformity which had twice caused him serious injury, Henry Brien met death at Middletown, N. Y., by a third accident similar to the other two. One leg was a little shorter than the other, and he wore a high heel. Twice he had fallen downstairs through his heel catching, and each time he sustained a broken leg. This time his heel caught on a step and he fell the full length, sustaining a fractured skull and a broken jaw. He died within an hour.

Children Dance as Mother Burns.

Two of her little children danced gleefully about her, apparently thinking it a fine sight, while Mrs. Howard Myers, aged twenty-six years, burned to death in the yard of her home at Smoketown, near Hagerstown, Md.

Mrs. Myers was burning rubbish while her three children played nearby. The mother's dress caught fire. The oldest child, with some realization of the horror, ran for help, but Mrs. Myers was dead before the first of the neighbors reached her.

Finds Diamond in His Quid.

A moment after Elliott Robley, of Altoona, Pa., who is engineer of the private locomotive used by General Superintendent George W. Creighton, of the Pennsylvania railroad, took a chew of tobacco, he bit on a hard substance, and spat it out on the floor of the round house. It turned out to be a perfectly cut diamond, half a carat in weight.

Father and Children Murdered in Boat.

Alexander Lindahl, a wealthy farmer residing at Concordia, Kan., his daughter, ten years old, and his son, eight years old, have been mysteriously murdered while riding in a motor boat on the Republican river. Their bodies were found. They had been shot and clubbed. There is no trace of their assailant.

Twenty-one Autos Burned.

Twenty-one automobiles were burned and eighteen damaged in a fire at Brokaw Brothers' automobile garage at Plainfield, N. J. The total loss is estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000, almost entirely on the machines.
