INTERESTING HISTORICAL SKETCH.—In last week's WATCHMAN was published a notice of the death of the late Maj. Roland C. Cheesman, of Washington, and at the request of the family and many old comrades of the deceased the following very complete historical sketch of Mr. Cheesman is published:

On March 25th, 1910, there passed from death to life the soul of Roland C. Cheesman, who in the Civil war was captain of Company A, 45th Pa. Vol. Inf. His remains were followed to Arlington cemetery, Virginia, by all the members of the Washington, D. C., association of the survivors of the regiment.

At the regimental reunion at Williamsport, Pa., March 2nd, 1910, he remarked, "We must hurry and get out our history before we die." His heart was bound up in that project and his pen was busy urging other comrades to contribute material for the history and the means to publish it.

Upon whose shoulders will his mantle fall? Roland C. Cheesman enlisted April 18th, 1861, from Centre county, Pa., as a private in Company H, 2nd Pa. Vol. Inf. (three months) and was discharged at Harrisburg, Pa., August 18th, 1861. He re-enlisted the same day for three years as a private in Company A, 45th Pa. Vol. Inf., and was discharged July 17th, 1865, at Alexandria, Va. He was promoted to rank of first sergeant, September 26th, 1862, for brave and meritorious conduct at the battles of South Mountain and Antietam, Md.; to second lieutenant, March 18th, 1863, to captain, September 29th, 1864, and brevetted major, April 2nd, 1865. He was wounded in the right knee and right shoulder at Blue Springs, Tenn., October 10th, 1863, and again wounded in the right foot, June 17th, 1864, at Petersburg, Va., and wounded in the right shoulder and back of head at Yellow Tavern, Va., September 11th, 1864, and then captured and taken to Libby Prison, Richmond, Va. He was exchanged and took command of the regiment in February, 1865. In the final assault on Petersburg, April 2nd, 1865, he was wounded in the right knee, rendering immediate amputation necessary.

He entered the bureau of pensions in 1881 and served there until 1905. For a short period he was employed in the document room of the House of Representatives. He was reinstated in the bureau of pensions March 18th, 1910, but performed five days service only, when he was stricken in his home by apoplexy and died twenty-four hours later, on March 25th, 1910.

Major Cheesman was born in Centre county, Pa., April 20th, 1839, and united in marriage to Miss Eliza T. Hillbish, at Bellefonte Nov. 15th, 1864. His wife and three children remain to lament the loss of a loving husband and a kind father. His associates lament the passing of a brave comrade and a knightly gentleman.

CARSON.—John M. Carson, a well known citizen of Centre county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Richard Houser, at Pleasant Gap, at 7:30 o'clock on Monday morning. His death was the result of a brief illness with grip and pleurisy and was naturally quite a shock to those of his friends who did not know of his illness.

He was born in Potter township and was 79 years and 8 months old. During his life he worked at various places and occupations throughout the county. He was a member of the Methodist church and an honest, upright gentleman, who was liked and esteemed by all who knew him. Two years ago he was stricken with paralysis but recovered so as to be out and around, but a second stroke last Saturday morning was so severe that he died within three hours.

He was fifty-seven years old and was born in Walker township, this county. For a number of years he lived at Farrisville, Clinton county, and seven years ago went to Lock Haven and had since been employed as clerk in various stores. His brother, Robert K. She was the last one of her father's family to answer the final summons. On January 20th, 1859, she was married to Riley Pratt and for almost thirty years the family have lived in Unionville. Mrs. Pratt was a member of the Presbyterian church and her whole life was a beautiful example of devotion to the cause of her Master and christian fellowship for all around her. In addition to her husband her death is mourned by the following children: Howard R., of Baltimore; Frank W., of Ambridge; David R., Seth B., and Miss Bessie, at home, and James A., a student at Princeton Theological Seminary. Miss Cramer also contracted the disease and was taken to the hospital, but death ensued in several weeks.

She was only twenty-five years old and had been teaching school for several years. She was a bright and intelligent young woman and her death is deeply deplored by all who knew her. She was a member of the Methodist church and an active worker in the same.

The remains were taken to her parents home at Sandy Ridge on Sunday from where the funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon.

ARMSTRONG.—Another old soldier has answered the last long roll in the person of Isaac Armstrong, who died at his home at Lemont on Wednesday night. About two months ago he was stricken with paralysis which left him in feeble health and his decline has been gradual until the end. He was born in Pennsylvania and was about sixty-five years old. He served during the Civil war and was a member of the G. A. R. He was an upright, industrious gentleman. Surviving him are his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Harry Evey. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. James Carson, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bouse, of Howard. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and Rev. W. K. MARTZ.—A wedding of especial interest to the people of Centre county, occurred on Monday afternoon, when Paul R. Martz and Miss Mable Smith, both of Pine Grove Mills, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed at the Bethany Lutheran parsonage, 204 Third avenue, Altoona, by the bride's former pastor, by the Rev. Ralph B. Bergstresser. The nuptial knot was tied at five o'clock, the beautiful ritual of the Lutheran church being used. The bride was dressed in a charming suit of amethyst cloth, with a large picture hat to match. The wedding will come as a pleasant surprise to their many friends, they having slipped quietly away on Monday morning without betraying their destination.

Mrs. Martz is well known throughout Centre county, as well as in Altoona and has a host of friends. She is an accomplished young lady and very popular wherever she is known. The groom is an expert penman and engraver and has a bright future. After a brief wedding tour they will return temporarily to Pine Grove Mills, but in the near future will take up their residence permanently at Columbus, Ohio.

STEVENS.—SLOEY.—On Monday Harold A. Stevens, of Reading, who the past winter has been a student at the Bellefonte Academy, and Miss Anna May Sloey went to Lock Haven where they were quietly married at the parsonage of St. Paul's Episcopal church by the pastor, Rev. Lewis Nichols. The young couple returned to Bellefonte on Monday and announced their marriage, which naturally created considerable surprise among their friends. The bride is a printer by trade and for some months past has been operator of the linotype machine in the Centre Democrat office. Mr. Stevens left the Academy on Tuesday for his home in Reading where he will go to work under his father, who holds a position on the Reading railroad, and will be joined by his wife later.

WEAVER.—FETTERHOFF.—On Tuesday Clarence Weaver, of Linden Hall, and Miss Grace Fetterhoff, of Centre Hall, went to Altoona where they were united in marriage at the parsonage of Bethany Lutheran church by the pastor, Rev. Ralph Bergstresser. They then left on a brief wedding trip which is being spent with friends in Pittsburg and Uniontown. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. N. C. Fetterhoff, of Centre Hall, and is a most estimable young woman. DOLAN.—GARBRICK.—Richard Dolan and Miss Iva Garbrick, both of Jacksonsville, came to Bellefonte on Thursday morning of last week and were quietly married by justice of the peace W. H. Musser, in his office in the Crider building.

—Fifty sets of single harness at reduced prices at the old reliable saddlery of James Schofield, Bellefonte.

—The Bucknell Academy baseball team will be here tomorrow (Saturday) and, weather permitting, will play the Bellefonte Academy on Hughes field in the forenoon. Game will be called at ten o'clock sharp. This will be another chance to see a good game and a large crowd should be on the grounds to see it and cheer the Bellefonte boys to victory.

—Wilbur F. Harris, of Harrisburg, has again embarked in the newspaper business, this time as general manager of the Carlisle Printing company, which publishes the Carlisle Evening Herald and the American Volunteer. Ten years or so ago Mr. Harris was the editor and manager of the Daily News and Republican in this place when those papers were leased by former Governor Hastings from the late E. T. Tuten, and proved himself as versatile with the pen as he is fluent in speech. His close interest in politics and the general affairs of the day are qualifications which naturally incline him to newspaper work and he will undoubtedly prove successful in his new position.

—An advertisement in the WATCHMAN always pays.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.—Now that nice weather is here the automobile is abroad in Bellefonte and Centre county more numerous than last year, as is evidenced by the number of new machines. Joe Diehl, of Howard, last week received a new Mathewson Six machine, similar to the one received earlier in the week by Hugh N. Crider. Col. W. Fred Reynolds has placed his order for a new Chadwick roadster and is offering his Franklin roadster for sale. Hon. A. G. Morris went to New York last Friday on a business trip and while there negotiated for the purchase of a new machine. His preference appears to be the Cunningham, a seven passenger, up-to-date car, and on which delivery within thirty days is guaranteed. The above with George A. Beezer, Dr. D. G. Stewart, Thomas H. Harter and Will Keichline's new demonstrating car, brought to Bellefonte this spring, the season is starting out very good and the probability is there will be a number of other new machines brought here during the summer.

Landlord J. M. Cunningham is now putting what little spare time he has trying to master the mysteries of operating his automobile. On Sunday afternoon he started out the pike for a little spin and when he got as far as the tollgate the machine stopped and no amount of coaxing he could do would induce it to start again. A telephone message to Beezer's garage was responded to by Mr. Goss and when he went out and examined the machine he discovered that Mr. Cunningham had failed to turn on the gas and naturally without fuel the machine would not work.

Mrs. H. W. Tate is taking lessons from her husband in learning how to run the doctor's automobile and she appears to be succeeding fairly well; though not yet adept enough to enter as a driver in a speed contest or automobile race. With a little more practice, however, she will be able to handle the throttle with comparative ease and confidence.

The annual meeting of the Bellefonte Motor club will be held at the Brockerhoff house at 8:30 o'clock next Monday evening. It will be an important meeting in many respects and every member should be present. The election of officers for the ensuing year will be held and there will be several committee reports of special interest. Following the meeting a banquet and smoker will be enjoyed by the members.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—At the closing session of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, held in this place last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. M. H. Wilson, of this place, who had been recording secretary of the society ever since it was organized, thirty-five years ago, tendered her resignation, but as she has always been so devoted to the cause of missions and the work of this society she was made a member of the advisory committee. The full list of officers elected is as follows:

R. Smith, Altoona; corresponding secretary, Miss C. W. Stewart, Spruce Creek; secretaries of Young People's societies and bands, Miss Anna Fisher, Huntingdon; Miss Grace Burket, Tyrone; secretary of literature, Mrs. F. B. Reed, Clearfield; treasurer, Miss S. D. Morrow, Tyrone; advisory committee, consisting of charter members of the society, Mrs. N. D. Orbison, Bellefonte; Mrs. J. Dorris, Huntingdon; Mrs. S. M. Ross, Altoona; Mrs. William Woods, Huntingdon, and Mrs. M. H. Wilson, Bellefonte.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT HOWARD.—The borough of Howard had the most disastrous fire on Tuesday night it has had in years in the total destruction of the Howard canning factory. The fire, which is generally believed to have been of incendiary origin, broke out about two o'clock but when discovered the flames had already gained such headway that it was impossible to save either the building or any of the contents. All the machinery was so badly damaged as to be rendered worthless for anything but scrap iron. The company had a small unsold stock of canned goods on hand as well as a good supply of new cans, all of which were destroyed.

The canning factory cost to build and equip sixteen thousand dollars and the stock on hand was valued at about two thousand dollars, so that the total loss is in the neighborhood of eighteen thousand dollars, with but six thousand dollars insurance. The factory has been idle over a year, as it was not operated at all last year and no plans had been made to run it this year, so that it will hardly be rebuilt.

—It might be interesting to the people of Bellefonte to know that one of the stars of the Ben Greet players who will be at State College tomorrow is Virginia Rolette, an actress of unusual talent. She is known personally by one or more persons in Bellefonte and they give assurance of the fact that it is a rare treat to see and hear her.

—At a recent meeting of the board of management of the new Bickford Fire Brick company it was decided to double the present capacity of the plant at Curwensville. The work will mean increasing the size of the yard over three hundred feet and the erection of eight additional kilns. This would increase the force of employees from two to four hundred men. The Bickford plant is the one in which a number of Bellefonters are financially interested.

—The new ambulance for the Bellefonte hospital has been quite conspicuous on the streets since its formal presentation to that institution two weeks ago; and the number of times it has been requisitioned into use is evidence of the judgment of those who saw the need of it and worked to procure it. While it is unfortunate that anyone may be compelled to be hauled in it to the hospital, when such is the case, however, it is a satisfaction to know they can be taken there with as much comfort as possible.

—The spring meeting of the Huntingdon Presbytery will be held in the Presbyterian church in this place, next Monday and Tuesday, beginning with the session Monday evening and continuing all day on Tuesday. In addition to the regular routine business of the Presbytery a feature which will be of special interest to the people of Bellefonte and Centre county will be a memorial meeting on Tuesday afternoon in memory of the late Dr. William Laurie, D. D., LL. D., and James Harris, who for years was an elder and leading member of the Bellefonte church. The full program for the meeting was published in the WATCHMAN three weeks ago.

John Reed sold his farm last week and will sell his stock and implements today (Friday). He will fit to Graysville, where he and his good wife will enjoy a well deserved rest. SPRING MILLS.

Mrs. Hattie Ulrich, after a successful operation at the Bellefonte hospital, returned home last week. Charles Dale, of Romola, spent Saturday and Sunday here, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rachau.

After an absence of three weeks Dr. Lieb returned home on Monday last. The family will follow in a few days. There were quite a number of removals and changes in our town on moving day. Still we have a few vacant dwellings left over.

Our sick—Mrs. Sue Hering and Mrs. Maggie Donachy, are on the mend. Mrs. Jane Notsker and Mrs. Runkle are not improving any.

C. H. Long, having finished a course of book-keeping at the Williamsport Commercial college, returned home on Saturday of last week. He will now enter into active business on the "Hill."

Mrs. G. W. Wolfe, having recently changed her millinery parlors from the east side of her residence to the large rooms in the west, has fitted them up very handsomely and introduced several conveniences. The change is a decided improvement. Mrs. Wolfe makes a display of radiantly beautiful hats, Parisian and Fifth avenue creations. The most fastidious women cannot complain of the styles. They are unmistakably charming, graceful in line, offer a wide variety of choice and most attractive in their trimmings. In shape the spring hats are no longer ridiculous exaggerations. Mrs. Wolfe remarked that rough fancy straws in colors would be in vogue, with Leghorn as the favorite. Since her opening days the parlors have been thronged with anxious sight-seers.
