—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newman, of Philipsburg, are deserving of the deepest sympathy of everybody in that community. Within the year two of their children died from disease and on Tuesday their little son, Stanley, aged two and a half years, got hold of a bottle of laudanum and drank most of the contents, dying inside of three hours.

—During the past week workmen have been engaged putting the basement under the postoffice in Temple Court in a fit and sanitary condition for a lounging room for the mail carriers, as required by the postoffice department in Washington. At the same time the water meter on the elevator pipe was removed from the street to inside the building so as to get it out of the way of the new state road.

—Joe Thal is entitled to the belt for having made the champion catch of trout so far this season. On Wednesday morning he caught four trout in the dam above the swing factory which measured all together sixty-four inches and weighed seven and a half pounds. They were the four nicest trout caught by one man hereabouts in years. T. Clayton Brown landed from the creek near the pump house several days ago, four trout one of which measured seventeen inches in length.

To BEAUTIFY THE TOWN.—All over the country newspapers and borough and city officials are advocating a clean-up week when everybody should join in cleaning-up their properties and doing what they can to beautify the town. While Bellefonte as a general thing is clean and wholesome there is room for improvement in many places and a clean-up week would not be out of place here. It is not only nice to have a beautiful front yard, but how do you keep your back yard? Is it a dumping place for all kinds of refuse; unkempt, unsanitary, disease-breeding? If so, it needs a good cleaning up. So do many of the alleys in town and even some of the streets. While it may not be necessary to have a clean-up week, it would be very commendable on the part of all to clean up wherever needed.

One of the prominent ministers of the town called the writer's attention a few days ago to the fact that there is probably more travel on south Water street than any thoroughfare in Bellefonte. Travel not only by residents of the town but by ninety-nine per cent. of the visitors of the town, who go out to see the big spring, and where there is more unpicturesque and to a great extent unkempt street than it is? With few exceptions the buildings are old weather-beaten structures, the street is a dumping place for stone piles and old vehicles, lumber, etc., while the hill overlooking the street is in anything but a slightly condition. After thus decrying the condition of the street the minister suggested or refused to "fix up a little" on that thoroughfare that council ought to take the matter in hand, and we here-with pass his statement along to all concerned. In fact we think it worthy of consideration.

WILL APPEAL TO THE LADIES.—In the exquisite little frocks worn by Miss Roberta Brennan who plays the role of "Gertrude Powell" in "St. Elmo" which will come to the opera house on Saturday evening, May 7th, this season's debutantes will see duplicates of some very fetching creations which will grace New York drawing rooms this season. For several years the styles for young women have been more elegant than dainty. Satins, which have been the most popular fabrics for dinner and dancing gowns, were anything but youthful, and however clinging and supple the weave, it gave dignity rather than girlishness to the figure. This season, however, soft fabrics and simple styles, showing very little garniture, are back in favor for debutantes. Miss Brennan's first act frock is of palest green silk muller inset elaborately with German Val lace. In design it shows a modification of Moyaen Age dress, with exaggerated waist line, softened by a deep Spanish flounce. The neck is square and the sleeves come to the elbow. Her second act frock is an afternoon dress, suitable for wear at tea or reception. The fabric is white chiffon cloth over softest white messaline. The neck is "V" shaped, but not very low, the sleeves are elbow length and the almost severe simplicity of the frock is relieved by a high girdle of chiffon cloth, encrusted with tiny gold beads, and coming to a decided point in the front.

HOW MISTAKES HAPPEN.—Subscribers of a newspaper and the public in general rely upon what they read in any reputable newspaper as being facts and in the main they are. A newspaper of any standing will not wilfully make a statement that cannot be substantiated, but sometimes an error will happen and it is invariably ascribable to the source from which the information is derived and not from any desire on the part of the reporter to misstate facts, and this brings us to the point. About the middle of March a man was arrested in this place for furnishing liquor to a man of known intemperate habits. The writer was told by the officials and one other party that the man was Harry Williams, of Huston township, and not knowing any different made mention of the fact. Mr. Williams, who is station agent at Julian, of course protested, inasmuch as he is the only Harry Williams in that township. Investigation disclosed the fact that the man's name was not Williams at all but J. H. Green, who has been bound over for court, and we naturally are glad to offer our apologies to Mr. Williams. A newspaper man is not infallible, and mistakes like this will sometimes occur, but when they do, the editor is always willing to tell the truth and make amends to the best of his ability.

SPECIAL GRANGE MEETINGS.—The Centre county Pomona Grange has arranged for the holding of a number of public meetings at various points in Centre county. These meetings will be held in the evening and will be addressed by two prominent men, one of whom will be from either the State College or the State Agricultural Department. On the morning following the public meetings a private meeting will be held for members only. The places for the public meetings and the dates are as follows:

Hubersburg, June 6th; Zion, June 7th; Benner, June 8th; Halfmoon, June 9th; Rock Springs, June 10th, and Pine Grove Mills, June 11th. Special private meetings will be held at Spring Mills and Madisonburg on June 9th and 10th respectively.

—Miss Annie Powers, one of the compositors in the WATCHMAN office, has been ill with illness the past week, though she is now somewhat improved.

—Capt. A. C. Mingle has decided that he has driven that Cadillac chariot of his long enough and has bought a new Overland five passenger automobile from Joseph H. Diehl, of Howard. John Sebring, Jr., last week sold D. F. Kaup, at State College, a 1910 model G Franklin car, which is regarded one of the best medium priced cars put out by the Franklin company.

—The bill for the payment of long standing claims of mail carriers for pay for working overtime has passed the lower house in Congress and is now in the Senate where it is expected it will receive favorable consideration. The only carrier in Bellefonte having a claim yet unsettled and who will be benefitted if the act passes and is signed by the President is John C. Bair, whose claim is $33.62.

—Remember that no other musical event of the season will be anywhere near as good as the concert to be given in the court house this evening by the Penn State orchestra. The orchestra is composed of thirty-two young men, under the leadership of a professional director, and they are quite the equal of many of the professional orchestras throughout the country. The program will include vocal and violin solos.

—Owing to the hard rains and consequent bad condition of the roads there were no members of the Bellefonte motor club in attendance at the meeting held in Lewistown last Friday in the interest of securing a better road through the Lewistown Narrows. Quite an interesting meeting was held, however, and such action taken as will eventually result, it is believed, in having the road put in good condition and provision made for its permanent maintenance.

—R. B. Taylor is pushing the job of digging out the yard in the rear of the court house extension and at the rate the work has been going will have his grading all done long before the court house is completed. The clay and stone removed are being used in making the fill on the new state road in front of the Beaver and Hoy road, so that he is practically killing two birds with one stone. There have been a number of objections against terracing next the street on each side of the court house but as this is mostly a matter between the county commissioners and council the public is being bothered unnecessarily.

—If you have a passion for music, really good music, go to the court house this (Friday) evening and hear the concert by the State College orchestra for the benefit of the Bellefonte baseball association. The WATCHMAN told you last week and week before what a good concert this is sure to be but as a final effort we want to impress upon you the fact that if you fail to attend it you will miss a rare treat. This we know from having heard them a year ago and the orchestra is larger and better this year than last. Then you should also go to help along the baseball association in its initial efforts to provide some good sport for the people of the town the coming season.

—Shortly before the WATCHMAN went to press on Thursday of last week Mrs. Charles Rine, on east Howard street, made an attempt at suicide by shooting herself. She fired four shots from a revolver only one of which took effect. At first it was thought she was seriously injured but an examination disclosed the fact that the ball entered her left side but struck a rib and was deflected from its course, coming out of the left side of her back. The Rines live in one end of a double house, the other end of which is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. G. Hunter Kniesely, and one of the shots fired by the woman came near proving more disastrous than the one which took effect upon herself. The ball almost penetrated through a stud in the dividing wall between the two houses and directly opposite where Mr. Kniesely was sitting propped up in bed. Had it been one inch to the right or left it would have gone through the plastering and hit him. Many stories have been circulated as to why the woman attempted to take her own life and while all of them can hardly be true, there is little doubt but that it was domestic trouble of some sort.

—The work of completing the new High school building is progressing very slowly, or at least it seems so to the casual observer. But when a person takes a stroll through the building and takes account of its immensity he can easily understand why the work seems to drag. There is so much of the building that it would take an army of workmen, one to two hundred and more than can be obtained in Bellefonte, to rush the work along. But at that the work is being pushed along steadily and unceasingly. Most of the rooms on the first and second floors have been plastered and are ready for the finishing whitecoat. The carpenters this week began work on laying the floors and as soon as the plastering is completed will fit in the doors and casing and the other inside woodwork. The Bellefonte Steam Heating company has practically completed the installation of the heating and ventilating system and from present appearance it will be one of the best ever installed in any building in Bellefonte. The completion of the big hall in time for the High school commencement is assured and that will be the first opportunity the general public will have of seeing what a magnificent building it will be when finally completed.

WRAY—BROWN.—The home of Mrs. James Harris, on Spring street, was the scene of a pretty though unpretentious wedding on Tuesday morning when Miss Elizabeth Eckert Brown became the bride of Robert Wallace Wray, of Bellwood. There were only the intimate friends of the contracting parties present to witness the ceremony which took place at 11 o'clock and was performed by Dr. J. Allison Platts, of the Presbyterian church.

The bride, arrayed in a gown of cream satin trimmed in duchess lace, with a bridal veil and carrying lilies of the valley, looked quite charming as she marched to the altar leaning on the arm of her uncle, Howard Holzworth, of Unionville, who gave her away. She was attended by Miss Mary Thomas, as maid of honor, who wore a gown of embroidered pink crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. The bridegroom had as his best man James Young, of Hollidaysburg. Miss Margaret Thomas played the wedding march.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was tendered the newly married couple after which a delicious wedding breakfast was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Wray left on a brief wedding trip, at the termination of which they will take up their residence in Harrisburg, at 445 Hummel street.

The bride, who received many handsome presents in silver, cut glass, china, linen, etc., is a daughter of Mrs. Sarah C. Brown and is an accomplished young woman. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. D. L. Wray, of Bellwood, and is a graduate of State College. He now has a good position in the motive power department of the Philadelphia division of the Pennsylvania railroad, with headquarters in Harrisburg.

Among those who attended the wedding were Clement Wray and Misses Nan, Ethel and Katherine Wray, brother and sisters of the groom.

HOY—HOMAN.—The home of Mr. B. F. Homan, at Oak Hall, was the scene of a pretty wedding at noon on Wednesday when his daughter, Miss Alma I. Homan, was united in marriage to Harry Hoy. Only the immediate families were present as witnesses to the ceremony which was performed by Rev. J. I. Stonecypher, of the Boalsburg Lutheran church. Miss Gertie Homan played the wedding march as the bridal couple wended their way to the altar attended by Miss May Homan as bridesmaid and Mr. Pauline, of Muncy, as best man. Following the marriage quite an elaborate wedding dinner was served and at 3:40 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Hoy departed on a brief wedding trip. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hoy, of Pine Hall, and is already quite a capable young farmer while the bride is a young woman of many estimable qualities. They have the best wishes of the WATCHMAN for their future happiness.

SNYDER—OSMAN.—Melvin J. Snyder, of Watsontown, and Miss Minnie M. Osman, of Lemont, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Osman, at seven o'clock on Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. A. Sower, of Pleasant Gap, in the presence of a small coterie of invited guests. The bride was attended by four of her most intimate young lady friends. A wedding supper and reception followed the ceremony. After a brief wedding trip the young couple will go to house-keeping at Watsontown where the bridegroom is employed as a telegraph operator.

BATHURST—LEATHERS.—On Thursday afternoon of last week Ira W. Bathurst and Miss Tracie C. Leathers, both of Mt. Eagle, went to Lock Haven where they were united in marriage by Rev. Henry J. Johnson, of the Baptist church. They left the same afternoon for Coatesville where they will make their home.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI APPOINTS COMMITTEE.—At a meeting of the High school alumni association held on Monday evening the following members were appointed a committee to make arrangements for the annual reception to the graduating class on Tuesday evening, May 31st: Eva Crisman, chairman; Daisy Barnes, Elizabeth Barnhart, Pearl Kniesely, Helen Schaeffer, Jane Hafer, Louise Brachbill, Edna Meyer, Mame Woods, LeRoy Locke, Milan Walker, Benjamin Swartz, Gladstone Taylor, Chester Barnes, John Rankin, Harold Kirk and D. Paul Fortney.

JONES BROS. WILD WEST SHOW.—Bellefonte's first show of the season will be on Thursday, May 12th, when Jones Bros. Buffalo ranch wild west aggregation will be here. This is a new show in this part of the State but it will come here with all the heralding of brass bands, cowboys and Indians, Mexican Vaqueros, etc. They also have a troupe of Japanese, Cossack riders, Arabian acrobats and every feature that goes to make up a real wild west exhibition. A big street parade will be made prior to the show.

Besides hearing about the highest class musical organization in Central Pennsylvania—and we know whereof we speak—many of those who attend the concert by the Penn State orchestra tonight will have their first opportunity to see the interior of the remodelled court room. This may sound like a trifling matter, but we venture the assertion that were it not for concerts, lectures and such things there are hundreds of people right here in Bellefonte who would never know what the inside of their own court house looks like.

JUNIORS GIVE RECEPTION TO SENIORS.

—One of the most successful receptions ever given by one class of the Bellefonte High school to another was that given by the Juniors to the Seniors, in the old High school building, last Friday evening. Including the students of both classes and the members of the faculty just fifty people were present. The reception room was decorated with the junior class colors of purple and old gold and the banquet room was gay with the senior class colors, orange and white. The banquet served was delicious and elaborate enough for the occasion and at the conclusion of the feast there was an hour of speech-making. Henry Keller, president of the Junior class, presided as toastmaster, and responses were made by Jonas A. Wagner, Charles Auman and L. O. Noll, of the faculty, and Nevin Wetzel, president of the Senior class.
