VITAL WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, MAY 5, 1910.

These are features of Taft "cut-to-the-quick" economy, about which so much is heard everywhere save in Washington.

White House receptions which "rival the glory of Napoleon's court," at one of which, according to the Washington Post, "a dazzling ravine of gold blazed before the vision."

Another group of "cut-to-the-quick" economies includes:

When but twelve years of age she became a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Pleasant Gap, this county, and for over three score years was a faithful communicant and follower in the footsteps of her Master.

YEARICK.—Harry Yearick died at the home of his brother, John Yearick, at Hecla, on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, and his illness and death were of such a character as to create a suspicion of his having been poisoned.

"Aldrich is not a candidate for re-election and therefore is no longer an issue," is what the Republicans are preparing to say from the stump in the approaching congressional elections.

On April 25, 1910, Vice President Sherman made a speech at St. Louis in which he intimated that the new tariff law was bringing in so much money that it might possibly be necessary to revise the Payne Aldrich tariff law downward.

DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT AT BLANCHARD.—Thornton C. Williams, of Blanchard, met a deplorable death on Saturday night, and the unfortunate part of the whole affair is that so far as known no human being knows how it occurred.

The last seen of him alive was when he left the McCloskey home about eleven o'clock at night. Bechtel and Gunsallus had preceded him and Williams started home alone in the buggy.

The body was removed and Dr. Huff, of Milesburg, coroner of Centre county, was notified, who went to Blanchard on Sunday morning and held an inquest.

It is not known definitely at what point the accident occurred, though the man must have been dead one hour when found, showing that the horse either traveled very slowly or else stopped along the way.

THE one question, and the unfortunate one, that perhaps never will be settled, is that of whether Williams fell from the buggy while under the influence of liquor, or whether he had an attack of some kind rendering him physically incapable.

Next Thursday will be show day and you had better take advantage of it to come to Bellefonte and see the elephant as it may be the only opportunity you will have this summer.
