THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

James McNicol was taken to the hospital yesterday with a bad case of appendicitis.

Miss Berenice Noll has been in bed the past few days with a very bad sore throat.

Children's Day services will be held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning.

The interior of the Lutheran church is being redecorated, the walls frescoed and the wood work painted.

L. H. Orwig is now driving a new model G Franklin roadster and is as happy as any other owner of a car.

At the commencement exercises of Syracuse University last week the degree of D. D. was conferred upon Rev. Silas Everard Quimby, of Bellefonte.

A new quarter horse-power electric motor has been installed in the Undine fire company's house on Bishop street to be used in sounding their fire alarm.

R. B. Taylor, of this place, has put in a bid for the enlarging of the big reservoir at Tyrone. As a contractor he is becoming quite prominent throughout the State.

Manager T. Clayton Brown has arranged for a return of the picture of King Edward's funeral and the same will be shown for the second time at the Scenic tonight.

R. B. Taylor is now receiving shipments of brick to be used in the paving of Allegheny street, so that the work will not be delayed on account of not having the brick in time.

Preaching services will be held in the United Brethren church at Julian on Sunday at 10.30 o'clock a. m. and at Paradise at 7.30 o'clock in the evening by Rev. E. Harvey Swank, pastor.

Claster's Underselling store has an announcement on the sixth page of today's paper that it will pay you to read. They are offering a big mid-summer cut in prices on most anything you want or need.

Next Tuesday will be the longest day of the year and the beginning of the summer season. This latter is one thing we all ought to be thankful for, as so far we have had little weather at all like summer.

Bishop Eugene A. Garvey, of the Altoona diocese, has transferred Father Corcoran from St. Mary's church at Snow Shoe to the Catholic church at Spangler and Rev. Father Joseph Farran has been transferred from Altoona to Snow Shoe.

Jack, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Decker, is again going around with his arm in a sling. Six weeks or two months ago he fell and broke an arm and the bone had just gotten nicely knit together when he fell again on Monday and broke the same arm.

John Curtin and James Furst opened their camp on Fishing creek yesterday and expect to have everything filled up over Sunday, at least, as W. S. Furst, of Philadelphia, and a number of Pittsburg friends will be their guests from Friday until Monday.

Miss Emily Bassett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Bassett, of Sparrows Point, Md., and a grand-daughter of Rev. James P. Hughes, of this place, was one of the graduates at the Hamilton school, Philadelphia, last week and was awarded the gold medal for proficiency in literature.

On next Sunday the Sabbath school of the Bellefonte Methodist Episcopal church will begin its sessions at 9.30 a. m., and continue meeting at that hour during the summer. The preaching service will be at 10.45 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Yesterday Charles M. McCurdy, H. C. Quigley and Dr. Kilpatrick opened their annual camp on Fishing creek. J. Edward Quigley, of Pittsburg, who was here for college commencement, and Richard Quigley, of Lock Haven, were the first guests at camp, having spent Sunday there.

Being unable to secure prompt delivery on that Mitchell car he ordered a month or more ago Hon. A. G. Morris has cancelled the order and purchased a new Renier automobile which was shipped from New York on Monday. It is a high priced, up-to-date machine and the equal of any car in Bellefonte.

Miss Megargee, who the past two years has been head milliner at Katz & Co's store in this place, surprised her friends here the past week by announcing that she had been married in March to R. W. Jackson, of Germantown. She expects to leave Bellefonte in the near future to join her husband and go to housekeeping.

Mrs. Harriet Thomas Kurtz recently gave her comprehensive lecture on "Saunterings Through Switzerland" in the church of the Messiah, Broad street and Montgomery avenue, Philadelphia, for the benefit of the mission circle. The lecture was illustrated with fifty-seven different scenes and was much appreciated by those who heard it.

BIG CLASS GRADUATES AT STATE COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.—One hundred and sixty-eight young men and four young women graduated at The Pennsylvania State College at the fiftieth annual commencement exercises held this week, the largest class sent out into the world in the history of that institution.

As early as the middle of last week guests began to arrive at the College for commencement week and the result was the usual large crowd of visitors. One noticeable thing, however, was that the number of old college grads back to spend the week was not nearly so large as in former years, while the number of friends of the graduates was greater than heretofore.

The first feature of the commencement was the State-Bucknell baseball game last Saturday afternoon which was won by State by the close score of 2 to 1. Saturday evening The Pharosians gave their usual commencement entertainment in the auditorium.

On Sunday morning the auditorium was crowded with students and their friends to hear the annual baccalaureate sermon, preached by Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, of Brooklyn, N. Y. On Sunday afternoon the cadet band gave a sacred concert in the auditorium and in the evening a very enthusiastic meeting was held by the college Y. M. C. A.

On Monday afternoon the track meet between the various classes was held on Beaver field and in the evening the annual Junior oratorical contest took place. Later in the evening a number of fraternities held receptions and dances.

Tuesday was a busy day with meetings of the board of trustees, the alumni and various fraternities; an exhibition drill by the cadet battalion and a baseball game between the Varsity and Alumni, the former winning by the score of 6 to 3. At the annual election of trustees for the ensuing year the alumni elected Judge Ellis L. Orvis, of this place; J. E. Quigley, of Pittsburg, and W. H. Walker, of Boston, Mass.

The agricultural societies re-elected W. F. Hill, of Huntingdon; H. V. White and Andrew Carnegie, of New York, and elected Prof. Menges, of York, to succeed Gen. Frank Miller, of Franklin. On Tuesday evening a large crowd filled the auditorium to witness "The Thespians" in their rendition of "A Gay Soubrette," while the alumni reception in McAllister hall later in the evening was well attended.

The graduating exercises proper were held in the auditorium on Wednesday morning. The commencement address was delivered by John H. Jones, of Pittsburg, who took for his subject "Know your Position." The class valedictory was delivered by Charles Richard Steele, after which the degrees were conferred and prizes awarded.

On Wednesday afternoon Congressman S. E. Ancona, of Reading, was the principal speaker at a meeting held in the auditorium commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Hon. John S. Morrill, of Lemont, father of the so-called "land grant act" of 1862, upon which the State College was established. The big social event of the week, naturally, was the Junior assembly on Wednesday evening and it was attended by the usual large and brilliant crowd.

In the list of graduates were the following from Centre county: Clarence Edward McCormick, Charles Darwin Faunce, Joshua Plummer Pillsbury, Howard Hibbs Agee, Sidney Prentiss Armsby, Charles Emory Glover and Roy Benner Fehr, of State College; Thomas Gladstone Haugh, of Benore; George Albert Hoy, of Wadde; Guy Watson Jacobs, of Centre Hall; Roy Hall Mobley, of Beech Creek, and Walter Weber Muffley, of Howard.

In the scholarship awards Charles Robison Stover, of Altoona, won the John W. White fellowship, $400, and Joseph Eyre Platt the John W. White medal, value $50. The Thomas W. Barlow prize of $100 was awarded to Paul Work, and the McAllister prize of $25 to Harvey Peter Kocher. The special military awards went to John Frederick Mattern, Harry Barker Norris and John Augustus Summers.

Among the advanced degrees conferred was that of Bachelor of Science to Francis E. Prey, of Niagara Falls, formerly a teacher in the Bellefonte public schools.

CLEAN UP BELLEFONTE.—Clean up day in Bellefonte, which has been appointed for Wednesday and Thursday, the 29th and 30th days of June, means that everyone in the town within the borough limits, or outside, owning property or occupying that which belongs to others, is asked to improve the appearance of that same property by cleaning your yards, your front pavements and gutters, your alleys, trimming the trees and having hauled to the public dumping pit all ashes and rubbish that may have accumulated about your house or stable after having burned that part of the accumulation that is burnable. The clean up day is a universal movement throughout the United States and should particularly appeal to the residents of Bellefonte when considering the natural beauty of the town and its surrounding country, and how that same beauty can be enhanced by a few hours work about your own home or in lending a helping hand to that neighbor who is unable to do for himself. The children in this vacation time will greatly aid you, interest them and arouse their pride and the results will be gratifying. As Bellefonters do for Bellefonte—and you will not regret time so profitably spent. Signed

VILLAGE IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE.

The bass season opened on Wednesday and fishermen can now divide their time between trout and bass fishing, though if they are not more successful with the latter than they have been with the former so far this season they will not be overburdened carrying their catch home. But if the weather only becomes warm and the water in the streams fall to normal level fishing may be attended with better results.

On Tuesday Kettering's orchestra, of Greensburg, which played at State College on Monday evening and had another engagement for Wednesday evening, came to Bellefonte to give a concert in the Elks home but out of respect to the memory of the late Judge Love it was not given. Instead the orchestra played at the Brockerhoff house during the supper hour and gave a two hour concert in the parlor in the evening.

Through fear your property should be that one that might mar the perfect condition of your street, see to it that when the inspection committee visit you on Friday and Saturday after the clean up day, that they find nothing to criticize. Even though you be a renter, the satisfaction and pleasure from orderly surroundings is compensation enough for the few hours spent in recognition of Bellefonte's first clean up day.

Children's day was very appropriately observed in the Methodist church at Curtin on Sunday when a large congregation was in attendance. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreen and laurel. The children all rendered their different parts in excellent style, and thus showed the excellent drill work of their teachers. The services were in charge of superintendent Howard Neff assisted by Calvin Bathurst.

Mrs. Henrietta Nolan and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Boyd Nolan, spent Sunday and Monday in Tyrone. When the late Boyd A. Nolan entered the service of the Pennsylvania railroad company as a brakeman he had his relief benefit made out in his mother's name and when he died the money was paid to her. While in Tyrone on Monday Mrs. Nolan made transfer of the money and personal property he left to his widow.

Thomas A. Shoemaker, for the Eyer-Shoemaker Construction company, has purchased the big slag pile at the Nittany furnace and on Saturday he and superintendent M. I. Gardner agreed upon a rate for the delivery of the slag over the Nittany Valley railroad to the Lewisburg and Tyrone road. The slag will be used at Northumberland as filling in the big classification yards being built there and it is expected that shipment will begin in about three weeks.

On Tuesday the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws upon Gen. James A. Beaver and the degree of Doctor of Divinity upon Rev. Robert E. Speer, both of whom are now in Edinburgh as delegates to the World's missionary convention. That such an old and world-recognized University as Edinburgh should confer a degree upon anyone not a graduate of the same is a signal honor and the people of Bellefonte can feel proud of the fact that it was bestowed upon a citizen of the town.

The Bellefonte baseball association realized thirty-eight dollars as the net proceeds of last Friday's game between the Fats and Leans on Hughes field. The Leans won by the score of 12 to 8, probably because they were lighter of foot and naturally ought to run better than the heavy Fats. Of course it was not a faultless or a very scientific game, but it furnished considerable amusement for the spectators, even though one nice looking young girl did make the awful remark that "it looked so silly to see those old fellows play ball."

In their undertaking to secure an elevator for the Bellefonte hospital the Misses Mary and Elizabeth Blanchard have so far secured pledged subscriptions to the amount of $750. To purchase the elevator, do the piping and install it in the hospital will require about $1,400, but as the firm from whom it will be purchased requires as a first payment only $700, it means that the elevator will be secured and installed in the near future; and when it is the physicians, patients and everyone connected with that institution will be under deep obligations to the Misses Blanchard for what they have done. The borough authorities have offered to furnish the water necessary to operate the elevator free of charge.

Quite a large audience was present in the Presbyterian church last Thursday evening to hear Gaud's "Holy City," as sung by a chorus of fifty voices, with pipe organ and orchestral accompaniment, and as a result the Ladies Auxiliary of the Bellefonte hospital, under whose auspices the musicale was given, netted just $78.49 for the benefit of that institution. And that they were able to do this is due to the fact that practically everything was contributed free. The ladies, therefore, not only feel very kindly toward all who in anyway assisted in the evening's entertainment but through the columns of the WATCHMAN desire to publicly express their thanks to each and every one, and especially to Prof. Sherwood E. Hall, who worked so untiringly in drilling the chorus without a cent of remuneration; to those who sang and the members of the State College orchestra, as well as those papers who gratuitously furnished tickets and other printed matter.

BOOM THE MOVEMENT FOR A SAFE AND SANE FOURTH.—Quite a representative gathering of men and women assembled in the new High school building last Friday evening in pursuance to a call of the Civic committee of the Woman's Club in order to formulate a movement for a safe and sane Fourth of July. And right here we want to say that by a safe and sane Fourth it is not meant that the people of Bellefonte are to spend the day housed up in their homes or at church. It simply means the doing away with the promiscuous handling of the high explosive and dangerous firecrackers, torpedoes, blank cartridges, etc., that in years past have been the cause of such a large casualty list throughout the land, and making the day a holiday replete with harmless sports and amusements.

Various suggestions were made at the meeting as to how this could be done but no plan has as yet been definitely outlined. Among the suggestions are a baseball game, a marathon race, various field sports, an automobile parade, a good band to give concerts at various places throughout the town during the day and evening to close with a mammoth exhibition of fireworks to be put off on some hill where they can be seen by everybody and under the direction of an experienced man. Of course it will require money to do all this but if one-fourth the amount usually spent individually is contributed into one general fund it will be ample to give the people of the town such a Fourth of July as can be equally enjoyed by all.

As the one big thing in doing this is the money a Finance committee was appointed last Friday evening's meeting to see how much of a fund can be raised and report at another meeting to be held this (Friday) evening at the same place. The members of this committee are G. R. Spigelmyer, H. C. Quigley, W. Harrison Walker, Mrs. E. E. Davis, Mrs. W. G. Morrison, Mrs. L. A. Schaeffer and James C. Furst. If you have not yet put your name down for a contribution such as you feel able to make and are approached by any one of the above committee don't be at all backward, as they will take whatever you have to give.

The following gentlemen were appointed a committee on amusements: J. D. Sourbeck, chairman; Dr. R. A. Weston, R. Russell Blair, J. Will Conley, George R. Meek, John M. Shugert and Robert F. Hunter. It is their duty to arrange the schedule of amusements and sports for the day and the nature and scope of these will depend entirely upon the amount of the fund subscribed.

SECOND ELECTION FOR COLONEL UNSUCCESSFUL.—A second election for colonel of the Twelfth regiment, N. G. P., was held at Sunbury on Saturday night and again it was without definite result, so far as electing a colonel was concerned, though it showed the remarkable strength of Capt. H. S. Taylor, of this place. At the first election there were three candidates, Major William F. Follmer, of Lewisburg, Major W. C. King, of Williamsport, and Capt. H. S. Taylor, of this place. There are thirty-six lieutenants in the regiment and of this number Follmer received sixteen votes, King fourteen and Taylor six.

At Saturday evening's meeting Major King withdrew from the contest, leaving only Follmer and Taylor in the field. Only thirty-four lieutenants were present, as since the last meeting two vacancies have occurred, one by retirement and one by resignation. Seven ballots were taken and each resulted in a tie, both Follmer and Taylor receiving seventeen votes, and the meeting again was adjourned without electing a colonel. It will now be necessary to await the issue of another election order before a third attempt can be made to elect a commander for the Twelfth. In the meantime lieutenant colonel William F. Barber, of Sunbury, will have charge of the regiment and all its affairs.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT EXHIBITION.—The faculty of the school of agriculture and experiment station of The Pennsylvania State College, has set aside Wednesday afternoon, June 22nd, 1910, for the purpose of showing the farmers of Centre county its field, garden and orchard experiments and such other work of the station as time may permit. All persons interested are invited to assemble in front of the agricultural building at 2 p. m. sharp. It is expected that the trip over the farm and through the stables and laboratories will require about three hours. The question is often asked by visitors from a distance whether the farmers of the locality are in the habit of visiting the college to study the work of the Experiment Station and whether they profit by the results obtained. Such inquiries have led the faculty to feel that it may have been remiss in not having set aside a day each year on which farmers within driving distance of the college could assemble and have the work explained to them by members of the staff. On the date selected, Wednesday, June 22nd, it is believed that the plat will be in prime condition to indicate the lessons which they teach. Everybody is cordially invited to be present.

The marriage of Lewis Buckingham and Miss Elsie May Bell, daughter of Rev. J. Ellis Bell, a prominent Methodist divine, will take place in the Methodist church at York, Pa., at six o'clock on Tuesday evening, June 28th. Mr. Buckingham is a relative of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schaeffer, of this place, and has frequently visited here.
