

PINE GROVE MENTION.

The days are getting shorter and hotter.

Miss Maria Miller is visiting friends in the lumber city.

Mrs. Frank Gates spent Friday at State College shopping.

Frank B. Krebs, of Spruce Creek, spent Sunday with his mother.

J. I. Markle, of Bellwood, is spending this week with his family here.

Prof. Fred Kaufman and family spent Sunday at the Kimport home.

Miss Eliza Moore, of Centre Hall, is visiting at the Oliver Shaw home.

Ed Decker and Luther Fishburn, of Bellefonte, were here over Sunday.

John B. Roney is a sixty dollar cow that died Monday morning.

J. F. Meyers last week bought the J. B. Ard residence on Main street.

Mrs. Dent Peterson visited friends at Stormtown Friday and Saturday.

A little daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dreibleh.

The clatter of the mowing machine is being heard and hay making is on.

Miss Olive Mitchell, of Bellefonte, was in town last week greeting old friends.

Samuel Frank and wife are visiting relatives in and about Houtdale this week.

Miss Mary Ward, of Pittsburg, is visiting the old family home on Main street.

After a seven week's visit in Kansas postmaster David Barr is back at his job again.

J. C. Bumgardner, of Cottage, is here for his share of the wool crop and fresh cows.

Next Sunday evening at 7:15 o'clock will be Children's Day in the Lutheran church.

Charley Homan is receiving congratulations over the arrival of No. 2, a chubby little boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanawalt, of Belleville, were entertained at the J. F. Kimport home Friday.

We are sorry to note the serious illness of Clarence Raymond, whose recovery seems doubtful.

Mrs. Wm. Hoover, who has been a very sick woman, is improving, and so is Mrs. Rebecca Ard.

George Glenn and wife, of State College, enjoyed a drive Sunday to the Wm. Glenn home west of town.

Jacob Barto is breaking ground for a new house that he hopes to have completed before the snow flakes fly.

Charles Lytle, wife and family attended the Houseman reunion at Lakemont park, Altoona, Saturday.

Hon. J. T. McCormick and Mrs. Geo. Behrens attended the Mrs. Ira Mechtley funeral at Hecla, on Friday.

Capt. A. C. Mingle and family suited up from Bellefonte and spent Sunday with his cousin, G. W. Keichline.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weaver, of Linden Hall, were Sunday visitors at the Gordon Harper home at White Hall.

After a two week's visit among friends at Millheim and Coburn, Mrs. John Rockey returned home Saturday.

James Brown, of State College, is critically ill as a result of a stroke of paralysis sustained on Wednesday night.

Rev. J. S. Shultz returned Saturday from Gettysburg, where he attended the twentieth anniversary of his college class.

Frank Bowersox returned from Philadelphia last week, where he underwent a surgical operation for a cancerous growth on his lip.

James Harpster and family, of Rock Springs, spent Sunday with H. A. Elder, who is housed up with sciatica, but is now on the mend.

The three Musser brothers came up from Bellefonte for their share of cherries and are having a rollicking good time at Grandpa Kausp.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Neidigh are over at Patton this week adding their blessing to a little son who came to the Crommiller home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ocker, of Ohio, are visiting Centre county friends. Mr. Ocker is an engineer on the Pennsy, on the Fort Wayne division.

Last Thursday while G. W. McWilliams was riding on a wagon, he in some way lost his balance and fell to the ground, injuring his hip.

Rev. W. Illingsworth and family have closed the parsonage at Marietta and are at the Snyder home on the Branch for their mid-summer visit.

Frank Knoche came up from Harrisburg last week to look over his earthly possessions in Centre county, only to find crops not very promising.

Miss Laura Miller, of Sheffield, is visiting on the Branch and at State College, where she has been elected to succeed Miss Ella Livingston as teacher.

Jackson and Dalton, well known cow buyers, of Philadelphia, circulated among the farmers last week and made a number of purchases in cattle and hogs, paying top notch prices.

Last week two young deer were in the pasture with Clayton Struble's cattle, and several weeks ago farmer Bert Musser, on going to the barn in the morning found one among his cattle in the barn yard.

Last Friday Foster Struble had an experience he don't care to have again. His horse frightened at an auto and wheeled about spilling him and his wife and boy on the hard pile and wrecking the buggy. Fortunately they were not badly injured.

Last Friday evening the Jacob Neidigh home was thronged with young and old folks who went laden with presents and refreshments to remind Mrs. Neidigh of her thirty-fifth birthday. The evening was spent in fun and music and all had a good time.

Last Friday a terrific storm, with rain and hail, passed over the Bellefonte district, washing fields and roads. Most of postmaster F. W. Archey's garden was swept down the creek. A bolt of lightning struck J. C. Gates' large shed and the Fowly building was struck and burned down.

The Ferguson township school board met last Saturday afternoon and elected the following teachers: Pine Grove grammar, H. M. Walker; Pine Grove primary, Edna Ward; Kepler, Leslie Gates; Glades, Mary Bolinger; Baileyville grammar, C. W. Weaver; Baileyville primary, Nancy Heberling; Center, Alf Bowersox; White Hall, Ed Martz; Pine Hall, J. C. Homan; Gatesburg, Florence Kepler; Marengo, Harry Rossman; Branch, Frank Reed; Krumrine, Miss Treiser; Oak Grove, Miss L. C. Stevens; Tulpole, Foster Barr. The township high school is not yet supplied. The newly elected officers of the board are, H. N. Krebs, president; Jacob Neidigh, secretary, and J. F. Meyers treasurer.

SPRING MILLS.

The result of the Allentown convention, what will it be? The Democrats here are puzzled.

Hon. Wm. M. Allison has improved the appearance of his large barn a short distance below the mill by putting on an entire new roof.

Fourth of July here will be a wonderfully sane one. At present nothing in view. The town will be about as dead as a door nail. Of course all the stores will remain open.

A. L. Duck having repaired and handsomely painted the vacant dwelling houses on the banks of Penna creek, opposite the foot bridge, it now presents a very attractive appearance.

Magistrate Jamison remarked to me a day or two since, that with his law business, some farming and large insurance operations, he hardly had time to take a good smoke, but he quietly added, business always before pleasure.

On Thursday last the horse and wagon of W. H. Meyer & Bro., meat merchants of our town, suddenly became frightened and started down the railroad track at a rapid rate for a quarter of a mile or more, when he was stopped by a man who fortunately was in the neighborhood, and no doubt averted a catastrophe, as it occurred ten or fifteen minutes previous to the arrival of the up train. Had the animal not been stopped when he was, but continued on a collision would have been inevitable. Strange to say the only damage done was a broken spoke.

On Monday last while in Penn Hall I met Mr. J. C. Condo, of the carriage works located there, who kindly invited me into the establishment to examine the new styles of vehicles he had just arranged in the salesroom. Availing myself of his kindness, I entered and found a bewildering array of wheeled stock. The carriages and buggies are superb, elegantly upholstered, artistically finished and so highly polished that the lustre of the woodwork equals a mirror. Nearly all the high grade vehicles are furnished with the new patent rubber tire. Mr. Condo informed me that within the last ten days business was quite active, he disposed of and shipped nineteen vehicles. Among the purchasers were Daniel Cornan, Samuel Durst, Centre Hall; C. E. Rover and F. W. Musser, Bellefonte; A. M. Mark, Penn Hall; A. F. McClintick, J. C. Taylor and E. P. Houser, Milroy.

FIRST WORLD AIRSHIP LINE.

The Deutschland Flies 300 Miles With Twenty Passengers.

An epoch in aviation was marked when Count Zeppelin successfully opened the first airship line in the world.

Piloting his great dirigible, the Deutschland, the count, with twenty passengers, easily made the first scheduled trip from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Dusseldorf, 300 miles, in nine hours.

The weather was perfect and the motors worked faultlessly. The average time for the complete course was approximately thirty-three miles an hour, but between Friedrichshafen and Stuttgart the 124 miles was covered in an average rate of forty-one miles an hour. The best speed for a single hour was forty-three and a half miles.

Count Zeppelin was at the helm when the Deutschland rose at Friedrichshafen and sailed away on his eventful trip.

The passengers were some of the directors of the Hamburg-American Steamship company and the German Airship Stock company, joint owners of the dirigible, and guests.

They occupied the mahogany walled and carpeted cabin situated between the gondolas, and from the windows viewed the scenery as the aerial car swept along. Count Zeppelin steered for the greater part of the distance.

The hour and minute of the probable passing of the various points had been bulletined ahead, so that not only the people of the cities on the line, who filled the streets, but inhabitants of all intermediate villages turned out and cheered enthusiastically as the immense torpedo-like structure, with its whistling screws, drove over their heads at a height of between 200 and 300 feet.

Regular trips will be made, and many tickets have been sold for the first few days at from $25 to $50 each.

Senate Passes Postal Bank Bill.

President Taft's postal savings bank bill was passed by the senate by a vote of 44 to 25. It was signed by the president and becomes a law in sixty days.

The passage of the postal savings bank bill is the third big legislative achievement of the Taft administration in this session of congress, the railroad bill and the statehood bill already being on the statute books.

Under the terms of the bill just passed it will remain with the trustees of the postal savings bank deposits—the postmaster general, the attorney general and the secretary of the treasury—to decide what postoffices shall be authorized to receive deposits. It is not expected that the system will be applied at the start to all parts of the country. The main purpose of the legislation, as President Taft has viewed it, is to establish banking facilities for poor people in parts of the country which now lack savings depositories.

Under the new law anybody over ten years of age will be able to open an account at one of the postal banks. No deposit of less than one dollar will be received. No individual may deposit more than $100 in any calendar month, and no account shall exceed $500. The government will pay 2 per cent interest on deposits.

Both state and national banks are named as depositories of the postal savings funds.

Two Killed When Train Struck Motor.

Two men were killed when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a train on the Philadelphia and Reading railway at an unprotected crossing near Elizabeth, N. J. The dead are A. P. Norris, chauffeur, New York, and Thomas Gilfeather, a traveling salesman, Cincinnati.

31 Heat Deaths in Chicago.

Up to the present thirty-one deaths have resulted from the hot wave in Chicago. The temperature passed the 90 degree mark.

Wild Leap to Death.

With a display of sheer indifference and premeditation that was both nerve-jolting and spectacular, an unidentified man, about sixty-five years old, dived to death from the topmost ledge of the ten-story Scheuer building, Broad and Commerce streets, in Newark, N. J. The building is 125 feet high.

The body struck the Belgian blocks on the back of the head and shoulders. The skull was battered, every rib was shattered and both legs were broken.

Tenner Named for Governor

The platform indorses Taft and Stuart Administrations and Lauds the New Tariff Law.

The Pennsylvania Republican state convention at Harrisburg nominated the following ticket:

For governor—John K. Tener, of Charleroi, Washington county.

For lieutenant governor—John M. Reynolds, of Bedford, Bedford county.

For state treasurer—Charles Frederick Wright, of Susquehanna, Susquehanna county.

For secretary of internal affairs—Henry Houck, of Lebanon, Lebanon county.

The candidates for governor and lieutenant governor are members of the present congress. Tener began his career as a crack pitcher for the Pittsburgh National league base ball club. He is now a prosperous banker and successful business man. Reynolds was assistant secretary of the interior under the second Cleveland administration, but quit the Democratic standard when the party espoused free silver. Houck is the present secretary of internal affairs and is nominated for a second term. Wright was appointed state treasurer by Governor Stuart temporarily two months ago to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Jeremiah A. Stober, of Lancaster, who was elected last fall.

Senator William E. Crow, of Fayette, was elected both temporary and permanent chairman of the convention. Tener's name was placed before the convention by Judge J. F. Taylor, of Washington county, seconded by Representative George E. Aller, of Allegheny, and others.

The nomination of Reynolds for lieutenant governor was made by Charles R. Shoals, of Bedford, seconded by J. Banks Kurtz, of Blair.

Former Speaker Henry F. Walton, of Philadelphia, was elected chairman of the state committee.

The Platform.

The platform declares that the Republican party is noted for promptness of performance rather than profusion of promise. President Taft's administration is indorsed as unique in its record of accomplishment. "With unwearied patience and gentleness of manner," says the platform, "but with great firmness of purpose and unyielding determination, he will, by the time the gavel falls at the present session of congress, have succeeded in securing the enactment into law of more important recommendations than any other president has ever secured in so brief a time after his inauguration."

The new tariff law is declared to be "in accordance with the Republican policy expressed in its last national platform." It is declared that wages have increased $500,000,000 per annum since the bill was adopted; that while in a few instances the tariff on luxuries was increased the general revision was downward, and that no increase in the price of the common necessities of life can honestly be attributed to the tariff.

A vigorous and prompt prosecution of the civil suits to compel restitution of all moneys alleged to have been illegally taken in the completion and equipment of the state capitol is promised. The platform declares for a revision of the school laws, the safeguarding of appropriations to charitable institutions, liberal support of the work of the state health department, the construction of a system of main state highways, the settlement of labor disputes by arbitration and an appropriation for a canal from the Ohio river to the Great Lakes. An investigation is promised of the sinking of the surface over abandoned anthracite coal mines. Governor Stuart's administration is endorsed as a "splendid vindication of the wisdom of party regularity."

New Director of Mint Named.

It was announced that Thornton Cooke, of the Fidelity Trust company, of Kansas City, Mo., had been offered the position of director of the mint by President Taft. Mr. Cooke tacitly admitted that the place had been offered him, but would not say whether he would accept it.

Pennsylvania Shares in "Pork Barrel."

Pennsylvania towns come in for some of the "pork" in an omnibus public buildings bill, carrying items aggregating $19,288,500, reported to the house at Washington. Gettysburg gets $100,000; Butler, $75,000; Cory, $65,000, and Harrisburg, $125,000 for repairs.

Guilty of $240,000 Theft.

William J. Keilher, accused of complicity with George W. Coleman, the young bookkeeper of the National City bank, of Cambridge, Mass., in the looting of that institution to the extent of about $240,000, was found guilty by a jury in the United States circuit court. The case will be appealed.

Got Smallpox From Immigrants.

Dr. Ira Whitehead, the health officer of Waden, near Newburgh, N. Y., is ill with smallpox at his home in that village. It is supposed he contracted the disease while in New York on memorial day, when he visited the immigrant quarantine station.

Train Kills Two Boys.

William Greenwood, aged twelve years, and Alfred Greenwood, aged ten years, were killed on the New Haven railroad tracks just south of Mamaroneck, N. Y. The boys were on their way to Sunday school and had stopped to play.

BIG CROWD SEES TEDDY, JR., WED.

In the presence of more than 1500 invited guests, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Miss Eleanor B. Alexander were married in the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church in New York city, and as the wedding chimes pealed forth they notified a mob of nearly twice that number, who were crowded about the entrance of the church and occupying every orner and nook of observation to see the bride and bridegroom.

Not since the wedding of Consuelo Vanderbilt and the Duke of Marlborough and Anna Gould and Count Boni de Castellane has New York seen such a crowd of the curious assembled to witness a church wedding. A detail of police had hard work to keep the crowd at proper distance, and some eager women attempted to force their way into the church.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and his wife were early in arriving, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth. The bridal party arrived before the crowd became too thick for comfort.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Henry M. Sanders, a great uncle of the bride. He was assisted by Rev. Gordon Russell, of Cranford, N. J.

E. Du Pont Irving was not able to act as best man owing to the recent death of his father, A. Duer Irving, and his place was taken by Kermit Roosevelt. The ushers were Messrs. George Emlen Roosevelt, Monroe Douglas Robinson, Francis Roche, Hamilton Fish, Jr., Fulton Cutting, John W. Cutler, Gratton Chapman, Elliot Cutler and E. Morgan Gilbert.

Miss Alexander entered the church with her mother, by whom she was given away.

Her attendants were Mrs. Snowden A. Fahnestock, who was her matron of honor, and Mr. Roosevelt's sister, Miss Ethel Roosevelt; the Misses Harriet and Janetta Alexander, the bride's cousins; Miss Jessie Millington-Drake and Miss Jean Walters Delano actual bridesmaids. Their gowns were charming and novel. White chiffon was used for them, and this was sent to Paris some time ago to be painted in a floral design, done in the softest of pastel colors.

After the reception Mr. Roosevelt and his bride started on a honeymoon, but they have not told where. Some of their friends think they have planned an automobile trip. They will arrive in San Francisco about July 1 and will go to housekeeping there, the young bridegroom having been chosen for manager of the Pacific coast branch of the carpet manufactory at Thompsonville, Conn., in which he went to work after he was graduated from Harvard. A collection of antique furniture Mrs. Alexander gathered in on his way to San Francisco.

Many beautiful wedding gifts have been received, though nothing about them has been given out. The gift from the former president was said to be especially magnificent.

How Altoona Will Celebrate the Fourth.

Not for a long time has Altoona indulged in a big old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration; not, indeed, since the days of the volunteer fire department, when the demonstration usually took the form of a firemen's parade, picnic, etc. But this year Altoona is going to hold the biggest Independence Day celebration in her history. At least 50,000 are expected, and Altoona can easily entertain that number.

The program for the celebration already arranged includes a monster street parade, in which a battalion of the National Guard, civic societies, school children, volunteer firemen and fanatics will take part, along with a complete industrial display on floats. Between thirty-five and forty musical bands will be in line, among them the famous Repas Military band of Williamsport. During the day the Altoona and Johnstown Tri-State baseball teams will meet at Columbia Park, and there will be horse racing at the Driving park and theatricals, dancing, boating at Lakemont, Altoona's famous summer park. In the evening the Pain Fire works company, of New York, will give a two hours' display of magnificent fire works, including sixty-seven set pieces. The display will be given on Hospital hill, a most advantageous location, early enough for the enjoyment of visitors who may be obliged to leave the city the same evening. The entire celebration is planned on the safe and sane idea, and will be carried out that way.

Special trains will be run to Altoona on the Fourth from Lock Haven, Huntingdon, Clearfield, Bedford, Cumberland and Johnstown and there will be excursion rates from all points.

Science in Farming.

The farmers of Pennsylvania are showing their faith in agricultural education by sending several hundreds of their sons to the School of Agriculture in the Pennsylvania State College. The growth of this school in this state institution has been remarkable. The criticism made of some state agricultural schools that they train boys wholly away from the farm will not apply to Pennsylvania. One hundred and seventy of the four hundred and seventy-nine students enrolled in the School of Agriculture last year took courses that fit only for rural life, while a considerable percentage of the remaining number, who are taking the four years' college courses, expect to engage in some department of practical farming.

The Two Years' Course in Agriculture attracts young men who have not been able to prepare for a four years' course, and it fits men for practical work in the field, not for professional life. A booklet has been prepared for free distribution that describes the work offered in this course, and it presents some fine illustrations that are descriptive of the work in the School of Agriculture.

This attractive booklet may be secured without charge by sending a postal card request addressed to School of Agriculture and Experiment Station, State College, Centre county, Pa. Every young man who wants to know the science of agriculture and its useful application, and who has not had the advantage of school preparation for a four years' college course, should take advantage of this Two Years' Course in the Pennsylvania State College.
