Taft and Roosevelt.

We are not able to share in the confidence expressed by some of our esteemed contemporaries that there is a quarrel impending between President TAFT and his predecessor in office, Colonel ROOSEVELT.

TAFT wants to be re-elected and ROOSEVELT has his heart set on another term in the White House. But unless conditions change ROOSEVELT can wait.

Recent reports from the two summer capitals, Oyster Bay and Beverly, Massachusetts, however, are amusing if not surprising. For example the public was informed that one day recently TAFT had given to Secretary BALLINGER assurances of his continued friendship and protection and on the same day ROOSEVELT had unequivocally declared to some one that he is in full and active support of GIFFORD PINCHOT in his quarrel with BALLINGER.

neglected to call on the President and explain why he had failed of his duty as the President understands it.
