DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

- For Governor, WEBSTER GRIM, of Bucks County. For Lieutenant Governor, SAMUEL B. PRICE, of Scranton. For Secretary of Internal Affairs, JAMES L. BLAKESLEE, of Carbon County. For State Treasurer, SAMUEL B. PHILSON, of Somerset County. Democratic Congressional Ticket. For Congress, WILLIAM C. HEINLE, of Bellefonte. Democratic Senatorial Ticket. For State Senator, GEORGE M. DIMELING, of Clearfield. Democratic County Ticket. For the Legislature, J. CALVIN MEYER, of Bellefonte.

The Difference.

When Mr. BERRY was a candidate for State Treasurer in 1905 he had the nomination and united support of the Democratic party, the Prohibition party and the Lincoln Republican party. He had also the earnest and enthusiastic support of every Democratic paper in the State, of which there were at the time 146; 32 of the 45 independent papers had his name up and every Prohibition journal in the Commonwealth advocated his election.

Now he is the nominee of a lot of self-constituted delegates, without even the semblance of an organized party back of them. A crowd of disgruntled politicians without name or head; a little mob of would-be bosses, without an organization in a single county in the State, and that in three-fourths of the counties has not enough of sympathizers to make even the skeleton of an organization.

In place of the 178 influential and earnest newspapers giving him every influence they possessed, as he had in 1905, Mr. BERRY has now a beggarly seventeen, nine of which have heretofore professed to be Democratic, and the other eight have been known as Independents. Some of these have had courage enough to put up his name and intelligence sufficient to tell their readers why they are for him.

Quite a difference in the outlook, is there not?

Is it any wonder that the people are beginning to suspect that Mr. BERRY is being used as a tool, and a most pitiable one, by the PENROSE machine?

All that he can, and will be able, to do, will be to lessen—to the extent of the vote given him—that which would have otherwise been cast for Senator GRIM, and thus aid in securing the election of Mr. TENNER, the PENROSE candidate.

What a difference in the prospects as well as the purposes of the WILLIAM H. BERRY of 1905 and the WILLIAM H. BERRY of 1916.

Not a Matter to Boast of.

Mr. BERRY boasts that the "Keystone party"—as his crowd of kickers call themselves—will have an "abundance of funds" to prosecute a most vigorous campaign. Mr. MAPES, who is acting as secretary of that crowd, puts the amount they will have to spend at a hundred thousand dollars, ($100,000). We shouldn't wonder. In 1878, this was exactly the amount the CAMERON-QUAY Machine put up to organize and aid the MASON movement that took enough of votes from ANDREW DILL, the Democratic candidate for Governor, to ensure the election of HOYT. And the same scheme seems to be working this year.

If Mr. BERRY can draw enough of Democratic and disgusted Republican votes from Mr. GRIM to make certain the election of Mr. TENNER, it will be worth all of $100,000 to the PENROSE Machine. It can well afford to put up that amount to foster and strengthen the BERRY movement, as it is the surest, easiest and cheapest way that could be devised to guarantee the election of the Machine nominee for Governor.

But if we were Mr. BERRY or Mr. MAPES we wouldn't boast about the amount we were being paid for the dirty work we were attempting to do.

The Hon. S. R. Peale.

After a life that had been so remarkable and the golden sunshine of its closing days so congenial and placid the tragic passing of the Hon. S. R. PEALE, of Lock Haven, seems tragedy itself. Within a few days of his eightieth birthday anniversary, retaining to a remarkable degree every faculty and a keen interest in all about him the waning of his life was most ideal. Aggressive, forceful and brilliant as were the times of his successes as a jurist, a politician and a business man his real character only found vent when he laid those things aside to give to his family and his friends his ripest, best years. What they were those who knew Senator PEALE may only realize now that he is gone and their search for one like him becomes futile.

—If there was anything wrong in the nomination of Mr. GRIM, it was strange that Mr. BONNELL, Mr. BERRY's chief backer moved and VOTED to make that nomination unanimous. It was also equally strange that Mr. BERRY should, —AS HE DID—congratulate Mr. GRIM on receiving the nomination, and pledge him his earnest support. Possibly the $100,000 campaign funds that the Keystone crowd is boasting of, is what made the work of the Allentown convention look wrong to these two patriots, both of whom had endorsed its work, and made themselves responsible for whatever was done there.

—The Robbin's circus, which will exhibit in Bellefonte next Thursday, carries an aeroplane and each day it flies on the show grounds. This will be a real novelty for most Centre county folks. Flying machines are occupying the attention of the civilized world just now and the well informed person ought to know how they fly.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

KELLER.—James A. Keller, one of the best known men in Centre county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Fisher, at Penn Hall, yesterday morning. About a month ago he was stricken with paralysis and a second stroke a few days later rendered his condition so serious that there was no hope of his recovery and his death yesterday was the result.

Deceased was born on the old Keller homestead farm near Centre Hall on June 10th, 1843, hence was 67 years, 1 month and 25 days old. He was a son of John H. and Rachel Alexander Keller. When a boy he attended school at Plum Grove and later attended the Tuscarora Academy and Dickinson Seminary. At the age of seventeen he obtained a teacher's certificate and taught one term in Boggs township. Shortly after the breaking out of the war he went home to assist his father on the farm and that was the beginning of a long life as a tiller of the soil and an advocate of farmer's rights. After his marriage he farmed the old homestead under a lease and in 1876 he bought one-half of it and the following year erected the brick house which was his home up until less than a year ago when he went to live with his daughter.

Mr. Keller was a man who enjoyed to the utmost the confidence and esteem of his neighbors, which was shown in the fact that he was at various times honored by election to township office until he had filled almost every one in the district. When the Grange was organized years ago he was among its first and foremost advocates and had always continued an ardent member. For years he was secretary of the Grange fire insurance company. He was a member of the Reformed church and a prominent Mason and a stockholder in the Pennsylvan Banking company.

On January 8th, 1867, he was united in marriage to Miss Charlotte Klechner, of Millburg. To them six children were born five of whom survive, as follows: David K., on the farm near Centre Hall; Mrs. Frank Fisher, of Penn Hall; J. H., a minister located at Hickory, North Carolina; Christian D., of Penn Hall, and William F., a rural mail carrier at Centre Hall. Mrs. Keller died a number of years ago.

The funeral will be held Sunday morning; meet at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Fisher, at Penn Hall, at nine o'clock, when the remains will be taken to Centre Hall for burial, the services to be held in the Reformed church in that place, conducted by his pastor, Rev. Daniel Gress.

LODATO.—About five o'clock last Friday evening Agostino Lodato, the Sicilian fruit dealer and green groceryman, died at his home on the corner of Allegheny and Bishop streets. About two weeks previous he attended a horse sale at the Haag stables and while sitting on the fence was stricken with apoplexy and fell backwards to the ground. He was taken home and lingered between life and death until the end came last Friday.

He was born in Sicily and was fifty-one years old. He with his family came to Bellefonte from Niagara Falls last October and embarked in the green grocery business in the Brown building on Bishop street. Later he bought out Vince Bauer on High street and put his son-in-law in charge of that store. He was a man of congenial and affectionate disposition and was much esteemed by those who knew him. He is survived by his wife and four children, namely: Mrs. Isaac Lodato, Salvatore, Mary and Luigi. The funeral was held on Monday morning from the Catholic church, burial being made in the Catholic cemetery.

GENTZEL.—On Thursday night, July 21st, Mrs. Harriet Gentzel, widow of the late Daniel Gentzel, died at her home near Cross church, in Georges valley, after a protracted illness. Her maiden name was Harriet Harter and she was born in Penn township sixty-eight years ago. Of her nine children seven survive as follows: Benjamin, of Wolf's Store; Edgar, of Linden Hall; Moyer and Grover Cleveland, of Spring Mills; Herbert and Miss Katie, at home. She also leaves two brothers and three sisters, namely: George Harter, of Potter township; Jacob, of Penn Cave; Mrs. Philip Shook, Spring Mills; Mrs. Sarah Beahm, Coburn, and Mrs. Stemm, in the west. The funeral was held on the Sunday following her demise, burial being made in Heckman's cemetery.

SENATOR PEALE DEAD.—Senator S. R. Peale, of Lock Haven, died in the hospital at that place on Tuesday night from injuries sustained by his horse falling upon him while out riding on Tuesday morning. Horseback riding has of late been a favorite recreation of the Senator and recently he purchased quite a spirited horse. While out riding Tuesday morning the animal showed its mettle and went at a faster gait than the Senator liked. He attempted to rein it in and evidently displeased at the curb on the bit the horse reared and fell backwards upon Mr. Peale. He was rescued from his predicament by Joel A. Reish and conveyed to the Lock Haven hospital as soon as possible where it was found that he had four ribs broken and was so badly injured internally that he died the same night.

Samuel Richard Peale was the son of Dr. John W. Peale, a practicing physician, and was born at Hughesville, Lycoming county, Pa., September 20, 1830. The family lived at Hughesville until the subject of this sketch was ten years of age, when they moved to Sunbury, where the father practiced medicine. In 1850 S. R. Peale graduated from Dickinson college at Carlisle and later studied law and was admitted to the Northumberland county bar. He located in Lock Haven in 1856 and began the practice of his profession. In the following year he was married to Miss Harriet Frances Alter, of Philadelphia.

In 1876 he was elected to the State Senate from the Clinton-Centre-Clearfield district and served one term with distinction. He declined a renomination from the Democrats, on which ticket he had been elected. His successful career as a land attorney brought him into prominence throughout this section of the State.

In 1881 he began purchasing coal lands in Clearfield county and the following year bought many thousand acres of coal lands on Moshannon creek near Kyrletown. Subsequently he interested with himself Hon. John G. Reading, of Philadelphia, and afterwards the Hon. William A. Wallace, of Clearfield, and Hon. J. M. Gazzam, of Philadelphia, in his coal transactions. The late William H. Vanderbilt was later led to purchase a half interest in the lands and also with the building of the Beech Creek railroad, with which project the deceased was so intimately connected, to open up the new Clearfield bituminous coal fields. Mr. Peale was the general solicitor of the new road from 1882 until 1895. He had charge of the purchase of the right of way for the Beech Creek railroad. He was instrumental in organizing large and prosperous coal interests affiliated with the New York Central lines.

Mr. Peale was very well known in Bellefonte as he frequently practiced in the Centre county courts. The last time he was here was on the occasion of the funeral of the late ex-Judge John G. Love and at that time he appeared in robust health. He was a man of a most genial and winning personality and his unfortunate death is a source of the deepest regret among an unusually wide circle of acquaintances. He was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal church of Lock Haven and was always very active in all church and Sunday school work.

He is survived by his widow and six children, as follows: Rembrandt, of the well known coal firm of Peale, Peacock & Kerr, of New York city; John, also of New York city, and Frank, who resides at Summit, N. J., but has law offices in New York city; Mrs. Frank B. Towne, of Holyoke, Mass., and the Misses Martha and Elizabeth, at home.

The funeral will take place this (Friday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Episcopal church in Lock Haven. Interment will be made in Highland cemetery and will be private.

KERN.—Following a lingering illness of over a year with Bright's disease Samuel Kern died at the home of his son Harry, on east Howard street, at two o'clock on Sunday morning. He had been confined to bed for about four months.

He was born near Madisonburg on February 29th, 1848, hence was 62 years, 5 months and 2 days old. He came to Bellefonte years ago and for years was employed as a gardener around town. Later he was employed as a janitor in Crider's Exchange. He was a member of the United Evangelical church since early manhood. His wife died several years ago but surviving him are one son, Harry, with whom he made his home, and two daughters, Mrs. T. F. Meyer and Mrs. Harry Auman, both of Millheim. Rev. J. F. Hower conducted the funeral services which were held at his late home on Tuesday morning, burial being made in the Union cemetery.

GROVE.—Mrs. James Grove died quite suddenly at her home in Spring Mills last Saturday morning. She had not been well for several months but was able to be up and about and superintend her household affairs. On Saturday morning while talking to her husband she suddenly fell from the chair on which she was sitting to the floor and expired almost immediately. Heart failure was assigned as the cause.

Surviving her are her husband, one son, Gardner Grove, of Penn Cave, and two daughters, Mrs. Brungart, of Brush valley, and Miss Grace at home. The funeral was held on Tuesday, burial being made in the Union cemetery at Farmer's Mills.

STEINKIRCHNER.—The venerable Joseph Steinkirchner died at Cooper, Clearfield county, on Tuesday. He went out there last week on a visit, was taken sick and died as above stated. He was born in Germany but came to this country about fifty-nine years ago. He located at Cooper, Clearfield county, where he lived nine years then came to Centre county and located up Spring creek where he had lived ever since. Since the death of his wife about nine years ago he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Wm. McGowan. Had he lived until next Christmas Mr. Steinkirchner would have been eighty-seven years old. Surviving him are four children, namely: Mrs. McGowan, of Spring creek; Joseph, Michael and Mrs. King, all of Rochester, N. Y. The remains were brought home on Wednesday evening and the funeral will be held at ten o'clock this morning from the Catholic church, of which he was a most faithful member.

WOODRING.—Mrs. Nancy Woodring, one of the oldest residents of Port Matilda, died last Friday night of general infirmities. She was born in Huntingdon county and was eighty-six years old. Surviving her are the following children: William, of Tyrone; Abram, of Port Matilda; George, of Bluefield, W. Va.; Mrs. Lillie Thomas, of Austin, and Harry, of Port Matilda. She also leaves one brother, George Halderman, in Ohio, and one sister, Mrs. Susan Stine, of Port Matilda, as well as forty-one grand-children and thirty-five great grand-children. The funeral was held on Monday, burial being made in the cemetery at Port Matilda.

KILLED ON THE RAILROAD.—Charles A. Williams, a son of W. S. Williams, of Martha, met a tragic death on the western division of the Pennsylvania railroad last Sunday morning. He was employed as a conductor on the railroad and lived at McKees Rocks. Sunday morning he started out on his regular run and when a short distance over the state line in Ohio his train ran into another one, piling up a number of cars. Williams and two other members of his crew were pinned beneath the wreckage. The former was not badly injured and instructed those who gathered at the wreck to care for the other injured first. While doing so the wreckage caught fire and the flames rapidly spread to where Williams was pinned fast. He called to the workmen to save him but they were unable to do so and he was burned to death.

He was about thirty-five years old and is survived by his wife, his parents and a number of brothers and sisters. The remains were brought to the home of his parents at Martha on Monday evening and the funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon.

ROBBINS' CIRCUS NEXT THURSDAY.—Thursday of next week, August 11th, will be show day in Bellefonte and Frank A. Robbins' combined circus and menagerie will be the attraction. While Mr. Robbins does not claim to have the biggest show on earth he does claim to carry an aggregation which will give an entirely satisfactory program and please the hundreds of people who daily crowd the tents to see the show. By consulting the advertisement in to-day's paper you will observe that he will introduce a number of acts never before seen in Bellefonte. This show has exhibited in many of the surrounding towns and has in every instance received the commendation of press and public.

A BAD ACCIDENT.—Charles VanGordon, a young man working on the farm of Harvey Geiser, just below Hublersburg, fell from the hay mow to the barn floor and was injured so badly that he is now in the Bellefonte hospital and it is feared he will not recover. The young man was in the mow pitching hay and in stepping backwards stepped right into the hay hole falling through and alighting on his head on the floor. He was rendered unconscious and a physician being summoned found him in convulsions and suffering with concussion of the brain. He was brought to the Bellefonte hospital yesterday morning, his condition at this writing being extremely critical.

MCCOY—TURNER.—A wedding celebrated at the parish house of St. John's Catholic church last Thursday evening was that of Charles J. McCoy and Miss Carrie Mae Turner, both of this place. Rev. Father McArdle performed the ceremony in the presence of only a few intimate friends as witnesses. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Turner while the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCoy and is employed by the Bellefonte Steam Laundry.

LANNEN—YOUNG.—J. Frank Lannen, of Fleming, and Miss Flora E. Young, of Bellefonte, were quietly married in Milesburg Thursday evening of last week by justice of the peace Thomas B. Johnson. They will make their home in Fleming and have the best wishes of their many friends for their future happiness.

—If anybody in Bellefonte wants a nice, dear little rattlesnake they can probably get it by calling on Harry Badger, at Twitmore's stove store. He was down Bald Eagle valley yesterday and in the vicinity of Beech Creek he came across one of these pets and in order to get it he had to kill it. It measured a little over four feet and had eleven rattles and a button. He brought the dead reptile home in order to have the requisite proof of his prowess.

—On Monday evening about thirty-five friends of Mrs. John Guisewhite gave her a delightful birthday surprise party. Of course it would be telling secrets to say just what anniversary she celebrated, but she couldn't have been more pleased had it been her sixteenth instead of one of a little more mature age. Refreshments were served during the evening and everybody had a most enjoyable time. Among the guests were Mrs. Guisewhite's sister, Mrs. Luther Dale and three children, of Peru.

—The trout fishing season closed last Saturday and among the Bellefonters who could not resist the inclination for a last cast in the waters of Fishing creek were Dr. Kilpatrick, George R. Meek and John Curtin. The former went down in the morning and succeeded in landing sixteen trout though none of them were large, hence he considered it a poor day's catch. George R. Meek got eight and one of them was thirteen inches long, the largest trout he caught during the season. And it was hooked the very last cast he made when it had grown so dark he could hardly see to land it.

—Col. Edward R. Chambers on Monday moved into the office recently occupied by the late ex-Judge Love and has again hung out his shingle for the practice of law. The Colonel has had quite a prolonged spell of sickness, lasting over two or more years, but has now recovered to that extent that he has every reason to believe he is going to get entirely well, and at least considers himself able to resume the practice of his profession. That the Colonel has recovered his health to this extent is gratifying to his friends as well as his family and it is the sincere hope of all that he be fully restored to health.

—Bear in mind the fact that the big Centre and Clinton county business men's picnic will be held on Tuesday, August 23rd, and that the time is only a little over two weeks off. The above date has been selected because it will not only be as good a one as can be selected for business men but it will be about the most convenient time possible to choose for the farmers who want to attend. They will be through with their harvesting and it will be too early for seeding so that they can easily afford to take a day off. A good program of sports is being arranged for the day, full information of which will be given in due time.

—On Wednesday morning G. Fred Musser accompanied Col. W. Fred Reynolds to his peach orchard in Benner township to see how the fruit is maturing and also to see that the sorters were in good condition, as it is expected that the early fruit will be in shape to begin picking by August 20th. Mr. Musser states that the fruit this year is large and in exceptionally fine condition. In the orchard are eight thousand fruit bearing trees, many of which will yield three bushels or over of peaches, while none of them will yield less than two bushels, so that from eighteen to twenty thousand bushels is considered a very conservative estimate of the crop. A large number of pickers will be required to handle the fruit when it is ready to market.

—The public in general has been criticizing contractor R. B. Taylor for his slowness in building the state road through Bellefonte and from an outside viewpoint there seems good reason for it. But Mr. Taylor has had a lot to contend with and he has not yet gotten contracts with the borough for all the road and curbing. He went to work on that portion of the road on north Water street and after getting his foundation of crushed stone on and ready for the asphalt covering the oil he had purchased was condemned and could not be used. Whether this was his fault or not is not known, but this condemnation has delayed the finishing of that portion of the road from the lime kilns on the pike to Rhoads' corner. However, other oil has been ordered and is expected here in a few days and as soon as it is received the completion of the road will be rushed through as fast as possible to Spring street, so as to open the traffic that way and do away with the round-about route on the back road.

—Enough of the wheat crop has been threshed to show that while it can not be said to be a bumper crop it is still a good one and farmers will have no reason to complain over their success this year. The hay crop was probably one of the bulkiest cut in years, though the grass was quite coarse in most places and consequently the yield per ton is not unusual. The oats crop is good, the corn is looking well and the indications are for an enormous yield of potatoes, so that on these crops there is nothing to kick about. The apple crop is below the average, generally speaking, although the yield in some orchards will be very good. And now is the time, when the crops are being garnered, to select samples of the best of each for exhibition at the Centre county fair when it is held in October. It will be remembered that the exhibition of agricultural products last year was unusually large and fine, probably one of the best ever seen in the county, and it is such exhibitions that contribute largely to the success of any fair. And with such crops as the farmers have had this year this part of the fair in October ought to be one of the biggest features. And there will be no difficulty in making it such if the farmers begin now to select their exhibits.

A BIG FIRE BRICK PLANT.—Last Friday was the anniversary of the burning of the Hayes Run fire brick plant and during the past year the plant has not only been rebuilt but almost doubled in capacity and equipped with more modern machinery than formerly. The size of the main building that covers the drying floor is 85x304 feet in dimension and is constructed of steel and fire brick, well lighted and ventilated. The crusher and bin building adjoins the main building and is 50x84 feet in size and 40 feet high. It is also built of brick and steel. The engine and boiler room is 50x50 feet in size.

The dry press and ground clay department is located in a separate building, 25x75, three stories high. In this building is a Clearfield dry pan, a Dunlap perfect clay screen, a large Boyd dry press, with a capacity of 18,000 machine bricks per day. There are also elevators and conveyors in this building. The ground clay is taken from the screen to the cars for shipping by conveyors.

The machinery in the hand made department consists of a large Champion crusher, with elevator and conveyor, and two Clearfield wet pans.

The power for running the plant consists of two large Keeler boilers and a magnificent Nordberg Corliss engine. The electric light plant, which is located in the engine room, is of capacity sufficient to light the whole plant as well as the streets of the town, besides many of the buildings in the place.

There are 20 kilns for burning brick, with a capacity of 40,000 bricks each. The storage sheds, which are located convenient to the kilns and railroad siding of the New York Central railroad, are 35x500 feet in size. The capacity of the hand made department is 25,000 to 40,000 bricks per day and of the machine made brick department from 15,000 to 20,000 bricks per day. The ground clay department was constructed for the purpose of handling large quantities of finely screened clay to meet the increasing demand for their superior quality of clay. All the clay and coal used is taken from the company's own mines on the mountain about four miles north of the plant. Quite a number of Bellefonters are financially interested in these works and they are well satisfied with the business being done since the plant started up in February.

BIG ANNUAL SHOOT.—Among the important annual events of Central Pennsylvania is the tournament of the Lock Haven Gun club, which will be held on August 9th and 10th, and which promises to be the largest local shooting event of the season. Nothing has been left undone by this hustling club to make the shoot a success in every sense of the word. Two Ideal Leggett traps have been installed, rifle range provided, water piped to the club house, and many comforts of the great number of shooters who annually attend, and among whom are some of Centre county's best shots, have been anticipated and provided for. The program should appeal to all classes of shooters as provisions have been made for the poor as well as the better shot. An extraordinary good merchandise event has been provided for each day, and it will be held under a handicap system, every one has an equal chance for best prizes. The regular entrance fee including merchandise event is but $8.00. The money will be divided $8, $5, $3 $2 and $1 Improved Ross system, which has proven very satisfactory. High average money for each day, is 1st $10.00, 2nd $7.50, 3rd $5.00, 4th $2.50, 5th $2.50 and $5.00 for the longest straight run. The events cover 190 targets each day. Remember the date and attend the Lock Haven tournament August 9th and 10th.

BADLY INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.—A. M. Brown, of Pennsylvania Furnace, president of the Farmer's National bank, of Tyrone, was seriously injured in an automobile accident in Altoona last Saturday. Mr. Brown recently purchased a new Buick car from an Altoona agency and not having mastered all the mechanism, was in the Mountain city for the purpose of getting a demonstration of the machine from an expert driver. Louis Wolfe was at the wheel of Mr. Brown's car and on turning the corner of a street the machine collided with a Regal car driver by S. T. Knox. Mr. Brown's car was turned completely over and he and the driver were not only buried beneath it but dragged twenty feet before the big Regal car was stopped by its driver. Mr. Brown sustained several broken ribs and quite a number of cuts and bruises on different parts of his body. It is also feared he may be injured internally. As he is fifty-eight years of age his injuries may prove more serious even than anticipated, although it is now believed he will recover. Wolfe, the driver of the machine, while badly shaken up, cut and bruised, will be able to be around in a few days.

—Word was received in Bellefonte yesterday of the announcement of the engagement of J. Wallace Reeder, of Claremont, Cal., and Miss Mabelle E. Crawford, of Southern California. Mr. Reeder is a son of the late Col. W. F. Reeder, of this place, and was born and raised in Bellefonte. He has been in California about five years.

—In view of the recent appearances of the Ben Greet players at State College it will be interesting to note that Mr. Charles Roberts Hopkins, one of Philadelphia's wealthiest young men, is to marry Miss Violet Vivian, one of the Ben Greet company.
