

PINE GROVE MENTION.

Our public schools will open next Monday, Labor day.

Most of the plowing has been done and a few of our farmers are seeding.

Mrs. E. C. Musser and daughter Lillian are visiting friends in East Liberty.

Miss Maggie Reed was a welcome visitor at the J. C. Hoover home, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Heckman and family were Sunday visitors at Bloomsdorf.

Rev. J. S. Shultz returned from his vacation and filed his appointments last Sunday.

J. N. Hoy and N. E. Hess are each shy a good horse, both animals dying last Friday.

Wilson P. Ard, of the Susquehanna University, is greeting his old chums herabouts this week.

Our old friend, Frank Bowersox, has been ill the past week, suffering with an attack of vertigo.

Mrs. A. G. Archey and little daughter Elizabeth visited friends in Bellefonte the beginning of the week.

Miss Emeline McMahon, of Charter Oak, has been visiting friends here and at State College this week.

Cards are out for the Stewart-Mothersbaugh wedding, next Wednesday, at the L. Mothersbaugh home.

Marcellus Sankey and sister Miss Edith, are here to see Mr. John Hess, who has not been very well lately.

Prof. E. C. Musser left on Tuesday for Greenville, where he was recently elected teacher of mathematics.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Harvey, of State College, were entertained at the Sallie Bloom home the first day of the week.

Capt. A. C. Mingle and family, of Bellefonte, came to our town in their automobile and spent Monday with friends.

With favorable weather quite a number of our people will attend the I. O. O. F. picnic on Labor day, at Hunter's park.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller, of Bellefonte, visited friends in the western end of the county the early part of the week.

Miss Margaret Peters left on the Monday morning train for Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where she will take a business course.

Rev. W. K. Harnish has returned from his summer vacation and will fill his appointment here next Sunday evening, at 7.30 o'clock.

Rev. Illingsworth, wife and family, who have been spending the summer at grandpa Snyder's, returned to their home at Marietta the latter part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Randolph visited friends at Sausalburg, their former home, several days last week and attended the old stone church reunion at Manor Hill, Thursday.

Mrs. Harriet Stover, after a month's visit among her old friends in Pennsylvania, returned to her home in Altoona and was accompanied by Mrs. A. J. Tate, who is making a week's visit there.

Passengers on the early Monday morning train, bound for Williams Grove picnic, were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hoy, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Neidigh, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Strouse, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Detrow and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Reish.

G. W. Keichline with his sister, Mrs. Maggie Meek, enjoyed a drive over old Tussey's peaks on Saturday, the first time in forty-seven years when George crossed over to Stonevalley in quest of a substitute, but failed, and went himself and donned the blue.

N. E. Krebs and Prof. M. H. Heberling, two noted anglers, made a fishing trip along the banks of the rippling waters of the blue Juniata, below Petersburg, last week, and came home Friday evening with a big catch. They got a number of carp, the largest measuring twenty-seven inches.

Installation services will be held in the Lutheran church at State College next Sunday morning, when Rev. Sasserman will be regularly installed as pastor. Dr. Hartman, of Baltimore, will deliver the charge to the pastor, and Rev. C. T. Alken will deliver the charge to the congregation in the evening.

The Christian Endeavor convention held here on Wednesday and yesterday was very largely attended by delegates from all over the county and the sessions proved very interesting. Among the out-of-town ministers present were Rev. Bickel of Lewistown; Rev. Sasserman, of State College, and Rev. Stoneypher, of Boalsburg.

The venerable Charles Snyder, our oldest citizen, who with his daughter Nannie, have resided with the G. W. Potter family at White Hall, on Monday moved to State College, where they will occupy apartments in his son John's home, on College avenue. Mrs. Snyder, though somewhat crippled with rheumatism, is quite hale and hearty. He has been a familiar figure on our streets for three quarters of a century, and was a successful farmer for sixty-seven years.

HUBLERSBURG NOTES.

Miss Blanche Hoy is on the sick list.

Miss Mary Orr, of Marion, visited her friend, Miss Pearl Hoy.

J. C. Bergstresser left last week for Altoona to resume his work.

The farmers of our vicinity have about completed their fall plowing.

Ex-Sheriff Schaeffer, of Nittany, celebrated his eightieth birthday on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Heckman are spending the week at the Williams Grove picnic.

E. L. Markle left for York Pa., where he will meet his wife for a short vacation.

Ward Markle, a Sophomore at State College, returned to take up his course of studies.

Rev. H. L. Crow went to Pine Grove Mills to attend the Epworth League convention there.

Mrs. Frank Carner, who is employed in the Altoona shops, spent a few days with her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Westbrook and daughter, of Tyrone, were guests at the home of D. A. Deitrich.

The farmers are very busy at present hauling lime and fertilizer, which are very essential as crop producers.

The Harvest Home service held in the Reformed church last Sunday was well attended, and Rev. Crow did ample justice to his text.

Rev. Emory M. Deitrich left for State College last Saturday, where he preached for the newly organized Reformed congregation.

John S. Walker, who has been clerking in a store up at Sinnamahoning, has been visiting friends here. He will leave for Yeagertown on Friday where he has accepted a position as teacher.

SPRING MILLS.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Flasher, of Philadelphia, were here on a visit last week.

W. O. Granly is improving his cow stable by putting down a flooring of cement.

Quite a number of our folks are making preparations for camping at the Grangers picnic.

School will commence here on Monday next. Of course many of the little people have long faces.

Our farmers are busy plowing. Those who have finished the job have commenced lifting potatoes.

It was decidedly cool here on Friday and Saturday last suggesting a look into the coal bin, and activities on the wood pile.

Had Long Fall to His Death.

Painters Working High Upon Twenty-six-Story Building See Body Flash by Them From the Roof.

Crowds on Park Row, in New York, stopped, horrified at the sight of a man's body hurtling through the air from the roof of the twenty-six-story Park Row building.

The body crashed into the skylight of the six-story building adjoining and became jammed in the machinery of the elevator. It was hardly recognizable.

At first it was supposed the man, who was identified by papers on his body as Edgar H. Holbrook, an insurance solicitor and collector, of 290 Broadway, had chosen a sensational method of committing suicide. At the office of an insurance company at 290 Broadway, C. Pritchard and Wilbur Morris, business associates of Holbrook, said they knew of no reason why Holbrook, who formerly lived in Philadelphia, should commit suicide.

They scouted the idea for the further reason that, as they understood, Holbrook's wife was blind. In a watch found on the body was a picture of Mrs. Holbrook.

Two painters working high up on the north side of the building saw the man kicking and waving his arms, as if making futile efforts to save himself. He swept down his straw hat sailing after him. Where the man came from, how it happened that he was flying through the air, are things that have not yet been explained.

The painters saw him first in the air above them. So far as they knew he might have been dropped from a passing airship.

Whether he leaped or was pushed from the roof or one of the windows, or if he went to the top of the building and became dizzy and toppled off are questions as yet unanswered.

An odd feature of the affair is that a telegram was received at the Park Row building addressed to Holbrook. It was taken to the chief engineer of the building, whose name is Lebroucq, by a messenger boy. The telegram was from Norwich, Conn. As there was no E. H. Holbrook in the building, Lebroucq opened the telegram. It read:

"Thanks, cannot use a promoter."

The telegram was returned to the telegraph office and nothing more was thought of it until the engineer heard the name of the dead man. The engineer could not recall the signature attached to the telegram.

Crippen and Companion Arraigned.

Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and Miss Ethel Clara Leneve, his typist, were accused of the murder of Belle Elmore, Crippen's wife, in the formal charge read to them in the Bow street police court, London, England.

Miss Leneve was charged also with harboring and maintaining Crippen after the crime and while knowing that he committed it.

Inspector Dew introduced evidence to show that Crippen contemplated suicide while at sea following his flight.

Crippen was quoted also as declaring that his companion knew nothing of the trouble in which he was involved, and Miss Leneve was said to have protested her innocence.

There was special interest in the nature of the formal charge, as the warrant for the fugitives had merely laid at their door responsibility for the death of an unknown woman whose body was found in the cellar of the Crippen home at Hilldrop Crescent.

Find Gems on Maine Farm.

A notable discovery of gems was made at the old Brown farm on the road from Marston's Corner to Minol, about six miles out of Auburn, Me.

In one pocket in a tourmaline mine on that farm, uncovered by a single blast, were found 6000 carats of the finest tourmaline. As they are worth $15 a carat cut, this means that the pocket contained from $40,000 to $75,000 worth of the gems.

Two weeks ago two other pockets were struck in the same mine which yielded not less than 2000 carats of rough crystals, so that in the last two weeks gems which will run up over the $100,000 mark have been taken out of this mine.

Holda Baby Above Water.

Standing in five feet of water in the bottom of a cistern at her home, near Sedan, Kan., Mrs. John Burch, the wife of a farmer, for eight hours held aloft her two-year-old child until the arrival home of her husband.

The child had fallen into the cistern and the mother had sprung after it, seized the baby in her arms, raised it above the surface of the water and called for help. No one was within hearing of the woman's calls, and throughout the greater part of the day Mrs. Burch stood, the water reaching up almost to her neck, and waited for the return of her husband from his work in the fields.

Bigamist Gets Long Sentence.

Before Judge Savigde and a jury in the Northumberland county court, at Sunbury, Pa., John W. Bloomfield admitted that he had left his wife and five children in their home at 5054 Westminister avenue, Philadelphia, with only $1 between them and starvation, so that he might marry Kathryn Adams, of Sunbury.

He was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the eastern penitentiary of from two years and three months to nine years, depending upon his behavior.

This sentence was partially for bigamy and partially for perjury. Bloomfield admitted that he swore falsely when securing a marriage license.

September at the Seashore.

REDUCED FARES ACCOUNT G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

The rolling ocean with its boundless prospect is ever interesting; but at no time is it more enticing than during the month of September. The bathing is at its best. The sailing is ideal. The salt sea air is charged with increased invigoration, and there is a geniality about it unknown during the torrid days of summer.

Atlantic City, Ocean City, Sea Isle City, Avalon, Stone Harbor, Anglesea, Wildwood, Holly Beach, Wildwood Crest, and Cape May are all prepared to entertain with exceptional hospitality all guests who may come. The hotels are less crowded and more comfortable; the service is better, and in most instances the rates are lower.

Excursion tickets to Atlantic City will be sold at reduced fares on September 16, 17, 18, 19, and 20, on account of the G. A. R. National Encampment, good returning to reach original starting point not later than September 28. For stop-over privileges and extension of return limit, to October 28, consult Ticket Agents.

Unusual enjoyment awaits the September sojourner by the sea. 55-34-2t
