The delegates from Rebersburg will be Mrs. W. J. Carlin, Miss Ethel Harter and the superintendent of the mission band, Miss Byrd Stover.

—Mrs. J. L. Seibert's card party Wednesday afternoon from half after three until seven, for which twenty invitations had been issued, was in honor of her niece and house guest, Miss Helen Klase, of Cranford, N. J., and the Misses Millicent and Clara Pond, of State College. Five hundred was played and the prize, a water color, was won by Miss Millicent Pond.

AGED VETERAN MEETS DEATH IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.—George Smith, an old soldier and well known resident of Bellefonte, was the victim of an automobile accident shortly before five o'clock last Saturday evening as the result of which he died less than five hours later. Mr. Smith was down at the Pennsylvania railroad passenger station and after the departure of the train west he started to cross the street to Keichline's store. While he was in the act of crossing the street an automobile owned and driven by Ward W. Hagerty, of Coalport, and in which were he and his wife, another gentleman and two ladies came across the railroad from West High street. The Snow Shoe train was shifting and Mr. Hagerty was watching the train as well as the road. Mr. Smith did not see the automobile approaching but there were a number of bystanders who did, among them policeman Dukeman. The latter called to Mr. Hagerty and he at once shut off the power and threw on the brakes. Whether it was the cries of the bystanders or the fact that he just realized his danger Mr. Smith stopped right in the path of the machine. Had he continued he would not have been struck. As it was, however, he was struck on the left leg by the front wheel of the machine and thrown to the brick paved street with such force that his skull was fractured. The machine also passed over his leg fracturing the bone.

Mr. Hagerty was out of his car in an instant and was one of the first to pick up the unfortunate man. Mr. Smith was bleeding and unconscious and a hurry call was sent for the ambulance. By the time it arrived he had regained consciousness and when the doctors proposed taking him to the Bellefonte hospital he objected and insisted on being taken home, stating that his daughter would take care of him. Under the circumstances he was taken home and given all attention possible. He lapsed into unconsciousness on the way to his home but after he was taken into the house he was conscious long enough to tell his wife not to be frightened or worry. From that time on he was unconscious and gradually sank until the end came shortly after nine o'clock the same evening.

Mr. Hagerty, in addition to doing all he could for the injured man, made no attempt to evade the authorities or any responsibility which might entail upon him as a result of the accident. He was not driving his car at a high rate of speed at the time and the only negligence or violation of the law that can be brought against him is that he did not watch the street close enough and it is alleged by some did not blow his horn. As to the former he is to a certain extent excusable as he was looking out for the safety of himself and party from the shifting train. As to whether he blew his horn or not is a fact that will likely be cleared up at the proper time. Mr. Hagerty came to Bellefonte on Monday morning but for various reasons the investigation was postponed until today when he will return and an inquiry will be held before Burgess John J. Bower. The general opinion, however, of those who saw the accident is that it was one of those unfortunate occurrences which was beyond the power of man to avoid or control.

George W. Smith was born near Mifflinburg, Union county, on July 5th, 1843, hence was 67 years, 1 month and 22 days old. His early life was spent in the neighborhood of his birth and the vicinity of Nittany, this county, following the occupation of a carpenter. He enlisted for service in the Civil war on August 13th, 1862, as a member of Company E, Seventh Pennsylvania cavalry. During his term of service he was taken prisoner and served some time in Libby prison. On being discharged he was transferred to the 137th U. S. cavalry and was promoted to second lieutenant in April, 1865. At the close of the war he returned and located in Nittany valley where he was united in marriage to a Miss Beck and several years later the couple went west. About eighteen or twenty years ago they returned and located in this place. Mr. Smith building the home they ever since occupied on east High street. Ever since his return to Bellefonte he has practically been an invalid and a constant sufferer, and it seems an irony of fate that he lived virtually on the brink of death for a score of years, then lost his life in an accident. He was a member of the Loyal Legion and of the Lutheran church.

Surviving him are his wife and one daughter, Miss Erma; and two brothers, Andrew, of Lock Haven, and Isaac, of Farmer's Mills. The funeral was held at 2.30 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Fred W. Barry had charge of the services at the house and he was buried in the Union cemetery, with the honors of war, the services being conducted by the members of Gregg Post.

—Next Monday (Labor Day) will be the time for the picnic of the Odd Fellows of Bellefonte, State College, and other parts of Centre county, at Hunter's park. A great program of sports and amusements has been arranged for the day and as numerous prizes are to be awarded the contests will doubtless prove most interesting. One or more bands will be on the grounds during the day and there will be a number of speeches by prominent Odd Fellows throughout the county. The park has been put in good condition and it is one of the most delightful spots in the county for a basket picnic, such as this will be. Not only Odd Fellows all over the county but the public in general is invited to attend.

—Uriah Kitchen, the well known veteran of both the Mexican and Civil wars, celebrated his eighty-sixth birthday anniversary at his home near Beech Creek on August 20th. Notwithstanding his advanced age and the fact that he experienced the hardships of two wars Mr. Kitchen is still in fairly good health.

—Application has been made by Dr. F. K. White and Martin Dugan, of Philipsburg, and George R. Meek, of this place, for a charter for an intended corporation to be known as the White-Dugan Coal company, whose purpose it is to develop coal lands recently acquired by them in the neighborhood of Osceola Mills.

—The track house at State College opened yesterday and candidates for the college football team are expected to report within the next few days. The outlook for the team this year is quite favorable, notwithstanding the fact that several of the stars of last year's team will not be back. Active practice will be begun next week.

—The item in last week's WATCHMAN about the leak in the water pipe out near Mallory's blacksmith shop, which caused a sink hole in the street, had the desired effect, as the leak was repaired within twelve hours after the paper was issued, and the man whose duty it is to look after such things avowed that it took only eight minutes to do the job.

—Rosie Crain, a pretty white girl, of Tyrone, and Fred A. Banks, a husky colored man of Croaopolis, went arm and arm into the register's office at Pittsburg on Saturday and asked for a marriage license. The paper was refused because a woman claiming to be the girl's mother had telephoned early in the day not to grant the license as the girl was only eighteen years of age.

—The Bellefonte Motor club held a meeting on Monday evening and one of the principal things they did was to arrange for an informal reception to the Altoona motor club on its sociability run here on Wednesday. Several questions of interest only to the members of the club were discussed and one or two committees appointed who are to report at a regular meeting to be held on Monday evening, September 12th.

—About three hundred people attended the Schenck and Pletcher families annual reunion held in the Schenck grove below Howard last Thursday. B. F. Pletcher read a very interesting historical sketch of the two families while addresses were made by N. H. Schenck and Revs. Patterson, Faust and Rhoades. The Howard band gave a number of concerts during the day and there was plenty of other instrumental and vocal music.

—After next Monday you will never have another opportunity to see the Bellefonte baseball team play ball, and that is the reason you should go out to Hughes field and see the farewell contest. The strong Tyrone team will be their opponents and the game will be called at ten o'clock in the morning so it can be over in time to allow the two teams to get dinner and make the 1.07 p. m. train for Tyrone where a game will be played in the afternoon. Remember this is the last chance you will have to root for the home team.

—Last Friday evening at half-past seven, a crowd of twenty young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osmer, in Bush Addition, to throw a surprise upon their son Edward, who was just beginning to think that no one knew when his birthday came. At 8.30 he returned home and to his surprise found a room full of gay young people. The evening was well spent in playing games, followed by a delicious supper, after which the guests reassembled in the parlor and put in the time until the wee hours of the morning when they all departed for their respective homes.

—The cold snap predicted for the latter part of last week came on time and while it did not create any rush for overcoats and winter flannels the nights and mornings had enough chilliness to warn everybody that the time of frosty warnings is not very far distant. In fact last Saturday morning there was a slight frost in the foothills of the Alleghenies and at Yarnell the thermometer stood only four degrees above freezing point. Sunday morning was equally cold but that ended the brief spell and by Monday there was no cause for complaint. About the only thing in the weather line that is needed now is a good soaking rain to mature the corn and the late potato crop and then Centre county farmers would fare very liberally indeed.

—John L. Noll, son of Col. Emanuel Noll, of this place, has been promoted from an instructor in the Altoona High school manual training department to supervisor of manual training at a salary of $1,500 a year. The choice was unanimous, owing to the excellent work he did last year, his first year at teaching, by the way. Mr. Noll is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school and the Bradley Polytechnic institute. A number of years ago he went to Altoona and accepted a position in the Pennsylvania railroad shops and one year ago he was elected to teach forging, machine shop and foundry work in the Altoona High school. His promotion to supervisor of that department at the expiration of one year is in itself evidence of the good work he has done.

BELLEFONTE'S BASEBALL SEASON ABOUT OVER.—In losing two games to Osceola this week Bellefonte lost her only chance for winning the baseball pennant of the Mountain league and the only thing to struggle for now is the honor of finishing in second place. Monday's game was more like a "slaughter of the innocents" than anything else, Osceola hammering the Bellefontes pitchers without mercy and tallying a total of eleven runs. In the seventh inning Bellefonte got busy and made five runs, but there they stopped. Tuesday's game, however, was a good exhibition of baseball and the home team won out in the ninth by the score of 6 to 5. But the men from the coal region put it all over Bellefonte on Wednesday at Osceola when they made the score 11 to 1 and thus put us out of the running and cinched the pennant for themselves. The Osceola team fairly proved themselves the best players in the league and of course are entitled to the glory of being the champions. While Bellefonte did not win the pennant she was strong enough to make the race exceedingly interesting and furnish good sport during the two month's season. And for the men who composed the Bellefonte team it can be said that they are all gentlemen, who comported themselves as such at all times, and in this respect did credit to the town. Bellefonters will have one more opportunity to see them play, and that will be next Monday forenoon, (Labor day), when Tyrone will be their opponents on Hughes field. The Tyrone team has been here before and its strength is very well known, so that a good game is assured, and Bellefonte is going to make a strong effort to win the last game on the home grounds. For this reason a big crowd should go out and see the game. Then if you are not satisfied take advantage of the liberal excursion offer and go along to Tyrone and witness the game in the afternoon.

The standing of the clubs to Wednesday evening was as follows:

Club	Won	Lost	P. C.
Osceola	26	15	.634
Bellefonte	21	18	.539
Clearfield	19	19	.500
Philipsburg	11	25	.306
