—Anyway the really eminent men of the country are proud of their allegiance to the Democratic party and proud of the honor of carrying its banners. Not only in the national, but in the State elections the Democratic party has revealed itself for generations as having invariably presented men of unusual calibre for the offices to be filled and men who have gone down to defeat not feeling as martyrs do, but proud of the principles for which they stood and proud of the opportunity to publicly espouse them.

JACOBS.—Mrs. William A. Jacobs died at her home at Clarence on Monday afternoon after several months' illness as the result of her advanced age. She was born in January, 1826, hence was 84 years and 6 months old. Her maiden name was Jane Watson and she was twice married. Her first husband was Nelson Lucas and her second William A. Jacobs.

HOOPER.—The remains of Harry Joseph Hooper, son of Mrs. Charlotte and the late A. P. Hooper, were brought east from St. Paul, Minn., on Tuesday and taken to Unionville, this county, where they were buried in the family burying lot. The lad was only twelve years old and he met his death last Saturday in jumping off a shifting engine in the yards of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

—One more week and the steam heat will be turned on.

—Miss Clara Solt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Solt, of Logan street, is quite ill, threatened with typhoid fever.

—Mrs. Susanna Zimmerman, of east Lamb street, suffered a stroke of paralysis on Sunday and has been quite ill since.

—John M. Bullock recently purchased the Gault house on east Curtin street, now occupied by Don S. Potter and family, and will make that his home after April first, 1911.

—Misses Lulu and Jennie Harper have arranged for rooms in the Mrs. Hibler house and will go there from their old home on west Linn street in the near future.

—The annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held at the association Monday evening, October 3rd, at half-past seven.

—Several Bellefonte gentlemen are seriously considering the purchase of a lot and the erection of a suitable building in which to start and conduct a moving picture show at State College.

—Eben Bower, of Aaronsburg, has recovered from a six weeks' siege of pneumonia and on Monday returned to his desk as book-keeper for the Bellefonte Lumber company.

—One hundred and fifty guests were present at a reception given by Mrs. G. P. Pond, at her home at State College yesterday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. Elizabeth Callaway; and the latter very interestingly entertained those present with an account of her three month's tour of the old world.

—Father O'Hanlon, who looks after the spiritual welfare of the students at State College who are members of the Catholic church, has furnished a fraternity house at that place where twelve of "his boys" will stay while at college and thirty others take their meals. One room in the house is set aside for Father O'Hanlon's own use when he is up there.

—Next Sunday will be "Rally Day" in the Methodist Episcopal church and Sunday school. The pastor will preach a special sermon appropriate to the occasion at 10.30 a. m. Special service in the Sunday school at 2.30 p. m., Epworth League at 6.30 o'clock; and preaching by the pastor at 7.30 p. m. All are cordially invited, especially those who at any time have been associated with the church or Sunday school.

WEAVER.—Newton S. Weaver died at his home in Philadelphia on September 9th after over a year's illness. He was a son of William Weaver and was born in Brush valley about forty-seven years ago. After leaving Centre county he went to Williamsport and engaged in the grocery business, but several years ago went to Philadelphia and opened up a restaurant where he had been ever since.

—This (Friday) afternoon will be your last chance to see the Fats and Leans play ball. In the first game of the series, last Friday afternoon, the Leans won by the score of 12 to 11, and naturally felt kind of puffed up over their success. But the Fats put it all over them in the game on Wednesday afternoon when they were the victors by the score of 16 to 8. As today's game will decide the championship the contest will likely be an exciting one. It is quietly rumored throughout fandom that both teams will appear on the field very much stuffed so be prepared for any kind of a surprise. Game will be called at 3 o'clock.

—On Tuesday Mrs. Jos. K. Cass, of Tyrone, entertained in honor of her daughter, who is home from Columbia, S. C., and Mrs. A. G. Morris, Miss Lida Morris and Mrs. Charles Morris started for Tyrone in the Morris Renier car to be among the guests at the Cass function. They got as far as Port Matilda where —The regular session of September term of court will open next Monday September 26th, and will continue for two weeks, or through the week of the Centre county fair, providing the cases are not all settled or continued. And this will be the first opportunity for those who may attend court in any capacity to see the remodeled court house in a practically completed condition, as it has been finished throughout in the inside though the exterior painting has not been completed.

—Beginning last Saturday contractor R. B. Taylor has been steadily at work putting the asphalt dressing on the north end of the new state road with the result that it has been completed on north Water street and in on Linn street to Spring street, so that it will be opened for traffic thus far either today or tomorrow. It makes a very good appearing as a piece of roadway and if it proves as durable as it looks will undoubtedly give entire satisfaction.

—Mrs. M. Louise Comerford, who has been representing the Fowler Apparatus Co., of Wilkes-Barre, for the past year with such great satisfaction to her customers in Bellefonte, has for sale clothing of every kind for both women and children, so attractive and so very moderate in price that she is anxious to show it to all those who have not known of this great opportunity of buying good materials and good styles at the very lowest prices.

—One of the oldest, if not the oldest woman, in Centre county today is Mrs. Peggy Cronister, of Centre Line, Half-moon township. She is now ninety-six years old and while she is enjoying fair health she is almost blind, though she is still in possession of most of her other faculties. Her entire life of almost one century was spent in the vicinity of her birth and present residence and while she has seen many changes in that quiet valley and generations come and go she has never been far away from the confines of her own immediate neighborhood; content at all times to live a quiet, simple country life.

—Something very unusual in a night blooming cereus transpired at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Weber, in Howard, the past week. Fourteen years ago Mrs. Weber got a plant and has nurtured and watched it very closely ever since in anticipation of coaxing forth its exceeding fragrant flower. Her efforts were rewarded last Friday night when the plant put forth its first installment of flowers and as if to repay Mrs. Weber for her tender care the plant bloomed again on Saturday night and then on Sunday night. Ordinarily a night blooming cereus puts forth blossoms only one night and sometimes the second night, but very rarely the third, so that Mrs. Weber was very fortunate.

—The Leathers brothers, of Howard, recently purchased the tract of timberland owned by John Gummo in Beech Creek township, Clinton county. The price paid was $3,000, and it is the intention of the purchasers to erect a saw mill on the tract and cut and manufacture the timber thereon into marketable lumber.

WITH THE BOROUGH DADS.—There were eight members present at the regular meeting of borough council on Monday evening and aside from passing two ordinances the principal business transacted was providing for the renewal of notes and negotiating a new one.

The various committees had nothing of any importance to report to council and there were no verbal or written communications except a letter from Arthur Brown, of New York, in which he asked for the written guarantee promised before he pays for the concrete pavement laid by the borough in front of the Brown property on Bishop street. The borough solicitor was instructed to secure the guarantee from the contractor and forward same.

The ordinance providing for the extra width asphalt macadam paving and concrete curb and gutters on Allegheny street; and the one amending an ordinance passed several months ago and providing that the brick paving on Allegheny street from Pike alley to Bishop street shall be fifty feet wide instead of forty-six, were read for the second time and passed finally. The agreement of the property owners along the latter piece of street to pay their proportionate share of the expense was presented, signed by every owner, and was ordered entered of record.

Under the head of new business the Finance committee announced that a note for $5,000 in favor of Daniel Hall would be due September 26th; one for $1,200 in NOLL—CRILLY.—Charles Franklin Noll, an assistant in the division of economic zoology at The Pennsylvania State College, and Miss Cora Crilly, a well known school teacher of Altoona, were married at the home of the bride's parents in the Mountain city on Thursday of last week. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. F. Drawbaugh, of the Fourth Lutheran church. Both the contracting parties are prominent socially and the wedding was quite a pretentious one, though the number of guests was confined to their large circle of friends.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Noll left on a wedding trip which will extend through New York and the New England States to be followed with a brief sojourn at the bridegroom's former home in Perry county. Later they will go to Ithaca, N. Y., where Mr. Noll will take another year's advanced work in zoology at Cornell University.

KEICHLINE—NAATZ.—The wedding of Charles C. Keichline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter F. Keichline, of this place, and Miss Emma L. Naatz, of Syracuse, N. Y., took place on Wednesday of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Plopper, in that city. The interior of the Plopper home was prettily decorated with palms, clematis and asters. The bridal couple entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Margaret Rill. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Bedle. During the congratulations A. C. Naatz, a neph-

CHURCH CORNER STONE LAID.—The corner stone of the new St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church at State College was laid on Sunday afternoon, September 18th, with appropriate ceremonies. The congregation, which numbered between five and six hundred people, assembled on the floor of the new building, which had been provided with temporary seats. The pastor of the church, Rev. J. McK. Reiley, presided over the services. The entire congregation united in singing the opening hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty!" which was followed with prayer by Rev. Samuel Martin, of the Presbyterian church. Rev. I. C. Sassaman, of the Lutheran church, read the scripture lesson.

The college quartette, composed of Messrs. Roop, Smith, Miller and Stoddard, sang a beautiful sacred selection after which addresses were made by Prof. F. L. Pattee; Dr. B. C. Conner, superintendent of the Altoona district, and Dr. Edwin Eric Sparks, after which an offering to the amount of $545 was lifted.

At the conclusion of the above services the congregation followed the official members and visiting clergymen to the platform outside the building proper where the corner stone was formally laid by Dr. W. S. Glenn, president of the board of trustees. Dr. Thomas S. Wilcox, of the Bellefonte church, pronounced the benediction. A number of Bellefonte Methodists were present to witness and participate in the services.

In the corner stone was placed a roll of the members of the church, name of pastor, board of trustees, building committee, a list of those who have so far contributed toward the building of the church and among various other things a copy of the DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN.

"DAVE HOLCOMB."—Once in a while the public likes to be serious long enough to have their memories reverted to their childhood days down on the farm or some reminiscences recalled where they have spent a pleasant vacation out in the open country. William Lawrence, who is to appear at Garman's, on September 30th, in his latest effort, "Dave Holcomb," says the world is growing better. He backs his claim with the assertion that since he has advertised his play as a moral temperance drama of real life, more people have paid admissions to see him than ever before. "Dave Holcomb" is not a bar-room play, but is a wonderfully constructed story of a man's moral life against that of his reckless brother and the lesson taught will not cause any great remorse but will make you feel better after having seen it, and convince the most skeptical that there is lots of good in this old world after all.

HUNGARIAN BADLY INJURED, DIES.—On Thursday morning of last week Paul Biljiska, a Hungarian, was so badly injured while working with the gang loading slag for Thomas A. Shoemaker, at the Bellefonte furnace, that he died in the Bellefonte hospital early Friday morning. Biljiska was under the car which carried and operated the big steam shovel removing some loose stone and while so occupied the engineer in charge unthinkingly moved the car forward with the result that Biljiska's left leg and thigh were caught under the car and badly mangled. He was hurried to the Bellefonte hospital but his injuries were such that recovery was impossible and he died early Friday morning. The unfortunate man was about twenty-eight years of age and had been in this country less than a year. The funeral was held on Saturday morning burial being made in the Catholic cemetery.

AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.—A meeting of the Country club will be held at the new club house on Saturday afternoon and evening to make arrangements for a formal opening of the house and transact other business of special interest to every member of the club.

The new club house has been practically completed and is ready for occupancy throughout. The last of the window shades were put up on Wednesday. On Tuesday evening the electric lighting system was turned on for the first time since the dynamo was reset—to run forward instead of backward—and the difference over what it was when first installed in the old house is quite marked, being almost one hundred per cent. more brilliant. The new house was built and will be furnished in the best way possible for the comfort and convenience of the club members.

BIG RUMMAGE SALE FOR HOSPITAL BENEFIT.—Next week is the time for the big rummage sale in Bush Arcade for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital and the members of the Ladies Auxiliary will have everything in apple pie order for the opening on Monday evening. And right here we want to add that because it will be a rummage sale you must not think that everything there will be rubbish, because it will not. There will be fruit and vegetables of all kinds, fit to grace any table, that can be purchased as cheaply as anywhere else. There will be lots of household necessities, fancy work, etc. A real (?) Hindoo fortune teller will be on duty at all times and there will be plenty of other attractions to please everybody. You can feel sure of getting your money's worth and also helping a worthy cause.

—On Thursday of last week the home of Thomas Malone, at Yarnell, was entirely destroyed by fire though most of the household furniture was saved. His barn was also slightly damaged. His insurance has been appraised at $500 on the house and $30 on the barn.

There Are Many.

Under date of September 21st, 1910, the Third Assistant Post-Master General at Washington writes to the editor of this paper as follows:

Dear Sir:
Furnish me with information concerning the number of copies of THE DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN mailed to persons whose subscription for the same has expired over twelve months. This information should have reference to the first issue of The Democratic Watchman mailed after the receipt of this letter.

This means that at once we will have to forward to Washington the number of our subscribers who are one year in arrears. Then Washington will probably order us to discontinue sending the paper to such. Won't you remit for yours, if you are in arrears, at once and save us the trouble we will surely have if you don't.

and Miss Mildred Naatz, a niece of the bride sang "Oh Promise Me," after which a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal couple and small number of guests present. The same day Mr. and Mrs. Keichline left on a wedding trip and will be at home to their friends in Bellefonte after November 1st.

LUCAS—SUMMERS.—John I. Lucas and Miss Viola D. Summers, daughter of Mr. George Summers, of Snow Shoe Intersection, were quietly married at the Evangelical parsonage in this place, last Saturday evening, by the pastor, Rev. I. C. Shearer. They will make their home at the Intersection where Mr. Lucas is employed by the Pennsylvania railroad company.

BOY STEALS CIGARS.—On Tuesday evening Bert Parks, son of James Parks, was arrested on the charge of breaking into the cigar factory of John McGinley and carrying away three hundred cigars. The factory was first entered on the night of September 7th when one hundred cigars were stolen. On the night of the 11th it was again broken into and two hundred cigars taken. Suspicion pointed to young Parks because he was continual smoking and on several trips up Spring creek sold cigars at two for a cent. After his arrest he confessed and told where the cigars were hidden, under a stable in the rear of F. E. Nagin's store. Policeman Dukeman made a search and found the six boxes, though only two hundred cigars were recovered, Parks having smoked and sold the other hundred. When arrested he was sent to jail but was bailed out by Col. Taylor on Wednesday.

—When in doubt as to where to spend an hour each evening, go to the Scenic. If you have the blues or feel out of sorts in any way, try the Scenic. A dose of it each evening before going to bed will cure all your woes and go a long way toward relieving any ills you may be afflicted with, while you are sure to have an hour of diversified and enjoyable entertainment. All new pictures every night so that when you miss an evening you miss something you will not have another opportunity to see. This is the reason you should be a regular.

—Mrs. H. P. Harkness, of Altoona, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Robert Irwin, of this place, died on Wednesday after six week's illness with a complication of diseases. Most of her life until her marriage in 1890 was spent in Reading. Since that time she lived in Altoona.

—John Munson has resigned his position in Baltimore and accepted one of greater responsibility and emoluments with the J. G. White Co., of New York, and will be located at Chattanooga, Tenn., where they have a large hydro-electrical plant.

CENTRE COUNTIANS ALSO VICTIMS.

—Last week's WATCHMAN contained an account of the defalcations of State Senator Chambers O. Templeton, of Tyrone, and since then several more suits have been entered against him while every day brings something to light which makes his affairs more hopelessly involved than ever. His pecuniations were not confined to strangers but his nearest friends and business associates are numbered among his victims, and in the list are some from Centre county. One Bellefonte gentleman is short $1,000 on the bogus mortgage scheme which Templeton seems to have worked to perfection, and it is stated on good authority that one Bellefonte lady had $6,000 in Mr. Templeton's keeping which is likely gone beyond recovery. Another party at Port Matilda is a loser to the extent of over three hundred dollars, and there is no telling how many others there are who have not declared themselves.
