Berry a Disciple of Roosevelt.

Mr. BERRY is soliciting Democratic support in Pennsylvania on the ground that he is an ardent admirer of THEODORE ROOSEVELT and a disciple of ROOSEVELTISM. In fact he has had the temerity to allege that he is the tail of the ROOSEVELT party. That may entitle him to some consideration but hardly to Democratic support. ROOSEVELT'S policies are the antithesis of the JEFFERSONIAN political creed. His new nationalism is simply an exaggeration of the doctrines promulgated by ALEXANDER HAMILTON and the farthest possible away from Democracy.

When Mr. BERRY was a candidate for State Treasurer he was admonished against his habit of fulsomely eulogizing ROOSEVELT and though he protested it was only for political effect, he materially modified his praise. But ROOSEVELT didn't stand then for the heresies he is now proclaiming from the housetops. Probably Mr. BERRY has not discerned the difference. He is a man of slovenly mental habits and nice distinctions escape his notice. But the voters of Pennsylvania are more alert, mentally. They know the difference between an ice wagon and a hearse.

The Democratic party has always stood for home rule and against the centralization of power. ROOSEVELT stands for centralization and against home rule. Democrats who support ROOSEVELT are abandoning the faith of their fathers and at a time when it is of the greatest importance that the doctrines of JEFFERSON be preserved. In Pennsylvania Mr. BERRY is the representative of ROOSEVELTISM and Democrats should refrain from even encouraging his heresies. Do not be deceived by the sophistries of an enemy of Democracy though in disguise.

An Honest Man Will Not do it.

It amazes us to hear men denounce ex-Treasurer BERRY. He did his duty as State Treasurer, and in consequence a number of politicians now are in the penitentiary and others are on their way. Why, then, should this official be subject to abuse? BERRY exposed a lot of thieves who stole millions from the public treasury. Why, then, in the name of all that is just and fair, should any decent man assail such an official? An honest man will not do it.—The Centre Democrat, Oct. 6, 1910.

Why, then, should Mr. BERRY abuse Col. JAMES M. GUFFEY when Col. GUFFEY made it possible for Mr. BERRY to become State Treasurer.

When Col. GUFFEY personally paid for the services of HOMER L. CASTLE, the lawyer who helped Mr. BERRY uncover the capitol scandal.

When Col. GUFFEY personally gave Mr. BERRY fifteen thousand dollars in order to help him in his personal business ventures in Chester.

When Col. GUFFEY was in favor of either MUNSON'S or BERRY'S nomination at Allentown.

We ask these questions, not as setting up a defense for Col. GUFFEY, but merely "in the name of all that is just and fair," we would like to know how an honest man, and Mr. BERRY is presumed to be an honest man—can do it.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

LINN.—Mrs. Mary Williams Linn, wife of G. Britton Linn, died at her home near Beech Creek last Friday morning. She had been an invalid a number of years as the result of asthma and heart trouble, but at that her death was quite sudden and unexpected. She is survived by her husband, three sons and two daughters, as follows: Kelsey, of Lock Haven; Roy, Fountain, Grace and Jennie, of Beech Creek. The funeral was held on Sunday, burial being made in the Clark cemetery.

The football season opened at State College last Saturday afternoon when State's opponents on the gridiron were the Harrisburg Tigers from the athletic club, of that place. They may have been Tigers but they were neither very nimble nor very fierce, as the final score was 58 to 0 in State's favor. The White and Blue played all around the visitors and realizing their weakness early in the game took advantage of same to try out some two dozen or more players, with the result that coach John Hollenback was fairly well satisfied with the showing made.

Hess.—Another old soldier and well known and highly esteemed citizen of Ferguson township has gone to his last reward in the person of John G. Hess, who died at his home in Pine Grove Mills on Monday evening. He had been in failing health the past year or longer but it was less than a month since his condition became serious.

Deceased was a son of John and Julia Hess, pioneer settlers of Harris township, and was born at Boalsburg December 26th, 1831, hence at his death was 78 years, 9 months and 7 days old. When a young man he learned the trade of a carriage maker which occupation he followed most of his life. On December 27th, 1857, he was united in marriage to Miss Sarah A. Rhone, a sister of Hon. Leonard Rhone. They went to house-keeping at Enosville and later at McAlevy's Fort. In the spring of 1860 they moved to Pine Grove Mills where Mr. Hess established himself in the carriage making business which he carried on for many years, and there as to this day a number of vehicles throughout the county which were built by him, though they are now somewhat out of date.

When the war broke out in 1861 he enlisted as a private in Company G, Forty-sixth regiment, and served throughout the war. About thirteen years ago he was appointed postmaster at Pine Grove Mills and was twice re-appointed, serving about eleven years in all. Two years ago he was compelled to resign on account of ill health. He later went to Medina, Ohio, and spent a year at the home of his only daughter, Mrs. Charles Smith. He returned last May feeling somewhat improved but another decline set in about a month ago from which he could not recover. Mr. Hess was that type of man which makes for the highest standard of citizenship in any community. Pains-takingly honest and conscientious, always ready to extend a helping hand to those deserving of help, and living a life of true christian fortitude he had a host of friends throughout this and adjoining counties who deplore his death, even though it was delayed until the winter of his life.

Since early manhood he had been a member of the Lutheran church and had been a deacon in the church as well as a trustee for a number of years. He was also a member of the G. A. R. Surviving him are his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Charles Smith, and two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Grow, of Carlisle, and Mrs. H. Y. Stitzer, of Bellefonte. Rev. J. S. Shultz officiated at the funeral which was held on Wednesday, burial being made in the new cemetery.

RHOADS.—Mrs. Maria Dick Rhoads, widow of the late Judge Daniel Rhoads, died at her home on West Linn street at 1:49 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She had been in rather feeble health the past year or more and about a week ago suffered a collapse which resulted in a general and rapid decline until her death yesterday.

Mrs. Rhoads came of an historic family of revolutionary stock. Her father was Edward Smith, a native of Salem, N. J. He was liberally educated and by profession was a civil engineer. In early manhood he represented his locality in the New Jersey Legislature. He went west to Mt. Carmel, Ill., in 1833, and it was at that place the subject of this notice was born in 1839. She was given a good education and in 1861 was united in marriage to Daniel Rhoads and ever since the family have lived in Bellefonte. Mrs. Rhoads was always a modest, retiring woman but one who lived a good and consistent life. She was the mother of five children, two of whom are dead and those surviving as follows: Edward Keasbey, of this place; Joseph James, of Altoona, and Rebecca Naomi, at home.

PAGE.—Following an illness of many months with heart trouble and dropsy Tobias Page died on Sunday night at his home in Boalsburg. He was born in Juniata county on July 25th, 1825, hence was over eighty-five years of age. Following the death of his wife some ten years ago he came to Boalsburg and has since made his home with his nephew, S. M. Bell. Two sisters living in the west are his only near surviving relatives. He was a member of the Menomitic church. The funeral was held at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning. Rev. J. I. Stonecyphey officiated at the services and burial was made in the Boalsburg cemetery, the following six gentlemen, whose ages totalled 453 years, acting as pall-bearers: Cyrus Durst, Adam Hosterman, James Poorman, John Hook, Alexander Kuhn and Henry Frederick.

STAMBACH.—Mrs. Annie Stambach died at her home at Aaronsburg last Thursday afternoon at the advanced age of eighty-four years. She was the widow of the late Rev. Elias Stambach, a former well known minister in this locality. She is survived by three sons and three daughters, as follows: Albert E., of Lock Haven; Jerome, of Somerset; Charles, of York; Mrs. Albert Cassler, of Somerset; Mrs. Charles Wolfe, of Rising Springs, and Mrs. Lizzie Swabb, at home. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, burial being made in the Aaronsburg cemetery.

SHUTT.—David Matthias, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shutt, of east Howard street, died on Sunday aged three months and seven days. The child had been delicate since birth. Burial was made in the Union cemetery on Tuesday afternoon.

BRYANT.—Mrs. Jennie M. Bryant, wife of Joseph Bryant, died early Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herman D. Cruse, on east Lamb street. She had been in ill health the past two years as a result of a complication of diseases though her condition had not been critical until three weeks prior to her death. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lot Stratton and was almost fifty-eight years of age. All her life was spent in this vicinity. Surviving her are her husband, one son, Samuel, and two daughters, Mrs. H. D. Cruse and Mrs. Irvin Felme. She also leaves one brother and a sister, William Stratton and Mrs. William Bryant, of Kensington. Rev. Fred W. Barry officiated at the funeral which was held on Tuesday afternoon, burial being made in the Union cemetery.

LAUBACH.—Mrs. Al Laubach died at her home near Beech Creek last Thursday evening after an illness of some months. She was thirty-six years old and was a daughter of the late Hugh White, of Bald Eagle township, Clinton county. In addition to her husband she is survived by five children, Paul, Floyd, Brooks, Thelma and Caroline. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon, burial being made in the Cedar Hill cemetery.

The Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and the New York Central have completed arrangements for the erection of a new passenger depot at Mill Hill, and work on the same will probably be begun this week. It will be an up-to-date structure in every way, with the ticket office in the center and the gentlemen's waiting room at one end and ladies waiting room at the other. It will be steam heated and lighted with electricity, with running water for toilet and lavatories, and all other modern equipments. The grounds surrounding the new station will be nicely graded and concrete platforms and walks will extend to each railroad.

A delegation of members of the Country club with Prof. Elton S. Walker, of State College, were at Hecla on Tuesday testing the power capacity and endurance of the water power to run the dynamo for furnishing the electric light for the club house and grounds. The water in the stream there is quite low at this time, though not as low as it has been many times in the past, but it is feared that the body of water there now is entirely inadequate for furnishing the necessary light and the club is up to solving the perplexing problem of more power at the least possible cost and without the necessity of throwing aside the present plant as entirely useless.

Yesterday morning three nicely gowned young ladies came to Bellefonte in a buggy to attend the fair. They drove into the grounds at the upper gate and turned to the right to drive around back of the exhibition building to the hitching grounds below. In the rear of the exhibition building is a deep pool of water with quite an embankment leading down to same. As the young ladies were driving along that place the train on the Central railroad came by. The horse frightened and started to run, the buggy going down over the embankment and dumping all three of the young ladies into the water, in which they were almost completely submerged. They were rescued from their involuntary bath, fortunately uninjured, and taken over to the home of Dr. Hayes where they were fixed up as well as possible to enjoy the day at the fair.

An interesting case was tried before justice of the peace Milford Pletcher at Blanchard last week, in which William Myers Sr. was the plaintiff and the supervisors of Liberty township the defendants. Myers had done some work on the road and had furnished a team, wagon and driver. For these he wanted the customary pay of three dollars a day, but the supervisors refused to allow him but $2.50. Myers brought suit to recover the first named price. The case had been continued several times, but finally was heard last week and the justice decided in favor of Mr. Myers. The entire amount involved was not over five dollars and in contesting Mr. Myers' claim the supervisors of Liberty township have involved the taxpayers of that township in an expense of fifty dollars or more, including the verdict against them, costs, attorney's fees, etc.

On Sunday afternoon L. H. Musser went to his stable in Pike alley to get his horse and buggy and found them missing. All efforts to locate the same proved fruitless until Monday morning when he received word that the rig had been delivered at his lumber camp near Julian by a boy who said he had been given a quarter to deliver it. Inquiry finally disclosed the fact that the horse and buggy had been taken by W. G. Bullock, of Julian. He came to Bellefonte on Saturday and after spending the night in town and drinking pretty freely, went to Musser's stable on Sunday shortly after noon and took his horse and buggy and drove home. It is alleged by some that Mr. Bullock had a horse and buggy somewhere in town and that he took Mr. Musser's in mistake for his own. This explanation is not a satisfactory one to Mr. Musser and he had a warrant sworn out for Bullock's arrest. The latter was finally captured at Howard on Wednesday by policeman Dukeman and is now in jail here.

WITH THE BOROUGH DADS.—Eight members were present at the regular meeting of borough council on Monday evening and notwithstanding the fact that the building of the state road and naturally torn up condition of the streets is the most vital question in Bellefonte today it was one of the shortest sessions ever held.

Following the reading and approval of the minutes the president, in a general routine way, asked for verbal and written communications, but there were none. The Street committee reported a number of crossings put down on Allegheny and Linn streets, replacing those torn up by the building of the state road; and various repairs on different streets throughout the town. The Water committee merely reported progress. The Fire and Police committee reported the fire on Monday, at the house in the Beaver and Hoy row occupied by Joe Kelleher and family and also stated that John Sebring Jr., wanted a permit to build a garage on Spring street. In a brief discussion council decided that they had nothing to do in regard to issuing permits and the matter ended there. The Market committee reported $9.30 market fees collected since last meeting night. The Finance committee read the treasurer's report which showed a balance in the treasury on October first of $907.84; also the report of the burgess for the month of September which showed an aggregate of $20 in fines collected, and the costs to collect same just $20.

Under the head of old business borough solicitor J. Thomas Mitchell stated that he had received a check for $100 from Arthur Brown, of New York, as part payment on the concrete pavement the borough put down in front of the Brant house, and will receive a note for thirty days for the balance, with a promise of paying same as soon as possible. Under the head of new business Mr. Beezer, chairman of the Fire and Police committee, reported that at a joint meeting of conferrees of the Logan and Urdine fire companies the following fire department officials were elected: Chief, James D. Seibert; first assistant, Frank Doll; second assistant, Charles Anderson. This completed the business of the evening and bills to the amount of $1,940.35 were approved and orders drawn. It was just ten minutes of eight o'clock when the president announced adjournment to be in order just as councilman Harry Keller made his appearance in the room.

VETERAN RAILROADER RETIRED.—Wm. T. Young, the oldest and probably one of the best known freight conductors on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad, made his last run last Friday and was then placed on the honored retired list. Mr. Young was seventy years old on September 8th. He began his railroad career on October 28th, 1868, as a freight brakeman on the Tyrone division. In 1871 he was promoted to a conductor, in which capacity he has labored ever since, the last twenty-five years of which were spent on the Bald Eagle local between Tyrone and Lock Haven. When he completed his run on Friday he was given an informal reception at the yardmaster's office in Tyrone and was warmly congratulated by his fellow employees on the honorable completion of so successful a railroad career.

A SUCCESSFUL COMPANY.—After a little over a year's operation the Centre Brick and Clay company, of Orviston, is meeting with good success. Judge Ellis L. Orvis, is president of the company; W. D. Zerby, vice president; Harry T. Mann, secretary, and J. Ellis Harvey, treasurer and general manager. They have a plant capable of turning out from eight to nine hundred thousand bricks a month, and have ready sale for their product in eastern cities. The brick are made in buff, gray and iron mottled colors. The company owns over two thousand acres of land on which is an almost exhaustless supply of fire clay and coal; have their own railroad, electric light plant, tenement houses, etc., and their plant is one of the most modern and up-to-date in this section.

NATIONAL GUARD CHANGES.—On Friday of last week Governor Stuart announced the retirement of Major General Wendell P. Bowman, as commander of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, and the appointment of Brigadier General Charles Bowman Dougherty, of Wilkes-Barre, as his successor. Brigadier General Charles M. Clement, of Sunbury, was assigned to the command of the Third brigade and has announced that he will move the headquarters of the brigade from Wilkes-Barre to Sunbury. Col. Clement formerly commanded the Twelfth regiment, of which Company L, of this place, is a part.

CONDO—PLETCHER.—Last Wednesday evening Jonathan F. Condo and Miss Bessie Pletcher, both well known young people of Howard, went to Philipsburg and going direct to the parsonage of the Church of Christ were united in marriage by Rev. H. S. Dudley, pastor. They spent the night in Philipsburg then went to Clearfield for a few days visit before returning home. The bride is a member of one of Howard's well known families and the bridegroom is making a success in the marble business in that place.

—Henry S. Weaver and Lena M. Confer, both of Howard, were married at the Methodist parsonage in this place on Wednesday evening. Rev. Thomas Wilcox performed the ceremony.

Bower, Dec'd., an action to revive judgment and continue the lien thereon. Verdict against the defendants in the sum of $312.58. Judgment was entered in a second and similar case, in the interest of Domer C. Rachau, for $311.25. Two other verdicts against the Bower estate were given in favor of W. H. Williams, sole administrator of Aaron Williams, Dec'd., for $217.88 and $257.62 respectively.

Thomas Poorman, Jennie Grover and Arthur Grover, and Margaret and Samuel Lucas vs. Harry, William and Albert Kessling, an action of trespass to recover a small tract of land and house in Boggs township which the plaintiffs claimed by right of possession. Verdict in favor of plaintiffs for $25.

The Penn Chemical Co. vs. Henry Kline, Fred Rees, Mary C. and Nancy J. Ammerman, an action in trespass to recover damages. Counsel for plaintiffs moved to amend the record by striking out the names of Henry Kline and Fred Rees whereupon the Misses Ammerman plead surprise and the case was continued at the cost of the plaintiff company. Agnes M. Grove vs. W. M. L. Grove, executor of Nathan Grove, Dec'd., an action to recover on a note. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for $858.38.

E. Hugg vs. Nancy Schreckler, an action in ejectment to recover possession of a house in Central City. Verdict in favor of defendant.

Joseph Bros. & Co. vs. Robert H. Irwin, an action in assumpsit. Verdict in favor of plaintiffs.

ANOTHER CHURCH OUT OF DEBT.—At the church debt rally last Sunday the local United Evangelicals responded most liberally to the appeal of their pastor. When Rev. J. F. Hower took charge of this congregation less than three years ago the debt amounted to $415.32. Since that time there was spent on improvements and repairs $586.60, a total of $1,001.92. In the beginning of this conference year, March 1st, the debt had been reduced to $300. When the results of last Sunday were made known by the officials it was learned that the cash receipts amounted to $329.20. Of this amount only $16.72 was raised by festivals and no appeal was made for outside help. It was a rally day which the local United Evangelicals will not soon forget. The note will be burned at the service next Sunday morning.

REPAIRS TO HIGH STREET BRIDGE.—This week the street commissioners nailed some short plank on High street bridge to make it secure for traveling and there was considerable comment on the crudeness of the job. But such repairs are only temporary and naturally were made as cheaply as possible. The contract has been let to repair the bridge in a permanent way. The middle truss will be removed, the superstructure strengthened and a floor of concrete and brick put down. This will put the bridge in such shape that it will not need a new floor every four years or less and will be an improvement that will be a money saving in the end. The contract was awarded to the York Bridge company and the price is not to exceed $4,500, three thousand dollars of which will be paid by the county and the balance by the borough.

—One year ago when Centre county farmers were offered from fifty to seventy-five cents a bushel for their potatoes many of them declined to sell but held them for a dollar a bushel. The result was western potatoes were shipped in and the price instead of advancing declined and this spring potatoes were a drug on the market at thirty-five and even twenty-five cents a bushel, and those farmers who held their tubers were compelled to feed the most of them to their stock. This fall all indications are for a large crop and that the price will not go above fifty or sixty cents, and farmers are letting go of them as rapidly as possible at the above figures.

PUT IT IN PASSABLE CONDITION.—"A diamond in the rough," is the way one lady characterized the Diamond when she was walking across it on Monday and stumbling and stumping her toes against the big blocks of upturned tar pavement with which the Diamond had been covered. And the lady put it very mildly, indeed. Of course the Diamond and that portion of Allegheny street which is to be paved with brick will have to be graded some time, but if it is correct as unofficially reported in council on Monday evening that the brick for the paving will not be here before the 25th of this month, almost three weeks yet, it seems almost like forcing a nuisance upon the town to dig the street up and allow it to lie as it has the past few days. If it was necessary to dig it up now to facilitate the work on the entire contract then the contractor should be required to go ahead with the work to the extent of grading it and rolling so that it would be at least in a passable condition.

Property owners on north Allegheny street, along the route of the new road, are bringing their pavements up to grade wherever necessary, filling in and sodding between the pavements and new curb and there is every indication that this work will be completed long before the road is finished; as it is still held up for the want of asphaltum.

During the past day or two rumors have been circulated that the state highway department would hold up the completion of the new road until spring, on account of the lateness of the season. When asked as to the truth of the matter contractor R. B. Taylor said there was nothing whatever in the story. That he was going right ahead with the road as fast as he could get the necessary material, and if there was any hold up at all it would be because cold weather and snow caught him before he could get the material to finish the work.

—A few days ago G. R. Spigelmyer received a letter postmarked Florence, Colorado, and enclosing six one dollar bills. In a brief note he stated that many years ago he had taken advantage of Mr. Spigelmyer to the extent of three dollars and that he now wished to make restitution hence sent him the amount with one hundred per cent interest. The note was merely signed "E." and Mr. Spigelmyer has no idea who the writer is. Of course as long as the fellow's conscience has been eased and Mr. Spigelmyer is six dollars better off he is not worrying very much who the man may be.

—On Friday of last week Emanuel Shook, of Gregg township, was up on a ladder picking apples from a tree when one of the rungs broke. Mr. Shook was thrown to the ground and a bag of apples fell upon him. His back was so badly injured that he has been unable to even move himself since and it is feared that the consequences may prove fatal.
