THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

A new concrete pavement is being put down in front of the Garman house and opera house on High street.

The Bellefonte High school football team will go to Lock Haven tomorrow for a game with the Normal reserves.

A fine little baby boy made his arrival in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Underwood, on Bishop street, last Saturday.

Rev. Dr. Schmidt expects to return home the latter part of this week and will hold the usual Sunday services in the Reformed church.

Next Thursday evening will be "the time," Garman's opera house will be "the place" and don't fail to attend if you want to see "the girl."

Employees of the McCoy-Linn Iron company are out at Reese's, on the Allegheny mountains, this week taking out a new heart for the furnace.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton S. Ray have named their recently-arrived son George Ade Ray, in honor of the world-wide humorist and play-wright, George Ade, of Chicago.

Last week James Noonan, of the Brant house, purchased a pony and cart for his daughters, Margaret and Geraldine, and the two girls are now as proud and happy as the average man is with a two thousand dollar motor car.

Hotel men throughout the county are now busy getting their applications for license in shape as the last day for filing the same will be on November 12th. License court will be held during the regular term of December court.

Farmers throughout the county have begun husking corn and the yield in most cases is very good. Of course the crop will not be a bumper one, but then it will be far better than that of last year.

Mrs. Sadie Hile, who has been spending the greater part of the fall at Pleasant Gap, on account of the serious illness of her mother, will remain there until there is a change in Mrs. Hile's condition.

George T. Bush has fixed up the Bush stable into a garage and is anxiously awaiting the arrival of that Ford car he recently bought in New York; as he has anticipations of many a pleasant run before winter sets in and puts an end to motoring.

Mrs. Emil Joseph has decided to break up housekeeping and is offering her household goods at private sale. She will take rooms at the Bush house and will remain in Bellefonte so as to enable Edmund to complete his course at State College while Emanuel will enter a military preparatory school.

Mrs. Joseph, widow of the late Emil Joseph, on account of closing up her home, will dispose of all her household furnishings at private sale. Parties desiring to make purchases can inspect the goods anytime by calling at her residence on the corner of Spring and Howard streets, Bellefonte, Pa.

John Sebring Jr., has the foundation walls for his new garage on the rear of the old Kline property on Spring street completed and ready for the bricklayers, who are expected to begin work on the walls next Monday. There will be two entrances to the garage, one from each alley, on which it is located.

William S. Chambers, assistant postmaster in the Bellefonte postoffice, last week received notice from the department in Washington that he has been put upon the civil service list, which entitles him to continue in that position during his natural life, good behavior of course being one of the provisos.

One agony there was that isn't any more—the world's baseball series was settled on Sunday when the Athletics defeated Chicago by the score of 7 to 2. While Connie Mack's aggregation failed to make it four straight they did the next best thing by winning four out of five, thus easily proving their superiority.

Tomorrow (Saturday) the Villa Nova football team will play the State eleven on Beaver field and this will probably be the best opportunity lovers of the sport will have of seeing a good game at the College. The Villa Nova game will be the strongest game State will have at home and all who can should go up and see it.

The first snow of the season fell last Sunday morning and if there is any truth in the old saw that there will be as many snows during the winter as the number of the day of the month on which the first one fell, we can look for a total of twenty-three. As a change, however, we had a good sized thunder storm on Tuesday.

Register Earle C. Tuten recently laid in an insurance business to provide him employment when his term of office expires and on Monday night a young gentleman arrived at his home on Penn street who has decided to stay and if the insurance business is prosperous enough may some day become the junior member of the firm.

TENER AND PARTY VISIT BELLEFONTE.—Republican candidate for Governor John K. Tener and party were in Bellefonte last Saturday afternoon and evening but so far as can be learned this week the Tener vote in Centre county will not be any bigger because of his visit.

Bellefonte had been scheduled on the Tener itinerary two weeks in advance and naturally had the advantage of a fortnight's advertising by machine newspapers. In addition hundreds of invitations were sent out from local headquarters to Republicans all over the county, and as a last resort the new City band was engaged to give a concert in front of the Brockerhoff house as a means of drawing a crowd. The impression had been given out that an open air meeting would be held and Tener would make a speech from the veranda of the hotel, and scores of people were there undoubtedly through curiosity alone.

When the time came, however, the meeting part of the program was abandoned and the only opportunity the public had of learning something about the man Penrose is running for Governor was in a public reception held in the Brockerhoff house office. Mr. Tener was the central figure on the floor for almost two hours and in that time was introduced to several hundred people; but then it was Saturday evening when there is always a big crowd passing back and forth through the hotel office, and of course not a man was allowed to get by without being introduced. Naturally in such a crowd there were many Democrats, a few Berry followers and a whole lot who had no intention of voting for Tener even though they shook hands with him. But the reception palled on him finally and he got out of the room so quietly and unobserved that his departure was not generally known for some time afterwards.

In the party who came with Mr. Tener to Bellefonte were Henry Houck, candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs; Adjutant-General Thomas J. Stewart; P. H. Shaner, a business associate of Mr. Tener at Charleroi; Gabriel Moyer and E. E. Moyer, of Lebanon; Mr. Tener's brother and several newspaper men of Philadelphia and Pittsburg. A North American staff man followed the party but was not admitted as a part of it. After Tener had eaten his dinner a friend took him on an automobile ride and later he watched the Bellefonte Academy-Indiana Normal football game.

After the public reception at the Brockerhoff house Mr. Tener and party were guests of honor at a banquet given them by the Bellefonte Lodges of Elks. This affair, however, was without any political significance, whatever, and at its conclusion, or along toward midnight Tener and his associates went to Lock Haven in an automobile in order to catch the night train east for Philadelphia.

THANKSGIVING ASSEMBLY.—The members of Constans Commandery No. 33, Knights Templar of this place, have decided to hold an assembly on Thanksgiving eve, November 23rd, in the armory of Company L. This will be the first function of the kind given by the Masonic fraternity in a number of years, and it will no doubt be looked forward to with considerable interest, as a number of years ago the assemblies given by the Masonic fraternity were regarded the leading social events of the year. As now planned the coming assembly will be held on quite an elaborate scale. The Knights will attend in all the splendor of their full regalia. The interior of the building will be artistically decorated, the Masonic orchestra, of Williamsport, has been engaged to furnish the music and the refreshments will be served by the members of the Commandery. About four hundred invitations will be issued, and they will not be confined to the Masonic fraternity but to those of the general public fortunate to be put upon the list.

SCHOLARSHIP CHANGED.—At the annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's clubs, held in Scranton last week, the name of the Federation scholarship in the department of domestic science at The Pennsylvania State College was changed from the Kate Cassatt McKnight memorial scholarship to the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women scholarship in memory of Kate Cassatt McKnight.

The scholarship was established at the meeting of the Federation in Pittsburg in 1907 in recognition of the work of Miss McKnight in securing the state appropriation to found this department for girls in State College. The scholarship fund—$15,000 being the aim—has grown so slowly, $1,675.44 having been raised up to the present time, that it was thought advisable to drop the purely personal name and substitute a broader and more general name while yet retaining the memorial feature.

HELD FOR COURT.—Cyrus Bowman, of Blanchard, was given a hearing last Friday before justice of the peace Milford F. Fletcher on the charge of distributing poison and was held for trial at the next term of court. Bowman was arrested the forepart of last week for throwing broadcast minced ham in which, it was claimed, poison had been secreted. At the hearing three witnesses testified to seeing him distribute the meat. Several portions of it were picked up and sent to State College for analysis. When Bowman was bound over for court he was at first unable to secure bail and was brought to Bellefonte to be locked up in jail, but after his arrival here he secured a bondsman and was released.

—Harry P. Armstrong, of Butler, well known to the people of Bellefonte because of his gift as a singer while a student at State College, has accepted a position as clerk in Sim Baum's clothing store and entered upon his duties Monday.

—T. S. Strawn has closed his broker's office in Temple Court for good. On Monday he sold his office furniture, including desks and chairs to Henry Kline, of the Haag house. Since then he has shipped his household goods and yesterday left for his old home in Scottsdale, where he will remain until he finds some other business in which to engage.

—Last Thursday morning R. A. Beck, the popular and well known barber, took a tumble in the dark and fell down the stairway in the apartments he and his family occupy on High street, sustaining a broken collar bone. While the injury is not necessarily a serious one it was quite painful for a few days and will also keep Mr. Beck away from the shop for some time.

—On next Sunday evening, October 30th, Rev. C. W. Winey, pastor of the United Brethren church, will begin a series of evangelistic meetings to continue throughout the week. Since coming to this church one year ago Rev. Winey has wonderfully worked among us, both in his church and out. We bespeak success for pastor and people in this latter undertaking.

—The strong Y. M. C. A. football team of Tyrone will play the Bellefonte Academy team on Hughes field tomorrow, game to be called at 2:30 o'clock. The Tyrone eleven has been playing a fast game so far and has several victories over strong teams to their credit, so that tomorrow's game will doubtless be a hard fought one. Go out and see the contest and help encourage the Academy boys to win.

—Nearly four hundred State College students went down to Philadelphia on the special train last Friday to see the Penn-State game and naturally were disappointed that State did not win. But according to those who witnessed the contest State was virtually robbed of the game. Two touchdowns were made neither of which were allowed, so that the score instead of being 10 to 0 in Penn's favor ought to have been at least a tie, with the possibility of a victory for State.

—One day last week two million dollars in silver was carried over the Beech Creek railroad and not an outsider knew aught about it until the fortune had been safely delivered at its destination. The money was from the mint in Philadelphia consigned to banks in Chicago. The train carrying it, which consisted of an engine and two box cars, strongly guarded by Pinkerton detectives, made the trip by way of the Reading, New York Central, Clearfield and Franklin and Lake Shore railroads. The total weight of the shipment was 125,000 pounds, or 62½ tons.

—W. J. Peters and W. G. Shaffer, of Mill Hall, went out on Marsh Creek one night last week to hunt raccoons. Their dog took a trail and soon had something up a tree. Shaffer climbed the tree but when he got up among the branches discovered the animal on an adjoining tree and also discovered the fact that it was not a coon but some other animal. He pointed it out to Peters who shot it and the same proved to be a wild cat which measured five feet five inches from tip to tip. With the killing of the cat the men abandoned their coon hunting for that night.

—Joe Diehl, of Howard, last week shipped two car loads of apples, in bulk, containing respectively 750 and 800 bushels, and on Monday and Tuesday loaded another car for shipment. Heretofore the apples had been packed in barrels but now they are being shipped in box cars, even though they are hand-picked. The apple crop in some parts of Centre county is much larger this year than was at first believed, as thousands of bushels are being shipped from the county to other markets, and at an average price of fifty cents a bushel, netting the growers quite a handsome sum.

—Borough officials in some towns in Pennsylvania are investigating the various moving picture shows to ascertain the character of the pictures exhibited and if they are conducted in a proper manner. This is something Bellefonte officials have no cause to worry about as manager T. Clayton Brown is a very close censor on all the pictures shown at the Scenic and that is the reason the place is crowded every evening. One is always sure of seeing an entirely new program of the best pictures obtainable, and there is always the very best of order. The small price of five cents will admit you each and every evening.

—There was a big bonfire on the Diamond Saturday night and notwithstanding the fact that the match was applied by John Kinley Tener it was not in his honor, by any means. It was a joint celebration by the students of the Bellefonte Academy and the Bellefonte High school over their football victories that day. The Bellefonte Academy defeated the Indiana Normal on Hughes field by the score of 15 to 5 and the Bellefonte High school eleven went over to Phillipsburg and defeated the High school team of that place by the score of 3 to 0. These victories were the occasion of the bonfire and the speeches which followed.

A DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT.—James Albert Rote, an employee at the Bellefonte furnace, was run over by a car loaded with pig iron last Saturday afternoon and almost instantly killed. He was employed as a brakeman in the furnace yard and was on the front end of a car of pig iron being shifted from the upper end of the yard to the lower. When about opposite the casting house the car jumped the track and the sudden jolt threw Rote off onto the track, and right in front of the wheels. Before he could make a move he was caught beneath the wheels, which passed over his body, crushing and mangling him in a fearful manner.

The car was stopped before running its full length and Rote's body remained pinned fast beneath the wheels so that it was necessary to unload it and jack the car up before the unfortunate man's mangled remains could be removed.

Mr. Rote was a son of Mrs. Amanda Rote, of Coleville and was 31 years, 4 months and 11 days old. He had been in the employ of the Bellefonte Furnace company a number of years and was a sober, industrious young man. He is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Elizabeth Miller; his mother and the following brothers and sisters: John, Harry, Frank Downing and Mrs. Frank Smith, all of Coleville.

Funeral services were held at the late home of the deceased, near Roopsburg, on Monday afternoon, by Rev. C. W. Winey, of the United Brethren church, burial being made in the Union cemetery.

PENNSYLVANIA DAY.—Friday, November 11th, has been set aside as the date for the celebration of "Pennsylvania Day" at The Pennsylvania State College. The exercises of the day will consist of a short program in the auditorium, an inspection of the buildings, laboratories, shops and campus; a review of the regiment of nine hundred college cadets; and a game of football between the teams of the Sophomore and Freshman classes. By this varied program it is hoped to give visitors a glimpse of the daily life of the fifteen hundred students now enjoying the benefits of an education provided largely by the munificence of the State.

On the evening before Pennsylvania Day at 5:30 p. m., supper will be served at the Woman's building by the students in Domestic Science to all college guests. Immediately afterward, an informal reception will be given in the rooms of the Engineering Club with music by the college musical organizations. The members of the various Fraternities invite all guests to attend their house-party dances on Thursday evening.

The Bellefonte club will entertain over night those who arrive at Bellefonte late Thursday afternoon. Kindly notify John Blanchard, president, time of arrival. The University Club, located at 136 Frazier street, offers the freedom of its house to all who receive an invitation to attend the exercises of Pennsylvania Day.

DIED OF LOCKJAW.—Lloyd Dorman, the seventeen year old son of Mrs. John Dorman, of Snyderstown, died of lockjaw on Monday. About a month ago the young man stepped on a rusty nail which penetrated his foot. The wound did not give him much trouble at first but last week became very painful and lockjaw developed. Everything possible was done but the young man died on Monday. In addition to his mother he is survived by a number of brothers and sisters among them being Mrs. Harry Boyer, of this place, and Lewis Dorman, also well known here. The funeral was held on Wednesday, burial being made at Snyderstown.

A GOOD ATTRACTION.—It is claimed that the chorus in "The Time, the Place and the Girl," which will appear at Garman's next Thursday evening, November 3rd, is positively the youngest, prettiest and cleverest now before the patrons of one night stand shows, and a particular feature of this part of the company is the pony ballet, consisting of twelve young girls whose aggregate weight is not above one thousand pounds. Tom Cameron is the leading comedian of the organization, which includes Donald McKenzie, J. C. Morrison, Miss Mavis, Miss Wood, Miss Webster and other well known singers and comedy artists.

FRUIT SHOW AT STATE COLLEGE.—The horticultural department of The Pennsylvania State College will hold its fourth annual fruit show during "Farmer's week," December 19th to 24th. At the show last year three hundred plates of fruit were shown in addition to the barrel and box exhibits, representing seventy-eight varieties from twenty-three different counties in the State. This year it is the desire of those in charge of the show to have every county in the State represented and thus make this season's show superior to that of last. Centre county farmers should aim to lead in the exhibit.

VILLA NOVA AT STATE TOMORROW.—The Villa Nova football team will meet State on Beaver field tomorrow afternoon and the best game of the season up there is looked for. Villa Nova actually thinks she has a chance to win, so if you care to go up you will be sure of seeing a fine game. Coach Crolius, of the Villa Nova team, officiated in the State-Penn game last Saturday and has probably coached his players to meet the State attack. Villa Nova always has a good team and we advise lovers of the sport to see this game if possible.

—Contractor R. B. Taylor has completed his contract of state road in Franklin county and Philip H. Garbrich has returned home and will help to push the work of completing the state road through Bellefonte. Just how fast the work on this will now progress depends entirely upon the weather. Another car of asphaltum was received on Monday evening, which will be sufficient to complete the road from Spring street to where the brick paving begins at Parrish's drug store. The borough has given up the idea of building a conduit from Parrish's to Bishop street but instead will put a covering of concrete, five feet wide and six inches thick, over the steam heat pipes. John Knisely has been awarded the contract for this work and will put the same down as fast as possible. The grading of the street for the brick paving is so far along that they expect to begin laying brick today or tomorrow. A sufficient force of men will be kept on this work to push it as fast as possible and with good weather that part of the road ought to be completed within two weeks.

—All needful lotions and perfumes for my lady's toilet, articles for her dressing table and artistic art needle work for the employment of her fingers between this and the Christmas time, will be shown you at Miss Morgan's upon visiting her shop on Spring street.
