THINGS ABOUT TOWN AND COUNTY.

—Mrs. Edward Swiler was taken to the Bellefonte hospital on Monday for treatment.

—Ladies be sure to see the latest things in art embroideries for Christmas at Miss Longwells.

—An eclipse of the moon will occur on Wednesday evening, November 16th, visible in this section.

—Dr. J. J. Kilpatrick is just now swearing vengeance on the man who stole Flake, his bird dog.

—Mrs. W. A. Lyon was taken suddenly ill on Monday and has been in a quite serious condition ever since.

—A new concrete walk has been put down along the side of their building on Water street by the Potter-Hoy Hardware company.

—Philip Bezer was up in Buffalo, N. Y., this week buying a car load of beef cattle and also a car load of feeders for several nearby farmers.

—A new fire escape has been put up on Garman's opera house on the side next the hotel. The work was done by Merritt & Co. of Camden.

—At the card party given at the home of Mrs. D. H. Hastings, last Thursday evening, $104 were realized for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital.

—Mrs. R. P. Miller wishes to thank all those who so generously extended their sympathy and assistance to her and her family in their recent bereavement.

—The members of the Bellefonte Lodge of Elks enjoyed a sauer kraut supper on Monday evening at the expense of Charles R. Kurtz, in celebration of his wedding.

—A one hundred candle power electric light, with a beautiful colored glass shade, has been added to the equipment of the Brockerhoff house reading and writing room.

—At the election next Tuesday the people of Millheim will vote on the proposition of increasing the borough indebtedness nine thousand dollars for the purpose of installing a municipal light plant.

—Last Saturday while at work in the forge at Curtin Roland Felmlee got his left thumb caught between a bloom of iron and power hammer and had it so badly crushed that the flesh split open. The injury laid him up for a week.

—The young people of Bellefonte are to be commended on the very orderly way they celebrated Halloween in Bellefonte. No damage was done to property anywhere in Bellefonte and even gates and crossings were left untouched.

—The Bellefonte High school team went to Lock Haven Saturday afternoon and were defeated by the Normal reserves by the score of 11 to 0. They will play the Philipsburg High school team in this place tomorrow afternoon.

—Special revival services will begin in the Methodist church on Sunday evening and will continue every evening during the week except Saturday evening as long as sufficient spiritual interest is shown. The public in general is invited.

—Tuesday's Philadelphia Inquirer contained a picture of Judge Ellis L. Orvis and underneath it the name of J. C. Harper, in its "This is My Birthday" column. The question now is whose birthday it is and which of the gentlemen should feel the most flattered?

—At a meeting of the board of managers of the Bellefonte hospital, on Tuesday afternoon, Miss Beltz was promoted from head nurse to acting superintendent and Mrs. Leggett was made head nurse; changes rendered necessary because of the sudden marriage of Miss Calderwood, the present superintendent.

—Before the football game at State College on Saturday afternoon the annual cider scrap between the Sophomores and Freshmen was held. The scrap took place near the armory and lasted over an hour. It was a hard battle but in the end the Sophs were the victors, though by the narrow margin of 33 to 32.

—Between seven and eight hundred barrels of cider have been the output thus far this season from the cider mill of H. Frank Kessinger at Eagleville. The biggest day's work at the mill was last Tuesday when forty wagon loads of apples were ground and pressed, turning out one hundred and eight barrels of cider.

—The annual Harvest Home services will be held in the Baptist church at Milesburg on Sunday morning, November 6th, at 10:30 o'clock a. m. All those who have offerings for the Baptist orphanage are requested to bring them to this service and the same will be taken in charge by the proper persons and forwarded to the orphanage.

—Raymond W. Heim, a student at State College and treasurer of the College Y. M. C. A., is representing that organization at the thirty-seventh international convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of North America which is now in session in Toronto, Canada. The State College association is among the largest in the United States.

ARE WE ASLEEP, INDIFFERENT OR JUST NATURALLY SLOW.—While all of the large cities and many of the towns of the country were a riot of merry-making on Monday night, Bellefonte's observance of Halloween consisted of a few pranks of the little children and a very abbreviated edition of the mischievous work that the larger ones were wont to do in years gone by. While the WATCHMAN has nothing but condemnation for the destruction or mutilation of property or personal injury or insults to individuals it deprecates the lapse of the spirit of revelry that has been evident in Bellefonte in recent years. The occasions for all classes to get out onto the streets and commingle are so few that none of them should be lost. The incentives to drive dull care away and be young and joyous, if only for a night, are so precious that they should be nurtured not frozen.

We recall a time in Bellefonte when even a prayer week service in one of the leading churches was held earlier than customary in order that the members, young and old, rich and poor, could have an hour of coasting on those famous old dummies "Greyhound," "Black Diamond," "Fat Ann" and others.

We recall a carnival that held forth here some years ago that was welcomed with misgiving yet before it departed the most sedate residents were romping over the Diamond every night, laughing and cheering, when they weren't trying to spit confetti out of their mouths or dig it out of their eyes.

Many other like episodes of the past might be brought up to prove the decadence or the suppression of the spirit of fun.

Why is it? Why should it be? There is so little general levity in this work-a-day life of ours that it seems that we need an injection of Panquin's elixer and need it right quick here in Bellefonte.

In other places prizes are offered for the most grotesque costumes worn, children are especially encouraged in harmless revelry and a general levee is held on the streets on Halloween. What did Bellefonte do? What do Bellefonters do on New Years eve and New Years day when mummies are abroad in nearly every community in the country. We'll tell you. They waken up to the fact that it is New Years day and that some other fellows have really found some joy in life when they see that big parade of mummies from little Pleasant Gap go rolling past.

Don't let us miss these golden opportunities any more. Don't let us grow old and crusty and acetic and mad when some one with real good, warm red blood in his veins wants to yell. We are only old as we make ourselves. And Bellefonte will have Methuselah skinned ere long if we don't watch out.

DELIGE'S HEARING.—Thursday of next week is the date set for the hearing to be given Bert Delige, now in the Centre county jail on the charge of having murdered Mrs. John Baudis at Scotia, on the night of October 16th, and the authorities have just six days in which to collect any further evidence in the case that may be unearthed. So far there are no new developments. The result of Dr. Pond's analysis of the spots on Delige's clothing and the bloody finger prints on the fence rail to find out if they were made by human blood has not been made public and will not until the hearing. One strong link in the chain of circumstantial evidence will be the finding of the implement with which the murder was committed, but whoever did the deed seems to have gotten rid of it most effectually.

In trying to ascertain Delige's whereabouts on the evening of the murder the authorities have so far been unable to locate him at the exact time the murder was committed. There is evidence to show that he was at home an hour before the murder and an hour afterwards but as to where he was the two hours between six and eight o'clock the officials have only his own unsubstantiated story.

Whether Delige is guilty or not his past career will doubtless weigh against him. At his trial for shooting the Williams boy in 1906 he was first convicted of murder in the first degree but the court offered the alternative to the prosecution of accepting a compromise verdict or granting a new trial and it was finally agreed that if Delige would plead guilty to involuntary manslaughter it would be acceptable to both sides. He did so and was given three years in the western penitentiary, but got a reduction of time for good behavior. After his release he went back to his old home at Scotia and it is said that ever since the people of that place and vicinity have lived in constant fear of what he would do next.

PHOTOGRAPH ALBUM OF ELKS.—Ralph T. Mallory, photographer in Crider's Exchange, has made a very generous offer to the members of Bellefonte Lodge of Elks. He will give an individual sitting to each member of the lodge and finish one picture to be presented to the lodge in order to make a complete album of all the members. Of course after the pictures are finished any extra ones of the lodge can secure as many extra ones as he desires by paying the regular price therefore. Inasmuch as there are now over one hundred and fifty members in the lodge it can readily be seen that to do the above will mean considerable work on the part of the photographer.

—Miss Agnes Gherity, who has been ill the past three weeks with pleura-pneumonia, is convalescing very nicely.

—The venerable Edward Brown, formerly of this place but now of Baltimore, has grown quite feeble of late and it is doubtful if he will ever be strong or well enough again to visit Bellefonte.

—The Bellefonte Electric company has had a force of men at work this week putting down the piping in the Diamond in which will be encased the wires for the new system of lighting that portion of the town. The iron posts on which the lights will be placed are expected here in a few days and will be put in position as soon as received.

—One night last week two traveling salesmen were walking past the Scenic when one remarked to the other: "There is the best and most up-to-date moving picture show in Pennsylvania." This fact is due to the strict management of T. Clayton Brown who sees that no picture is shown at the Scenic that would offend the most refined person.

—Harry Miller, the Bellefonte contractor who had charge of the carpenter work on the new High school house, has been engaged by the Pittsburg Construction company to take charge of the carpenter work on the new round house and car shops being built by the Pennsylvania railroad company at Renovo, and left for that place last Thursday. Lewis Wallace has charge of the brick work.

—Col. Edward R. Chambers is just now one of the biggest feeling men in Bellefonte; not because he has been selected to defend Bert Delige on the alleged charge of murdering Mrs. Baudis, but because he is a grandfather, a little daughter having arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chambers, of Philadelphia, on Saturday afternoon. The little girl has been named Helen Mary Chambers.

—Charles B. Eckenroth, of Unionville, is now confined to his home with a badly cut ankle, and it will probably be several weeks before he will be able to be around again. He was employed as a carpenter in the car shops at Tyrone and last Thursday afternoon he was using an adz when the implement struck a knot and glanced, cutting a bad gash in Eckenroth's left ankle. The cut was fixed up and he was sent home until it healed.

—On Wednesday evening of last week Roy Bullock, operator in the tower between Eagleville and Beech Creek, had his leg broken in a peculiar manner. In his hours off-duty he husked corn for his father-in-law, H. Frank Kessinger. Wednesday evening they were hauling in corn and a jolt of the wagon caused Bullock to slip from his seat. In order to keep from falling to the ground Bullock attempted to step on the brake beam. He missed the beam and his foot going between the brake and wheel his leg was broken before the wagon could be stopped.

—The Bellefonte Academy football team will leave to-day for their return game with the Indiana State Normal school. They will go to Punxsutawney where they will spend the night and it is expected that a number of Punxsutawney rooters will accompany the team to Indiana, inasmuch as Smith is a Punxsutawney boy. The Academy's next game at home, and which will probably be the best to be seen here, will be with the Lock Haven Normal on November 12th. The latter team earlier in the season played the Bucknell Varsity and held them to one touchdown, so that it is evident they are pretty strong this year.

—E. A. Peters, of Buffalo Run valley, took a load of potatoes to Tyrone one day last week. It was evening when he arrived at his destination and he drove to a certain hotel and put up for the night, putting his wagon loaded with potatoes in the hotel stable. Next morning when he went to hitch up he discovered that seven bags of potatoes, or ten and a half bushels, had been stolen during the night. Though no trace of the missing tubers could be found Mr. Peters has his suspicions as to where they went and the next time he goes to Tyrone will house his potatoes in a safer place.

—On Wednesday sixteen young boys of Coleville were arrested on a warrant sworn out by John D. Lohr charging them with disorderly conduct and malicious mischief. The boys were given a hearing the same afternoon before justice Henry Brown at which Mr. Lohr stated that the boys threw stones at his residence on Halloween breaking the windows. The boys admitted having a good time and throwing cabbage stumps, but denied throwing stones. "Squire Brown did not consider the evidence sufficient to hold the boys for court so discharged them after administering some good advice. The costs were placed on the county.

—The Bellefonte Academy football team was entirely too strong for the Y. M. C. A. team, of Tyrone, last Saturday, and were easy victors by the score of 30 to 0. E. L. Tyson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tyson, of Tyrone, is captain and manager of the Tyrone eleven and plays quarterback. On his first kickoff on Saturday Dillon got the ball on the Academy's goal line and ran the entire length of the field for a touchdown. During the game Tyson, Dillon and one or two others had to be taken out of the game on account of slight injuries. On the Tyrone team are Seibert and Fisher, two old Bellefonte boys, both of whom played a good game notwithstanding their defeat.

HUNTING NOTES.—One night last week Boyd Spicher, mail carrier on rural route No. 2 from the Bellefonte postoffice, and Howard Wells, a game warden of Green's valley, went out on Nittany mountain to hunt raccoons. They had four dogs and had the good luck of treeing and capturing two coons within two hours. Shortly afterward their dogs treed an animal which naturally was supposed to be another coon, though from appearance of it in the tree top the hunters considered it the daddy coon of all. Spicher took a shot at it and the animal tumbled to the ground, and was at once captured by the dogs. When the latter were taken off the hunters were surprised to discover that their big coon was no coon at all but a cub bear which weighed seventy-five pounds. With the bear and two coons the hunters had quite a profitable night's hunt.

George Weaver, of Curtin township, does not go after bear with a gun but resorts to the use of traps to capture them and so far this season has gotten two. The second one he captured was last week and it was a monster, dressing over three hundred pounds.

Rabbit season opened on Tuesday but there was no great slaughter of cotton tails. In fact fewer rabbits were brought into Bellefonte that day than on any opening day in years. Jack Decker came in with two rabbits and a small bunch of red birds. Edmund Blanchard brought one rabbit home from Nittany mountain and Fred Blanchard brought in a pheasant. Of course there may have been other hunters who were successful in bagging a rabbit or two, but if there were the writer has not heard of them; while we do know of a number who were out and didn't get anything. Two Bellefonters were so bent on getting something that they chased a cat into a stone pile and tried to capture it as a rabbit. Charles Moerschbacher and Joseph Thall bagged six, George Harpster and his party got nine, and John Nighthart and Mr. Frazier got seven.

The poor luck which attended the hunters on the opening day can only be accounted for by the fact that rabbits, like all other game, must be scarce. Of course there are some, and with the right kind of weather and good dogs hunters will no doubt have some luck in killing rabbits before the season comes to an end; but hunting rabbits, pheasants and all other kinds of game is not what it used to be fifteen years ago. But then it affords a good excuse for a day in the woods.

WIFE BEATER HELD FOR COURT.—On Tuesday afternoon William Kessinger, of Blanchard, was given a hearing before justice of the peace W. H. Musser on the charge of assault and battery, for beating his wife. Kessinger is a man of various peculiarities. He has not had a hair cut or shave in fifteen years and he stated before the justice that he has his religious belief that he must not have his hair and beard cut off in order to be saved after death. Regarding the accusation against him of beating his wife, the latter was the star witness and exhibited two black and swollen eyes as the result of blows inflicted by her husband last Friday. A number of witnesses testified to Kessinger's ill-treatment of his wife and family.

In his own behalf Kessinger did not deny having beaten his wife but stated that he had been told by the district attorney that if she did not do as he wanted her to he was to "lick her," and that is what he did. Of course the district attorney was not present to state whether he had given Kessinger such advice or not.

Following the hearing before "Squire Musser Kessinger was taken before Judge Orvis for a hearing to decide which one, he or his wife should have control of their children and after the court heard the testimony of half a dozen or more witnesses the children were given into the custody of the mother. On the charge of assault and battery Kessinger was held under five hundred dollars bail for trial at court and succeeded in giving bond.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED.—At quite a largely attended meeting, held in the new High school building on Tuesday evening, a Parent-Teachers association was organized for Bellefonte and the following officers elected: President, Mrs. Ambrose M. Schmidt; vice president, Mrs. Harry Badger; secretary, Mrs. John S. Walker; treasurer, James K. Barnhart. The purpose of the organization is to foster co-operative work between parents and teachers for the moral, intellectual and physical benefit of the children of the town. Providing places not only for their mental training but playgrounds for their recreation and physical development.

THE ARRIVAL OF KITTY.—John P. Shanahan was in Bellefonte on Wednesday making arrangements for the appearance at Garman's on Wednesday evening, November 9th, of "The Arrival of Kitty." This is not a new production to Bellefonte theatre goes but it is said to be better this year than ever, for the reason that Doherty-Collins & Co., under whose management the play is given, have abandoned all other plays and combined their companies in this amusing comedy. There will be twelve new musical hits and lots of good, clean, crisp fun. Hal Johnson and Florence Forest head the cast and they are supported by a good company.

—A meeting of the Woman's Civic club will be held in Petriken hall this (Friday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.
