

SENATOR TEMPLETON SENTENCED.—Former State Senator Chambers O. Templeton, of Tyrone, over whom has been hanging the charge of mis-appropriating money entrusted to his care to his own use, voluntarily appeared before Judge Baldridge in Hollidaysburg on Wednesday pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of two hundred dollars and undergo imprisonment in the western penitentiary for a period of not less than three years nor more than twelve. The former Senator is only a shadow of his old self and the scene in the court room when he appeared for sentence was really a pathetic one. The same afternoon sheriff Orr, of Blair county, took Mr. Templeton to Pittsburg and turned him over to the penitentiary authorities.

PASTOR INSTALLED.—Rev. S. C. Stover was officially installed as pastor of the Boalsburg Reformed church on Wednesday as successor to Rev. A. A. Black. The services were held in the Boalsburg Reformed church in the morning and large representations were present from all the churches in the charge. Dr. Ambrose M. Schmidt, of this place, made the address to the minister and Rev. H. I. Crow, of Hubersburg, made the address to the congregation. One pleasing feature of the day was the fact that the church members took advantage of the occasion to make a liberal donation of all kinds of provisions and supplies to the minister and his family, for which they naturally are very grateful.

A BOOMING BIBLICAL STATEMENT.—The old stock, all in fairly good condition, belonging to the Centre County Bible society is rapidly selling, some of it below the actual cost. Within the past few days, the Depository in the Y. M. C. A. building, Bellefonte, has received purchasers and cash orders too numerous to mention. One Bible school superintendent sent cash for 18 bibles at 50 cents each, for that number of the worthy and most needy members of his school. Another for 10 bibles at 23 cents for the same purpose. One of our poorest preachers sent a cash order for four more of these 23 cent bibles, so that all of his six sons and daughters had bibles of their own on Christmas day. Orders for the smallest pocket bible in the world, strongly bound in leather and clear black type, at $1.25 delivered to preachers, teachers and others living in Centre county. The society handles no big expensive bibles, because such books are seldom opened, some of them securely clasped and covered with dust. A sample copy of such a bible is on exhibition in the Depository, which was defaced purposely by an infidel, but the Depository keeps it from getting dusty. Large bibles if wanted for pulpit use, can be furnished by the Society at $2.00 and up. Numerous orders also for testaments six cents and up, in good type and binding. The Society will also furnish Catholic and Hebrew bibles at actual cost.

R. CRITTENDEN, Depository.

PINE GROVE MENTION.

The late rain replenished the water supply. Lee Markle and wife were Altoona visitors last week. Rev. C. T. Aikens, of Selinsgrove, greeted old friends here. Claude Williams was a Christmas visitor at the parental home. Grandmother Julia Musser has been on the sick list the past week. Squire W. H. Musser, of Bellefonte, spent part of the holiday week in town. Robert Tressler and bride spent the holiday season in the Mountain city. Oscar Heckman is having sale and expects to fit to the Sucker State shortly. Farmer Wm. Roup, of Yellow Springs, was here among the friends of his youth. B. F. Krebs, of Spruce Creek, spent Christmas with his aged mother in the Glades. Frank Weiland and family were at Squire Miller's for a New Year dinner Monday. Clement Dale, one of Bellefonte's legal lights, spent last Friday in our town on professional business. That famous bird the stork, made its first visit to the Ben Everhart home, leaving a dear little girl last week. Justice Neidigh and sister Esther and Miss Ruth Borest were Mt. Union visitors, at the home of Miss Lizzie Bush, last week. Last Thursday evening Earl Gingerich with his team brought a sledding party from Linden Hall, to the C. M. Dale home on the Branch. Mrs. C. M. Dale spent most of last week in Altoona, with her sister, Mrs. Harry McGirk, who with her daughter Henrietta are quite ill with pulmonary trouble. Newton Dreiblett returned from Philadelphia recently and reports his brother Martin as improving. One eye has been taken out in order to save the other one. M. M. Kocher transacted business at Tyrone Friday. After April first he will farm the Isaac Harpster farm; Robert Rossman will succeed him on the old Wm. Stevenson farm. The venerable Frank Bowersox was called to Pittsburg on Friday to the bedside of his son Oscar, who is in the hospital suffering a relapse of blood poisoning from which it was hoped he had recovered. Morris Neidigh, one of Dr. Hartman's assistants on the celebrated stock farm near Columbus, Ohio, and his brother Curtis, who is in the automobile business at Cleveland, were here for Christmas. Friday evening, the 13th, Penns Valley Lodge No. 276, I. O. O. F. will hold their 63rd annual banquet. Prof. White, W. H. Goss, J. W. Fry, H. M. Krebs and Prof. M. E. Heberling compose the committees. Andy Lytle spent the holiday season in Brooklyn, N. Y., where the Wrenschlers reside. We are sorry to note the serious illness of Mrs. Wrenschler, who is in the hospital undergoing the fourth surgical operation. James Watt and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Blair Miller and family were guests at the New Year dinner party at Squire Miller's home in the Glades. Mrs. Maggie Watt Porter, of Nebraska, was the guest of honor. H. M. Krebs and wife went to visit Mrs. Fleming, near Petersburg, on Monday, and the old lady died at eleven o'clock that morning. She was an aunt of Mrs. Krebs, and had been a frequent visitor to our town. The stockholders of the First National Bank of State College held their annual meeting in the bank building Tuesday, and elected the following directors: J. W. Stuart, Hon. J. T. McCormick, W. L. Foster, C. T. Aikens, Wm. Frear, N. E. Hess, A. F. Markle, S. H. Bailey and Irving T. Foster.

SPRING MILLS.

All our merchants report a very satisfactory business during the holidays. The thaw on Sunday and Monday last has played havoc with sleighing and sledding in this neighborhood. Quite a number of our folks are on the sick list but none of a very serious character. The result of neglected colds more than anything else. Christmas was observed here on Sunday. Quite a number entertained largely for dinner. Presents were exchanged as usual, and everybody seemed gay and happy, of course the children had all the fun they wanted, in addition to their stock of candies and toys. The Mummer club of Spring Mills calculated to have a big time on Saturday last, but by some mishap it fizzled out. Only a few made their appearance at head quarters, and just in time to learn that the parade had been postponed because some wanted it on Saturday and some on Monday, and because all wanted to be boss.

The Sunday school entertainment in the M. E. church on Christmas eve was a very interesting and delightful one. The church was handsomely decorated, evidently the work of skillful hands, and brilliantly illuminated. The program was quite lengthy, consisting of recitations, dialogues, music and singing. The opening organ prelude in B flat by Bach and the offertorium in D by L. W. Lemen during collection, were both charmingly executed by C. E. Zeigler, the superintendent of the school. Mrs. C. E. Zeigler and Miss Ella Cummings deserve especial praise for their patience and skill in drilling and rehearsing the children in their respective parts. The little speakers did remarkably well, delivering their pieces like born orators. Some of the young ladies who took part in the recitations and singing, displayed abilities of a high order of excellence and had the entertainment been in any other place but a church, would have been applauded to the very echo. The building was crowded to its utmost capacity. At the conclusion of the exercises all the scholars received a package of candy. The Lutheran Sunday school entertainment on Christmas evening attracted a large congregation. The church was beautifully decorated with spruce and evergreens. The recitations, dialogues and singing were all of a pleasing character and admirably rendered. At the conclusion of the entertainment each scholar was presented with a box of candy.

HUBLERSBURG NOTES.

The long felt want was supplied in the way of rain. Charles Carner was at home during the Holiday season. J. C. Bergtresser spent Christmas with his parents. C. M. Hoy and wife spent their vacation with their parents, G. F. Hoy's and Wm. Decker's. J. D. Miller and wife accompanied by Miss Regina Hubler, spent Christmas with friends in Altoona. Alton Deitrich, who spent his vacation with his parents, returned to his place of business last week. Roy M. Decker, after spending his vacation here returned to Muncy to resume his work as teacher. F. J. Evers and family moved to Franklinville, N. Y., where he expects to run a cream separating station. D. L. Markle and wife, of State College, after making a stay of two weeks with their parents have returned home. Rev. H. I. Crow, of the Reformed church, is holding services every evening this week in the Reformed church at Zion. After spending some time here with friends and relatives, Frank Fulton and wife and brother Calvin returned to their home in Stoyestown. Prof. Wickert, after spending two weeks at his home at Denver, Pa., returned to this place ready to resume his duties as instructor in the High school. Harvey Kesinger and wife accompanied by his brother Arthur and wife, of Pitcairn, are spending a few days with their mother, Mrs. J. R. Kesinger.

RUNVILLE RIPPLINGS.

Norris Shope has gone to Pittsburg to spend some time. Mrs. William Luk and daughter Maude were Bellefonte visitors on Saturday. Dr. S. M. Huff, of Milesburg, passed through our village in his auto on Sunday. Some of our young ladies look very gloomy over a certain wedding during the holidays. The prayer meeting this week will be followed by revival services commencing Sunday night, January 8th. Miss Lizzie Weaver, of Altoona, and Miss Nellie Weaver, of Milesburg, spent Friday with Mrs. D. F. Poorman. William Lucas, of Spruce Flat, is employed at the home of Charles Lucas, owing to the illness of his daughter, Mrs. L. Y. Heaten. William Watson, a former brakeman on the Snow Shoe passenger train, but now of Osceola Mills, spent Sunday with his family here. A chicken supper—(with ice cream and cake and oysters extra,) will be served at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Poorman Saturday night, January 7th, from 6 until 8 o'clock. Price of supper fifteen cents. The proceeds will be devoted to the re-roofing the U. B. church at this place. The public is cordially invited. Special music will be rendered.

BENORE BUBBLINGS.

Charley Baudis has gone back to Wilkinsburg to finish his school. The stork visited the home of Ed. Baudis and left a bouncing baby boy. The superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school has changed the hour from 9:30 o'clock in the morning to 2:30 in the afternoon. The Christmas entertainment held in the M. E. church Saturday evening, December 24th, was well attended and every one enjoyed the services. W. H. Ghaner has moved to the Ghaner farm where he and his family will reside. Mr. Ghaner is also engaged in buying and selling telephone poles and is doing a good business.

LEMONT.

Charles G. Getz spent Christmas at home. Rev. E. H. Swank spent a few days in town last week. Miss Helen Dreese has been quite ill this week and pneumonia has developed. Rev. Charles Gooding preached last Friday night in the United Evangelical church. A. M. Wasson, of Huntingdon county, spent a few days last week at the home of his mother. John Rishel spent Christmas at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rishel, at Oak Hall. John Bohn and wife returned and the boys took them to their home in a sleigh that they had prepared for them. William Seaton moved from Houseville to Oak Hall, where he holds a good position with Edward Sellers. The College township school board had the High school room re-floored and papered, which makes it very cozy. Leon and Clara Kerstetter went to Pittsburg on Monday, where they intend spending two weeks at the home of their sister.

D. J. Williams and family, of Gettenville, and Miss Hilda Bjork, of Perth Amboy, spent last week visiting friends in and around town.

The United Evangelical protracted meeting is in progress and the pastor is assisted by Rev. Campbell. It is hoped that there will be much good done.

The first part of this week brought rain, sleet and snow and for awhile it looked as though there would be a general breakup, but it filled both the ground and cisterns with water.

Head of Steel Trust Resigns. William Ellis Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation since the resignation of Charles M. Schwab, the first president, seven years ago, himself tendered a formal resignation at a regular meeting of the finance committee in New York. To all intents and purposes the resignation has been accepted.

The finance committee passed upon it favorably, and it will come formally before the board of directors at their regular quarterly meeting on the 25th of the month. That they will accept it there is no doubt. In 1907, when Mr. Corey married Mabelle Gilman, the actress, it was widely reported that he would be succeeded as president, and there was a faction of the board which rather openly favored his retirement. It is understood that his retirement has no relation to his domestic affairs.

Boiler Explosion Kills Sixteen. Fourteen men were instantly killed and two have since died from injuries received in the explosion of a tubular boiler in the engine house of the Morewood Lake company, the largest ice plant in Berkshire county, near Pittsfield, Mass. The police theory of the explosion is that a new safety valve which had been installed by a Pittsfield firm was choked in the pipe leading from the boiler to the valve, and that when the gauge was set for only forty pounds the boiler may have been carrying 200 pounds of steam when it blew up.

The boiler house was demolished in a second, and pieces of the boiler, timbers and human bodies were hurled through the air. One body was blown a distance of 200 feet and another 150 feet. The cylinder of the boiler was found in a tree on the edge of the lake more than 100 feet away, while a large piece of iron was picked up 200 yards from where the boiler house stood.

Gives College to Church. The announcement has been made in New York of the transfer of the business college at Port Arthur, Tex., to the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church as a gift from John W. Gates.

The value of the donation is estimated at $250,000, and the church pledges itself to raise $50,000 within the next five years for additional building and equipment and to maintain the college. Rev. J. W. Legrone, of Port Arthur, acting for the church, took over the property. It will be known as the Port Arthur Collegiate institute.

Emperor of Austria May Retire. Archduke Franz Ferdinand for the first time represented Emperor Francis Joseph in receiving the Austro-Hungarian delegations at Budapest.

This is regarded as a step taken by the aged emperor for the purpose of preparing the country for his approaching relinquishment of the throne in favor of the heir apparent. Speaking on behalf of the emperor, the archduke expressed satisfaction at the good relations of the country with all the powers. The monarchy, he said, would continue its efforts to maintain peace.

Engineer Injured at Throttle. His skull fractured by a water plug striking him as he leaned out of his cab, Martin Diefenderfer, a Philadelphia & Reading passenger engineer, retained consciousness long enough to bring his train to a stop at the Mid-deport, Pa., station, a distance of 400 feet. Then he fell over unconscious, his limp body hanging from the cab.

Blames Liquor For Many Murders. Liquor caused 258 out of 630 homicides in Alabama during the two years ended Sept. 30 last, according to the biennial report of Attorney General Alexander M. Garber. During the previous two years liquor caused 348 out of 656 killings.

Kills Wife, Girl and Self. William C. Strickler shot and killed his wife and nineteen-year-old step-daughter, Beulah Kile, at their home, 2417 East Lafayette avenue, Baltimore, Md. Strickler then fired a bullet into his own body. Domestic trouble was given as the cause of the tragedy. Strickler was employed as a fireman at a power house.

Steer Roping Winner. By roping two steers in one minute nine and four-fifths seconds, Joe Gardner, of Midland, Tex., won the contest at the National Cowboys' second annual reunion. O. K. Lawrence, of Sulphur, Okla., was second, and J. E. Weir, champion of New Mexico, was third.

"Labor Contract" Law Upset. The fight made by the federal government to have the "labor contract" law of Alabama declared unconstitutional was crowned with success when the supreme court of the United States held the law invalid. The government claimed the law reduced hundreds of negroes to a state of peonage.

Five Children Die In Burning House. A fire that destroyed three houses in Minersville, Pa., resulted in the death of the five children of John Markasavage. They ranged in age from two months to eight years.

The infant was burned to death, while the other four were slightly burned, death having been caused by suffocation. All of the children could probably have been saved if the parents had not lost their heads in the excitement following the discovery of the fire.

They rushed out into the street, the mad clad and the wife scantily attired. Not having a perfect understanding of English, they informed volunteer rescuers that all were out of the house. When the father realized that his children were still in the house he rushed back. He was seriously burned trying to rescue them.

The fire followed the overturning of a lamp. Many of the boarders had not yet retired and easily made their escape. After the fire had been extinguished the bodies of the dead children were found cuddled up in bed as though they had never awakened after the fire started.

Rhode Island is Crowded. Rhode Island has 508.5 people to the square mile, thus, according to census bureau figures, leading the list of the states in the matter of density of population.

Nevada, with only seven-tenths of a person to the mile, finds a place at the lower end of the table giving these facts. Second in the density list Massachusetts supports 418.8 people to the square mile; New Jersey, 337.7; Connecticut, 231.3, and New York, 191.2. The other states possessing more than 100 to the square mile are: Pennsylvania, 171; Maryland, 130.3; Ohio, 117; Delaware, 103, and Illinois, 100.7.

Fewer Lynchings in 1910. Lynchings in the United States, excluding murders or killings in armed race conflicts, numbered only 47 in 1910, against 57 in 1909, 65 in 1908, 51 in 1907, and 68 in 1906.

There are no official records of these occurrences, and newspaper dispatches sometimes record as lynchings what fuller information proves to be murders or killings in armed conflicts. Of the 47 lynchings in the year just ended all but five were of negroes, and 25 of the 47 were for attacks on white woman or girls.
