A dance was held by the younger set in the hall of the public building on Monday evening.

The mid-winter examinations at State College closed last Thursday and the students had a vacation until Monday.

Miss Lida Morris's two small card parties given Thursday and Friday evenings at their apartments in the Bush house, were in honor of her guest, Mrs. Patton, of Huntingdon.

J. H. Robb has entirely recovered from the effects of the poisonous tablets he took by mistake last week and is again to be found at his post of duty in the Bellefonte Trust Company.

Any one wanting to dispose of second hand rates of their Crowned Masterpieces of Literature coming with The American University Course, can do so, by communicating with this office.

Mrs. William Grauer, of Altoona, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Miriam, to Jacob Stinek, of the same place. The Grauers were formerly residents of Bellefonte and have many friends here.

Invitations were issued last Thursday for the marriage of Miss Edna E. Meyer, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. J. C. Meyer, to Walter Hodge MacIntire, of State College, on Thursday evening, February 9th, at 6:15 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church.

William E. Crust, of Axe Mann, is equipping the old Methodist church at that place with acetylene lights. Chandeliers have been put up and the improvement is very marked. The work has been done and everything furnished at Mr. Crust's own expense.

Monday, April 17th, has been set as the date for the inspection of Company L, of this place, by regular U. S. army officers. This inspection will be even more rigid and complete than the one last Saturday evening by the regular National Guard inspecting officer.

Over one hundred students in the two year's course of agriculture at State College held their first annual banquet at the Bush house last Friday evening. The menu was quite lengthy and after it had all been disposed of there was quite a lengthy program of toasts and responses.

Miss Mary Hoy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hoy, of Waddie, was brought to Bellefonte on a special train over the Bellefonte Central railroad on Sunday morning and taken to the Bellefonte hospital with a bad attack of appendicitis, undergoing an operation the same evening.

Dr. Thomas C. Van Tries will deliver his new lecture entitled, "Matters, Matrimonial, or Getting Married," for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital, in the High school auditorium, on Thursday evening, February 16th, 1911. The lecture and benefit will be under the auspices of the Bellefonte High school.

At last fall's election the people of Millheim voted to bond the borough to the extent of nine thousand dollars for the purpose of erecting an electric light plant and at a recent meeting of council a committee was appointed to secure plans for a building and make all contracts for its erection and equipment.

Woomer.—Miss Margaret Woomer, daughter of Emanuel Woomer, of Morrisdale, died last Friday after years of suffering, aged thirty-two years. She is survived by her father, one sister and four brothers, the latter acting as pall-bearers at the funeral which was held on Monday morning, burial being made in the Phillipsburg cemetery.

KILLED ON THE RAILROAD.—Romeo Beupre, a French Canadian itinerant peddler, was struck by the train last Saturday evening, on the curve on this side of McCoy's works, and killed instantly.

Beupre has been coming to Bellefonte periodically for the past twenty years and was quite well known here, especially in police circles. He was a man over six feet tall and of powerful physique.

And despite the fact that he was in the neighborhood of sixty-five years of age he was a match for two or three ordinary men. Every time he came to Bellefonte he would drink more liquor than was good for him and then he was disposed to become quarrelsome.

He came to Bellefonte last Friday and as usual began to liquor up. The same night he was arrested and locked up and kept in the pen until Saturday evening when he was released on condition that he leave town, and the last seen of him was when he started down the railroad towards Milesburg.

The supposition is that when he reached the point where he was killed he sat down on the railroad track and fell asleep. It just happened that it was right around the point of the curve below the fairgrounds and when the train rounded the curve the engineer saw the man but was too close to him to even check the speed of the train and he was struck and knocked to the side of the road.

His left side and the left side of his head were crushed and death was practically instantaneous. The train was stopped and the mangled remains brought to this place and turned over to undertaker Hard P. Harris.

A few papers were found in the man's pockets which gave his name but no further information about him. It is reported that on one of his visits to Bellefonte he told the story that he had a brother living in Canada who was quite well to do but the authorities here could find no trace of any relatives or friends of the dead man anywhere.

The remains were kept at the Harris undertaking establishment until Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when they were buried in the Union cemetery.

HE BURGLARIZED THE DOCTOR.—Many WATCHMAN readers, especially down Nittany valley, very well remember George Hoy Tibbens, who is now a doctor and proprietor of a drug store in Wilkes-Barre. He and his family live in a flat over the store but last Friday night the doctor was detained late and decided to spend the balance of the night on a couch in his office, which is in the rear of the store.

About two o'clock he was awakened by a noise at the front door and going into the store and turning on the light he was dumfounded to see a burglar hanging from the transom at the top of the door. The man had crawled through the aperture and evidently was afraid to let go for fear of where he might drop to.

The doctor evidently was about as badly scared as the burglar for when the latter dropped to the floor he told him to turn the key in the door and get out, which he did with the remark, "Thank you, Doc." A policeman was later notified but the man had made his escape.

TO BUILD GOOD ROAD OVER MOUNTAIN.—A movement has been started by the DuBois Motor club for the building of a better road across the mountain from the Bald Eagle valley to Phillipsburg, and the Legislature will be petitioned to grant an appropriation to help defray the expense of same.

While the movement has been started by the DuBois Motor club there is no argument but that such a road would be of more benefit to Centre counties than it will be to the DuBois people and the matter naturally should be boosted by the people of Centre county.

A petition has been circulated in Bellefonte this week which was very liberally signed, and which will be presented to the Legislature asking for the appropriation mentioned above.

The building of such a road would be of great benefit to farmers as well as automobile drivers and they should do all possible to help along the movement.

A NIGHT IN VENICE.—The third entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. star course will be held in Petriken hall on Wednesday evening of next week, February 8th, when Elbert Foland and his Italian boys will present their musical and literary fantasy, "A Night in Venice." Mr. Foland is one of the ablest, most brilliant and versatile entertainers on the platform at the present time and his quintette of Italian boys compose a musical organization that cannot be excelled.

The usual prices will prevail and seats should be reserved early as they will undoubtedly be in big demand. Remember this will be one of the best musical entertainments to be heard in Bellefonte this season.

GEORGE P. RUNKLE STILL IN COMMAND.—The criticisms of the officers of the schoolship Adams, which led to the tendered resignation of George P. Runkle as captain were all dismissed on Wednesday at a meeting of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Nautical School and Captain Runkle was ordered to continue in command. He was directed to begin at once to fit the vessel out for a summer cruise to Spitzbergen.

Don't forget that tree lecture by Prof. Withers in the new High school building next Monday evening. It will not only be interesting but very instructive as well. Remember it will be illustrated with about two hundred slides.

The next attraction at Garman's will be "World and Women," next Wednesday night.

We are glad to state that the condition of Lewis McQuiston is very much improved this week.

At Mrs. Harry Keller's dinner Saturday evening, for which ten covers will be laid, Mrs. Montgomery, of Lancaster, will be the honor guest.

The card party this evening is the second of the series given by Miss McCalmont, Mrs. Walker and Miss Short lidge at their home on Linn street.

The "World and Women" will be the attraction at Garman's on Wednesday night of next week. This will be the first time this production will be given in Bellefonte and as the company comes here with a good recommendation a good show is expected.

The local teachers institute held in the new High school building last Saturday was very well attended by all the teachers in this district and the program as given in last week's WATCHMAN was carried out in full.

The visiting teachers, by the way, were very much impressed with the new school building and its equipment and they were given every opportunity to inspect it thoroughly.

The regular meeting of the Women's Club of Bellefonte will be held in Petriken hall, Friday afternoon, February third, at three-thirty o'clock. At this meeting Mrs. G. G. Pond, of State College, will read a paper on "Juvenile Literature," a subject which should be so seriously considered by the parents of the present day children, that no teacher or parent in Bellefonte can afford to miss hearing Mrs. Pond's suggestion in this very important matter.

A rare treat was given the primary department of the Academy Friday afternoon, when Mrs. Elizabeth Callaway took the children on a word picture journey to foreign cities which she had visited when on her trip around the world one year ago.

Such a deep interest was manifested by the little ones that her talk of two hours duration was only concluded satisfactorily to them when arrangements had been made for the completion of the entire trip.

The Bellefonte friends of Mr. William Wilkins will be pleased to learn that since leaving Bellefonte and the superintendency of the Bellefonte Furnace Co's operations, he has been going steadily upward in his profession. Just lately he has been made general superintendent of the iron department of the Lake Superior Iron and Chemical Co., with charge of six blast furnaces, mines and pig iron sales and has headquarters in the general office building in Detroit, Mich.

Benjamin Gordon, hostler at the Bellefonte Central road house, was badly scalded on Tuesday evening and is now undergoing treatment in the Bellefonte hospital. He was cleaning out the flues of one of the engines when one of them sprung a leak. Before he could get out of the way he was badly scalded on the back and other portions of his body by the escaping steam and water.

The ambulance was summoned to take him to the hospital and in turning around the tongue of the vehicle was broken and a carriage had to be secured. In the meantime the ambulance tongue has been taken to McQuistons to be repaired.

If you happen to feel a little blue during the day, and everything you do seems to go wrong, take an hour off in the evening and go to the scenic. It will do you good in various ways. The pictures will make you forget your troubles and give you an interest in other things.

Comedy, drama and pathos is portrayed in the pictures shown each evening and the subjects are always of such wide range as to interest every person in attendance, no matter who they are. As a manager of moving picture exhibitions T. Clayton Brown cannot be excelled and he devotes every energy to giving the people of Bellefonte the very best on the market.

Saturday and Sunday were quite warm and spring-like and made a person think that the backbone of winter had been broken but it was not so. The backbone gave a hump on Monday when the mercury dropped way below freezing point and the wind blew like blue blazes.

Just how terrific that is can be judged from the fact that three telephone poles of the Commercial company, were blown down in the alley back of the Hastings barn; limbs were torn off of trees and old fences stood no show at all. In Altoona and Tyrone the glass in windows was broken by the force of the wind. In fact, it was one of the windiest days of the season.

The fourth quarterly meeting services at the Methodist church on Sunday were exceptionally interesting and were attended by a large congregation. Rev. Shuey had charge of the lovefeast in the morning at 9:30 while the pastor, Rev. T. S. Wilcox, preached and had charge of the administration of the holy sacrament in the morning. The services in the evening were in charge of Rev. Quimby. One feature of the day was the large number taken into the church. Twenty-four were taken into full membership, four taken into membership by letter and five taken on probation. Three adults were baptised. Among those taken into full membership were Jacob Knisely and all but one of his children.

HOSPITAL NOTES.—Any person who does not think the Bellefonte hospital a necessary institution in this community should have been an observer there the past week and they would very likely change their mind. At this writing there are twenty-six patients in the hospital, nineteen of whom are in the wards. Among the cases admitted the past week were the following:

George Cox, an eleven year old boy, of Axe Mann. He came to Bellefonte on a load of baled hay brought here by Mr. Shutt for delivery to McCalmont & Co. The load was weighed and Mr. Shutt drove into a shed for unloading. The boy was caught between the top of the load and the top of the doorway and had his lip and face badly lacerated and an elbow dislocated.

On Monday Mrs. Stanley, of Milesburg, was admitted to the hospital with a badly affected eye, which it was found necessary to remove in order to save the sight of the other eye.

One of the most peculiar cases that has been admitted to the hospital for some time is that of Mrs. George Darr, of Coleville. About two weeks ago, while doing the family washing, she used a needle to fasten her apron around her waist and in lifting the washer the needle was forced into her abdomen. At the time she paid little attention to it but now the needle has worked inward and penetrated the abdominal wall, causing the woman great distress. So far the physicians have been unable to locate the needle and Mrs. Darr's condition is considered quite serious.

Yesterday morning James W. Boal, a deaf mute of Boalsburg, who has been stopping at the Garman house the past three weeks, left the hotel to walk down town, slipped on the icy pavement and fell, dislocating his hip and injuring his arm. He was taken to the hospital where the dislocation was reduced and his injuries given the proper attention.

GETTING ANXIOUS.—The commissioners of Centre county are becoming somewhat anxious to have the Governor name the day for the execution of Bert Delige, now under sentence of death for the murder of Mrs. John Baudis. From this it must not be inferred that the commissioners are either hard-hearted or blood-thirsty, but they are merely considering the heavy expense to the county of the man's delayed execution. It costs just $3.40 every day to feed and guard Delige in the county jail and this is a matter of one hundred dollars a month. Though the exact cost to the county of Delige's trial and the present expenses are not known it is estimated that when the case is finally disposed of it will mean a drain on the county's cash box of over two thousand dollars.

It was the general opinion that Governor Stuart would name the day for Delige's execution before going out of office but he did not do so, and it has since developed that the reason he did not was because the papers in the case had been mislaid and the matter overlooked. Governor Tene's attention has been called to the case and it is likely he will name the day in the near future.

MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR BIG DANCE.—On account of a case of chicken-pox at the Bellefonte Academy just before the holiday vacation, necessitating the closing of the institution, the annual dance of the football team had to be postponed but the same will be held in the armory on Thursday evening, February ninth, and the boys are making preparations for a big time. The committee in charge of the decorations will do the work in conjunction with the committee of the Civic club, who will hold their charity ball on Tuesday evening, February fourteenth.

The members of the football team and many of the Academy students have invited their sisters and lady friends from home to come to Bellefonte for the dance and so many invitations have already been accepted that the second floor of the fraternity house on the hill is being repapered and beautified and will be fitted up especially for their entertainment while here. This will be the first time the Academy boys will have had the pleasure of entertaining their lady friends here and naturally they intend to make the most of it in every way.

HER COMB CAUGHT FIRE.—On Monday night Miss Peck, of Lock Haven, the nurse who is helping take care of Lew McQuiston, was the victim of rather a peculiar accident and as a result is now nursing some bad burns on her hands. On account of the high wind on Monday night it was found necessary to have an oil stove in the patient's room to keep it comfortable. Miss Peck was reading a book and sitting close to the stove she leaned down in order to get a better light and her hand coming over the opening in the top of the stove, her celluloid comb ignited. In order to save her hair as well as her head from being burnt she first attempted to smother the flames with her hands, and finally managed to get the burning comb out of her hair and let it fall to the floor where it was easily extinguished. While Miss Peck's hair was only slightly singed her hands were quite badly burned.

The tickets for "The Charity Ball" to be held in the armory on the night of February fourteenth, are in the hands of fifty of the younger people of the town, who hope to distribute them freely among both the lovers of Bellefonte and the lovers of a social evening, the night of February fourteenth combining both.

It still exists though, like the groundhog, it has been taking a long sleep, but now that spring is approaching and the time for motor racing draws near the club gives signs of awakening and plunging into activity once again.
